Beaverbrook Denounces Rearmament

London, Oct 6 --(BUP)-- Lord Beaverbrook announced today he is going away from Britain "in gloom and sorrow" for the winter.

The colorful Canadian-born Fleet Street press lord was despondent over last week's British commitment of troops to the continent as a spur to French approval of German rearmament.

Lord Beaverbrook's newspapers had campaigned against such a commitment and against German rearmament in any form with such energy that they even bought up billboard space throughout London and splashed signs on them saying, "'Don't Army Germany."

Lord Beaverbrook, who leaves for Canada tomorrow, issued a statement saying sorrowfully:

"I am leaving for Canada and the West Indies, where I will stay for the winter. Forty years ago I came in high hope and with great enthusiasm to help in the work for a United Empire.

"I go in gloom and sorrow. The [illegible]pire is now being liquidated and the British people don't care. Many are interested in football pools

"I have always advocated emigration. To Canada and Australia and the Dominions. There was no substantial emigration.

"Now we have emigration, and on [illegible]uch a scale. For Mr. Eden is send[illegible] to European countries 120,000 [illegible]ng men of Britain. That is dis[illegible]ous and disgraceful emigration. [illegible]den has succeeded in making [illegible]endes-France the most popular [illegible] in France.

[illegible]ope he has also succeeded in [illegible]g himself the most unpopular [illegible] in England.

[illegible]He may have made an election [illegible]e for Eisenhower. He has cer[illegible]nly made an election unncessary for Mendes-France."

Hold Presentation For Former P.C. At Lindsay

A man who has been associated with, and a very popular former member of Lindsay's Police Force, Percy Mark, was presented with a gift of the very best in blankets by the Lindsay Council on Monday night.

Mayor Hick spoke of Mr. Mark's "salient qualities", paying tribute to his long and fine service, as he called on Reeve Butler to make the presentation on behalf of the Town of Lindsay.

Chief Hunter who was present in the council chamber, spoke of "Percy", saying he had been tireless in his work of bringing people to justice. No glory-seeker was he, said John Hunter, of Constable Mark, but always behind the scenes when working and that always in the interest of the force and the town.

Mr. Mark who began his career as bailiff on the first of October, said he was leaving the force with regret. He said he had worked under three different chief constables, and had had always the co-operation of council, police officers and residents. He singled out Mr. W. R. Allely especially as giving the very best to officers.

Mayor Hick remarked "certainly regret losing you, Mr. Mark", as the latter shook hands all round.

Think Park Fire Started By Boys

Lindsay Realtor Heads Up Move To Modernize Appraisals

A move has been made to modernize and standardize real estate appraisal procedure throughout Eastern and Central Ontario by the establishment in Peterborough of a chapter of the Appraisal Institute of Canada, for the purpose of conducting classes for realtors and others connected with the field throughout the area, during the Fall and Winter months. This was announced today in Lindsay by Lloyd Found, Realtor, who has been studying during the past five years to qualify as a member of the Appraisal Institute of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the Appraisal Institute of Canada.

The establishment of a Central Ontario Chapter of the Institute in Peterborough, will give an opportunity to realtors and others in associated lines in Central and Eastern Ontario to study appraisal methods through the Institute, with experienced speakers from several centres giving the lectures. Mr Found himslf is expected to take most of the classes, assisted by representatives from the Canadian and American Institutes.

Mr. Found says the objective of the course is to establish, promote and advance the profession of appraisal and valuation of property, of all kinds, and in particular, buildings, works, lands, plants, developments, household equipment and general merchandise. He says it is expected about 30 charter members will be enrolled in the newly formed Chapter, including representatives from Government agencies, mortgage companies, assessment officers, brokers and real estate salesmen. It's hoped, says Mr. Found "that the course will enable both buyers and sellers, in the future, to be sure they are paying and receiving a fair value for their property."

Mr. Found himself is working toward two degrees in appraisal -one as a member of The Appraisal Institute of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the other as a member of The Appraisal Institute of Canada. Towards this end, Mr. Found has graduated with honour from Extension Courses held at Toronto University in 1953, and at Harvard University, Cambridge Massachusetts, in 1954. These courses represent the highest standard of Real Estate Appraisal studies provided in either Canada or the United States, it is disclosed.

30 Days Each For Two Youths On Two Counts

Two Lindsay youths appeared in court on Monday, charged with theft of rear-view mirrors from a parked car. A second charge of shopbreaking with intent to steal, and a third charge of wilful damage was made against one of the youths.

The young men received 30 days on each charge to run concurrently and were ordered to make restitution for the rear-view mirrors valued at some $9 or $10.

Lindsay Church's First Anniversary

Calvary Temple, Lindsay, has announced that it will hold its first anniversary services this weekend. The church was officially opened about a year ago in December, but the pastor, Rev. M. W. Holmes, says it has been decided to hold the anniversary services each year in October so that weather will not interfere with attendance.

Liberace May Marry Within The Year

Liberace says he may get married in a year. The 34-year-old entertainer says he will wed Joanne Rio, a 23-year-old nightclub singer, if—in his words—"she really loves me and wants to wait for me." Liberace, now in Hollywood, says he wants to wait a year because current commitments will keep him too busy for a happy home life.

Recommend Certain Changes

A special meeting of the Board of Governors of the Ross Memorial Hospital was held last evening in the Board Room. Present at the meeting were Mr. A. W. Carew, chairman; Mrs. D. Thomson, Miss Wood, Mayor Hick, Dr. Shier, Messrs. Currie, Shields, Harrigan, Fee, Jenkins and Gregory.

The purpose of this special meeting was to receive a report from the Expansion Committee, The Planning Committee and the Medical Staff with respect to the proposed expansion of the hospital. The Expansion Committee approved "in principle" Plan B submitted by the Planning Committee, with the recommendation that the architects plan for 115 active beds if possible, as well as waiting rooms. In the report from the Medical Staff of RMH, there was also approval in principle of the plan for hospital expansion with a recommendation that (1) 20 chronic beds be established in the old unit, and (2) that the number of active beds in the proposed new unit be increased to 113 by extending the new wing, or by some other means. Dr. L. V. Shier of the Medical Staff said he felt that 20 chronic beds could be provided in the present Victoria Wing, and that a number of active beds in the new wing could be added

Council Agrees To Services When Guarantees Satisfactory

Lindsay Homebuilders Co-operative requested a definite answer to a former request for water services or sewers or both, at Council meeting here Monday evening. A deputation of eight or ten was led by Mr. R. A. Quirt and he spoke at length of their building of 20 (originally 40) member's homes in Ops Twp., on Angeline St., adjacent to Lindsay's new Public School.

Mr. Quirt won for his group the passing of the following motion by Alderman Breese and Reeve Butler (although the wording was changed and improved many times) that: The Town of Lindsay is willing to make available sewer and water services to the Homebuilders Co-operative and the Public School Board when guarantees satisfactory to the town are reached.

The "guarantees satisfactory" include the meeting with and consulting with the Township of Ops, decision re roads in the finished project; decision as to financing; route of sewer pipes, and water mains; rental outside Lindsay Boundaries, and who would stand guarantee, etc.

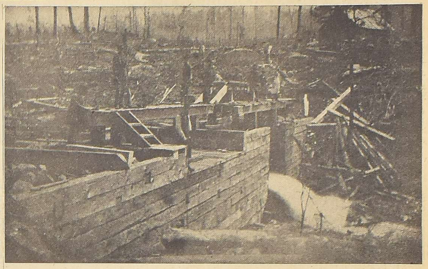
Mr. Quirt ,when asked by Alderman Lamb why his colleagues chose to build outside the town said that the original 40 desired to stay together, that it would be cheaper to build in one area. He said, finally, that these men intended to stay in a co-operative group even after their homes are completed.

He said that if one member was forced by circumstances to not be able to meet his $25 (which the council last night set for extra yearly fee outside Lindsay) the rest would make it good.

The delegation expressed pleasure and gratitude to Lindsay's councillors for going to such lengths to enable them to go ahead on their building plans. Because as they said, if Lindsay hadn't assured them of the water and sewers, they would have had to immediately make plans for septic tanks, which they and their Toronto advisers considered unsanitary, especially when annexation would be a surety in a few years.

One of the things that had a great deal to do with the councillors' decision to do all they could for the Co-operative was the fact that their property was close to the new Leslie Frost Public School, where services would be provided by the town.

Another point in their favour was that Mr. Quirt assured all that when annexation did come, they would go along with it and all it might entail.



This is Lindsay in the beginning . .

The above picture is believed to be one of the oldest pictures of Lindsay in existence . . . it is purported to be a picture of Lindsay before it really was Lindsay. Handed to "The Post" by one of its newsboys who procured it from his parents, Master John Campbell says he is informed that the picture is of Purdy's Mill in its formative stages. Purdy's Mill was the name originally given the settlement which some years later was to become "Lindsay". The original picture is pretty well faded but the figures on the bridge are relatively clear in it although they will probably be lost in reproduction. Can anyone supply further information relative to this early picture? . . . or have they the counterpart so that a date might be established or any other relative data?

Town Temperatures

Getting Cooler

15 Hurt In Wreck

A Santa Fe Passenger train has been derailed three miles west of Gage, Oklahoma. Fifteen persons were injured when one coach overturned and five other cars went off the tracks. —(BUP).

Strange but true . . .

Lindsay Had Tree Shortage At The Turn Of The Century

Glancing into the past it seems that back in 1899 there was a severe shortage of trees in Lindsay, and that in an editorial of the Weekly Post the town council was urged to do something about it. It seems that when the early residents cleared the town, they did it with such thoroughness that all trees and heay foliage were uprooted and destroyed. The editorial states that if "we cannot have a town park, let us at least have a few trees on our public streets."

Citing the cost of such a project, the paper comments on the fact that the Port Hope Council received offers to plant trees at the sum of twenty cents each. It was also suggested that rows of healthy maple sprouts would afford a grateful shade in three or four years and greatly add to the value of adjacent property, as well as transform the appearance of the streets that were bare and unromantic to the eye, and gradually remove the reproach of visitors that "Lindsay is a town they have to leave to find a tree beneath which one can read a book or sit and rest."

That was one of the more serious local problems 55 years ago, and it seems that the town council did act upon the newspaper's suggestion, for it is only necessary now just to glance out the window in any section of town and see the multitude of beautiful trees

What would Lindsay look like without them now?

Ten Applicants Seek Position With Police

Ten written applications, and only one from an out-of-towner, have been received by W. R. Allely, clerk and treasurer of the town of Lindsay, for one constable to serve on the Police Force for the Town of Lindsay.

Each letter was read to an interested Council at the regular meeting on Monday, and it was decided to refer them to the police commission for a suggested mental aptitude test, and after that a medical test for a set number of the ten men who have applied for the position.

Mr. W. W. Sturman, of Seagrave was one who had had military service.Others had military service also among those who applied from Lindsay. They are listed herewith: John A. Perry, Victor L. McGregor, Morley Aldred, Bruce A. Brown, R. J. Kent, Stanley Swartman, Leith Miner, Basil Gemmell, W. K. Weaver whose homes are all in Lindsay.

Drunk Driving Charge Sticks, Fined, Jailed

A Woodville man appeared in Monday's court here, charged with driving while intoxicated. He pleaded not guilty.

The charge arose after a truck, driven by the accused, going out of control at Bond nad Adelaide Sts. in town, ended up on the lawn of the residence of Mr. H. E. Pollock, secretary-manager of Lindsay's Chamber of Commerce. When the truck jumped the curb and over a stump, the Woodville man struck the windshield and received a fractured nose, police state.

Causeway Talks Held Here No Decision Reached Yet

In an interview with the County Clerk, Frank L. Weldon, the "Post" learned today a few of the details with regard to the developments at the inter-council meeting which discussed replacement or rebuilding of a causeway over Pigeon Lake.

The original causeway was a floating bridge joining Victoria County with the County of Peterborough from the north-east corner of Emily township to the township of Ennismore in Peterborough county. However, after repeated washouts, the bridge was never replaced after it went out in the spring of 1914.

One of the greatest advantages of this bridge was that it was a short route from Peterborough to the district around Bobcaygeon Nevertheless, some sources have claimed that the residents of that area do not particularly care whether the bridge is ever replaced This claim appears to be inaccurate according to Mr. Weldon, due to the enthusiasm of the residents over the prospects of a new causeway

According to the R[illegible] of Em[illegible] tourist business would greatly increase, for he says that one of the greatest tourist attractions in Ontario is the city of Ottawa Naturally, some of the travellers proceed to the Province of Quebec, however he says, that the majority of motorists head south-west in the direction of Toronto and the Niagara peninsula, via number seven highway, through Peterborough and Lindsay. Reeve Peter Purdue of Emily told the meeting that if the causway is constructed, the travellers would be inclined to use this short-cut into the Kawartha district and the northern part of Victoria County.

Mr. Weldon states that no progress has been made as yet on the proposed new causeway, and that it is still in the discussion state. However, bridge experts have been called in by the Town Council and the Chamber of Commerce and the estimated cost of the new structure would be about $192,000.00, of which, if approved, 80 per cent of the cost would be absorbed by the Province of Ontario, 10 percent by Victoria County and the other 10 percent by the county of P[illegible]ough.

Chatterbox

– by Millicent –

One of Lindsay's young singers was very popular at the Bobcaygeon Fair on Saturday and gave the audience an encore which was demanded by them. It was Edgar Smith and how that lad can sing! We'd call him a second Harry Lauder and he had a perfect Scotch brogue as well as a delightful voice. He should go far in the world of song.

Exceptional Talent

What surprised the audience listening at the Bobcaygeon Fair most was a lady who played the mouth-organ. She was from Lakehurst. Mrs. Hirlison was no amateur and could really thrill the audience with her mouth organ. She made a great hit and we expect she won a prize for her playing. Other talent was exceptionally good and they have some exceptional talent around Bobcaygeon.

Dual Purpose

Already there are lots of leaves to rake but one can wait until they all come down and make a big job of it. Lucky are those who can cut their grass and chop the leaves at the same time. The new power mowers do this and it saves a lot of work. Any nice day you can get it out and give it a first cutting.

Fruits Getting Scarcer

The Fall fruits are getting scarcer so if you haven't done all your canning you will have to hurry. There are still grapes and pears but we're lucky to have apples of every kind coming in. It will soon be time to get in your apples for the winter. However, the later ones like spys like to take a little longer and they keep well until sping if kept in a cool place.

Well Ripened

After we'd been looking for ripe cucumbers for weeks we found some beauties at the Bobcaygeon Fair. They were bright yellow and the biggest we've ever seen. They make the most delicious pickle especially if they are yellow ripe.

Winter's Store

There is a certain satisfaction at this time of year to have shelves with fruit and pickles for the winter ahead. Some may like to buy the canned fruit but there is a difference in the homemade brand just like all other things that are homemade.

Proof against
RAIN and REVELLERS

ANYONE who ever visited London knows Piccadilly Circus, and the famous statue of Eros, God of Love, poised above its central fountain. This statue has taken a lot of punishment during the past sixty years, from both practical jokers and London smog. But because the sculptor cast it in aluminum — it was the first large statue to be cast in the "new metal" — it has come safely through the years. When it was cleaned up for the Coronation, it gleamed as freshly as ever. The enduring beauty of aluminum has meanwhile made it a favorite of modern architects, furniture designers, decorators too. How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I keep eggs from cracking?

A. Eggs will not crack while boiling if one end of each egg is pricked with a pin or needle before placing in the water. This makes an outlet for air and prevents the shell from cracking.

Q. How can I remove rust marks from a bathtub?

A. If the porcelain bathtuub or sink has yellow rust marks caused by constant dripping of water, remove them by rubbing with pumice stone

Q. How can I prevent shrinking of blankets when laundering?

A. Measure the woolen blanket before washing it, then dry on a curtain stretcher. It will dry quickly and will not shrink.

Lumpy Cocoa

Cocoa will not lump if a little sugar is mixed with it before pouring on the hot water or milk And a pinch of salt greatly improves the flavor.

Hard Water

The amount of soap it takes to wash things in hard water depends upon the degree of hardness. A general statement is that it takes four to eight times as much soap to make a satisfactory cleasing lather when hard water is used than when soft water is available.

ABOU BEN ADHEM.

Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increase!)
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace
And saw within the moonlight in his room,
Making it rich and like a lily in bloom,
An angel writing in a book of gold.
Exceeding peace had made Ben Adhem bold,
And to the presence in the room he said:
"What writest thou?" — The vision raised its head,
And, with a look made of all sweet accord,
Answered, "The names of those who love the Lord."

"And is mine one?" said Abou. "Nay, not so,"
Replied the Angel. — Abou spoke more low,
But cheerily still; and said, "I pray thee, then,
Write me as one that loves his fellow-men,"

The angel wrote and vanished. The next night
It came again, with a great wakening light,
And showed the names whom love of God had blessed, —
And, lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest!

If Abou Ben Adhem were living in Lindsay at this time, he would of course be canvassing for and contributing to the Lindsay Community Chest — since this is the modern, practical way of showing our love for our fellow men.

It was finally moved by Mr. Jasper Forman and seconded by Dr. Shier that the members of the Committee recommend the adoption of plan B-1 in principle until the details could be worked out, and that the plan be passed on to the Medical Association, the Expansion Committee and the Board of Governors for their consideration and approval. After considerable discussion, this motion was carried.

The remaining portion of the meeting was taken up with discussions of a more general nature. However it was decided that a brochure or pamphlet be prepared for presentation to patients and the public in general so that they may be made familiar with the routine of the hospital. On the motion by Mayor Hick, the Secretary of the committee will procure 5,000 of these pamphlets for distribution to the public.

Accounting Firm Forms Partnership

"The Post" learned today that the local accounting firm of Herbert A. Watson has found a business partnership with Geoffrey H. Ward of Toronto. Henceforth the firm is to be known as Ward and Watson, and the offices will be located at the present site of Mr. Watson's business in the Greg-Mac Building on William St. N.

In a letter to their clients, it is noted that "Mr. Ward has had many years experience as an auditor and upon graduating as a chartered accountant in 1947, received the highest total marks in Canada in the final examinations. His activities include lecturing at the University of Toronto and conducting a column in the Canadian Chartered Accountant Magazine."

"The staff of the Ward and Watson office has been enlarged, so as to facilitate the handling of additional clients and to give prompt attention to all needs."

This new arrangement makes available to the people of Lindsay and district, when required, their combined experience and research on all phases of chartered accountancy, the partners declare.

Not Ready For Annexation, Head Of Committee Reports

Annexation is not for the present . . .

So has Alderman J. A. McQuarrie, chairman of the planning committee advised Lindsay's council.

When a spokesman for a large delegation from Lindsay Homebuilders Co-operative spoke, wanting an answer as to whether their property in Ops Township was eligible for sewers and water, or both from the town, Mr. McQuarrie announced the deliberations of his committee regarding annexation which had been the key point in no decision having been made at the last meeting of council.

Since last June, Ald. McQuarrie said, he had been discussing the case of annexation with his committee. And after considering its various aspects, the Township of Ops had been approached, and after their declining to enter into discussions, his committee had decided to go ahead themselves. They had met yesterday afternoon, he said, with all committee members present, and they had agreed unanimously that they didn't feel in a position to bring any concrete propositions to council regarding annexation.

The town site was laid out in 1827, and there had been no change in boundaries since then. When change is made, Mr. McQuarrie said, it would run into the thousands of dollars, would involve 2,000 acres or so, and when done, should be properly done to provide for expediencies of the next 50 to 75 years. Annexation is so important a matter was the opinion of Ald. McQuarrie, the town shouldn't rush into it, and do a part job. His committee, he said, had a pretty good idea what should be done. They are bringing in technical men from the Department, he said.

He had his personal sympathy for the Homebuilders Co-operative, whose building of homes tied in so very much with the subject of annexation, but gave suggestions as to how they should have services provided, and worry about annexation later.

Welcome Town's New Dep.-Reeve

There was an informal respite in Monday's lengthly council meeting here, when Miss Ada Greaves was welcomed to the group. Miss Greaves was elected by acclamation for Lindsay's deputy-reeve recently. Mayor Hick said he had sat beside her for five or six years in a former council.

She is a very capable councillor, Mr. Hick said. She will be the "utmost value, considering her experience. In these days it is good to have someone of the calibre of Miss Greaves", said Mayoyr A. E. Hick.

Lindsay Couple's Son Becomes Observer Editor

The Reverend A. C. Forrest, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Forest of 21 Fair Ave., in Lindsay, was recently appointed editor of the publication, "The United Church Observer" at the General Council of the United Church of Canada.

Reverend Forest was born in Eden-Mariposa, and was raised in Maple, Ontario, a community to the north of Toronto. He was educated at Aurora High School and completed his studies at Victoria College of the Emmanuel Theological University in Toronto. Twelve years ago Reverend Forest entered the ministry, and since that time has been doing a great deal of writing, mostly on religious subjects for several newspapers and national publications. More recently he was commissioned by the Hamilton Spectator to report on the World Council of Churches which took place at Evanston, Illinois this summer.

Reverend Forest is married with a family of three children, and at the present time he is Minister of the First United Church in Port Credit, Ontario. However, his parents believe that he will find it necessary to leave that church as his new duties will require all of his time and possibly involve a great amount of travelling.

He is believed to be the youngest man ever to hold the editorship of "The Observer".

Sale Barn Owner Deepens His Well To Solve Problem

Warren C. Brown, proprietor of the Lindsay Community Sale Barn, beyond the town limits, wrote a letter to the town council, and stated that he had deepened his own well, and that he would file another request for water and sewer services if his present well fails.

His letter was read by Clerk Allely at last night's council meeting.

Makes Impassioned Plea To Have Dangerous Pits Filled For Safety Sake

Mr. George A. Hunter made an impassioned appeal to Lindsay's Council this week to do something immediately regarding the extremely dangerous open excavation pits in the St. David Street area in the Lindsay's East Ward. Mr. Hunter as spokesman for the residents there, said that 40 children between the ages of 12 to infancy lived in the some 20 houses in the vicinity, and that half the number are under school age. Children passing by on the street too, are tempted to at least come close to investigate the open water in the pools, which he likened to swimming pools.

The pits, Mr. Hunter said have always water in them, and at times five feet of it. These days, following last weeks record flood-rains, children want to throw stones. The clay is slippery . . . last spring two children did fall in, but fortunately there was someone close to save them. Soon, he said, there will be a thin sheet of ice covering them and young skaters will try skating there. He pleaded for action to clear up the danger spot before it was too late.

The Mr. Wilson who owns the property had been written to, Mr. Allely informed the delegation, and had been told that the contractor whom he had hired to erect houses on the site had failed him, but tat he would have the situation relieved in a few weeks. This letter from Mr. Wilson was dated September 20th.

Owing to the seriousness of the water situation, and that pumps had been used on the morning of September 30th, and had not dried the water up very much, drastic action was suggested by the members of Lindsay's council . . . to use a bulldozer if it comes to that.

Police Chief Hunter was present and on being interrogated said the owner of the property could be charged with maintaining dangerous circumstances. Alderman McQuarrie assured those present that there is a section in the Municipal Act which allows for the clearing up of the excavations by the town if nothing is done in the immediate future by the owner himself.

Reeve R. Butler finalized the discussion by saying that the owner's intentions were good perhaps, but

THESE CLUBS HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY

The reports concerning hounds disturbing species of wildlife they were not intended to and causing inconvenience to farmers in the Mariposa Township area are causing considerable discussion in rural Victoria County. And rightly so, if the reports are even reasonably accurate.

All hunt clubs, whether they use guns or not, have a primary responsibility: to see that their activities infringe in no way upon the rights of others. They have the added responsibility of ensuring that they are the first to obey the game laws prevailing in the district in which their activities are taking place. Failure to do these things is almost certain to bring down the wrath of the community upon the heads of those participating and could result in making more responsible groups suffer needlessly.

If these various hunt clubs wish to be held in proper regard and operate successfully they will no doubt find that good public relations is of first importance. Neglect in cultivating these good offices is apt to make the going rough.

Flood Claims Turned Over To Solicitor For Guidance

Talk Won't Cure Problem--Alderman

Damages requested by residents in every section of Lindsay, resultant from the rains of September 30th, are to be referred to the town's solicitors. Hundreds of dollars were claimed and reports of terrific damage from flooded cellars were contained in letters to the town's council and read this week.

Alderman Breese agreed it was "quite a list", and said he thought it a question to be decided legally. Whether the town is liable through any negligence on its part, was the question after the recent rain which were said to have been the most severe one in people's memory, councillors agreed. No community can guard against any such circumstance was the general opinion of the councillors as Alderman McQuarrie made a motion to refer the written claims to the town's solicitors.

Alderman Maidens said he had three feet of water in his cellar the night of the storm, and that this happned once or twice in three years. It is a "problem talk won't cure", Bruce Maidens affirmed. The complaints put in lawyers' hands are "only a few!"

"Need rain-stoppers instead of rain-makers" quipped Mayor Hick, as a general discussion followed as to whether a new south ward storm sewer (which would cost some $400,-000) would be the answer. It possibly would not ever be needed, a Councillor contended, as the present five-year Lindsay sewer system proved on the whole adequate. But, as Mayor Hick said, the recent rain had been referred to by officials as a 20-year rain, i.e., a rain that would happen perhaps every 25 years. Once the recent rains eased up, there was very little water left, said Mr. Hick, referring to Victoria Park specifically.

The mayor voiced his sympathy to residents who had experienced such hardships the night of the heavy rains, but said that flooded sections were not all attributable to sewers. "Really heartbreaking" . . what Lindsay suffered from the torrential rains, concluded Mayor Hick.

Second Crop Peas 6 to 8 Inches High

Mount Horeb (PNS) —A local farmer has a field of peas from six to eight inches high. It is the second crop on this field this season and if frost doesn't come too soon the owner expects a good crop of green peas shortly.

Back From Trip To Auld Sod, 'twas Wet One

A local couple have just recently returned from a wonderful five-week holiday abroad, where they attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Mabel Lord at Belfast, Ireland. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lord, of 61 William St. S. took advantage of the trip and visited many cities and places of interest in the Emerald Isle, including Belfast, Dublin, Bangor, Cork and Limerick.

One of the more outstanding points of interest they visited was Rockingham Castle, built in the year 1627 by the little known Harmon, King of Ireland.

Unfortunately, for the entire five weeks of their holiday, Mr. and Mrs. Lord say that it rained incessantly, curtailing some of the many activities that they had planned.

On the trip home by air, they touched down for a short visit at Goose Bay Airdrome in Labrador, which became so well known during the war as the jumping off place for Europe-bound servicemen.

Band's Performance Pleases Officials

One of the many highlights of the Bobcaygeon Fair held last week-end was the display presented by the Lindsay Boys' Band, when they paraded from the Market Square to the Fair Grounds. Their performance in front of the grandstand was lauded not only by the Bobcaygeon residents, but by the many representatives from Lindsay who were present.

Included among the Lindsayites attending the fair were Mayor Hick and Charles Lamb as well as C. W. Hodgson.

The entire fair was a big success, due largely to the fact that the rain held off, and that the weather was reasonably cool, but comfortable.

Progress Report On Bancroft Property

Here's a field progress report from the Consolidated Uranium Corporation dated October 1st, 1954 and issue over the signature of E. M. Dillman, consulting engineer:

A chip sample from the trench on the No. 2 showing gave 2.0 lbs. U3O8 per ton across a width of 4 ft. A second sample chipped across 8.2 ft. in the same trench gave 1.0 lbs. U3O8 per ton.

This trench is at the south-east end of the dyke and the radio-activity has been increasing along it up to this point. The dyke is considerably fractured with evidence of yellow stain.

A fourth dyke has just been discovered approximately 200 ft. north of the No. 2 showing. Radioactivity is present in widths from 25 ft. to 40 ft. Stripping and exploration are now being carried out along the strike which parallels the No. 2 dyke.

4.87 inches of rain

Records Show Septembers Getting Wetter and Wetter

From a glance at the records kept at the Lindsay Weather Station it appears that the month of September has been getting progressively wetter since 1950, with a total of 4.87 inches in 1954. (The Weather Recording Station has been located at its present position, with Mrs. S. C. Simons as recorder, since the end of March 1949, and complete records are available from that date). September 1950's rainfall was 1.13 inches, September 1951 2.96 inches, September 1952 3.34 inches, and September 1953 4.23 inches. However if we go back to September 1949 it was even wetter still, with 5.05 inches, so this year's 4.87 is not by way of being a record.

And although the 2.34 inches of rain which fell on the night of September 29th appeared to be a record for one 12-hour period in this area, that dubious honour is held by August 4th, 1953, when 3.04 inches fell during the daylight hours. (How short are most of our memories!)

But for sunshine it was a sad story, with only 128.8 hours during the whole month of September 1954, against the three previous years of 172, 195, and 170 hours.

High temperature for the month of September this year was 83 degrees on the 7th, and only on six other occasions was it in the seventies. Most of the month, in fact, the high temperature for the day ranged in the fifties and sixties. Low for the month was 35 degrees on the night of the 23rd and minimums during the month ranged in the forties and fifty degrees, only on the night of the 30th did the low go above 60 degrees. And although the month seemed cool, temperature ranges were about the same as in 1953, and in 1952. Average maximum in September 1954 was 66 and in 1953, 69 and in 1952 71. Average minimums 1954 -48, 1953-47, and 1952-47.

Dan McQuarrie Resigns His Post As Industrial Comm.

Industrial Commissioner Dan McQuarrie has resigned his position as industrial commissioner. His letter of resignation was read to Lindsay's councillors this week at their regular meeting.

Reeve R. Butler said on hearing the letter, "I don't like that very much."

Mayor Hick said Mr. McQuarrie had done a lot over the years for Lindsay, and that this step was "quite a surprise", and suggested a letter of regret be written, which would also extend best wishes for future success.

Immigrants entering Canada in 1953 totalled 169,000.

Tree Falls On Nose Of Car, Emerges Unhurt

Glenarm (PNS) —A Glenarm resident, Mrs. Cresswell Cundy, narrowly escaped serious injury in a freak motor accident last Wednesday morning. While driving to her place of employment at Fenelon Falls during a severe windstorm, a large maple tree on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Crawfod was toppled and fell across the highway just as Mrs. Cunoy was passing. Fortunately the tree struck the front of the car only, thereby avoiding injury to its sole occupant who was able to get out of the car startled but unassisted.

According to reports, the car was extensively damaged, and the local hydro was cut off for several hours as a result of the accident.

Mrs. Cundy is the mother of Mrs. Fred Worsley of the Glenarm community.

Independent Survey Indicates Majority Favor Friday Night; Saturday Night Has Supporters

In an independent poll taken today by the "Post" on the controversial subject of Friday night or Saturday night openings of local stores, the opinions were varied and many, and in a large majority of cases, most expletive. The results of the survey taken recently by the Chamber of Commerce on the same subject are not available as yet, but the opinions of the 30 merchants who were contacted today seem to indicate a definite trend. Of these 30 business men, two-thirds of them definitely stated that they prefer the Friday night opening by-law to remain as it is.

However, the advocates of the Saturday night opening had several points in support of their cause. One proprietor of a local drug store stated that a great deal of country trade is being lost by closing on Saturday nights. He says that some farmers will not get dressed up to come to town on Friday and then have to be back in the mud on the farm on Saturday. He also believes that the farmer prefers to finish his weeks' work about Saturday noon, get cleaned up and come to town for shopping and entertainment and possibly spend the week-end visiting friends. Local theatre managers are firm in their stand on this subject. They believe that they are losing a lot at the box office because the farmers are not coming to town on Friday nights as they would if the stores remained open Saturday nights.

On the other hand, the majority of Lindsay merchants seem to believe that things should remain as they are. One of their chief claims to this belief, is the fact that many farmers come to Lindsay on Friday to attend the auction sales at the Community Barn, and then come downtown in the evening to do their shopping. The manager of a local shoe store believes that the merchants of Lindsay are getting some of the business from the Peterborough district, since those storekeepers remain closed every night. He thinks that some of the people who work in Peterborough and live in surrounding communities, such as Omemee, bring their Friday pay cheques to Lindsay to cash them, and naturally do some shopping at the same time.

The majority of merchants feel that the residents of Lindsay do not care particularly which night the stores remain open, as it is usually convenient for them to come downtown either on Friday or Saturday. But it is those people who live outside of town who must be considered. When it is more convenient for them?

Ex-mayor Chas. Lamb says he has changed his weekly auction sale to Friday night from Saturday afternoon but that he prefers Saturday.

On the subject of the increase of the Transient Trader's licence, the town merchants seem to be generally agreed that it should be increased from one hundred dollars to the suggested three hundred dollars.

Our Own and Other Opinion

PREPOSTEROUS !

People who enjoy music were undoubtedly pleased to learn that the popular British orchestra conductor "Mantovani" was coming to Canada to stage a series of concerts but they must have been profoundly shocked when it was announced that he had arrived minus his internationally famous orchestra.

The following paragraph in the story covering his arrival must have struck readers as proposterous:

"Union regulations prevented him from bringing his crack British orchestra, so that in the cities on his Canadian tour he has to pick up local players and school them in his special brand of orchestra "sound". To give a two-hour concert, such as he'll give in the Gardens (Toronto), he requires "at least nine hours' rehearsal," he told us."

We believe it is going a bit too far when the people of any country are prohibited by organization regulations from hearing outstanding talent from abroad. The whole thing seems so pointless, especially when it is considered that Mantovani's concerts are listened to over the air at every opportunity by thousands of Canadians to whom his arrangements appeal. Isn't it preposterous that these same people should be denied the privilege of hearing and seeing Mantovani's own band during his tour of this country?

THE HORRID ADJECTIVE

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is under fire for letting a horrid adjective go out over one of its television programs. We do not feel disposed to condemn it for that. The adjective is, regrettably enough, almost a standard part of Canadian speech. Nor do we feel disposed to condemn the newspapers which, in reporting the incident, coyly indicated what the horrid adjective was.

What interests us much, much more is the context in which the word was uttered. The man concerned was a Massey-Harris employee and—as part of an actuality broadcast—he was expressing his views on that company. Speaking with some heat, he announced that he had been working in the (horrid adjective) place for nineteen years.

Nineteen years is a long time. Fifteen of those nineteen years have been highly prosperous, with a wide choice of industrial jobs. If this man didn't like Massey Harris, why didn't he go and work somewhere else?

Every Canadian has the right to quit his job. Considering all the lamentations we hear—all the wicked nouns, dreadful verbs, horrid adjectives and shocking adverbs—it is astonishing how few of them do.

FARMERS AND ORGANIZED LABOR

At its recent annual meeting, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (U.S.A.) adopted a resolution asking for a government investigation into the causes of declining farm prices. In commenting on the resolution, Mr. W. P. Kennedy, President of the Brotherhood, said this: "When the farmer prospers, so does the railroad man and every other worker. Our interests are interdependent. We need eath other." He might have added that all departments of the national economy are assisted and strengthened when farmres receive incomes commensurate with the important work they do, and are weakened when the farmers are unable to receive enough for their products to enable them to meet expenses and to assure them of a reasonable margin of profit.

The time is long past—if, indeed, it ever existed—when public indifference to a sound agricultural economy could be indulged without endangering the entire social and economic fabric. Farmers never have been unreasonable, nor are they now, in their financial expectations; they ask only a fair deal in the general economic structure. Certainly, as Mr. Kennedy inferred, organized labor—whose interests cannot be separated from public opinion—has nothing to lose by speaking up for a segment of the population outside its own membership; indeed, the gesture should help to enhance labor's national prestige.

Country Fairs

If the weatherman would give us nicer weather we might take in some of the smaller Fall Fairs. There are so many of them that one would have to take time off but the ones closer to home are always interesting to attend. You meet many you know and there is something about a small Fair that you get a kick out of. You see some fine cooking and fancy work and there is always a jolly crowd to make you welcome and give you a good time. Better check them over and see how many you can go to in the next week or two.

Pleasant Pastime

A pleasant pastime right now is tripping down Kent street to view the fine new Fall clothes that most of us are looking for. Windows are a tremendous drawing card and every woman can't resist taking a peek as she goes by. That is why our shops take pains to keep their windows up-to-date with the latest of everything. Kent street would be very plain if the stores didn't decorate their windows and many a shopper is just a window shopper at first and later a shopper. The windows intrigue them and make inquisitive to see what they have inside the store. So, without shop windows we'd feel pretty lonely going along Kent street. Even if one is just window-shopping they still have their mind open to purchasing something they need now or in the near future. So, if you want to take a stroll be sure and take in Kent street with its brightly arrayed windows.

Shopping to Music

Speaking of our shops, we used to enjoy some fine music that played on as we shopped and made us feel brisker as we hummed the tune. We haven't heard it so much lately but it used to make us happy as we shopped. Surely no one would kick about a little music to keep time to. It could be that we missed it during the summer but a song in the air can help tired shoppers struggle through the crowds.

Don't Catch Cold

This is the kind of weather one gets the sniffles so be sure and wear your rubbers when it rains and take a parasol to ward off the dampness. Colds are everywhere, so if you get one in the family better isolate that person from the rest until it is cleared up. There has been a lack of sun all summer and the Fall has not improved things much. So, watch that first sneeze and take something for it.

Radioactive "Cocktail' Fights Goitre

To the discriminating Frenchman who likes his aperitif, the modern cocktail is a barbarous concoction and a waste of good liquor. But to 46 French patients suffering from toxic goitre, so-called 'cocktails' containing radioactive iodine provide a hope of cure.

This illness is brought about by an overactive thyroid gland, the hormone-producing structure in the front part of the neck. Treatment is therefore aimed at reducing thyroid hormone output by removing, or destroying, portions of the swollen gland. That is the idea behind the radioactive 'cocktail'.

Iodine is essential to the thyroid, and a substantial part taken into the body eventually finds its way to the gland. Thus, radioactive iodine in the 'cocktail' concentrates in the patient's diseased thyroid gland, where its radiation helps to destroy over-active, goitre-causing cells.

Medicine For Apples

There is a saying in English: "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" But apples themselves have been badly in need of medical attention. For in many areas they have been suffering the attack of fireblight, a bacterial infection which has ravaged millions of fruit trees over the past century.

Recently, an American scientist, Dr. Robert N. Goodman, decided to test out a spray containing tiny amounts of terramycin combined with the antibiotic streptomycin. He reported that for the first time in a hundred years, fireblight has been stopped.

Two-Piece Outfits.

Well girls, the two-piece blouse and skirt is back with us again nad our shops are showing so many lovely sets. Velvet will be very fashionable this winter and you'll see many skirts made of this lush fabric. One nice thing about blouses and skirts you can have two of each and mix them up so your friends will think you have a large wardrobe. Belts will count too and a contrast is usually in order to draw attention to the waistline.

Reduce Waistline

Now is the time to trim that waistline down and only exercise and diet will do it. We don't expect to all have "wasp" waistlines as they call them but an inch or two off will help a lot. Better decide now to get out in the garden and rake those leaves or all the other Fall chores that will give you a smaller waistline

Ideal Costume

One nice thing about blouses and skirts is that the blouse of any costume gets mussed more than the skirt and with so many quick-drying nylons and so on, it's going to be easy for the business girl to keep spotless in any temperature. So, these two-piece affairs are ideal for the working girl and she can go to anything in the evening with them and feel well dressed.

Dressier Dresses

Dresses are super this Fall and you don't have to be a glamour girl to wear them. In fact, they would add glamour to any girl if she chose the shade that is flattering to her. The dress will do the rest for they are unusually lovely especially under lamplight. You'll see little dots sparkling on some and others with a sheen that adores the bright lights. No more drab clothes with this season's wardrobe. The clothes are not gaudy but they have a new look with lots of life and feeling in them.

Touch of Christmas

Believe it or not, the Christmas cards are starting to come in. At least samples are in some stores and of course these have to be ordered especially. After the cold summer winter can't be too bad!

A Thrilling New Murder Adventure..

By Helen McCloy

XXXIV

In 15 minutes the usual party was complete Brinsley Shaw, and Charlotte Dean, Hubert Canning and his wife Isolda— all were there except the Lawrences.

Basil, keeping his eyes on Zimmer's tall figure, noticed without surprise that he and Otto were not once within speaking distance of each other but neither one of them ever left the room.

Zimmer and a woman in silver drew near one of the open windows. Light from a lamp behind them high lighted Zimmer's blond head, but the woman's face was a blur in the shadow.

Isolda Canning's voice was low and desperate. "I'm frightened, Max."

"What are you talking about?"

"Perdita Lawrence. She's in the hospital. She may die. The radio said 'traffic acident.' Max, were you driving the car?"

"Be quiet!" Zimmer's voice was low and furious. "You're out of your mind. I give you my word I had nothing to do with Perdita's accident. I've been wondering why she and Lawrence were late."

Zimmer gripped the edge of the window grille with both hands.

"No. She can't talk. She can't let her father know the truth. If she did, I would tell him the same story as hers with different motivation and that would be unbearable for Perdita. And for her father.

"But, if she's delirious?"

"That's improbable, but not impossible. However in a business like this you have to take some risks."

"I don't want to take a risk like that."

"Don't you realize I have a plan?"

"You're not fooling me? If you are, I swear I'll get out from under by going to the police myself before anyone else."

"Speak more softly. You're hysterical. You'll feel better when you've had a cocktail. It'll be along soon."

"But, Max, what are we going to do?"

"You can trust me. Now talk about something else."

Listlessly she followed him over to the piano that stood by the next window and looked over his shoulder as he opened a bound volume.

"These lieder of Schumann's?"

"I. can't read music."

"But you must have heard this." Contempt tinged his voice a little. "At the movies, if nowhere else. Don't to recognize the first two bars?" Softly he struck four notes—D, D sharp, F, F sharp.

* * *

"Now!" Basil stepped out of the shrubbery and walked toward the French windows. Lloyd followed him wonderingly.

Otto approached Isolda. There were two of the colored cocktail glasses on his silver tray—one sapphire, one aquamarine. The sapphire glass was on Isolda's side of the tray as Otto presented it. Her hand was moving toward the glass when Basil vaulted the grille of the French window.

"I'll take that." He snatched the sapphire glass from her hand.

Isolda's lips parted in utter astonishment. Otto began to shake so that a little of the other cocktail spilled on the tray. Zimmer stood like stone, an unlighted cigaret between his lips.

"Dr. Willing! I didn't expect another of your intrusions so soon!" His stare was insolently calm, but his voice vibrated uncontrollably.

Isolda screamed. Basil looked down the room where she was looking and saw Foyle standing in the archway that led to the hall. A uniformed policeman was moving toward Otto.

"You can arrest Zimmer," said Basil. "I have the poisoned drink. I even know the signal he used for Otto—three times in my presence, twice the evening Duggan and Miss Shaw died and once tonight. I was slow getting it; but at least in time to save Thereon Yorke and the Cannings."

"Save?" There was dawning horror in Yorke's eyes. "What have you saved me from, Dr. Willing?"

Isolda, Cannings voice climbed high on the scale. "You mean that Bert . . . ?"

Basil looked at her with something that was not quite pity. "He was a patient of Dr. Zimmer's too."

Savagely Canning turned on Isolda. "You . . ." His lips worked but he could not form words.

At midnight the rain ceased. When Basil Willing got home, a new moon was riding the clouds in the sky beyond the library windows.

Gisela was waiting up for him and insisted on hearing everything immediately.

"How could Zimmer realize instantly who Duggan was and why he was there?" Gisela asked her husband.

"When Duggan arrived Zimmer did something completely out of character that has puzzled me all along — he put his arm around Duggan's shoulder, a gesture of familiarity he would not use ordinarily to a person he had never seen before. He did it in order to pick Duggan's pocket. Zimmer simply had to know which one of us was the real Basil Willing. A glance inside Duggan's wallet told Zimmer that. The wallet contained a private license issued in Jack Duggan's name and a check for $400 made out to Duggan and signed "Katherine Shaw per C. D.' It was as clear as a printed message: "This is Jack Duggan, a private detective employed by Katherine Shaw.' "

Record 2.35 Inches of Rain In Night

Cellars Flooded Park Like Lake As Sewers Fail

The heaviest electric storm in four years, and probably the longest; drenched and battered Lindsay last Wednesday p.m. It poured an official 2.35 inches of rain over the town. Residents returning to town from Peterboro before midnight, found it hard to navigate through the torrential rains, although Peterborough city is said to escaped lightly.

Learning the "official" rainfall was but 2.35 inches, people were saying next morning —"Boy, what two inches can do!"

Mayor A. E. Hick told "The Post" he had been up since four a.m. as calls from residents started coming in to his home. People phoned the Fire Dept. and the police. Police Chief John Hunter and the police office answered phone calls all night and were still answering them during the morning. The Chief says in some instances, people showed symptoms of patience severely tried, and one party in particular criticized the police for the rain! (The police assist the town in such circumstances by notifying the Board of Works of flooded areas.)

Thursday, the fire department was "plenty busy" trying to be everyplace at once. No, no fire this time, but water!

Water Board Superintendent "Bob" Reynolds cast an anxious eye over the town, with its puddled roadsides, flooded cellars, which he told "The Post" seemed to be worst in the easterly section of the South Ward.

Fire Chief Wylie returned at nine o'clock, after hours of work with the pumps. Reports of six inches of water in cellars of the town brought out the small pump, but later, the fire truck was seen travelling west on Kent St., piloted by Fireman Tom Madill, heading towards a flooded section.

Peel St. area residents suffered heavily. One resident reports a residue was left INSIDE her washing machine in her basement Hot water boiler elements are out of commission, and newly-preserved fruit perhaps ruined also, some residents report. One woman measured 24 inches of water in her basement.

One could have rowed a boat in Victoria Park. Water there was 18 inches deep at points and overflowed Peel St., flooding the former Sylvester property. Sewers and catch basins were unable to handle the flood waters caused by the torrential rains, and were plugged solid in many instances.

Similar "lakes" were created in the area around Sussex S., Albert S., and Adelaide St. S. Over on St. David St. residents report several open-air basements and "dug-outs" were flowing over.

There are no reports of lightning causing any damage, but the almost continuous flashes and "peculiar" thunder caused great loss of sleep among some Lindsay citizens And as the storm continued, past the three-hour mark, lights were seen flickering on in houses, as residents became increasingly concerned for the safety of their television aerials, and the alarming prospect of flood damage. Street lights blinked out in the East Ward for a while.

Heat lightning, and heavy thunder put on a brilliant and noisy display throughout the night.

Mayor Hick told "The Post" early Thurs. he expected Council would be faced with a new flood when it met next time — a flood of flood claims What to do with them? The mayor didn't know until he had consulted with members and the town's legal adviser.

Armouries Get Cleaning Up In And Out

The Lindsay Armouries is getting cleaned up inside and out, "The Post" has noticed.

It will be a "large job"- the outside bricks undergoing cleaning, pointing and waterproofing. The inside walls are also receiving a fresh paint job.

L. T. Braunton and Co. Ltd., of Lindsay have the inside painting work, and are well on in their work. Specialists in the outside brick work. a firm from Ottawa, have already completed the cleaning of the west and north side bricks of the armouries building.

All told, the general freshening-up job will take quite a while, a spokesman says, it being slow, specialized work involving pressurized water and steam.

Fire Prevention Week

Claim 9 out of 10 Fires Are Due To Just 6 Causes

Fire Prevention Week is officially declared for this week, the week of October 3rd to 9th. A poster of a familiar fireman leading a small girl by the hand bears the warning in black letters against a fiery red background — "Let's grow up, not burn up". Another bulletin distributed by the Fire Chief says "Fire is the silent partner of Inflation."

Mr. Pollock, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce here, is issuing bulletins and literature to Lindsay merchants who are taking an active part in Fire Prevention, and it is hoped, the Fire Department says, to have the co-operation of all citizens. Edwards Hardware is one merchant who is putting in a Fire Prevention window display.

"Fire Prevention is advertised for a week", says Inspector Tom Madill, Lindsay Fire Department, "but it's message is for 52 weeks of the year."

Next week, Inspector Madill will speak in Omemee on Tuesday. He says he has been invited there as part of their features marking the Week, and he will make a check of schools and factories in Omemee.

Fire Prevention Week is a national idea, and is held in Canada and United States, "The Post" learns. It was first started in 1911 in Canada, as an anniversary of the Great 1871 Chicago fire. On its 40th anniversary, in 1911, the then lieutenant-governor passed an order in Council, and Fire Prevention Week has been held yearly ever ever since.

Statistics prove that 85%, or nine out of ten home fires are caused by common carelessness.

The International Association of Fire Chiefs contend that of the six causes of home fires, careless smoking and handling of matches, the cause of nearly a third of them, tops the list; Number two, causing 25 per cent of all home fires, is defective or overheated stoves and furnaces,—and that includes defective chimneys and flues; third worst cause is the misuse of electricity, using bigger than 15-ampere fuses, heating up weak circuits by plugging in too much of a load and not keeping appliances in safe working condition; number four is kitchen hazards like potholders, fat and other easy burning things being left too near to open, untended burners—also dirty, greasy kitchens increase the chance of small fires getting out of control. quickly; next on the list are all the dangerous things people do with gasoline and coal oil . . . . quickening fires. dry cleaning, paint removing and storing those fiery liquids in the home in breakable glass bottles and leaky, open cans; sixth and last, too many home fires are started by storing hot coals and ashes in wooden or cardboard containers—often too, they're just dumped on the basement floor next to wooden partitions or trash.

There you have them—just six causes—but they're responsible for nine out of every ten home fires.

Cinder Path Washed Out By Rain

The chairman of the Property Committee of the High School Area Board, Mr. Gerard Connolly is seriously concerned about the water that after every rain runs in rivulets from the Fair Grounds through Henry Street, to the High School grounds, where it is diverted by the new High School addition to the Kawartha Park west end, and continues to Wellington St.

Last week's rain changed the rivulet to a rushing river, which sent tons of water coursing from the farthest section of the Fair Grounds down through the school grounds. When it was deflected at the High School, tore up the cinder path through the park, leaving the high grass to the west of the school looking like the flat bed of a river. (It costs about $100 to restore this cinder path, the chairman explained.)

Mr. Connolly suggests that there are not sufficient catch basins in the area for ordinary rainfall, and last night's flood-like rain proportions has caused a very, very bad situation which will cost considerable money.

Appeals For Aid In Getting Line On Vital Witness

The following letter was recently received by "The Post" from Mr. Bob Mead ,of Ukiah, Calif. In it, as the letter explains, the writer is attempting to find a witness to an accident which happened in June, 1953, in order to clear his name.

Bob Mead
107-N-State St.
Ukiah, Calif.

The Editor,
Lindsay Daily Post,
Lindsay, Ontario.
Dear Editor:

I am writing 775 newspapers to find an eyewitness to a terrible accident. This accident occurred on June 21, 1953 on Highway 101 between the towns of Hopland and Cloverdale, Calif., in the afternoon around 4.15 p.m. This eyewitness is a man between the ages of 45-50, weight 180, height 5 ft. 11 in. If I could find this man he could force a new trial and I could clear my name easily with a new trial. A Canadian newspaper in Alberta, Canada, is trying to find a nurse who cared for me at the scene of the accident. She will help clear my name. She may have talked to this man and she may know where to find him.

The "Denver Post" ran an article and found two witnesses for me from Denver, Colorado, whom I have been seeking. Ask your local radio station to help me find these people.

I am not guilty as God is my Judge.

Please help me.

Bob Mead.

Mr. Mead says he stands convicted of manslaughter by two courts.

Christmas Tree Auction Sale Brings Up To $2.60 Tree

An original idea in Christmas Tree merchandising was tried out earlier in September in Pontypool environs. Grower Elgin W. Budd of Simcoe tried an experiment which proved highly successful, when he held an auction sale of Christmas trees on one of his plantations, and growers and buyers from United States and Canada attended.

Pontypool's John Payne conducted the auction which is believed to be Canada's first. High prices were paid by buyers, and great praise given to Mr. Budd, who has grown Scotch pine for about 10 years, and is believed to be the originator of pruning the trees regularly, which result in the type of bushy, well-formed Christmas trees shown and bought avidly. In less than a half hour after the sale began, over 2,000 trees of first quality had been disposed of at a price of $2.60 a tree, the highest ever received in this area by the grower. About 6000 trees were sold by auction on two of Mr. Budd's farms.

A spokesman who attended the sale reports Mr. Budd's responsibility was to cut the trees and load them on his own transport for shipment to various points. It is felt by some, that in the future, most growers in Durham county probably would submit their trees for auction instead of making individual deals with prospective purchasers, the spokesman declared.

Wouldn't Trade 1924 Buick For Latest In New Cars; Nestleton Man Fond Of It

Tuesday afternoon on William Street, many a passerby did a double take when nearing a strange automobile parked in front of the Exhibition office. On closer examination ,it turned out to be a stately old vehicle that most people believed extinct. This echo of the past was a 1924 McLaughlin Buick Touring Sedan, owned by Mr. Fred Johns, of R. R 1 Nestleton.

In an interview with the "Post" Mr. Johns stated that when he bought the car from the showroom, he paid the then fabulous price of $1400.00, which included all the accessories such as side curtains, self starter, and four wheel brakes.

The motor in the car was the last of the four-cylinder "slow motion" long stroke engines manufactured by the McLaughlin Company, and, according to Mr. Johns, he still gets the original 32 miles per gallon of gasoline.

In the thirty years that Mr. Johns has been driving his car, he has never had any major motor work done, and at the present time he is contemplating the installation of new-piston rings, as the car is just beginning to use a little oil.

The major problem, states Mr. Johns, is locating tires that will fit the car, for the original ones, long since gone were "hi-pressure" 31x4. However, when balloon tires came on the market, he had the wheels adapted to fit the 500x16 size tire. Now he finds that this size is no longer manufactured.

Mr. Johns regrets that his car will no longer step along at 85 mph as it did when it was relatively new, nevertheless, he says that he can still cruise along with the best of them. He states that ten years ago he was offered a new car by a leading manufacturer in an even trade for his antique, but, as Mr. Johns says,

"I'd have a nice pretty car for a couple of years, and then where would I be?".

Centre's Fall and Winter Plans Are Well Advanced, Director Reviews Activities

Plans are now well under way for the activities of the 1954-55 season at the Lindsay Kiwanis Community Centre, and many of the classes are already in operation. The Kindergarten class this year, which is conducted by Mrs. Bob Martin and Mrs. John Lamb, has an enrollment of 46 boys and girls, which is a considerable increase over previous years. The Recreation Hall already is booked solidly by the I.O.D.E., the Rebekahs and the Boy's Band for regular Saturday Rummage Sales. Next Wednesday, the Leathercraft classes begin with an enrollment of approximately forty pupils, who will be instructed by Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds, and plans are also under way for the instigation of an advanced art class. However, at least ten pupils will be required, for it will be necessary to hire a good art instructor who can take the time needed to guide and assist individual talent. The dancing class, with over 100 pupils, is being conducted by Mrs. Jean Muir, who has taken over from Miss Marjorie Walsh, now retired from teaching.

The arena itself has taken on a new look this year, with a complete paint job, new seats, new floors and new boards. Even the refreshment booth has had its face lifted and is now double its previous size.

In an interview with "the Post" the recreation director, Mr. John Lamb, stated that the ice surface will be ready about the middle of October, and the Junior Hockey Club, for boys under twenty, is now being organized for the winter season. This year there will be at least two home games a week, both in the Juniors and the O. H. A. Intermediate A's, and the arena facilities will be available to the Public School Hockey clubs two afternoons a week. All in all this year, there will be about 400 youngsters playing hockey in the various leagues at the Lindsay Arena.

Hockey is not the only ice sport practised at the arena, Mr. Lamb pointed out. The Figure Skating Club, with it's 125 members of all ages, will be rehearsing one night a week from four P.M. on. As usual, the members are being instructed by a professional, with the goal being the Skating Carnival which is so popular every year. The Figure Skating Club has for its president, Mr. Ralph Wakelin.

Other groups that use the facilities offered by the Recreation Centre are the Girl Guides and Brownies, who meet there each week, and the Lindsay Boy's Band which practises weekly.

School Boy Trods On It, Old Well Caves In

A Lindsay boy playing soccer on the school grounds at Central Public School came close to doing an unscheduled dive down a well on Tuesday afternoon.

Kenny Anderson was making a run for his team when suddenly the ground gave away and a ten-foot well with a foot of water in it opened up. The cave-in covered an area of about a yard square.

Principal W. S. Battersby and Instructor Ivan Brown told "The Post", the well was of the stone-walled type and appeared to be well constructed. They had no idea how the well came to be there or what it served.

Before school time on Wednesday gravel had been dumped in the cavity and it was filled to overflowing. An excited group of students were gathered around the spot recalling the incident and going over the details.

Everyone agreed that Kenny Anderson was a lucky boy to have missed plunging to the bottom of the well.

900 Union Leaders March, Sing Around Struck Plant

Toronto, Sept. 30—(BUP)—Nine hundred union leaders from across Canada sang union songs as they cirled the Massey-Harris plant in Toronto for half an hour today in an orderly demonstration of support for its three thousand strikers.

The demonstrators stopped to obey traffic lights during their march. There were no speeches.

Office workers watched silently from the company windows, and about 50 spectators including neighborhood children gathered across the street.

The regular strikers throttled production at the King Street farm equipment plant almost three weeks ago when they walked off their jobs to win a 10 cent hourly increase. The union leaders returned to their deliberations at a Canadian Congress of Labor Convention after the picket line visit.

Credit local man's action with saving Eskimos lives

Only contact with medic was by radio but only one untreated Eskimo lost life

A Lindsay man has been commended for his action in stemming the course of a disease which threatened an Eskimo Camp in the Northwest Territories. The man is Sgt. Fred H. Waite, Royal Canadian Corp of Signals. He is the son of Mrs. W. Waite, 64 Victoria Ave. N., Lindsay

The story of Sgt. Waite's commendable action is carried in a "Supplement to Army Orders" under the caption of "Honours and Awards". It needs no embellishment and reads:

On 17 May 1954, a report was received at the Signals Radio Station in Ennadai Lake, Northwest Territories that a group of Eskimos were very seriously ill.

Sergeant Waite the non-commissioned officer in charge of the station, escorted by one of the Eskimos, went to the Eskimo Camp which was about three miles away. He found four adults and two children with extremely high temperatures and suffering from what appeared to be a severe attack of influenza. He immediately treated them with penicillin and aspirin and on return to his station sent a message to the hospital at Fort Churchill.

The next day he again visited the camp and found eight more cases. The same treatment was given except for one case in which he delayed treatment in order to establish a control case upon which the medical authorities could base their studies. On 19 May Sergeant Waite developed all symptoms of the Eskimo disease and had a temperature of 103.2 degrees. Despite this, with the aid of an assistant he continued his treatments on existing and new cases until 23 May.

Due to weather conditions it was impossible for the Medical Officer at Fort Churchill to fly to Ennadai and he was therefore completely reliant on radio reports of conditions received from Sergeant Waite. However this non-commissioned officer's observation and description of symptoms was so good that it was possible for a doctor to advise on treatment. His action in establishing a control case was in accordance with the best principles of medical practice.

The prompt action of Sergeant Waite in addition to his sound judgment in the administration of treatment no doubt saved the lives of the twenty-two Eskimos who were stricken with the disease The only death in the camp was an Eskimo whose sickness had not been reported and who received no treatment.

The Chief of the General Staff has been pleased to commend the conduct of Sergeant Waite. This act of commendable conduct will be recorded in the documents of this non-commissioned officer.

Overcome by fumes in vat, inhalator revives workman

Bill Negus went to his regular employment today feeling "not too bad", Mrs. Negus says, after his experience yesterday at work. Mr. Negus was overcome by fumes from an processing vat on Thursday morning at 10.20. The inhalator was used for a half hour or so, the respirator from the Lindsay Fire Department having been rushed to the scene with Chief Hunter going along in the car.

Mr. Negus, 41, has been a maintenance man at the plant for a year and a half, and never had anything like this happen before, his wife states. She says her husband came home after dinner and said e had "got a dose". He had been inside a tank that he had just emptied of sulphuric acid, when he was overcome apparently by the fumes.

The plant nurse was on hand, and Dr. Coburn was called who immediately called the Fire Dept. for the inhalator.

Don't go away . . .

Just throw 6 spoons on table and start painting them . . . distinguished artist's advice

"You don't have to go to Haliburton or to Venice in order to paint, just throw six spoons on the table . . . '" said William Winter, A.R.C.A., O.S.A., in addressing the fall's first meeting of the Lindsay Art Guild in the L.C.I. Library Thursday evening.

Mr. Winter, a humorous speaker whose love of life sparkles through his words, maintained that "paintings do not have to tell a story" but they must be believed in by the artist and the viewer must enjoy them. He said that the artist is allowed to exaggerate in order to drive his point home. Having brought a number of his paintings with him for demonstration purposes, Mr. Winter turned them upside down and sideways to prove that pictures must have balance from all angles, as to masses and colours.

In speaking of children's drawings, Mr. Winter said they "have the right idea when they point 'father' bigger than the 'milkman' . . . for to them he is the most important person . . therefore their set of values is correct. I, myself, am not interested in non-objective art, because I am a romanticist." He went on to state that he had been compared to a "12th Century man' in the use of colour and in the technique of underpainting (dark vivid colours against dark).

Of interest locally is the fact that Mr. Winter noticed some children playing beside St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church on Russell Street E. and he said the children's clothing reds, greens and bitter yellow, against the rusty-red brick of the church would make a good painting.

Born in Winnipeg, Mr. Winter now resides in Toronto where he teaches at the Toronto Art Gallery and at the Artists' Workshop in that city. The speaker was introduced by L.C.I. art teacher, Mr. J. Moher, and thanked by Mrs. H. D. Logan.

Earlier in the evening, Art Guild president, Miss N. King told the story of how Winter's painting, "The Pink Fence' came to be purchased by the Art Guild. She asked Mr Jasper Forman to accept the painting on behalf of the Victoria County District High School Board to be the permanent property of the Lindsay Collegiate.

In accepting the delightful picture which shows some of Winter's famous children at play, Mr. Forman stated that the Board had worked hard to make the new collegiate a reality. He said he was happy that the Art Guild had presented the painting to the school since such things as it made the difference between a "house and a home' to any building.

Following the meeting, the some 75 people who attended, remained to enjoy a cup of coffee and a chance to talk with the artist.

Education Strides In India, Shown In Study Book

The September meeting of the Salem W. M. S. and W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Alex Webster with Mrs. Jim Lake in charge of the worship and study book.

The devotional period "About India" had as its theme "A Nation Before God". The leader was assisted by Mrs. A. Webster, Mrs. G. Davey and Miss Lena Tremeer The new study book "The Church in India" by R. M. Bennett was introduced by Mrs. Jim Lake assisted by Mrs. L. Tremeer as "Mrs. Sightseer" and Mrs. F. Tremeer as "Mrs. Sociable". In the course of the program one found that India with an area of one-half of Canada has a population 30 times as great and that women take a greater part in the governmen of the land than they do in Canada. India stands second in the film industry and it together with radio is doing much to educate the masses.

Mrs. Gladwin Davey conducted the business The minutes were read and approved. Seven members, two associate members and one visitor answered the roll call. A letter was read regarding the Fall Rally, at Minden. Invitations were received from Cresswell, and Manilla to their open meetings. The Salem open meeting was planned for October. Reaction Follows Letter From Mariposa Resident Concerning Club's Hounds

There has been some reaction to two stories which appeared in this paper on Wednesday relative to (a) the death of a young deer and (b) the alleged pursuit of a prize-winning bull and other animals less domesticated in Mariposa township. The reaction takes two forms, one a partial retraction and two, a statement on the events by executive officers of the Victoria Fox Hunters' Club.

In the first instance Mr. R. C. H. Jenkins has given the club a letter addressed to "whom it may concern" in which he writes: "This is to certify that in my letter to the Lindsay Post stating that Victoria Fox Hunters' Club's dogs chased Ross Flett's prize bull was inaccurately reported and I am sorry my information was not correct."

Before passing on to the club's letter it might be pointed out that the information carried in the paper Wednesday did not name any club as being responsible for the action. It was referred to as "a local hunt club." Mr. Jenkins told "The Post" today that his original letter was never intended to be taken literally on the point of the dogs chasing the bull but merely to emphasize that the dogs chased a large number of creatures other than fox.

Now for the Fox Hunters' Club letter:

"Victoria Fox Hunters' Club wish to clear up some of the misunderstanding which has been printed in the Daily Post, Sept. 29th, 1954.

"We wish to thank everyone for their cooperation during our field trial Sept. 26th, 1954.

We are not a gun club, so we do not carry a gun during any of our trials, practice or otherwise.

"Apparently there was some shooting going on in the vicinity of our trial the previous day scaring horses and there has been a misunderstanding among the residents between us and a gun club.

"The trial was well organized and supervised. The Game Wardens and Provincial Police are always notified when we are having a trial.

"About the heading in the paper 'Hunds Run Young Deer Down', The hounds never as much as touched that deer as some of the club saw what happened. The deer hit the wire fence which threw it back on a stump and it staked itself and the Game Warden will verify this statement.

"We wish to thank Mr. Jenkins for his letter of apology in clearing up some of the matters written by him.

"Hoping this helps clear up some of the hard feelings among the people towards our club.

We remain,
Tom Zealand. President.
R. J. Trotter, Secretary.

Mr. Trotter told "The Post" that the Victoria Fox Hunters' Club is entering 12 hounds from Lindsay in the Kawartha Hound Club trials at Peterborough a week from Saturday and that there will be entries in the all Canadian trials in November.

Report Severed Leg Found At Haliburton

Haliburton, Oct. 4 --(BUP)-- Provincial Police search parties are combing a four mile area of bush near the resort village of Haliburton today for the rest of a body from which a severed human leg was found.

Two hunters, marking runs for a deer hunt, found the leg yesterday in a grassy area three quarters of a mile from Lake Kashagawigamog.

The leg apparently had been freshly placed in the grass, which was not discolored. Police said it might have been dragged there by an animal.

Dr. L. H. Carroll, coroner, said it definitely was from a human body. It was brought to Toronto for further examination in Provincial Police laboratories.

There are no reports of persons missing in the area.

"The Post" endeavoured to reach Coroner Dr. L. H. Carroll this afternoon, but was advised he was away on two weeks' vacation. This paper learned that the story was sent to a Toronto paper by a local reporter. Provincial Police could not be contacted and Dr. Jamieson of Minden said she knew nothing of the report.

Provincial Police at Lindsay have just advised that the mystery has dissolved following receipt of a report from Toronto that the leg was not human.

BEAR LEG

Toronto, Oct. 4 -(BUP)- Scientists in Toronto told relieved Haliburton Police today that the severed leg they thought was human really belonged to a bear.

The leg was found yesterday in a field near Lake Kashagawigamog and police were scouring the area for the body to which it had been attached until the findings halted the investigation.

Slight Drop

Cheaper Fruits, Vegetables, Coffee, Meat, Lower C of L

Cheaper fruits, vegetables, coffee and meets have caused a small drop in the nation's cost of living

The Bureau of Statistics says the consumer price index went down a fifth of a point between August and September.

The decline in the index from 117 points to 116 point eight was the first in three months. It went up four-fifths of a point in July and five-tenths of a point during the previous two months.

The food index fell during August from 114 point four to 113 point eight. The Bureau of Statistics says there were decreases on a wide range of items --including coffee, pork, lamb, fresh fruits and vegetables. But eggs, butter and some canned goods went up slightly.

Advances in rents and home ownership resulted in a rise of one-fifth of a point in the shelter index.

Young People's Activities

Reaboro Mission Band

Reaboro (PNS) —"The Boy in His Father's House" was the story told by Mrs. Guy Littlejohn to the members of the Mission Band at their meeting which was held in the vestry of the Church with 14 members present.

The meeting opened with the Chorus, "Praise Him, Praise Him" after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. The scripture taken from Luke 2, 40-42 was read by Bobby Aldous. Mrs. Veals, the pianist, taught the children a new motion chorus called, "Building Every Day". The memory work was heard and nearly all the members received their stars for having it perfect. Christy Harper received the offering while the others sang, "Hear the Pennies Dropping" followed by a "thank you" prayer.

The story which was told was of the childhood and boyhood of Jesus, was based on the scripture which had been read and the children found it most interesting. After singing the Chorus, "This Little Light of Mine", the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Veals, after which the children enjoyed their usual treat of cookies before going to their homes.

After a short business period the offering was received and was followed by a session of prayer in which Mrs. Smith, Mrs. G. Jones and George Skuce participated.

Mr. Burke called on Mr. and Mrs. Reeds to present the slides Mr. Reeds described each slide as it was shown. There were some very beautiful pictures which had been taken of the local scenery at the different seasons of the year showing the various colours of the leaves, the snow clad hills, the ice-breaking up in the creek in the spring and haying time. The lovely animals that roam freely in Algonquin Park were on the screen to be admired. The famous tourist attraction at Kingston, Old Fort Henry, was shown in full detail. Dairy Day which was held at Lindsay, the Orangemen's celebration and the Sunday School picnic were slides which proved of much interest and brought one set of slides to a close. Mr. Morden described his which were of the Ontario Hydro Floral Clock at Queenston, the Oak Gardens, and a perfect picture of Niagara Falls. There were more local scenes and several taken in Lindsay, one particularly good one of Kent Street, which concluded the slides. Mr. Burke thanked those responsible in providing the slides for the meeting. After singing a hymn, "Mr. W. C. Veals closed the meeting with prayer.

A choir practice was held after the meeting under the direction of Mr. Keith Morden who is responsible for the music for Anniversary Sunday, Mrs. Gordon Morden acted as organist.

11-hour working day was workman's problem here 55 Years ago

Fifty-five years ago in Lindsay "the eleven-hour working day" was the problem confronting labor and management. An old issue of "The Weekly Post" date April 21, 1899, which Robt (Bob) Cornforth has unearthed, carries a letter to the editor of "The Post" of that day which reads:

Sir:—

"As a working man, I desire to point out to the public the unostentious way in which Mr. Sam Parkin reduced the hours of labor in his mill from eleven to ten hours. Until recently it has been the custom and is still the plan in many places, to squeeze the very last bit of effort out of a workman that the sawmill man is capable of putting forth. Experience has, however, taught many of our less greedy mill-owners that long hours are not conducive of either good work or a large output of work. Jaded men will not be as careful nor will they work as hard as those whose energies have not been sapped by excessively long hours of labor. The theory that machines kept going for eleven hours will do more work than in ten hours is a delusive one. That they will not do as good work must be apparent to the least observant. Matter in any form—even in the shape of machine— is better for reasonable and fair periods of rest, and incessant and driving work is the poorest kind of economy with either man or machine. This lesson has been learned by many of the largest employers of labor in the world, who have adopted the eight-hour system. It is becoming the law of many of the most enlightened nations to make the eight-hour day the legal working day on all government work. Such being the case, why should our local employers —especially the mill men—persist in drawing the very last bit of effort out of their weary, and too often, poorly paid men.

"It is rumored that Mr. John Carew, whose mill operations have been so successful, intends adopting the ten-hour system, but that he is persistenly opposed in this course by other large employers of mill labor. For the sake of mercy and humanity, let it be said that we have seen the last in Lindsay of the body and soul-racking eleven-hour working day.

Yours, etc.,

Lindsay Store Features Window On Fire Prevention

The Fire Prevention Week window in Edwards Hardware window is attracting a great deal of attention this week. This store is co-operaing in drawing the nation's attention to fire prevention, which is particularly noted October 3-9, but as a poster in Edwards' window proclaims - should bé kept in mind for 52 weeks of the year.

Fire extinguishers, large and small are displayed, and boxes of Foam for the "form-type". Firemen's rubber coats, hats, boots stand in the east corner and close by are shown hatchets, hooks and various articles of fire-fighting equipment.

"The Post" reporter talked to Mrs. Coukell, who was looking with great interest at four large pictures taken at the Moore Terrace fire five years ago. The pictures are displayed in the foreground of the display. Mrs. Coukell was burned out that night, five years ago next February, and she says the fire started in the south section and burned right through the whole building. One picure taken that night, showing the water from hoses frozen on wires and trees and the wreckage of the buildings, shows Frank Fitzell carrying boxes out of Mrs. Coukell's home at the time, she says.

Unique Act

The Ontario legislature in 1935 passed an act making the Dionne quintuplets wards of the province —until they reached the age of 18— to prevent exploitation.

Raspberries

Raspberries are ripening late this season. William Wemsley of Fenelon Falls says he picked some edible raspberries on October 1st. He considers this late to be getting fresh berries in this area.

Many local gardeners have remarked on the fact that flowers are lasting well due to the fact that September, while cold, was relatively free of killing frosts.

Mrs. Weldon Gives Convention Report

The W. A. of Cambridge St. United Church was held with Mrs. Frederick pesiding. After the business items were disposed of Mrs. Weldon gave a splendid report on the convention held in Cannington.

Mrs. Skitch opened the devotional period with a hymn and Mrs Weir led in prayer. Mrs. Fletcher's solo "Open my eyes that I may see" was much appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Honey gave an interesting discourse on "Work of our Hands." "As Christians we should work together as one unit. Through the working of ouur minds, our Hands do God's work," he declared.

After singing "O Master let me walk with Thee", Dr. Neal closed with prayer.

THE MARKET

Good Variety Of Produce

One could buy the necessaries for a first-class dinner at Saturday's out-door Farmers' Market, and quite reasonably too!

A certain roasting fowl was marked $1.21; potatoes sold for 40 cents for six quart baskets; fresh cabbage (15c); tomatoes 50c. a small basket, cucumbers (5c apiece). Vegetables were various—beets per basket, 25 cents, and in bunches, 5 cents; corn, 35 cents doz.; pepper squash, 5 and 10 cents; butter beans 55 cents a small basket (and there was just one) and Spanish onions for 15 cents a measure.

An apple grower had Mackintosh Reds for 69 cents a six-quart basket, and flowers and plants were still displaying their late beauty. Plants ran from 35c to $1.00., One plant in particular, called a cypress fern was attracting attention.

A Manvers Township farmer who has come to the market for years had her stall completely clear, this morning at 9.10. She explained that her corn, potatoes and eggs (large at 60c per doz.) were picked up in record time, this morning.

"The Post" queried the farmers about their future when the weather get too cold for holding Saturday morning market outdoors. All had the same thing to say, that they hope to have a warmer welcome soon, warmer place that is. One well-read lady said that earlier there had ben a request in the newspaper to the effect that suggestions of the general public would be welcomed, but that she had not noticed any forthcoming.

Skunks Again— On Kent Too!

People walking up Kent St. last week stopped dead in their tracks when ahead of them in front of a local bakery there sat in the middle of the sidewalk in all its black and white glory . . . a skunk.

And a young man witnessing how the sidewalk was cleared for traffic, learned something regarding skunk-handling! He tells "The Post" that a passerby picked the animal up, and carried him up a nearby alleyway. A youth who knows a little about the striped kitties, suggests this morning that the man carried it by the hind feet.

He says that if you keep a skunk's back feet off the ground, he can do you no harm!

Old Picture Stirs Memories Of Long-time Residents Here But Dates Are At Variance

There seems to be a wide divergence of opinion as to the date of the picture that appeared on Page One, Wednesday, headed "Long, long ago in Lindsay . . . but when? Some of Lindsay's residents of long-standing have supplied versions, and the date of muddy Kent St. is said by two to be 1863-1865. One citizen dates it twenty years later, 1886-1887.

It seems that in 1866 a big fire occurred in Lindsay, which nearly wiped out Kent St., and Mr. George Beall, who is the grandson of the first George Beall, jeweller in Lindsay, believes the picture was taken around 1865 and says it resembles greatly a picture in the family's possession. The "Boot and Shoes" sign which appears so prominently in the picture it is learned from Mr. Beall and Mr. W. E. Goodwin, marked the entrance to a then thriving shoe manufacturing company's factory which employed quite a number of people at the time. The mother of the late Edmund Gregory, former head of the drug company bearing his name, was a daughter of the Wrights who owned the factory, it is learned. Mr. Pat Welsh also dropped into the Post editorial office, with the informaton that he thinks the picture is about 79 years old. Mr W. E. Goodwin, agrees with the 1865 figure, but J. S. Shannon of Mill St. thinks it was in 1885, and he supplied "The Post" with a detailed history of the Kent St. merchants at the time he thinks the picture was taken.

Mr. Shannon, who just saw the picture in the paper and did not decipher the word "Hardware" at the foot of the street, and a sign a little west of "J. F. Gimson" in the maze of signs back in the shade which proclaims "Post Printing Office" and the word "'Wright's" close to the wall on the "Boots and Shoes" first at the left, analyzes the old scene as:

What is now known as Britton Block (foot of Kent St.) Mr., Shannon says housed three businesses: A. D. Mallon, Post Printing and Britton Bros. (Jewellers).

Mr. George Beall says their first store was located on the south side of the street at the time the picture was taken. Mr. Shannon's version has Beall's in the Benson Block west of Sam Perrin, druggist, with the old Grand Trunk Railway office, and J. R. Dundas' Dry Goods, where Flavelle Bros nephews clerked, at Kent and York.

Mr. W. Goodwin, decorator, of Lindsay, todays says that York St. at the time of the picture (which he dates 20 years previous to Mr. Shannon's 1885), was called Broadway, no less! Both men agree that Kent St. (which was much wider than it is today was "gumbo" mud. One needed shoes almost nailed to one's feet to get across. The planks, visible in the picture at York St. were used by pedestrians to cross Kent St. Further along Kent at Cambridge, stone slabs were laid to permit street crossing without getting mired.

Mr. Goodwin's opinions seems to tie in half way between the Shannon and Beall view. He says Wright's Shoe Factory was west on Kent alright, but says the Benson House was then known as Jewett Hotel. Where Claxton's is now, (not in the picture at all), was Jewett Hotel, says Mr. Shannon—but his date is 1885, and Mr. Goodwin, readers remember, is 1865!

The awnings remarked on in the cut-lines beneath the picture in Wednesday's paper are not awnings as they are known now but were wooden, and as the pictures show, acted as a front showroom, with wares displayed on the sidewalk (boards too). Mr. Shannon says that a carriage store farther west than is shown in the scene had a verandah recessed from the street — to form a rotunda!

The print which was supplied to "The Post" by G. B. Henderson of Cannington has certain plain signs nailed to posts or else painted on the sides of the "awnings" —Hardware, is plain, at the block building at the farthest east end of the street. There doesn't seem to be any Lindsay St. N., although Mr. Shannon says in 1885 the present East Ward was known as "French Village" —so many residents being French. (Primeau was a prominent family). There was a lane between the lone frame building at the farthest east point of Kent, occupied by a butcher, William Jack.

Miss Jean Wilson of "The Post" says that when the late Mr. Geo. Wilson took over the newspaper, it was not at the far end of Kent. Mr. Shannon, once a printer, says, he learned his trade with "The Post Printing" when it was located there.

Mr. Norman Mark Sr., on today's staff of "The Post", says of the conflicting opinions as to the site of the early days of "Post Printing", that the Kent St. West site was before the plant moved to the foot of Ken St. He says that was before his time, and that he has been in Lindsay some 65 years.

Has anyone any more information to correctly mark this picture as 1865, 1875, 1885 or just when?

Some facts to go on: Signs visible —Maguire, J. Costello and Sons, J. F. Gimson. There is an L-shaped sign above the Wright's Boots and Shoes, attached to the brick front of the building and reads "Penitentiary (Work) or (Shoe) (Store) or (Shop).

Mr. J. S. Shannon supplied the "Post" reporter wth some exceptionally interesting "look-back" information regarding business in 1885 here. Stories of early robberies, early telephones, old families, etc. are very, very interesting, and in a later issue, "The Post" will carry some of his reminiscenses.

The president called on Mrs. Arnold Hodgkins to introduce the guest speaker, Mrs. Hall of Victoria Corners. Mrs. Hall gave a very interesting and authentic address on the art of making ceramics. Mrs. R. Connaty extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. Hall for her interesting and pleasing informative talk on this unique topic.

A hymn was sung, followed by repeating the Mizpah Benediction in unison.

Chateau Woodland Scene of Conference

Haliburton (PNS) —Chateau Woodland was the scene of much activity over the weekend when the Business and Professional Clubs of Ontario held their ninth annual conference.

Guests began to arrive on Thursday and those who came found the trip amazingly lovely, with the whole country ablaze in autumn colors. The Chateau was chosen for more than one reason first for the beauty and second for the large seating accommodation in their attractive and spacious dining room.

A reception was held at the Hotel Chateau and noted guests included Dr. Alan Klein of the University of Toronto and Miss Margery Pewtress and her guests were present. Almost 300 attended the unique affair and all were in praise of the lovely scenes of the Highlands.

J.S. McLean Leaves Estate Of $7,286,847

Application for letters probate of the will of the late J. S. McLean, founder of Canada Packers, Ltd., has been filed on behalf of the executors, William F. McLean, only son; Norman J. McLean, a brother, and Stewart G. Bennett, close personal friend of the late Mr. McLean.

The will disposes of property valued at $7,286,847, including stocks, $6,050,881; insurance, $639,852; real estate, $258,721, and other property, $337,392.

Under the will Mrs. McLean, sister of Miss Ethel Flavelle of Lindsa, receives all household effects and the use for her life of the residence and land on Bayview Ave. Provision is made for legacies for relatives, household staff and friends. Succession duties are to be paid out of the capital of the general estate, and it is estimated these will amount to approximately $2,750,000.

Mr. McLean's three children, Mary F. Stewart, Vancouver; Amy E. Stewart, Toronto, and William F. McLean, Toronto, are given the income for their respective lives from a portion of the estate with capital of this portion held for their families.

Residue of the estate is to go to the McLean Charitable Foundation, established by Mr. McLean nine years ago, and under the conditions applicable to the foundation, income earned from investments of capital of the foundation is to be distributed from year to year by a self-perpetuating board of trustees which include the three executors and with Mrs. J. S. McLean and Dr. Malcolm Wallace, formerly principal of University College.

Contributions to charitable causes from the foundation up to the time of Mr. McLean's death have amounted to about $430,000. At the time of his death value of the capital held by the foundation was approximately $1,850,000. Some of this money has been used for Lindsay charities.

Lindsay Street Bridge Officially Open Now

Last evening before a large crowd, the new Lindsay Street Bridge was officially opened. The officials present included the Bridge Committee, Victoria County Council and members of the Lindsay Town Council.

Prior to the official ceremonies the guests were entertained by the members of the Lindsay Boys Band who were located in the centre of the roped off bridge. Not only were their selections well received, but an exceptionally large round of applause was given to the little baton-twirling drum majorettes.

After the playing of the National Anthem, the chairman of the bridge committee, Mr. George Gamble, spoke of the advantages of the new structure, and then introduced the Warden of the County Robert Bradt. He was presented with a pair of scissors by Mayor Hick, which will be suitably inscribed to commemorate the occasion. This was followed by the ribbon cutting ceremony, in which Mr. Bradt and Mr. Gamble participated.

Greetings from the Province of Ontario were read by Mayor Hick, who had received a phone call from Premier Frost congratulating all concerned with the construction of the bridge, and expressing his regrets that he could not be in attendance last evening.

After the opening ceremonies were completed, the honoured guests were feted at a reception held at the Canadian Legion. Coffee and sandwiches were served.

Lindsay Area Accident-free

The Ontario Provincial Police office here and the Town Police Department as well, spoke this mornin of the particularly quiet weekend in the scope of traffic accidents, etc.

The Thanksgiving travellers in passenger and commercial vehicles were orderly and well-governed in Lindsay and district.

Motorist Will Get 48 Hours To Fix Car, Report Back

Of the present Safety Check Campaign being carried out at all Lindsay Garages, in the interest of all citizens whether vehicle operators or pedestrians, Chief John Hunter had this to say this morning:

"I am very appreciative of the interest taken by the Garage Operators' Association in their effort towards safety and accident-prevention.

"Police officers in a few days will begin the street checking of cars lacking safety stickers. They will be advised of any unsafe or faulty mechanics, and will be given some 48 hours to have it repaired and report back to police office for their sticker."

"The Post" is informed that the garages, when they complete the safety-check will issue a card to the car owner, who will apply to the Police Office for an OK sticker.

After a month or so, Chief Hunter says, sars will be checked at any time, and if faulty, then such owners will be charged.

Town Temperatures

Tuesday was not a particularly pleasant day, due to the intermittent rain and the overhanging clouds. However, the temperatures did not take much of a drop over the day before, with a high of 67. The low temperature last night was a comfortable 57, and at 8 a.m. today the thermometer read 66 degrees and was climbing rapidly. At noon it was 73 above. Tuesday's rainfall was recorded at .33 inches over Lindsay.

Accident Victim Dies Here

At five a.m. today, Mrs. Albert Waters of Coboconk died in the Ross Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Watters had lingered for eleven days, following an accident on October 2nd at Powles Corners, in which she and her husband were injured. Mrs. Waters was the more seriously injured and she succumbed early this morning.

The Lindsay detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police still have the accident under investigation, and have shed no light on possible charges resulting from the woman's death.

The driver of the second car involved in the accident which sent the Waters' late-model car upside down in the ditch near Peace Valley on Highway 7 at 6 p.m. early in October was Richard C. Rutter, who is also a resident of Coboconk.

"Showboat Days" Rehearsals Get Final Week's Finishing Touches

This is the final week of rehearsals for the Kiwanis Club's presentation of "Showboat Days," the romantic musical comedy of the old south, to be staged at the Academy Theatre next week. All members of the cast have learned their parts, the dance routines are being smoothed out, and the minstrels are polishing up their gags and tambourine twisting.

According to Kiwanians Al Duguid and Lawson Blakely, the show was extended for an extra day this year to relieve the pressure of last year's production, and to eliminate any disappointment by having people turned away due to the sell-out. However, they say, this year's show is well on its way to being another complete sell-out as well, and since the reserved seat plan went into effect Monday, there has been a continuous stream of traffic at the box office, both afternoons and evenings, with ticket holders exchanging their tickets for the evening and seat of their choice.

The producer of the show, George Zarfas, who has had years of experience with this phase of show business makes the suggestion that ticket holder exchange their tickets just as soon as possible, for, as he says, the choice seats are always the ones that go first. And for those who haven't purchased their tickets as yet, and wish to attend the show, Mr. Blakely states that it would be advisable to contact a member of the Kiwanis at once so that arrangements can be made to hold a ticket.

Showboat Days is now completely cast, and features many well-known Lindsayites. The starring roles are played by Jean Perry, Harold Jenkins, Helen Humphries, Lawson Blakely, Stella Graham, Vince Warrilow, John Arril, Mac McMartin, Hattie Bate, Paul Martin, Harry Johnson and Jack Coulter.

The chorus of 30 girls will feature vocal solos by Jun Waddell and a complex tap routine done by the duet of Joyce Trotter and Leona Pearson.

In the always popular Minstrels, Dave Thompson is cast as Mr. Interlocutor, with end-men Herb Hardy, Joe Staples, Ed Sewersky and Doug Mullen.

These are just a few of the cast of 76 to be seen in Showboat Days, and from all appearances, according to Mr. Blakely, this will be the finest musical to play Lindsay in many years.

ABSOLUTELY NO COMPULSION

It has come to the attention of "The Post" that there are some suggestions getting around that the TB Clinics being held in this area during this month are of a compulsory nature. This, it has been learned from officials, is entirely incorrect and anyone attending the clinics does so completely of their own free will and at their own risk. The clinic only undertakes to provide a free chest x-ray and report its findings to the persons submitting themselves for examination.

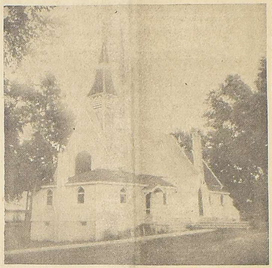
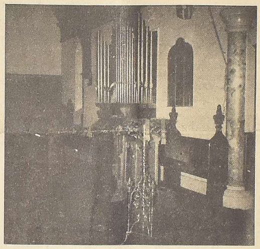
Pretty Bobcaygeon Church



One of the more attractive churches in this entire district is Christ Anglican Church at Bobcaygeon as is evident from the above picture but which really fails to do it jusitce. Built in 1870 - 71, Christ Church, Bobcaygeon, was dedicated by Bishop Bethune. But although the church was officially dedicated there was still no bell to call the worshippers to service. Church records reveal that an ornamental iron cross which had been given for the exterior had disappeared and was not found until years later in a pig sty six miles from the village. The interior of the church which is shown in part below is extremely beautiful and of excellent workmanship.



No Compulsion

Grades 7, 8 Children Encouraged But Not Forced To Attend Clinic

"All school children of Lindsay 12 years of age and over, and those attending grades 7 and 8 will have the opportunity next week of attending the Department of Health Tuberculosis X-ray Clinic," said Mr. Brian Bennet, the Supervising Principal of King Albert School, in an interview with "the Post" today.

Mr. Bennett also stated that all children over 12 who are not included in the classes should be encouraged by their parents and teachers to attend the Clinic, but that there is no compulsion that they do so.

The schedule for next week for the school children is as follows, Tuesday a.m., three classe from Central School; Wedneday a.m., two classes from King Albert; Thursday a.m., two classes from Victoria; Friday a.m., two classes from Alexandra.

The Department of Education, according to Mr. Bennett, has requested that all members of the school board, teachers, caretakers, and all those who have any contact with the children also take advantage of the facilities offered by the T.B. X-Ray Clinic.

However, Mr. Bennett stated that this X-ray service is definitely not compulsory, and the children will not be forced to have a chest X-Ray if their parents so wish. He also stated that most people realize the advantages that can be gained by accepting this opportunity and he is not anticipating any refusals.

Let Water Tower Contract, Board Doing Some Of Work

Tuesday afternoon a meeting was held by the Town Water Board to review tenders that were submitted with reference to the construction of a new water tower in the East Ward. All tenders were sealed, and were opened in the presence of the Committee.

The first tender reviewed was that submitted by the Onway Construction Co., whose figure for the entire job was $10,488.00. Secondly, was the bid of the MacLellan Construction Co., who quoted $11,495.00. This is the company, commented Mayor Hick, that is responsible for the construction of the new Lindsay St. bridge. The third tender received was from the Angus Robertson Construction Co., $8,875.00, and finally a bid for $8,790.00 was received from the R. A. Blythe Construction Co.

After the tenders were presented, it was moved that the meeting adjourn for a short while so that the committee could review and discuss the contracts.

Upon their return to the committee room, the chairman recommended that the Angus Robertson Construction Company be awarded section "A" of the contract, due to the fact that the firm has a reputation across the country for top quality workmanship. Section "A" refers to the excavating; concrete work; forms and steel.

It was also recommended that the Lindsay Water Board itself handle the sections "B" and "C" of the contract. Section "B" refers to the water mains, being 275 ft. of 12 inch pipe and 60 ft. of 16 inch pipe, and valve. Section "C" is 270 ft. of sewer pipe and the manhole.

The motion that was made, and seconded was unanimously carried by the Commission. The recommendation was made that the company be informed at once of the acceptance of their bid, and that work on the tower commence as soon as possible. Mr. R. J. Reynolds will supervise the portion of the contract being negotiated by the Water Board.

Rumour $1,000 In Cash, Stamps Taken By Thieves

Sunderland (PNS) -- Sunderland post office has been robbed for the third time in approximately four years. Opening the post office on Friday morning, postmaster Jack Allin found thieves had entered and looted the building and allegedly blowing the safe. As yet details of the robbery are not available, so states Mr. Allin. But it is rumoured the thieves got away with some $1,000 in cash and stamps.

Broke With A $1,000 In Lindsay!

A millionaire with a pocket full of thousand dollar bills would have a tough time trying to make a purchase in the stores along Kent Street. This fact was proven when Ken Garbig the manager of the Century Theatre, and a representative from "The Post" went on a shopping expedition on Tuesday.

Mr. Garbig, who will be playing the CinemaScope production of "How to Marry A Millionaire" shortly at his theatre, decided to find out what would happen if a character went on a spending spree with a thousand-dollar bill in Lindsay.

Well, here's what happened . . . the first stop was Ward's Bake Shop, where the two well-heeled gentlemen ordered a couple of glasses of fruit juice. On presentation of "the bill," confusion broke loose in the store. The clerk took the money to the back of the store where a great deal of excited conversation could be heard. After much discussion about the validity of the money, the customers decided that two dimes would settle the matter a lot easier.

Next stop on the agenda was Leith's Shoe Store, where Mr. Garbig purchased a pair of shoe laces. When Joe Leith saw the bill that was tendered, he yelled to the back of the store to Fran Gassien and said, "Hey, Fran, can you change this?" Fran said bills like that had to go to the bank and a signature submitted before they could be cashed so another dime had to be located to pay for the laces.

The next place "the bill" found itself was in Carruthers' Drug Store. The boys had two more glasses of fruit juice and when they waved the bill before the startled eyes of the clerk, an elderly lady sitting beside them exclaimed, "My, my, is that a thousand dollar bill . . . why I've never seen one of those in my life before." Needless to say, Doug Carruthers' clerk didn't care to handle "the bill" either and two more dimes were unearthed after some undertones about "the bill" being "legal tender -- could refuse to pay . . . ."

The expedition proceeded farther along Kent Street to Woolworth's where the pair purchased some much-needed shaving cream. The young lady behind the counter, after being tendered "the bill", didn't once change her expression, but simply rang the bell beside the cash register, raised her arm and called out, "Number one, please." When the supervisor arrived, she tactfully suggested that the customer might have something smaller.

He did.

At Quinn's Drugs, after securing a package of razor blades, the young lady, who cast a baleful eye at the pair simply inquired, "Haven't you anything smaller?" A quarter was quickly located.

The final call on the tour was Gregory's Hardware where the situation nearly became critical. The two intrepid customers tried to purchase "Meccano Magazine." Upon seeing "the bill," Bob Gregory was all set to phone the Chamber of Commerce, and referred to his two upstanding customers as "suspicious characters who are too old to be reading books like that anyway." The jingle of silver on the counter quickly settled the matter.

"The bill" is still intact, and from all appearances from this experience, worthless. Nobody, it seems wants a thousand dollars, or will trust anyone else who happens to have it.

As Ken Garbig says, "The picture that tells "How To Marry A Millionaire" is certainly entertaining . . but who wants to marry one? Nobody will touch his money.

Canon Will Tell With Pictures Of Coastal Life

A man who has spent nearly half a century on Canada's rugged Pacific coast is visiting Lindsay on Friday of this week to present a travelogue. Rev. Canon A. Greene, who has lived for 40 years on the British Columbia coast will show films of the famous fjords of the Pacific coast and give his interesting travelogue talk on his work amongst the loggers and Indians living along the seaboard. This was announced today by Rev. Harold Hesketh of St. Paul's Anglican Church.

Canon Greene was born at Orillia and, Rev. Hesketh says the presentation is an excellent opportunity for people to see how the doctor and clergyman frequently work hand in hand in this area where mercy trips by Mission bboat are frequent. An afternoon presentation is being staged at the LCI auditorium and in the evening it will be at St. Paul's Parish Hall.

New Used Car Depot Opens Here

A new used car depot has opened in Lindsay, operated by Messrs. Clare and Ken Western. Those familiar with the automotive trade here will remember that for 25 years Clare Western operated his own garage under his name on Kent Street West.

His son, Ken, for some years had been connected with his father's business, but went to Fenelon Falls with Fairway Motors. However, just recently, Ken Western disposed of his interests in the Fenelon Falls business, and has rejoined his father in this new enterprise.

The Messrs. Western will operate their new used car business from the same location that the senior Western had his garage for a quarter of a century.

Down to Serious Stage

The battle for the job of "Mr. Montreal" gets down to the serious stage tomorrow when nominations close to mayoralty candidates.

Blame Vandals For Damage To Haliburton Beach Area

Haliburton (PNS) -- At the wharf and bathing beach of Haliburton, vandalism is reported to be evident once again, and the town wharf was damaged to such an extent that repairs were necessary. It is believed by some villagers that youths of the district are responsible for the flagrant example of public mischief.

The bench at the wharf was completely destroyed and tourists to the district have complained that at times it was impossible for them to land their boats at the dock because of the crowds of youths in the water. Tourists also complained of the fact that the youngsters were most discourteous and ill-mannered. Now when repairs are completed, swimming will be prohibited at the wharf next season.

The Rotarians of Haliburton have gone to considerable expense fixing a bathing beach, dressing rooms and rain shelter for the community and its visitors. It is also reported that these facilities have been visited by the vandals and are badly damaged.

Four Generations

Wild Geese Galore But Tame Ones Are Missing Ones

Some one, in Lindsay apparently, didn't want to go to the trouble of shooting down wild geese on Saturday, (and judging by the height of the flock of the 90-or-so wild geese that flew over Lindsay on Saturday afternoon, the reason might be that they fly too high!) Anyway . . . a Logie Street resident here had two live geese stolen from his property early, very early, Sunday morning.

About 12.45 a.m. Mr. Johnson, of Logie Street, reported the theft of two of his geese to the Lindsay police. Constable Fountain has the case under investigation.

Somebody hàd a handsome Thanksgiving dinner!

Creamery Butter Production Down On 8-month Period

The Ontario Department of Agriculture in their publication Monthly Dairy Report, issued by the statistics branch of the department have reviewed the Creamery Butter and Cheddar cheese production for the province for the month of August, showing some comparable figures taken a year ago. The production of Creamery butter for the county of Victoria during the month of August 1953 was 216,590 pounds, whereas production during August of 1954 was 208,171 pounds, a decrease this year of 8,419 pounds. However, creamery butter production for the same period in the counties of Ontario and Durham were slightly increased. Ontario county was up only 606 pounds, while Durham county showed an increase 1340 pounds for August.

Over an eight month period ending August 1954, the Creamery butter production for the county of Victoria was down over the same period for 1953 by 19,644 pounds. The counties of Durham and Ontario both increased production by over 10,000 pounds.

Tower Hill

Autumn Colour Tour Enjoyed

Burnt River (PNS) -- Mr. and Mrs. Roddie Wright, accompanied by Mrs. S. E. Wright and Thomas Prescott, went on a motor tour to "Tower Hill." Mrs. Wright says "the view was magnificent from this lofty hill, 1,285 feet high. The leaves were at their nicest stage of colouring and the sun shone beautifully for the occasion, despite rain and fog earlier in the day, one could discern the flaming maples and scarlet sumachs, blending into green and yellow hues far into the blue haze of the horizon.

There was an open air devotional service in Orono Reforestation Station and people viewed the beautiful floral display on the grounds there as a prelude to the worship service.

Mr. G. M. Linton of the Department of Lands and Forests supervised. Mrs. Wright also states that nine provincial police officers at various points on the route helped guide the color cavalcade and Jim Baillie, bird columnist, was posted at the Orono Reforestation point to offer help in identifying birds in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker Celebrate Golden Wedding

Today (Wednesday), was the occasion of many friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker calling at their home, 136 Durham St. W., to offer congratulations and best wishes on the celebration of their Golden Wedding.

Mrs. Baker, the former Elizabeth E. Scott, came from her home in Blackburn, Lancashire, in 1904, to the farm of her second cousin, the late Mr. Wm. Carr, Sr., of Kinmount. Here she met William John Baker, who had emigrated from Plymouth, Devon, in 1888. On the 13th of October, 1904, in Fenelon Falls, the Rev. H. B. Kenny tied the nuptial knot which still holds fast after 50 years. Mr. Baker recalls quite vividly that getting married was a new and untried experience for him at that time -- so much so that he forgot to procure the customary ring and had to hasten to the local jeweller before the ceremony could be completed.

After living two years in Fenelon Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Baker moved to Lindsay in 1906 taking up residene successively at 104 Durham West, 102 Angeline South and 136 Durham West, where they have resided for 31 years -- the exact length of time since that street was first paved.

They have two grandchildren, Lynn and Scott, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baker of North Bay. Jack is the only survivor of four children born to Mr. and Mrs. Baker. The youngest, Scott, died in infancy, and William and Ruth both met tragic deaths at an early age. The Bakers are members of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Mrs. Baker being one of the senior members of the Evening Branch of the Women's Auxiliary. Mr. Baker was formerly a member of the Loyal Orange Order and still retains his membership in the Sons of England Society. By trade, a boiler maker with the Canadian National Railways, Mr. Baker had completed 35 years of service with the CNR-- mostly at the Lindsay Roundhouse -- when he retired in 1942.

House guest at the Bakers and undoubtedly the visitor from the greatest distance is Mrs. Alice Nunn of Whitefield, Manchester, England. Mrs. Nunn is the mother of Olive (Mrs. A. Blythe) who was a war guest at the Baker home for some five years during the war. Mrs. Nunn is this month repaying the visit made by Mr. and Mrs. Baker to her home in 1919.

Their friends have expressed the hope that Mr. and Mrs. Baker will be spared for many years to recall with pleasure the happy occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary. May God Bless Them Both!

Stranded

"Hey! who took that ladder down?" That was the call of the men working on the roof of the new Curling Rink. They were left stranded without any means of getting down. How it happened we don't know but they were anxious to get down so they could go home to supper. It's a long way up but a longer way down without a ladder.

One to be proud of

Speaking of the new Curling Rink, it looks like a very fine structure so far. However, it may not be ready for the first of November but perhaps two weeks after. There is a lot of work in a building of this size. And it should be one of the best when completed. In the meantime we'll have to take care of the workmen and not let them have to sleep on the roof all night..

Cooks Catered to

Cooking should be no longer a problem for they have so many ready-mixes on the market that one can almost cook with their eyes shut. Now they have tinfoil boxes filled with chocolate brownies ready to put in the oven to bake. The tinfoil will bake it nicely and think of having one handy on your shelf without a worry of company. You could use it for dessert with a scoop of ice-cream on top and bake the brownies while you eat your first course. Yes, it is wonderful how they cater to the poor busy cook. As soon as women get wise to all these easy dishes they will have more time on their hands than they know what to do with. That will be the day!

Clinics

Plans are being made for the Clinic and the curlers were getting their members lined up for their part in the Chest X-ray Clinic. Many people attending these clinics have been surprised to learn that they needed medical attention, so it really pays to have a check. Don't worry about the cost for there isn't any charge.

Unique Study

A Buffalo, New York, hospital is making an effort to reduce the dangers of childbirth and infant mortality.

The project, which began in 1949, consists of detailed studies of 30 children from the date of their birth through their early development. Some 500 of the children will be examined every six months until they reach school age.

The purpose of the program is to determine how important prenatal care is to the health of the child.

Household Hint:

For a quick dessert, blend gingersnap crumbs with softened butter and a little sugar, and press against the sides and bottom of custard cups or a pie pan. Chill, then fill with a layer of sliced bananas, covered with vanilla pudding, and top with nuts.

Charter Night Observed By Kinette Club

The Lindsay Kinette Club held their October dinner meeting at the New Royal Hotel. This meeting was a combined Charter and Installation night. The meeting opened with a toast to the Queen by Peggy Woodrow, grace by Madelyne Williamson and the Kinette song.

Lloyd Found, President of the Lindsay Kinsmen Club, acted as chairman, introducing guests. Mayor A. E. Hick, District Governor Gerard Connolly and Kinette representatives from Oshawa and Peterboro, all of whom extended their best wishes and congratulations on the formation of this new club of 42 members in Lindsay.

Mayor Hick in his remarks stressed the need for Hospital Expansion and looked to this new organization as a source of support.

District Governor "Gerry", along with President Lloyd, officially installed the members of the executive in their various offices, outlining their duties and impressing upon them the responsibility involved. Members of the present executive are, President -Virginia Jeffery; Vice-President -Chris McElroy; Treasurer -Gloria Bellamy; Secretary -Mildred Found; Bulletin Editor -Helen Strachan; Registrar -Margaret Walker; Directors -Peg Ellis, Lib Graham, Muriel Wetmore.

District Governor "Gerry"' in his talk outlined the formation and development of the Kinsmen Club, starting with the founder, Hal Roger in Hamilton, immediately following the first world war, to the present time when there are clubs all across Canada.

The toast to the Association was proposed by Chris McElroy and replied to by Penny Arrill.

President Lloyd, on behalf of the Lindsay Kinsmen, presented the gong and gavel to the Kinettes, and also a bouquet of roses to the president, Virginia Jeffery.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of "'O Canada". Following the meeting the Kinettes entertained the Kinsmen for a social gathering at the Embassy.

Annual Deanery Meeting Held At St. Paul's Church

The annual meeting of the South Victoria Deanery was held on Thursday, September 30th, in the beautiful St. Paul's Church, Lindsay. The day was perfect and began with a service of Holy Communion at 10 a.m. The celebrants were Rev. H. Hesketh, Lindsay, Rural Dean Lennox of Fenelon Falls, Rev. Mr. Barclay of Bobcaygeon and Rev. Mr. Smith of Omemee.

Rural Dean Lennox of Fenelon Falls gave the congregation a most inspiring and helpful message, using as his text the Acts. 15th chapter, verse 8, stressing, "Ye are my witnesses, the great commission, we must be fishers of men," the speaker said. "Many people are like the Arctic rivers, frozen at the mouth. Every communicant, a missionary, and every member a witness. We must never be ashamed to be a witness for the Lord. He is depending on you and me." There were approximately 100 communicants and the offering at the morning service was $121.45.

At 12 noon Mrs. Williamson gave a very instructive and educational address on WA Literature requesting all to obtain the new Hand Book. At 12.15 p.m. the presidents met for a short period to elect their deanery officer for 1955, Mrs. Battersby of Lindsay being the unanimous choice.

At 12.30 all sat down to a bounteous luncheon in the Parish Hall. After the singing of Grace, Rev. Mr. Hesketh warmly welcomed the Deanery to St. Paul's. Canon Sheppard of Kinmount, who has spent most of his ministry in the far north said that it was "just like Heaven to be in the south."

The afernoon meeting opened with the hymn, "The Love of Christ Constraineth," and prayers by the president followed by members prayer. Scripture reading from John was given by Mrs. Smith of Lindsay. Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Robertson of Dunsford and declared adopted as read by Mrs. Battersby. The treasurer's report was given and its adoption moved by Miss Flora Atthill, Bobcaygeon, seconded by Miss Nye, Fenelon Falls. Mrs. McNichol of Lindsay welcomed all delegates to the afternoon session.

Mrs. Battersby spoke very feelingly of one of the life members of Christ Church, Bobcaygeon, in the person of Miss Sara Kittle who had been Dorcas secretary for 42 years, and who had been called to Higher Service, her burial service being that afternoon.

Mrs. A. H. Dairs, wife of Rev. Mr. Dairs, field secretary of MSCC, gave an illustrated talk on missionary work in western Canada, telling of some of the hardships of getting the Gospel message to a people eager to hear it.

Mrs. Nicholson of Blackstock, whom all are very sorry to lose from Victoria, presented the appeals. Mrs. Denison, secretary, gave an interesting talk on bales, stressing the need of used clothing in good condition, household articles that could be used as Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Nicholson of Blackstock asked for a moment to speak on the QIP magazine, stating that she had been brought up with it in her home." She also stated that Canon Sheppard and herself were the first to start an Eskimo school in the far north. A tribute was also made to Miss Kittle of Bobcaygeon who was buried that day at the age of 96.

The meeting was dismissed with the blessing and benediction by Rev. H. Hesketh, and brought a profitable and inspiring Deanery to a close. The ladies served tea, which was enjoyed by all.

WEDDING

Stainton-Duff

Kingsway Lambton United Church was the setting for the marriage of Marion Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs J. Clarence Duff, to Mr. Stewart Stainton of Lindsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Stainton of New Lowell, Ontario. Lighted tapers, white snapdragons, 'mums and gladioli formed the background for the evening ceremony, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Wilfred C. Lockhart.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a white bombazine bouffant original, the V-neckline edged with imported Swiss lace studded with iridescent sequins and mother of pearl. From a matching cap fell her fingertip French illusion veil, and she carried a crescent of gardenias, stephanotis, and trailing ivy.

Mrs. John M. S. Duff was her matron of honor, with Misses Joan Kalthoff and Margaret Daniels, bridesmaids, and Sandra Elizabeth Mercer, niece of the bride, as junior bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in peacock blue iridescent floor-length dresses, with bustle backs and bolero jackets. They wore white feather headdresses and carried crescent bouquets of white poms and Hawaiian foliage.

Mr. Robert Stainton was groomsman for his brother, and the ushers were Messrs. Murray Parker, Stewart Hammond, Douglas Stainton and John M. S. Duff.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a cruise to Bermuda and Nassau, the couple will reside in Lindsay.

Anniversary Services At South Eldon

Argyle (PNS) —The anniversary services of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, S. Eldon were held when Rev. W. Jackson, M.S. of Fenelon Falls and Glenarm pulpits was the guest speaker. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli and other fall flowers.

Rev. Mr. Jackson spoke at the morning service from the text, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth, but lay up treasures in Heaven". In the evening he chose as his text, "Salt is good," "He that hath ears, let him hear". Both sermons were well worth hearing and were much enjoyed.

The music for the day was supplied by St. Andrew's choir, augmented by members of St. Andrew's, Bolsover, under the leadership of Mrs. W. Russell, choir leader and organist. Special music was upplied by the Moore sisters, Beverley and Shirley of Cambray, at the morning service. The boys' quartette from Woodville supplied music at the evening service. Many old friends and former members from neighbouring congregations attended the service.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation. The Acts 17: 24-26.

Grandmothers Honoured At W.I. Meeting

Manilla (PNS)— The September meeting of the Manilla W. I. was held in the Community Hall The hall was beautifully decorated with baskets of gladioli and bouquets of other autumn flowers to provide a lovely setting for the "Grandmothers' Meeting" and also the visit of the district president, Mrs. E. Wessell. The attendance was 45 with 30 of these being grandmothers.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Harvey Wilson and opened with the singing of the Institute Ode, followed by the Mary Stewart collect and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

Wood that outstanding bills be paid. Correspondence included notice of the T. B. X-ray clinic at Little Britain later in October, course for Homemaker Club leaders in Lindsay, letter regarding legislative grant, Thank You card from Mrs. R. English, convention notice, "Cooking Short Cuts" course in February and a letter from Hever W. I., Manilla's Friendship Link in England.

Mrs. Wilson said "she had been in touch with Oakwood W. I. regarding a bus to the convention, and it was moved by Mrs. Dixon, seconded by Mrs. E. Loxton that Manilla join with Oakwood in chartering a bus.

It is a wonderful record of achievement for one who passed away when only 52 years of age, and whose work lives on in the Associated Country Women of the World.

The monthly program was Historical Research convened by Mrs A. Dixon and sponsor of the Grandmothers' meeting. As the Grandmothers and visitors had arrived each was presented with a corsage in the institute colors of blue and gold. Mrs. Dixon gave an outline of Manilla W. I. activities in its earlier years beginning by reading the minutes of the organization meeting in the summer of 1910. A splendid record of worthwhile projects was presented both in community and welfare work. At the conclusion of Mrs. Dixon's talk Mrs. G. Johnston of Blackwater accompanied by Mrs. A. Marshall sang "The Little Old Red School." Mrs. Johnston's charming rendition of this old favourite was further enhanced by her attractive costume, with it she wore a shawl which had belonged to her late husband's grandmother who had sheared the sheep, carded the wool and woven the shawl. Y.P.S. Sponsor Program In Glenarm Church

Glenarm (PNS) —A goodly number attended the programme sponsored by the members of the Y.P.S. in the Church.

Howard Nesbitt acted as chairman and welcomed the gathering, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jack McMillan showed several interesting and educational films. In all they showed four films the latter film showing the work of David Livingstone that great missionary, whose home was at the town of Ulva, near the River Clyde.

Interspersed throughout the programme the young people rendered several musical numbers, Miss Anne Jones rendered two sacred vocal numbers in her usual pleasing manner accompanying herself on her piano accordion, while the Misses Patsy Humphreys, Catherine McKay, Fayey Webster, Keith Hargrave and Howard Nesbitt were heard as a quintette in other numbers with Murray Laurenson playing their accompaniment on the piano.

Rev. Mr. Jackson was present and added words of encouragement to the young people and an invitation to any who wished to attend. Murray Laurenson moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. McMillan for their kindness in showing the films which was endorsed by all present.

Later the girls sold candy and with the singing of the National Anthem a very happy evening was brought to a close.

With the price of pigs going down we are getting close to the situation of three years ago, when the margin between a profit or loss depended on the pig, the feeder, and the feed. A feeder, though, he buys no feed, using his own grain only, can still show a loss. It may not show as a dollar loss for his pocket, will arrive when he has to buy grain for his stock; then his average year's feeding costs will be higher.

So for PROFITS at today's prices:

1. Raise or buy GOOD TYPE PIGS. It saves feed.
2. FEED WISELY. A GOOD FEED PROGRAM saves feed.
3. Watch your Sanitation and Management. They save feed.

Skating Starts Here Friday, Manager Says

This Friday night, the fun begins for youngsters and adults alike, when the skating season opens at the Kiwanis Recreation Centre.

For the past few weeks, extensive work has been going on at the arena, with a complete new paint job, new seats, new hockey boards, and an enlarged snack bar.

According to Director John Lamb, a large crowd is expected on the opening night, with a lot of the oldsters trying out leg muscles that have not been used since the last season closed, and the kids speeding around the cushion at a jet-propelled pace. There will be no hockey of course on this opening night, but the arena will certainly be busy with the many league games that are scheduled throughout the winter.

The skating will commence at 8 p.m. and will continue until 10, and Mr. Lamb suggests that the "young at heart" bring their own liniment.

Women of the Moose Bowling League

The Women of the Moose started their new mixed league schedule with a fine turnout at the alleys. The bowlers were in their teams and bowled for handicaps. Many beginners showed promise of becoming good bowlers. With the interest shown the committee says it expects to enjoy a fine season.

The standing of the teams up to date: Roy Carmichael, 8 points; Dena Hope, 7 points; Mel McFadyen, 5 points; June Carmichael, 4 points; Greta Henderson, 3 points; Anne Eyres, 3 points; Bernice McFadyen, 1point; Lesta Wagstaff, 1 point.

Secondary Education In This District Reviewed By Outstanding Centennial Speakers At The LCI

Dr. George E. Hall Pays Tribute To Egerton Ryerson's Efforts

Being with you this evening and having the opportunity of participating in this centennial of secondary school education in Lindsay is indeed a pleasure. It is a pleasure from several points of view. Having been born and raised in Lindsay, I have had personal experience in the schools of Lindsay and with a considerable number of the teachers -- some of whom I know were thankful when I had passed on into the hands of some other unsuspecting teacher; some of whom predicted dire results and a less than mediocre future.

It is a pleasure, too, to be here in Lindsay tonight since this is the first time that I have had the privilege of addressing an open meeting in my home town.

And again it is a pleasure to have come from London to take part in these celebrations dealing with public education because it was in "the indifferent Grammar School of the London District" that that great pioneer educator and father of the Ontario School System, Egerton Ryerson, received "such an education as was afforded . supplemented by the reading of whatever books he could secure."

We are all here to recognize the 100 years of the provincial secondary school system and the establishment in this district of the Lindsay Grammar School and its successor -the Lindsay Collegiate Institute of 1889. In doing this we, of necessity, are paying tribute to Ryerson - a man who was taunted for his lack of formal education, and even ridiculed in the press for his lack of learning. But his biographer, Pitman, so ably states, "to taunt him with being half-educated was the mark of a small mind. Every man must be judged according to the way he makes use of his opportunities, and by such standards no man in Canadian public life has ever measured higher than Egerton Ryerson. He may have known "little Latin and less Greek", he may have been wholly ignorant of the Binomial theorem, and may not have been able to write as smooth and graceful English as the classical scholars of Oxford, but he knew that thousands of boys and girls in the backwoods of Upper Canada were growing up in ignorance; he knew that the secondary schools of Upper Canada were scarcely more efficient than they were thirty years before, (his time) and he knew that the country had ample resources to give reasonable educational advantages to all. More than this, he must have felt that, given reasonable freedom and support, he could, in a short time, change the whole system of education".

As we sit here in 1954 in a modern school building and take for granted our televisions, our radios, our telephones, our hydro power, our highways, our cars, our high standard of living, and boast about our future, it would be well for us, as we join here to celebrate a great centennial, to give some heed to the conditions of 100 years ago and realize that what was accomplished then has made our present educational system possible.

Ryerson's report, and we must start with it, became the basis of our Common School system. Recognizing the necessity of explaining the provisions of the new Bill to the school trustees and teachers in 1847, he spent three months visiting County School Conventions throughout Upper Canada. Again in 1853 from January through March, - talk about devotion overcoming hardship - he revisited the various County meetings - but we find in his Journal of Education for that year, no mention of meetings to be held in Victoria County. In his editorial remarks of the January, 1853 issue it states, "The Journal cannot, therefore, be addressed to the Trustees in (the following) Municipalities, until their post office address be received." In a list of some 75 delinquent municipalites in Upper Canada he listed, "All in the County of Victoria".

Out of sheer interest - the local superintendents of schools in Victoria County that year, 100 years ago, were:

Charles Law -Eldon and Mariposa -Oakwood; John Irons, M.D. - Emily - Emily; The Rev. John Hickey - Fenelon and Verulam -Fenelon Falls; Jeremiah O'Leary- Ops - Lindsay.

And each, accordng to the Act of 1850, was to receive a fee of $4 for every school under his jurisdiction. In those days, 100 years ago according to the reports, the village of Lindsay was the county town of Victoria County but yet not an incorporated village. There were 11,657 people resident in the county and the apportionment of the Legislative Grant to the County and the Townships was 279 pounds 5 shillings and 7 pence. No wonder the teachers lived in the lap of poverty.

This is brought home in one letter of the day written by a teacher. It says, "Mr. ——, in the section west of me drew annually $120 on the ground of his high qualifications as well as his teaching Latin. My share of the grant was $80. Mr ——, east of me drew $50 . . . . The Government grant was what a teacher mainly depended on for cash. The rest of his pay, which varied from $10 to to $16 per month, Government Grant included, was mostly paid in 'kind', and very hard to collect at that."

The 6 townships of Victoria County, in 1850, were listed as part of the County of Peterboro, and previously known as the Colbourne district. That year from the Legislative appointionment for schools, the township of Emily received 85 pounds; Eldon, 31 pounds; Fenelon, 8 pounds, 10 shillings Mariposa, 62 pounds; Ops, 46 pounds, and Verulam, 10 pounds. It was in 1852 that Victoria was listed separately for the first time, and with 11,657 people it received as its apportionment of the Legislative School Grant, 230 pounds, 14 shillings and 2 3-4 pence. It would be interesting to know how those three farthings were spent.

Our friend, the Prime Minister, can see the pattern emerging. The grant in 1853 was, as you can guess, increased, increased again in 1854 to 279 pounds, 5 shillings, 7 pence, and by 1857 reached $1,573.60. It is a familiar pattern.

Lindsay, mind you, was not yet an incorporated village. But typical of those English, Scotch, and particularly the Irish pioneers of those days, they were eager for education. There were 50 school sections in the County and 5 union school sections. And there were 52 teachers for the 48 schools.

But I can assure you that those 48 schools were not the well-built well-lighted, well-equipped and well-staffed schools which we see in every community today. The reports of 100 years ago tell us about those 48 schools, - most of them, 14x16 feet - none of brick, none of stone, six of frame, forty-two of log and none of "kind not reported". It is obvious that the superintendents in the Victoria School districts were, when they reported at all, accurate in their reporting. Of those 48 school houses, four were built during the year which we are honouring today, at a total cost of 113 pounds, 5 shillings - less than $500 of the currency of the day for four school houses.

And let me remind you of this. Those 48 schools in Victoria County had a total of 4 maps -- none of the world or the continent, 1 only of Canada, and 3 "other maps". Only 22 of the 48 schools even had blackboards. And yet from such little, one-roomed log school houses, with no maps, no blackboards, and few, if any, books, came men and women of great capacity, of profound wisdom, of deep purpose, men and women of vision, of judgment and of integrity -- endowed with the qualities of leadership -- who gave us responsible government, who ushered in our economic development and who conceived and gave us the Dominion of Canada. It is we, with all of the opportunities and advantages of modern education and living in modern society, who should be thankful for the little old log school house and humble in the memories of its product.

I feel sure that the present day

Daniel Murphy

Pioneer Resident Dies In 90th Year; Was Prominent Farmer

The sudden death of one of the oldest residents of the Lindsay district is being mourned by many of the community.

Daniel Murphy, who passed away Sunday, in his 90th year, had been living in the Lindsay area since before Confederation. His father, who came direct from Ireland, settled in Hobbs Township in 1813.

Mr. Murphy farmed all his life and was one of the earliest breeders of pedigreed Holstein cattle He was an enthusiastic supporter of all livestock shows, and although he never showed any of his own stock, he was always in attendance at all the fairs in the district. He was a member of the Altar Society of St. Mary's Church, the Knights of Columbus and politically Mr Murphy was a staunch Liberal.

His wife, the late Catherine Meagher, pre-deceased him by 15 years.

He is survived by three daughter, Mary, (Mrs. Harry O'Reilly, of Valentia), Frances, (Mrs. Charles Mallon of Toronto,) and Catherine, (Mrs. Malcolm McColl of Lindsay). Two sons, William J. and Joseph H., both of Lindsay. Mr. Murphy also leaves 28 grandchildren.

Police Here Seek Identity of Man In Black Jacket

Following two actual cases of stolen cars being reported to police, and also cases of attempted car thefts, Police here are asking residents and travellers in and around Lindsay and the highways between here and Omemee to provide them perhaps with some relevant information.

(Chief Hunter in Lindsay today remarked that one could not overestimate the power of the press. It goes far afield, he said.)

Early Monday morning in the hours of darkness around 2.30 o'clock October 11th, Earl Welcher of Lindsay reported his car stolen from the C.N.R. tracks on the west side of Cambridge St. At 4.45 a.m. his car was recovered on No. 7 Highway west of Omemee. The car was stuck on the shoulder of the road, Chief Hunter says. Trace of the driver is still being sought, and police are investigating the presence of a man wearing a black jacket in Omemee about 4.30 a.m., some fifteen minutes previous to the locating of Mr. Welcher's car abandoned on the roadside outside of Omemee.

It is reported by police that about that time, some person had attempted to steal several cars in Omemee. The only description of the suspected person is that the man was wearing a black jacket.

A car that had been stolen in Peterboro last week was recovered south of Omemee on Sunday, Police state. It is also reported that the man in the black jacket was seen in Omemee Sunday evening.

Chief John Hunter thinks that there may be more definite available clues regarding a man of the description above. As there was a midnight show both in Lindsay and the Drive-in Theatre, he thinks sight of the man may have been made by late travellers.

If any person saw a man of this description, possibly wearing or carrying a black jacket, walking the highway or hitch-hiking in the vicinity of Omemee, he would appreciate any information that might be forthcoming.

EUCHRE PARTY

Kinmount (PNS) —An enjoyable evening was spent in the Township Hall when the Cemetery Board held a progressive euchre party. Mrs. P. Brown was high scorer with 75 points; Mr. T. McGrath with 72 points; the consolation prizes went to Mrs. James Wallace, Mr James Simpson.

Two of Lindsay's distinguished sons were among those who returned on Saturday on the occasion of the 100th Anniversary of Secondary Education in Lindsay. They were Dr. George E. Hall, president of Western University, London, Ontario, and Professor Watson Kirkconnell, president of Acadia Uunversity, Wolfville, N.S.

The addresses of these two men were of such outstanding interest to the people of this entire district that "The Post" is reproducing them in their entirety from the manuscripts. Starting in the upper left hand corner of this page is Dr. Hall's address and in the upper right, Prof. Kirkconnell's.

Town Confers Honorary Citizenship On Dr. Hall, Prof. Kirkconnell

Lindsay's Town Council entertained several outstanding Canadians to dinner on Saturday night at the Hotel Benson to mark the celebration of 100 years of secondary education in the town.

Mayor A. E. Hick presided as chairman and he kept the 'tight schedule" moving along at a brisk clip. After addressing a warm welcome to the "distinguished group of former citizens," Mayor Hick introduced the head table guests which included: Mr. A. E. O'Neill, Oshawa; Robt. Brandon, Fenelon Falls; Dr. George E. Hall, London; Hon. Arthur Welsh, Sunderland; Prof. Watson Kirkconnell, Wolfville, N.S.; and Wm. Clarke, Toronto. Immediately following this members of the Victoria County High School Board identified themselves for the rest of the assembly by standing at their places.

Mr. H. H. McFadden, long time member of the High School Area Board extended thanks to the Town for its gracious gesture of inviting the board to meet the distinguished guests.

Speaking for the Town, Clerk W. R. Allely paid tribute to many of Lindsay's sons who are making outstanding contributions to the country. It is a privilege to honour a few of these men tonight he declared, adding, I sometimes think of Lindsay as a family which rejoices in the success of its sons that are away. He asserted that the door of Lindsay was always open to these sons when they return.

Tribute was in turn paid to Town Clerk Allely by Mayor Hick who referred to his faithful service since 1921 and declared "when you think of Mr. Allely, you think of Lindsay . . "I don't think there is a better-thought-of citizen." The mayor went on to address himself to the general assembly, saying, "There are not many towns that can say they have two of their former citizens as presidents of universities" and turning to Prof. Kirkconnell called upon him to accept honourary citizenship in Lindsay, an honour which had been bestowed on only three former occasions. After the professor's reply in which he declared that Lindsay had meant more to him than any other town, Mayor Hick conferred a like honour on Dr. Hall, who declared himself to be very conscious of the meaning of the conference.

Easy Way Out Proves Hardest For Motorist

What at first appeared to be a serious motor accident at the south entrance to the new Lindsay Street bridge about 5 p.m. Monday actually turned out to be nothing but an embarrassing situation for a Toronto motorist.

Mr. S. Piazza and family, who were attending a wedding reception, found that their car was hopelessly wedged in the parking lot area behind the Benson Hotel Block. Not knowing the town too well, Mr. Piazza thought that instead of attempting to locate the owners of the cars surrounding him he would simply drive out the back way through Macdonald Park.

Everything would have been fine, except for the fact that the grass was wet and the ground underneath very soft. As the car reached the sidewalk of Lindsay St., the rear end became jammed beside a tree, and all wheel traction was lost. Mr. Piazza told "The Post" that he was afraid to try to manoeuvre the car too much as "the river at the bottom of the hill looks most uninviting." However, with the subsequent arrival of a tow truck, which blocked traffic temporarily, a policeman on motorcycle, and dozens of Thanksgiving Day strollers, as well as motorists held up by the incident, Mr. Piazza found himself in a very embarrassing situation when the curious kept asking, "what's the car doing there in the park?"

Everything was straightened around in a matter of about a quarter of an hour, with no damage done either to the car or the park grounds. Mr. Piazza's enthusiasm however, was noticeably dampened

Sees No Sign Of Widespread Unemployment

A leading business executive has reiterated the contention that Canada need not fear a major recession.

J. Gerald Godsoe, of Toronto, says he sees no danger of widespread unemployment in the country.

Godsoe made the remarks at a press conference in Halifax. He's the first vice-president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, which is now concluding its annual meeting in the Nova Scotia capital.

The business leader says there's an adequate reservoir of funds in Canada for the expansion of industry. And, in case of any real trouble, he cites the existence of a federal public works program that could take up any slack in employment.

As for widespread unemployment, Godsoe puts it this way.., there's nothing to fear but fear.

Meanwhile, the president of the Cotton Institute of Canada told the Chamber Convention today that there are eight thousand fewer jobs in that industry than there were in 1951. H. Roy Crabtree, of Montreal, says there are less than 20-thousand cotton workers in Canada now.

How do they look to You?

Dissatisfaction among artists over the new Canadian bank notes is spreading.

Today's criticism comes from the Toronto Art Directors Club. President G-M Moses says "it is too bad anything so basically Canadian as currency should not carry the best in Canadian aristry."

Moses described the bills as "uninspiring."

Earlier this week, the Art Directors Club of Montreal termed the currency "a poor reflection on Canadian design." —BUP.

Lindsay Man Hooks, Lands 32-lb. Muskie

One of this season's biggest muskies was landed on Sunday by Murray Davis of Lindsay. The fish was caught off Wm. Jardine's cottage, Pigeon Lake, and when it was weighed in it tipped the scales at 32 pounds. Measurement from tip to tip was 51 inches. The striking specimen is on display in the east window of the Canadian Tire Corporation's store on William St. North, this afternoon.

To complete a successful weekend's fishing, Mr. Davis landed another nice specimen on Monday. It measured 32 inches long and weighed six and three-quarter pounds.

Hanover Man Will Lead Lindsay Band

In an interview with Mr. Lloyd McMullen, the president of the Lindsay's Boy's Band, "The Post" learned Tuesday that the band has aquired a new bandmaster. He is Mr. Frank Banks, who has been associated with the Hanover Music Society at Hanover Ontario. Mr. Banks is a member of the Bandmaster's Association of Canada, and according to Mr. McMullen, he has been highly recommended as being a top man in his profession. His duties with the Lindsay Boys Band will commence on October 18th.

Mr. McMullen stated that although the Band is relatively new, having been formed only last spring, plans are now under way for the formation of another group in town to be called the Lindsay Junior Boys Band, which too, according to the president, will be under the capable leadership of bandmaster Banks.

These pigs . . . . nice big hogs, went to market

Ninety-two not-so-little piggies went to market Monday—and the market was more than 1,000 miles away, in Marshalltown, Iowa.

It is the first time an attempt has been made to transport high-priced pigs to auction over such a distance. Farmers and breeders in the Beaverton, Cannington and Sunderland districts have been pioneering work on this big project for 2½ years.

It took from daybreak until 10 a.m. to load the pigs on Keith Rynard's Rynbrock Farm, three miles west of Sunderland. All are imported English Yorkshire pigs—some tip the scales at 400 pounds—and a 27-ton diesel truck and trailer was needed to transport them.

The pigs will reach Marshalltown on Tuesday afternoon. After being rested and washed, they will come under the auctioneer's hammer Thursday evening. Fifteen hundred Iowa farmers have received catalogues for the sale.

Mr. Rynard and five other farmers and breeders, Harold Davidson, George Marshall, Allen Curtis, Bruce Davidson and Charles Oxley, shipped pigs for the auction. Mr Oxley is director and general manager of the newly formed English Yorkshire Pig Association and is associated with Victoria Farm Supply at Lindsay.

PANHANDLER

Omemee (PNS)— A handsome black squirrel has developed the expert tactics of a panhandler in Omemee. Mr. James Magee has been feeding one so regularly that it climbs up the verandah steps and peeks into the windows to see if more nuts etc are forthcoming. He is storing it away in a nearby tree trunk in preparation for winter.

Prof. Kirkconnell Reviews 100 Yrs. Of Educational Progress Here

It is now over forty years since I graduated from the Lindsay Collegiate Institute and launched out on the high seas of college training, but my memories of the old school are still green and enduring. Moreover, while it was not my lot to be born in Lindsay. Like my distinguished young colleague President Hall, yet the town was my father's home for a quarter century and more of your citizens are the cherished contemporaries of my youth than is the case with any other spot in Canada. Here, too, I was twice married, both times to Lindsay-born girls and graduates of the L. C. I. I have, moreover, taught long ago in these halls and commanded the local cadet battalion. In a very real sense I may claim tonight to have come home again for this occasion.

The declared purpose of this celebration is to mark the centennial of secondary education in this part of Central Ontario and here, too, I may claim ancestral associations with the theme. One hundred years ago, my mother's father, Thomas Watson, was headmaster of the grammar and common schools in Port Hope, even as her grandfather, Christopher Watson, had taught school a generation earlier in "Muddy York". She herself taught in the Port Hope High School before she married my father, while his forty-four years as teacher and headmaster in Port Hope and Lindsay are a matter of familiar record.

As President Hall has already explained in delightful detail, the schools of 1854 were modest in scope, penurious in salary, and realistic in discipline. In the days when 42 of Victoria County's 48 schools were still log shacks and hovels, the standards of education must perforce have been in harmony with its surroundings.

Another way of realizing the humble beginnings from which the magnificent school of 1954 has grown is to describe briefly the Lindsay of 1854—a very different entity from today's young city of ten thousand inhabitants.

No more than 500 persons dwelt in the village of 1854. There were no sewers, no lights, no town water, and of course neither telegraph nor telephone. Cows, geese and dogs wandered everywhere without let or hindrance. It was less than twenty years since the townsite, one-quarter of its present size, had been finalized, and not until 1840 had the first streets been hacked out of the spruce and cedar swamp. The first school-house, built in 1841 by a Methodist circuit-rider, Rev. John Sanderson, as a school on week-days and a church on Sundays, still survived in my boyhood at No. 23 Wellington Street. If it still exists today, it deserves a memorial plaque as the town's oldest house, first school, and first Protestant building.

(It has since been learned that the building referred to no longer exists.)

Navigation was for the moment the dominant form of transportation, for locks in the Scugog had been completed at Lindsay in 1844 and the S. S. "Woodman" of Port Perry and the S. S. "Ogemah" of Fenelon Falls came through regularly with their cargoes. Construction was already busy, however, on the Port Hope and Lindsay Railway, but it was 1857 before the first train came snorting into the station on the east bank of the river.

Local industry consisted of a grist mill, a saw mill, a tannery, a potashery, an iron foundry and a carding and fulling plant. There were half a dozen stores, a branch of the Bank of Upper Canada, and two or three taverns.

Three churches—Roman Catholic, Methodist and Presbyterian—served the village of 1854. The Catholics were still worshipping in a log church on the southwest corner of Lindsay and Russell streets, but Father Chisholm, a six-foot-four Highlander from Glengarry, was already laying the foundations for the present St. Mary's Church and gathering brick and timber for the building. The Methodists had shifted to a frame church on William Street North, occupied in my youth by Skitch's carriage works. Their pastor was the Rev. William Hannah. The Presbyterians meanwhile had ordained and inducted the Rev. Gilbert Tweedie in a log church on Francis Street. One of the elders, Andrew Hall, may have been a great-grandfather of President Hall. There were no organized Anglicans or Baptists in the village.

The central part of the townsite had been 1200 acres of cedar swamp, dubiously drained from southwest to northeast by "Brewery Creek", a capricious tributary of the Scugog which has long since been relegated to an underground existence but even in my boyhood was known to flood Kent Street just west of Victoria Avenue. Most of this central morass had been cleared by 1854; but the streets were quagmire in spring and fall and a lofty barrier of primeval pine walled in the little settlement to the north and west.

Such was the village of 1854 when grammar school classes were begun in the Common School building, a small frame structure on the northwest corner of Kent and Albert streets. These grammar school classes were taught by William Daunt, and all the lower grades were taught in the same building by his wife. The grammar school grant for that year was one hundred pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Daunt represented the entire educational forces of the community, and should be remembered tonight as the trailblazers of the tradition we are honouring.

The arrival of the railway in 1857 coincided with incorporation and inaugurated a rapid growth in population. By the early sixties, there were 3,000 citizens in the town and the same census of 1871 vouched for 4,049. This swift pressure of population led to the erection of a new Union School building of red brick farther west in the same block on Kent Street West. Most of you here this evening will remember this curious structure —— a mock mediaeval hybrid of monastery and barracks, with the air of a shoddy castle badly gone to seed. Projecting bricks were left on either side of the building outside for convenience in making additions and those on the west side were so utilized in 1870 for putting on a two-room extension. No use was ever made of those on the east side, for a policy of building extra ward schools was entered upon instead. The old Union School was demolished in July 1921 and its former site occupied by tennis courts.

Long before this, however, a separate high school building had been built still farther west in 1888 and constitutes the central nucleus of the building in which we have met tonight. The architect was a Lindsay man, William Duffus, who also designed St. Joseph's Convent, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and St. Paul's Anglican Church. It was a three-story structure of red brick on a foundation of white Bobcaygeon stone, and included seven class-rooms and an assembly hall. Further additions were made in 1910, in the twenties, and only yesterday in the fifties.

This outward shell of the school, however, has been far less significant than the pedagogical organism whose growth it has housed. It is not enough to say that this was a "grammar school" from 1854 to 1871, a "high school" from 1871 to 1889, a "collegiate institute" from 1889 to 1952, and a "Victoria County district high school" since that time. Up to 1871 there was no "entrance examination" to mark a transition of competence from the elementary level to the secondary level, and since the government grant from 1865 onward was based on the number of students enrolled in Latin in the grammar school, every possible pupil, boy or girl, clever or stupid, fit or unfit, was thrust into the grammar school — to increase the government grant. Our Own and Other Opinion

A POINT OF GREAT DANGER . . . .

Without attempting in any way to place responsibility for the car-train collision on Highway 36 north of Lindsay last Wednesday, it has been apparent for many years that the CPR railway crossing on the northern outskirits of the town is extremely dangerous to highway traffic. This is particularly true when the crossing is approached from the north, although the southern approach is far from ideal. There seems to be general agreement that the banks which flank the railway at its approaches to the intersecting highway should be levelled. This will not lessen the need for caution in approaching the crossing but it will improve approach visibility, something which is extremely poor at the moment.

It is fortunate that no one lost their life in the Wednesday accident and if the crossing can be improved soon it may yet be done in time to save such a tragedy.

Safety Belts Might Have Helped Avoid Injuries In Crossing Crash

Would safety belts have prevented some of the injuries sustained by two American motorists when their car collided with a CPR train at Lindsay this week? That was the question we asked ourselves as we examined the wrecked car immediately after the accident. And, from observations made, we were of the opinion the question could only be answered in the affirmative. The reasons for reaching this conclusion are (a) one man's head apparently punched a hole in the windshield because he was thrown some distance forward by the impact, something which might not have happened had he been afforded the protection of a safety belt and (b) the driver's body apparently exerted damaging pressure on the steering wheel at the time of collision, a maneouvre he might have been unable to execute had he been restrained by a safety belt.

In the light of these observations we feel no compunction in suggesting that those who oppose safety belt installation in automobiles should first examine the facts more closely.

Safety belts have been proven valuable for use in aircraft when there is danger of jolting — why should they not prove equally valuable to the motoring public? Surely the cost would be insignificant in relation to benefits which would seemingly accrue to motorists.

DON'T GET LOST . .

The Dept. of Lands and Forests is anxious that no one get lost while hunting this season and some excellent hints on bush lore are contained in the department's general bulletin for last week. Here are some of the suggestions offered for your safe return from the fall hunt:

"Before you enter strange territory, or any bush country, for that matter, do you know where you're going or how to get back? Have you studied a large scale map of the territory and have you the map with you?

"Does your equipment include a compass and do you really know how to use it?

"Do you know that a whistle is practically invaluable if you get lost? Have you waterproofed matches or matches in a waterproof container? Do you carry something which enables you to light a fire in hurry in wet weather? Some old photographic films are useful in such an emergency.

"Have you the presence of mind, or control, to sit right down and think when you realize you're lost? Most people make light of being lost, particularly if they never have been lost. But the most experienced woods traveller gets lost at times and the bravest of them will tell you privately, that there's no more dreadful feeling of aloneness and terror. A few minutes of quiet thought will enable you to study the situation instead of rushing off blindly to become even more lost.

"Do you know how to light a safe fire? The Department of Lands and Forests operates the largest aerial fire fighting force in the world. Planes are constantly patrolling the northland looking for smoke.

Keen-eyed observers in hundreds of fire towers also are watching. Experts agree that once you realize you're lost, it will not be long before someone spots you if you sit down and think for a while then light a small fire, scraping away dried leaves and humus down to the bare mineral soil and keeping the fire under control. "If you've taken out a travel permit as you should at the nearest Lands and Forests Dept. office, it will not be long before a search is on when you fail to turn up at your hunting camp.

"One other danger—in moose country—is emphasized by the Department's Gogama office. Regardless of anything printed or spoken to the contrary, don't take any chances with moose. Generally, moose will run away but occasionally one doesn't. You would not be the first hunter to spend several hours up a tree with a very nasty old bull moose at the bottom of it!"

WAGES AND EMPLOYMENT IN THIS AREA

While people are more interested in what will happen than in what has occurred, especially as regards jobs and purses, there is some value in looking back. It helps to bring the present into focus. We therefore point out, from the latest compilation of figures available to us, that this Kawartha district (which includes the two cities of Oshawa and Peterborough) had its biggest pay and employment year last year, and therefore, if the present or future is judged by 1953, the gauge is agerated. It was a boom year.

Compare 1950 and 1953. Last year there were 4,720 persons on industrial payrolls in the Kawartha region, an increase of 20.8 per cent, above 1950. The payrolls themselves totalled (1953) $110,019,000, an increase of 43.7 per cent above 1950.

Industrial payrolls and and employment have slipped downward this year in the Kawartha district (the counties of Durham, Ontario, Peterborough, Victoria and Northumberland). The wages and salaries paid have decreased because the jobs are fewer or the work week shorter, not because wage rates have declined. On July 1st, 1953, the index of employment was 126.8 (this year 1949 being 100), the index of payrolls was 173.1 and the weekly wages and salaries averaged $64.89. On July 1st this year, the Ontario Bureau of Statistics found that the index of employment was 111.2 (a decline of 12.3, the index of payrolls was 149.6 (a decline of 9.8) and the weekly average of salaries and wages in factories in this district was $63.93.

This not cheerful comparison is however not doleful. Both employment and payrolls are well above the levels of 1950, and the decline in this Kawartha district of four counties is not peculiar to them. The situation across the Province is similar. We note, for the satisfaction that it may bring, that the average industrial weekly wages and salaries in this district in July were among the highest in Ontario. The metropolitan Toronto average was $64.91, only a dollar more than in Peterborough, Oshawa and other industries of this district. —Peterborough Examiner.

NOW A FRIEND, NOW AN ENEMY

No truer words have ever been uttered than "there is nothing new ever happens" and particularly so when it comes to the question of Germany. Now that the countries representing a peace loving bloc in a most unsettled world have decided that our erstwhile enemy should be re-armed and form an integral part of our supposed defence against the Communist threat, it is wondered how their conscience is ever going to be drugged sufficiently that they can clearly and assuredly say that this is the only action that can be taken. Parents who lost sons defending democratic principals such a very short time ago are naturally aggrieved to think that our leaders have so little in memory and respect for human life but perhaps parents are also supposed to forget that this one time enemy was responsible for the death of an irreplaceable loved one. Our governing diplomats apparently have shorter memories than is frequently accredited them or at least their actions would justify that assumption.

France is being frowned upon because she is dubious that such a course can spell anything but trouble for her which, looking back through history, is quite understandable. If a man is beaten, stolen from, financially impoverished and ill treated, he naturally does not feel that the same person who committed such outrages against his person can be trusted to act differently because he happens to change his name. People understand that line of reasoning but it is obvious that governments do not. Granted, there does have to be a strong front built up against possible Communist aggression but this business of taking one enemy into the fold as aid against another enemy (and one time ally) cannot spell anything but eventual trouble. History, again, has proven this to be true. Germany has been and will be an enemy even though temporarily accepted as a partner the same as Russia was an ally in the past two world conflicts and is now a fear producing antipower. Anyone with even a faint knowledge of past history can see how this shotgun alliance may boomerang on the perpetraters. It is infinitely better to have less in man power and be certain of your ally than to have hordes and be uncertain of their next action.

We are definitely and unequivocally in favour of an alliance of the peace loving nations building up a common defence against a common enemy but we cannot see that by accepting a rearmed Germany into our camp that we are doing anything to better our cause. History, undoubtedly, will run true to form and in future years history books will prove such predictions were not just a fantasy of fear. —Uxbridge Times.

school trustees will be interested to know that the highest salary paid in Victoria County 100 years ago was 75 pounds. The lowest 24 pounds. Your guess is right again -- there were no laws of discrimination in those days. The average male teacher (and 47 of the 52 teachers were so listed) received - with board (and I presume that included some place to sleep), 38 pounds, 8 shillings. Without board the salaries averaged 45 pounds, 7 shillings. For those who can figure international currency the male teacher was being charged 6 pounds, 19 shillings for board -- per year! But we must not forget the 5 females - they were not called "lady teachers" in 1854.

They received, with board, on the average of 27 pounds, 15 shillings, but without board, 35 pounds. I don't blame you for having forgotten that the figure for the board equivalent for men teachers worked out to 6 pounds, 19 shillings. For the "females" it works out to 7 pounds, 5 shillings. Maybe the "female" teacher then did eat more than the males -- and of course that was before the days of diet fads and the Gibson girl - but personally I think the trustees were simply taking advantage of the poor "females".

And while talking about teachers and salaries of some 100 years ago, here is a piece of real philosophy relevant even now, but with the sights changed more than a little It comes from the Journal of Education of 1948 in the form of "Duty of Trustees in the Selection of Teachers" -- "Pecuniary considerations should have little or no influence in the selection of teachers. Better procure a good teacher at forty dollars per month, and let him teach a quarter of the time, than to procure a poor teacher at ten dollars per month, and let him teach the whole time."

Teaching in those days had its drawbacks - poor equipment, poor pay - and I use the expression "pay" because it was certainly not to be classed as a salary, and poor facilities. But there is evidence, in the report of John Allenby, Esq., of Ops, that the lot of the teachers was improving. In 1850 he wrote, "I am of the opinion that this year school matters will be placed upon a more satisfactory basis - teachers being elevated in society will perfor their duties efficiently"

But there was one thing at least that those teachers of a hundred years ago had that some, if not all, teachers of today wish they had. It was a privilege clearly defined as "Number 39 - Authority of a Teacher to Maintain Dicipline in the School". I quote from the report of the Minister of the Department of Public Instruction, 1854. "A teacher as well as parent, should endeavour to govern children by their effections; but a teacher, as well as a parent, ought to exercise firmness, no less than tenderness, in the government of children; and should, as well as the parents, use the rod, if he thinks it necessary to ensure obedience. The first requisite in school discipline is obedience on the part of pupils; and a teacher must use all means necessary to maintain it - mild means if sufficient, but severe means if he thinks it necessary . . If, as the Sacred Scriptures state, the parent that 'spareth the rod, hateth his child', the teacher that does not use the rod when his orders are wilfully disobeyed, violates his duty and wrongs the children placed under his charge."

Orders were orders -- from the Minister of Public Instruction - but what fun! Who would not wish to be a teacher, once in a while at least, under those regulations? But that decision seems to imply, by the words "he" and "his" that only male teachers had the right to, or would deign to use the rod or the later "strap". The Crown Attorney and I are living testimony to the use of that particular instrument of persuasion at the hands of - or should I say, the strong arms of - charming, capable, "female" school teachers right here in the town of Lindsay.

The year 1854 was of great significance. It ushered in many things which had been nurtured and commenced. The unrestricted right of local self-government conceded to Canada the year before, went into effect. The system of Public Libraries became an actuality. The general system of public instruction became a reality.

It was in that year too, that a new type of double seat-desk was introduced. There were eight sizes May I quote again from an official report of 1854: "Each pupil when properly seated, can rest his feet on the floor without the muscles of the thigh pressing hard upon the front edge of the seat, and with a support for the muscles of the back."

The report goes on, "The yards and entrances for the boys and girls are entirely separate, and each is appropriately fitted up with scraper, mats, broom, water-pails sink, hooks and shelves". But that was real progress. The domination of education by the denominationally controlled private schools was lessening as Egerton Ryerson fought for educational opportunities for the children of Upper Canada.

Free schools were emerging. The people were recognizing the value and the incalculable benefits of education. Many editorials in many newspapers were supporting the cause of public instruction. Indeed, in the Hastings Chronicle of early 1854 we read, "We have zealously supported free schools because their aim is to educate the masses. This being the case, the poor man's child in common with the rich, stand on equal footing -- both drink from the same fountain of learning.".

Many events of the past have received rightful recognition as integral phases of our development as a nation of international status Many names have been remembered and many persons honoured as their decisions, their determination and their activities of bygone years become recognized as strikingly significant and inherent components of a functioning modern system. One can argue that public education, because of its truly fundamental place in our economy, reaching virtually every individual in every community, is one of the most important single factors of our society. Associated as it is, intimately and integrally, with Christian education, nothing is of greater importance or as essential as education. And so we all take this opportunity, here today, of recalling a significant development in Victoria County, and in the village of Lindsay, as part of a major concept of education, as envisaged by that ardent and fearless man, the Reverend Doctor Egerton Ryerson.

With true prophecy were the words written a century ago that, "free schools are destined to confer incalculable benefits on the rising generation, and their influence must be felt operating for good in future time throughout the Province". That was the vision of Ryerson. That was the driving, motivating, and exciting force which gave him strength to build a school system for our forefathers and provide for us today an heritage of sound education in a brilliant blaze of economic development. All honour to his name!

Field of Pumpkins

If you are wondering if there are going to be enough pumpkins for pies this winter take a ride out the Oakwood road, that is No. 7, and watch on the right hand side. You may still see a field of the most choice pumpkins and there seemed to be hundreds of them. Whether you figure it in pumpkins or in cans it will still add up to a goodly numbr of pies. It's really worth seeing, but you'll have to hurry or they will be taking them in for the winter.

All Direction

Lindsay is really moving out the Toronto highway and we noticed a new house and a foundation for another nearby. It isn't far from town and we expect the taxes are lower out that way. It's surprising how many roads leading from Lindsay are being built on. Out the Little Britain road, right at the first turn is a lovely new home and all along that highway are lovely homes that have been built fairly recently. So, Lindsay is really growing and when you see it expanding from every direction it makes one think that it might turn into a city if they incorporate all these new houses.

Asset To Our Town

A very good impression is given to motorists coming into Lindsay at the Hospital turn. The motel there keeps spotless and is a most scenic view as you pass it. The waterwheel is unusual and everyone gazes at it when they see it With othr houses being built nearby this should be one of our choice entrances for its scenic beauty. Could we not do something about the other entrances to the town?.

Blizzard

Perhaps some of you didn't know that there was a bit of hail on Wednesday. It was a short-lived blizzard, but it swept hats off pedestrians and made their hair stand up straight. Coats swung out like plane wings and the wind was so strong it took your breath away. It was over in a few minutes, so it might have been one of the Edna's coming up from the south.

Princess To Travel

Princess Margaret is planning a trip to the Caribbean.

The announcement says, "'Her Royal Highness will visit Trinidad, Grenada, Barbados, Antigua, Jamaica and The Bahamas."

Details will be announced later but it is understood the Princess will make the trip in the Royal yacht Britannia which last spring brought her older sister, Queen Elizabeth the Second, home from her world tour.

Mala Powers

Twenty-two year old actress Mala Powers acquired a husband as well as a home when she went house-hunting with real estate broker Monte Vanton a while back. Miss Powers and Vanton have announced they will be married next Tuesday.

We Love a Bargain!

Everybody likes a sale and there are some good ones going on right now. Women, especially, like bargains and it shows a thrifty attitude towards handling their money. Husbands are not so thrifty and so there are fewer men at these sales. It is the same at rummage sales and the women far outnumber the men in this line. Good value in any sale will make it a success and the shops know they can't fool the public That is why our sales bring results when our shops really give them excellent value for their money. There's a bit of Scotch in all of us even if we usually end up in spending more than we expected.

Not Necessarily Delinquent

It seems that children who read comic books are not necessarily the class dunces at school.

That's the word of Professor Paul Witty, director of the Psycho-Educational Clinic at Northwestern University. He reports that comic book readership in the top quarter of the average grade school class is just as high as in the bottom quarter. And he says that comic book reading definitely is not a major factor in delinquency.

Old folks can take operations better than some of us may think.

That fact shows in a recent study conducted by Dr. Warren Cole of the University of Illinois Medical School, and released by the Illinois division of the American Cancer Society.

The study covered three-thousand 656 operations . . . mostly serious ones. Only five and one-tenths per cent of the patients over 60 died during or after the operation.

Dr. Cole says that contrary to public opinion, the healing power is as strong in old tissue as in young. He says older patients withstood stomach operations better than young patients. But he adds that in many cases old patients don't recover from more serious surgery as readily as young folks.

Household Hint

A canape tip . . . combine creamed cottage cheese with roquefort or blue cheese and season with a bit of finely chopped onion and a dash of tabasco. Use for stuffing celery or as a spread for open-faced sandwiches or canapes.

They met on a hill

A Bobcaygeon man and an Omemee man met on a hill on the township road in the vicinity of Omemee Wednesday at 6.30 p.m. . . . their cars, that is.

"Leslie" must be a popular name in this district, because the driver of one car was Leslie Noble of Bobcaygeon and the other, Leslie Leal of Omemee.

Provincial Police estimate the damage at $250 approximately. No injuries resulted from the sideswipe on the hill police say. P. C. James H. Plumtree was the investigating officer.

Scotch Line Anniversary

Dunsford (PNS) —The Scotch Line Baptist Church Anniversary Services were held Sunday with a good attendance at both services.

Rev. G. W. Searle of Lindsay, the pastor, was present and introduced the guest speaker for the day Rev. John Armstrong of Toronto. Special music was supplied, solos by Mr. Ronald Swain of Lindsay; trios by Mrs. Mel Smith, Mrs. Elmer Evans and Mrs. Searle, and duets by Rev Mr. and Mrs. Searle.

Surprise Party For Anniversary

Blackstock (PNS) —Several families, immediate neighbors of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Hutton, surprised them at the parsonage while they were absent doing some work at the church.

Imagine their surprise when they walked in and saw their neighbours all assembled and anxious to help them celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Roy Turner was spokesman for the gathering and addressed the couple and offered sincere congratulations on behalf of all present. Mrs. Wesley Pearce presented them with three beautiful pieces of crystal in the cornflower pattern, a rose bowl, large sandwich plate and relish dish.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutton were delighted to have the neighbors honor them on this particular occasion and each in turn expressed thanks and appreciation.

The neighbors served a delicious lunch and enjoyed a pleasant evening with the Hutton family. The community also joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hutton many more such anniversaries.

Men Leave Hospital Thursday

Two men are being released from Ross Memorial Hospital Thurs. following a close brush with death. They are Mr. D. E. Stamford of Porterville, and Mr. Russell Fernick, Elwood City, both towns in Pennsylvania. Yesterday afternoon their late model Oldsmobile car figured in a train-car collision at the C. P. R. level crossing one Provincial Police Officer R. Tremills, a new member of Lindsay detachment, was the first officer on the scene, and rushed the injured men to the Ross Memorial Hospital. They appeared to be suffering from injuries to head and hands mainly and were able to walk about although one man's wrist was bleeding profusely. Mr. Stamford, a man of 55 and 43-year-old Russell Fernick spent the night and most of today undergoing treatment and recovering from shock.

A Havelock crew manned the train which was moving towards Lindsay. The crew included Fireman Dalton Bannon; Brakeman E. J. Hart, and P. J. White; Conductor W. J. Hamilton and Engineer Fred Post, who say the train was travelling a speed of only about ten miles an hour.

The American car, travelling north on Highway 36 at 2.50 p.m. under rain and sleet weather conditions, is reported to have tried to stop but was unable to do so quick enough to avoid the accident. When it came to rest one foot from the track after the collision, the steering wheel was broken, a full section of the windshield was knocked out, and the front part of the car was extensively twisted and crushed.

Right where the accident occurred an imaginary line drawn down the road marks a division of jurisdiction between Lindsay Provincial and Lindsay Town Police. Yesterday's accident was investigated by the OPP but has since been turned over to Chief Hunter.

Chief Hunter could not be contacted at press time, but his office says there is no record of any charges arising from the accident.

The injured men were reported to be fishing in the area and going from one lake to another.

Sore Throat

A good treatment for a sore throat is alternate gargles of peroxide and listerine, both diluted in water.

One of the best

One of the best fish caught this season off Lindsay's lock and wharfage area was the one hauled in last week by George Dent, Lindsay photographer, businessman and ardent fisherman. This one caught about 11 p.m. Monday went for a nine-cent spinner with a bit of worm dangling from it. It was landed from the centre pier of the dam. The fish tipped the scales at eight pounds, three ounces. Mr. Dent displays it with justifiable pride.

Flips His Car On Railbed Rd., $600-$700 Damage

Although the driver, Donald Mitchell, of Queen St., Omemee was not injured when his car flipped over in the ditch on the township road, Constable Naismith who investigated at the time, estimated damage to be $600 or $700.

The road where the accident occurred is locally known as the Railbed Road, in Cavan Township, Durham County. Mr. Mitchell was travelling north on it when his car left the road at approximately 7.30 this morning.

Wages Going Up But The Farmer Hard Hit--DBS

That's the word from Government statisticians in Ottawa.

It's reported that total wages and salaries paid to the nation's workers in July amounted to one-billion, ten-million dollars.

But farm prices are down. The statisticians say the index of these prices dropped three full points in July. They blamed lower prices of livestock for the decline.

Sudden Gust Downs 2 Trees On Bobcaygeon Road, Vehicle Hit, One "Bushed"

Trees across roads in the Bobcaygeon area proved to be stumbling blocks Wednesday, on Highway 36.

The Ontario Provincial Police investigated an accident at 4.15 in the afternoon. Five miles south of Bobcaygeon a Tracey Bros. Construction vehicle driven by Hector Blair of Lindsay came into collision with a tree which had fallen across the road in a localized strong wind storm. Officer Fitzpatrick of Lindsay Provincial Police investigated. There was some $300 damages resulting.

Earlier in the afternoon the editor of "The Post" was proceeding to Bobcaygeon, when he witnessed a car driven by a woman plough right through the foliaged branches of a large tree spread out over the highway. The woman was unable to bring her car to a halt in time to avoid it, and drove right through the obstruction! The car was generously "bushed" by the experience. This tree was obviously rotten at the base and it was a pushover for the wind. Cars were able to barely skirt the tree-top by riding along the shoulder of the road. Among those from Lindsay who were seen navigating the suddenly narrowed road were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pollock who were on their way to Bobcaygeon. It was only a few minutes previous to this that a Pennsylvania car had collided with a train just north of Lindsay on the same highway.

Adams' Manager Opening Shop At Winnipeg

In an interview with "The Post" on Thursday, Mr. P. A. Goodsir, who has been associated with the local Adams' Furniture Store for over two years, said that he with his family are leaving Lindsay in two weeks' time. He says he intends to open a store of his own in Winnipeg. It will not be in the furniture line, but a combined grocery and gas station, the latter being termed by the native Scotsman as "petrol".

Mr. and Mrs. Goodsir with one son Eric, and daughter Isobel came to Lindsay from Scotland in March 1952. And although not being in this community long, they have made themselves part of it, each in an individual way.

Isobel has shown her dancing ability to Lindsay audiences, and this year has been practising for the forthcoming Kiwanis show. Mr. Goodsir and Eric are bowlers to be reckoned with, the former preferring lawn bowling, but Eric goes in for the indoor game.

.The family are keen on going West to Winnipeg, says the head of the Goodsir family, the more so because a sister of his wife lives there. Mrs. Goodsir met her for the first time in 34 years last July when they took a motor trip to Winnipeg.

The whole Lindsay family group is looking forward to their new life in Canada's West, even though Mr. and Mrs. Goodsir are going far from their eldest son, who at 20 is a professional draftsman with the Board of Education in Toronto.

Mr. Neill Gregory Outlines Plans For New Hospital

The regular meeting of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary was held in the Board Room of the Ross Memorial Hospital. Mrs. W. McCarty presided and opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. Neill Gregory addressed the Auxiliary briefly and showed the plans for the proposed new hospital which have been accepted in principle by the Expansion Committee. Mr. Gregory suggested that the members of the Auxiliary avail themselves of every opportunity to inform the citizens of Lindsay and surrounding districts of the very great necessity for a new hospital.

It was decided to donate three electric toasters to the hospital, and to instal proper curtain tracks in the rooms on the second floor for which new curtains had been provided by the Auxiliary.

The names of six new members were added to the growing list of membership and the Treasurer's report showed a balance of $957.94.

Mrs. W. McCarty gave a report of the Regional Auxiliary meeting held in Peterborough, which four Lindsay members had attended.

November 19th was decided upon for the date of the next meeting after which "God Save The Queen" was sung.

No Ice In September 1954 Broke 13-year Record

Lindsay residents on their way to work on Thursday doubtless noticed a coat of ice over the water puddles for the first time this year, and realized at last that they must face the coming winter and have probably seen the last of the warm weather.

Nevertheless, things have been a lot better than they have been for several years warmth wise, for according to a local resident Mr. D. P. Shier, of 24 Bond St., this year was the first since 1941 that there was no ice during the month of September.

Mr. Shier, who has been interested enough to keep track of such matters, informed the "Post" today that for the 11 years between 1941 and 1954, there has been ice formed on or before the fifth of each September. In 1941, there was no ice whatsoever during the month, and this phenomenon did not take place again in September until this year.

Just as a matter of interest, glancing through the 'Post' files it is noted that the weather for October 7th, was considerably warmer than it is today. The high temperature for that day was 76, with a low the previous night of 48. For comparison, just glance at todays' weather report....26 above during the night.

The big news of the day on the international scene, was the fact that the Red Army under Marshall Timoshenko had succeeded in halting the Nazis assaults in their offensive against Murmansk. Locally the president of the Kiwanis Club, Mr. C.G. Frost announced that the club would sponsor the campaign to help secure pledges for the second National War Savings Certificate drive.

Those were the fearful days of the war, that most people will never forget.

Mrs. Flora May Brown, beloved wife of Joseph William Brown, passed away at her home, 11 Sussex St., N., Lindsay, on September 25th, 1954, after an illness of one day.

The funeral service was conducted on September 27th, 1954, by Dr. Neal of Cambridge St. United Church, from the Mackey Funeral Home, with interment in Riverside cemetery.

Pallbearers were six nephews, Gordon Graham, Chalmer Graham, James Gillespie, Hilton Brown, Bert Brown and Joseph Brown.

Left to mourn her loss besides her husband are one son, William of Stratford, Ontario, and one daughter, Mrs. John Steen, (Ida), of Arlington, Virginia. Lindsay Officers Hear Address By "Fabian"

Chief Constable John Hunter and OPP Constable Ralph Tremills were guests at the Peterborough Kiwanis luncheon Thursday, the occasion being the visit of ex-Inspector Robert Fabian of Scotland Yard.

In an interview with the "Post" today, Chief Hunter commented that he was very much impressed by the storied Fabian, in that during his entire talk to the members and guests of the club, he was extremely modest about his own accomplishments, and those of the Yard.

Mr. Fabian spoke on two subjects, the first being the story of how Scotland Yard was formed, and the other being the complete story of a complicated murder case that he solved.

Chief Hunter stated that although Mr. Fabian spoke at great length, the entire talk was completely fascinating and that he interspersed his comments with typical English humour which put a lot of well-appreciated sparkle into the serious subjects.

Fabian of Yard, as he is called, is 53 years old, but according to Chief Hunter, looks young for his age, and is a man that would not stand out in a crowd, being of average size and appearance. He joined Scotland Yard at the age of 21 and by the time he was 41 had achieved his Inspectorship, the rank he held until his retirement.

Chief Hunter commented that Mr. Fabian made no mention in his talks about the well-publicized "Marion McDowell Case." Mr. Fabian is touring the larger centres lecturing to law enforcement officers and availing his vast experience and knowledge to those who may require any technical assistance. It is believed that his tour is being sponsored by a large Canadian brewery.

20 Astronomy-minded Citizens Visit The Dunlop Observatory

On Tuesday evening a group of 20 Lindsayites journeyed to the David Dunlop Observatory at Richmond Hill to attend the annual "At Home" for members of the Toronto centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

The Lindsay group was made up of members and wives of the recently organized Lindsay Astronomical Society which is affiliated with the Toronto centre of the Royal Astronomical Society.

The Director of the Observatory, Dr. J. F. Heard, assisted by Dr. Helen S. Hogg, Dr. Oke and other staff members provided a very interesting program which included the showing of coloured slides of the recent Solar eclipse expedition to Northern Ontario, a demonstration of the operation of the 74 inch telescope (largest in the British Commonwealth and 4th largest in the world), measuring light intensity of a star, using the 19-inch telescope, and the operation of the 6 inch refractor.

A visit to the grinding room of the optical shop proved of special interest to the local members who are building their own telescopes.

At the close of the program refreshments were served in the main hall.

In talking to some of the Lindsay members during the evening, Dr. Heard expressed his pleasure in the interest shown in Lindsay and expressed the hope that, in the near future a centre might be established here. This would indeed be an achievement for Lindsay as, at this time, there are only about 11 such centres across Canada and Guelph, Ontario, is the smallest city to have one.

Hobson's Choice, 29-Week Hit, Coming Here

Once every so often a motion picture comes along that one can thoroughly enjoy. Hobson's Choice is one of those pictures. Direct from a smashing 29-week run at one of Toronto's leading theatres, it will be appearing Monday at Lindsay's Academy Theatre for three days.

Charles Laughton of the massive figure and ponderous cheek, has one of his most engaging roles in his long and impressive career in this delghtful comedy. As Henry Hobson, blustering British bootmaker of the 1890's, who is constantly at odds with his three marriageable daughters, Laughton gives a sweeping performance as a tyannical but lovable curmudgeon who refuses to give the necessary doweries for his daughters' marriages . .

Restock Galway With 50,000 Pine Trees

In the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests weekly report, Mr. M. D. Kirk, of the Reforestation Division, Lindsay, had this to say, on reforestation.

"Galway Township was stocked with another 50,000 pine and spruce trees this autumn. Despite the continuous bad weather, crews worked over rock and swamp in the north end of Galway Township, adjacent to Furnace Falls, setting out the seedlings grown in our nursery at Orono, Ontario. These seedlings will provide a suitable supply of timber for the next generation on areas that would not re-stock themselves naturally.

Tree planting is still in progress at Northumberland Forest and Ganaraska Forest. At the Ganaraska Forest, 90,000 trees are being planted on the old "Toms" property. This land is so rugged that planting machines cannot be used. Crews came off the tobacco harvest, which finished in time for tree planting employment."

This is what happens when a car collides with a train, even a slow-moving train such as the one which was coming into Lindsay from Bobcaygeon on Wednesday afternoon. The wrecked "98" Oldsmobile occupied by two men from Pennsylvania—D. E. Stamford, Porterville and Russell Fernick, Elwood City—is shown here minutes after the accident occurred. Time of the accident was placed at 2.50 p.m. by Conductor W. J. Hamilton, Havelock. Engineer Fred Post, also of Havelock, said the train was only moving at about 10 miles an hour when the collision occurred. The windshield was punched out, the steering wheel bent and broken and the font of the car crushed and twisted as the picture indicates. People who arrived on the scene shortly afterwards agreed it was a miracle that neither man was more seriously hurt.

Cheaper to buy in Lindsay? Emily Reeve declares it is, Gives prices to back it up

Reeve Peter Purdue of Emily Township has come to the interesting decision that it's cheaper to live in Lindsay than to reside in a larger centre such as Peterborough.

On a recent shopping expedition in the larger centre, where one usually expects to pay less for most merchandise due to heavy business competition, Mr. Purdue learned that such is not the case. He states that a suit that he priced in Lindsay at $78, sells for four dollars more in Peterborough, and there is a span of $100. on the price of a new automobile. Floor coverings, which cost 90 cents a yard here, are tagged at 94 cents in the larger outlet. However, one consolation for the residents of Peterborough is that the price of food in the chain stores is the same as that in Lindsay.

Mr. Purdue suggested to the Chamber of Commerce that they take advantage of this information, and conduct a survey on their own, publicizing their findings throughout the local market area. Another suggestion made by Mr. Purdue is that the town acquire a civic parking lot before the parking problem becomes acute, which appears to be the situation right now in Peterborough.

Homemaker Service Here Finishes Successful Year

The Canadian Red Cross Society, another Community Chest service, is now completing in Lindsay the first year of it's Homemaker Service. According to officials of the service, the year has been highly successful, for it has acted as an agent in locating assistance for families when illness or like emergencies arrive, and remove temporarily the services of the mother.

The Homemaker Service states that nearly 60 such situations have been brought to the attention of the local Red Cross Branch in the past year. A skilled homemaker has stepped into each home prepared to keep the family functioning until such time that the mother was able to resume her normal tasks, or until a permanent solution had been found.

During the first year of operation of this service, the Homemakers state that they have operated a total of 244 days.

Court Rules Injuries Might Have Been Factor

On Friday in Lindsay Police Court, a Nogies Creek man appeared on a charge of driving while his ability was impaired, following an accident on Queen Street, on the evening of September 10.

"Think it would save me money too?"

"I see you telephone people always use wood preservative on your poles. Think I should do the same thing when I build my fence?"

"Yes, it's a good idea. We've found at Bell that it saves us plenty on repair and replacement costs. That's why we treat telephone poles against rot; why we keep our trucks clean and in good repair; why we put up exchanges and offices to last.

"It's only common sense, if we are to keep costs down and the price of your telephone service low."

If you would like to get useful information on the preservative treatment of wood we suggest you write Forest Products Laboratories of Canada, Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, Ottawa.

Two Die In Crossing Crash

Two More In Hospital At Lindsay

Two Toronto area residents were killed and two others taken to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay last week after their car collided with a Canadian National Railway train at Blackwater.

Dead are Ted Walker, about 23, and Betty Flavelle, about 22, both of Etobicoke.

Under observation in hospital here are Lorne Lanton, 18 of Toronto, and William Flavelle, brother of Betty.

The quartet was believed to be on a hunting trip when the crash occurred. Their car was travelling on the combined highways of No. 7 and No. 12. The right side was torn from the car by the passenger train, which was travelling from Belleville to Toronto. Both Walker and Miss Flavelle were thrown from their vehicle.

CNR officials said the train, with A. Cochrane of Lindsay as engineer, was just pulling out of Blackwater station at about eight m.p.h. when it hit the car. Blackwater is located about 25 miles southwest of Lindsay.

Police said William Flavelle was believed to be the driver of the car. He was uninjured. Lanton was sitting in the seat directly behind him and is reported to be in fair condition in Hospital.

It was believed that the group had been on a hunting trip, for rifles and lunches were found in the wrecked vehicle.

Community Chest Drive Near

Community Chest - an organization that its leaders claim means many wonderful things to millions of people throughout the North American continent, begins its seventh annual campaign in Lindsay on Tuesday.

The Lindsay objective for this year is $13,000.00, and it is hoped that the generosity of the citizens of this town will help the organization achieve its goal. Campaign manager Jasper Forman says that campaigns have gone over the top, while one showed slightly below the assigned target. However, the surplus received in other years has carried all the campaigns well over the required total.

In the years since it began residents of this community have donated approximately $72,000.00 to the Community Chest which, officials say was distributed to many worthwhile organizations that are dedicated to helping the needy and performing community services.

The Community Chest is exactly what its name implies - a Chest from which service organizations in the community can draw cash reserves to carry on their many beneficial works, regardless of race, colour or creed, the campaign chairman declares.

In Lindsay, donations to the Community Chest are shared by the Red Cross, The Salvation Army, The Victorian Order of Nurses, Canadian National Institute For The Blind, Youth Programs of the Lindsay Recreation Centre, St. John Ambulance, The Girl Guides and the Brownies.

This seventh annual campaign will keep in full swing until the objective is reached, and already donations have begun to arrive in advance. Two local residents who will be out of town at the start of the campaign have donated $100. each. They are Mr. I. E. Weldon and Mr. Stewart Flavelle.

Safety Check Being Launched At Lindsay

Commencing immediately after the holiday, the annual Safety Check will begin locally, so stated Vincent Cote, the present of the Victoria Branch of the Garage Operators Association of Ontario. This safetyy check, said Mr. Cote, will extend for one month, and will entitle all motorists to bring their cars into any garage that is a member of the association for a complete and thorough safety check at no charge. Upon approval of the automobile's mechanical condition a sticker will be placed on the windshield by members of the Town or Provincial Police.

Mr. Cote stated that this is a province-wide fall safety check, involving 52 branchs of the association in Ontario with over 2,500 members. He stated that it is the obligation of every motorist to keep his car in safe operating conditiion, and that only expert mechanics, who know where and how to inspect a car for faulty parts and wear, are qualified to certify an automobile's condition.

Mr. Cote strongly urged all motorists of Victoria County to take advantage of this free service and by doing so, perhaps save a life.

He said "Deer Park Home and School Ass. had found it beneficial to have a citizenship committee since in Toronto there were so many new Canadians. It is the committee's duty to get these new Canadians interested in Home and School and welcome them. More personal attention can be given the children by the teacher if the teacher has tools to lighten her job. Home and School might purchase any equipment that would lighten the teachers' duties. Something else Home and School might do is purchase sports equipment for the children, or any necessary books if the School Board didn't supply enough of same." Thanksgiving Fowl Features Farmers' Market Here

At the Lindsay Farmers' Market on Saturday, the Thanksgiving holiday was in great evidence with appealing displays of seasonal vegetables.

Turkeys being sold were all plump looking birds averaging about 18 pounds each. Prices on turkey ranged between 50 cents and 55 cents a pound. The price of chicken, was 35 cents, which some interpreted to indicate a trend towards falling prices on fowl.

Other prices of fresh foodstuffs on the market this morning showed new potatoes at 39 cents a basket, pumpkin, 15 cents each, snow apples, 65 cents a basket and cooking apples 45 cents. Large squash were selling for a quarter each.

Usually at this season of the year, cranberries are very much in evidence, however none were being sold at the market this morning.

Chief Suggests Ways To Keep Children Safe

"There is no simple remedy for the problem of traffic accidents involving children," says Lindsay"s Chief of Police, John Hunter referring to the beginning of the new school term.

"Exposure to traffic hazards on the way to and from school is one of life's first responsibilities which a child has to face alone and everyone concerned, - parents, motorists, educators and the children themselves - has a definite part to play," said the Chief.

"Unfortunately, our police records show that until a child reaches the age of nine, exposure to traffic results in far too many accidents with six-year-olds showing the highest proportion.

"To the parents of children in this age group I would like to offer the following suggestions:

1. Get your child off to school in plenty of time so that he or she will not have to run. In nine out of every ten child traffic accidents last year, the child was running at the time

2. Take time out to trace the safest way to school and point out all the signs, pavement markings and aids to their safety. Then insist that they follow this route constantly. A small reward for safe behaviour is usually encouraging to them.

3. Find out what the schools are teaching, safety-wise, then supplement it with discussions, perhaps at meal time.

4. Set a good example yourself. It doesn't do any good for a teacher to tell your child to cross only on the green light, five days a week, if you cross against the red light on your Saturday morning shopping tour.

5. Encourage yoyur child to call for two or three others and have them accompany each other on the way to school. If they are already in a body, there is less chance that they will dash across the road to join other children enroute.

Executive Of W.M.S. Presbyterial Meets At Woodville

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —The executive of the W.M.S. of the United Church of Lindsay Presbyterial held their Fall meeting at the home of Mrs. W. J. McPherson, Woodville.

Mrs. E. Free presided and the morning session was opened by singing a hymn. Mrs. Free read a portion of the first chapter of Acts as a background for her short inspiring message. Mrs. Free led in prayer and the Lord's prayer was repeated in unison.

In the absence of the recording secretary, Mrs. Profit, Mrs. P. S Croft of Beaverton read the minutes of the Spring Executive meeting. A discussion followed regarding the Rally to be held in Minden in November when Mrs. Kenneth Massih of India will be the guest speaker. It was decided to have the speaker preside over the business period and to dispense with registration. It was also decided that Group Conferences would not be feasible at this Rally. The worship service will be a dramatized one to be presented by Woodville W. M. S.

Reports were received by letter from Mrs. G. Avery, Mission Band Secretary and Mrs. Trumpour, secretary of Christian Stewardship. A letter from Mrs. J. C. Davey stated that she wished to be relieved og the office of Secretary of Affiliated C.G.I.T. Mrs. Cornish was suggested as a possible successor, and the Nominating commitee were aked to interview her. Mrs. H. Newman said that she wished to withdraw as 1st vice -president but continue as Literature Secretary. A letter was read from Mrs Dunoon expressing thanks for the remembrance which recognized her services as auditor.

Mrs. Graham, who will succeed Mrs. Ray Weldon as Corresponding Secretary was welcomed to the Executive and introduced by Mrs. McPherson.

The Executive members were invited to attend a portion of the meeting of Presbytery meeting in order to hear the Commissioners who attended the General Council in Sackville, N.B. give their impressions. Dr. Pointen welcomed the ladies before giving his report which was on the educational requirements of Colleges and Secondary Schools -speaking especially with regard to laymen. He mentioned the address given by Dr. Harold Young which stressed the need of more recruits for full time Christian service to meet the need of new pastoral charges in the growing and expanding church. Mr. Murray Austin, lay delegate from Woodville, spoke on the men's movement in the United Church A.O.T.S. and also dealt with the Home Mission question. Mr. H. S. Johnston spoke on Evangelism and Overseas Missions and Mr. Frank Weldon explained the changes in the policy of the Pension Board.

At the noon hour, the ladies of the W.A. of Woodville United Church served a delicious hot dinner in the Sunday School Room.

Discussion at the afternoon session centered around the Presbyterial. In view of the fact that the Bay of Quinte Conference meets in Lindsay in 1955, it was felt that Presbyterial should be held elsewhere. Oakwood was suggested as the place of meeting. On motion of Mrs. R. Tremeer and Mrs. G. Hetherington it was decided that if possible the W.M.S. Executive should meet on the same day as Presbytery.

Little Britain was asked to be responsible for the morning worship service at the Presbyterial and the choice of speakers in order were: Miss Annetta Rose of Korea; Dr. Winnifred Bryce, Mrs. Loveys and Mrs. McKillop. The following were named as a programme committee:- Mrs. Free, Mrs. Croft, Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Profitt.

Mrs. F. Weldon, treasurer gave a brief report and suggested that W.M.S. members contact the Victoria County Library Board regarding the purchase of worthwhile books. Mrs. O. Gorrell after reporting for Baby Bands gave a worthwhile message in a poem, as did Mrs. Croft. Other secretaries reporting were Mrs. W. Brandon, Mrs H. Campbell, Mrs. F. Tremeer and Miss Murchison.

Mrs. Free closed the meeting with a short inspiring talk. She mentioned the influence of the testimony of Roy yRogers and his wife and recommended that each member of the Executive read "Growing Spiritually" by Stanley Jones. Mrs. Ray Weldon closed the meeting with prayer.

A social hour followed when Mrs. W. J. McPherson assisted by Mrs. M. Austin, Mrs J. Stoddart, and Mrs. Howard Campbell served a dainty lunch. Tea was poured by Mrs. Hawtin of Beaverton, a past president of the Lindsay Presbyterial.

Bible Thoughts

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. St. John 15:7.

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, saying he that receiveth it. Revelations 2-17.

Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone; if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

Kawartha Chapter IODE Celebrates Fortieth Anniversary Of Founding

To the playing of "Land of Hope and Glory" by Mrs. J. W. Deyell, the Standard Bearer, Mrs. R. W. Groves, placed the flag for the opening of the meeting of the Kawartha Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire.

Mrs. K. Griffin, Regent, reminded the members that it was the 40th anniversary of the chapter. She displayed the Charter and read the names of those women who were charter members, when it was formed on October 27, 1914.

Mrs. D. Newbigging brought the Educational report and it was decided to continue the two bursaries to send students from the Lindsay Collegiate to Peterborough Teachers' College and also to present the annual prize in Canadian History. The special Hospital Fund was reported to be mounting and the Fall Rummage Sale should add to this substantially. The annual doll draw was reported by Mrs. S. R. Pitts and Mrs. B. L. McLean to be well in hand.

Mrs. George Wilson reported on Child and Family Welfare and told of her trip to the Shriner's Circus with a bus load of crippled childrne.

Mrs. O. W. Jardine and Mrs. W. A. Race were received as new members. Mrs. Griffin read the affirmation of loyalty and Mrs. George Beall presented them with their pins.

Miss Ruth Kingsborough favoured with two delightful solos, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Dewell.

The guest speaker, Mrs. H. Punnett, of Ottawa, formerly of Lindsay, was introduced by Mrs. D. Newbigging. Mrs. Punnett chose as her subject, "The Union Jack and The Red Ensign." She traced the history of the flags from earliest times, told of the union of the flags of England, Scotland and Ireland, of how, carried on the field of battle from the time of Richard, the Lion-hearted, to the Second World War, the Union Jack stands for liberty, equality, justice, freedom and victory. The Red Ensign has grown with the Dominion. Men and women of the services have proudly served under it in two World Wars, she said.

Miss Bertha Porter moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker, after which the standard bearer retired the flag to the singing of "God Save The Queen."

Mrs. M. Lyons, convenor, was assisted at a special anniversary tea by Mrs. S. Flavelle, Mrs. F. W. Moynes and Mrs. C. G. Frost.

That Body of Yours

STRESS

No doubt there is not one of us who does not suffer at times with stress in one form or another although it may be difficult to define. In an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association we read that although ideas about stress and stress disease have not yet crystallized, the current trend is to recognize stress as an important contributory cause of disease. There are many kinds of stress and the ways in which they cause disease are not well understood. The problem is nevertheless real and most authorities would include duodenal ulcer, thyroid disease - the severe type of goiter, high blood pressure, ulcerative colitis and even rheumatoid though not understood part

"Such widely different factors as infection, intoxication, injury, muscular and nervous fatigue, extreme heat and cold have been grouped together as types of stress. As we thnk of stress, it implies either an inner conflict or a conflict against circumstances for which no immediate action is appropriate. It implies further that the conflict is protracted, the outcome uncertain, and that the victim is constantly aware of it. Many writers have been impressed by the great difference in the ability of different persons to withstand what appears to be the same amount of stress without showing signs of breakdown, but it may be safely stated that no one is immune from breakdown if the stress is severe enough and lasts long enough."

Sports and war offer situations that are ideal for the study of stress. Combat stress was studied in World War 11 and more recently in Korea where a team consisting of physiologists, psychologists and psychiatrists measured the mental and physical conditions of infantrymen before and after combat. They found by tests on the blood, urine and saliva that men who had been under almost constant fire for five days but with only 7 per cent casualties, were far worse off than those who had been under fire only 18 hours but with 70 per cent casualties. Those who had been fighting only 18 hours had above average adrenal reserve (the gland extract turned into the blood stream by the adrenal gland in times of danger) while those who had been fighting five days had adrenal exhaustion. Another finding was that those with the shorter, more intensive exposure to stress lost their sense of thirst for the time being and became "dried out" even though they had water available in their canteens.

It was expected that there would be mental deterioration under stress but tests revealed very little and not any more in the one group than the other.

Mrs. Craighead Auxiliary's Guest Speaker

The first Fall meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary of Cambridge St. United church was held in the Sunday school auditorium. There was a good atteendance and the president, Mrs. Waite opened the meeting with a few words and silent prayer, in loving tribute to the memory of members who had passed away during the holiday season.

The president brought to the attention of the ladies the theme for the devotional period "A nation before God" and introduced the new study book of the year, "The Church in India" and said it was an interesting study, from which all hoped to derive much benefit.

A hymn was sung, with Mrs. Skitch at the piano, after which the devotional perod was taken by Mrs. C. Wright, the bible reading was given by Miss Fallis, Mrs. W. E. Fletcher sang a pleasing soprano solo, followed by prayer by Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. R. W. Craighead was introduced as the special guest speaker by Mrs. C. Golden, who told of Mrs. Craighead's fine missionary and Christian leadeship in all church activities. Mrs. Craighead is now Branch Treasurer of the General Board. She brought a very interesting and full prepared report of the meeting held at Ainsley Hall, Victoria College in Toronto. Mrs. Elvidge, vice-president, in a few well-chosen words thanked Mrs. Craighead for her inspiring message and Mrs. Fletcher for her message in song.

The meeting closed with a verse of a hymn, with Mrs. E. D. Fulton at the piano, after which Dr. Neal pronounced the Benediction and lunch was served by Mrs. Wright and her committee.

Gave Up Crime, Became Smuggler, Complains of Deal

A British safecracker, war hero and man about town says he went into the smuggling business to "pick up a few honest dollars."

Eddie Chapman says smuggling out of Tangiers, Africa is legal. Otherwise, he says, he would not even have considered it.

The 39-year-old Chapman has quite a record. He was a top-notch safe-cracker in pre-war London. "I gave up crime," Chapman says, "when Scotland Yard washed my record clean because of my war experience."

In the war, he posted as a German spy while working for British Intelligence. The war office called him "one of the bravest men of the war." He was so good he even got an iron cross from Nazi Germany.

But, getting back to his smuggling adventure of last summer, Chapman says all kinds of rumors made the rounds after his mission. One was that Chapman planned to kidnap the deposed Sultan of Morroco so he could lead a rebellion against France. Not so, says Chapman.

What happened, says the soldier of fortune, is that he teamed up with Billy Hill—the Al Capone of London—who furnished a yacht. Chapman collected a crew that consisted of a boxer . . . a former member of a so-called "smash and grab" mob . . . two experts at street-fighting . . . and a tough Belgian.

"I looked over the crew," he says, "and thought if anyone could take anything away from these boys he deserves it, and a bonus besides."

Chapman says he agreed to smuggle 800 cases of cigarets from Tangier to another country. He figured to make a profit of some 10-thousand dollars. The deal was only partly successful. Chapman says the man he delivered the cigarets to tried to give him counterfeit money, mixed in with the real stuff.

It was unfair, says Chapman.

He was just trying to make an honest dollar. —BUP.

Valentia Community Honours Newlyweds

Valentia (PNS) —A miscellaneous shower was held at the South Valentia School in honour of Mr. Robert Snoddon and his bride, (nee Noreen McMillan) with a large crowd present.

The early part of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of the Gilson Orchestra of Pleasant Point, with Mr. Wesley Stokes of Zion-Mariposa calling.

About 10.30 Mr. and Mrs. Snoddon were asked to take the two chairs at the front of the room when Mr. Bill Mark read the address to the bride and groom. They were assisted in unwrapping the gifts by Mrs. Ross Snoddon and Miss Helen Snoddon, when Noreen read the verses on the cards of each of the gifts, which were all very useful.

Bob and Noreen thanked all for the lovely gifts they had received, which included anything from a live duck to a roasting pan, towels, dishes and a bridge set with the table and four chairs in a green shade. The charivari gang presented them with a magazine rack.

Mr. Robert Parkin who acted as M. C. for the evening called on Mrs. Mac Glassford, who after a few remarks sang a song composed on the lives of Bob and Noreen followed each time with the chorus of "Roamin' in the Gloamin", with guitar accompaniment. The gifts were then all looked over by those present, after which the ladies in charge served lunch of sandwiches, cake, cookies, tarts, coffee and tea, when a social and friendly time was spent.

Wheat Club Competition Results

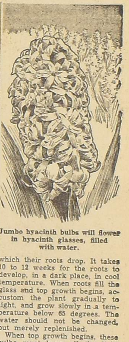
Blackstock (PNS) —The 17 Durham farmers who took part in the "60-Bushel Wheat Club" competition in the county this year, sponsored by the Maple Leaf Milling Company, Toronto, averaged 58.2 bushels to the acre, Agricultural Representative Ed. Summers has announced.

Yields ranged from Ed. Ruthven's-72.8 bushels to R. K. Squairs -48.0 bushels per acre. Garnet Rickard had the top field score of 90 but his yield was in second place at 68.0 bushels to the acre.

Of the 17 entries, all were the new variety Genesee, except two, one each of Cornell and Dawbul. Only one field was under 50 bushels to the acre.

This is the last year that the Maple Leaf Milling Company will sponsor the "60-Bushel Wheat Club" but it is hoped to carry on the project in Durham as a field crop competition under the sponsorship of the Orono Fair Board.

Grow Christmas Flowers with Bulbs in Bowls



Jumbo hyacinth bulbs will flower in hyacinth glasses, filled with water.

Growing flowers for Christmas in a living room is not easy, but it can be done if Paper White Narcissus bulbs are started Nov. 1, and grown in carefully regulated temperatures. Without such care the flowers are likely to be inferior, and the stems weak, because the bulbs have not matured to the degree most favorable for "forcing."

"Forcing" is the florist's word for making a plant flower out of season; and the formula for accomplishing this is much the same with all bulbs. Bulbs develop, even in storage; and take time to reach the stage where they are ready to grow. When planted, they first must produce roots, since top growth without good roots is weak, and seldom flowers.

Paper White narcissi, planted in bowls filled with gravel or pearl chips and water, should be kept in a temperature below 60 degrees for four weeks; preferably in dim light. When root growth is sufficient, top growth will begin, and then they should have all the light possible. Best flowers will result when the temperature never exceeds 70 degrees; keep them away from radiators and steam pipes, and out of overheated living rooms.

Instead of gravel, bowls may be filled with bulb fibre, or potting soil. Containers should be deep enough to allow two inches of gravel, fibre or soil below them. Set the bulbs close together but do not let them touch; and only the necks should emerge from the soil.

Yellow Paper Whites (soliel d'or) and Narcissus Early Perfection can also be grown by these methods; but they take longer to make flowers. The best time to start all these is Dec. 1, or later when the bulbs have fully developed.

Large bulbs of hyacinths can be grown in water in special glasses. The glasses support the bulbs just above the water, into which their roots drop. It takes 10 to 12 weeks for the roots to develop, in a dark place, in cool temperature. When roots fill the glass and top growth begins, accustom the plant gradually to light, and grow slowly in a temperature below 65 degrees. The water should not be changed, but merely replenished.

When top growth begins, these bulbs must have all the light you can give them. They should be kept near windows, in a sunparlor or room where ventilation can be given and temperatures kept down. By arranging shelves in front of a window on which the plants can stand, an attractive display is made.

Late Double Tulips Bear Flowers Like Peonies

Taller stems and larger flowers distinguish new double varieties.

While early flowering double tulips have been grown and admired for 100 years, most of the tall, late flowering varieties now offered, blooming at the same time as the single flowering Darwins, have been introduced since World War II.

They are called "peony flowered," and when well grown their flowers resemble peonies, though never as large as real exhibition peonies can be grown. Compared with the early flowering double tulips they have longer stems and larger flowers.

Early double tulips blossom two weeks or more before the late flowering kind. Like the single early varieties, they were bred for use in formal beds, which the English called "carpet beds." The flowers were used to work out colorful patterns comparable to the designs in carpets. This method has long been out of fashion in this country, though still practiced abroad.

Single early and double tulips were produced by systematic breeding, before modern plant breeding methods were well known; but the old methods were highly successful, producing flowers uniform in height, color, and flowering season. If the early tulips, single and double, are planted, together with the late varieties, the garden display of tulips can be lengthened by two or three weeks.

Among the peony flowered tulips are red, pink, lilac, dark maroon and white varieties. They are not well suited to planting in formal beds, but fit gracefully into the informal border arrangements which are in fashion now.

A group of late double tulips placed at a focal point in the garden will attract the attention of garden visitors. They are definitely "head - line performers." They should be planted at the same depth as Darwin tulips, and with the same distance between them, and will blossom at the same time.

Prof. Kirkconnell

"High School Act" of 1871 changed all that. The name "grammar school" was replaced by the American term "high school" and a clear-cut entrance examination had to be passed before a student was accepted at the high school level. One may note, in passing, that the present administrative generation, which has forgotten the chaos of the 1860's, has now removed this 80-year-old barrier and is prepared to promote children by age-group instead of by mental competence.

The act of 1871 made provision for training in advanced English, natural science and commercial subjects, and languages were made optional except for prospective teachers and university matriculants. Provision was also made for a high grade of secondary school to be known as a "collegiate institute", with the head of each department a specialist and with a high stipulated standard of equipment. As already noted, the Lindsay school reached this new status with the opening of its new building in 1889.

The optional place of languages in the 1871 curriculum was a clear sign that the province wished to make general education available for boys and girls who had no professional ambitions and simply wished for an ampler and more effective life at home. For fifty years, however, this opportunity remained unfulfilled since all students, or their parents, insisted on their preparing either for Normal School or for university matriculation, and here the strict academic program remained unchanged.

An act of 1921 sought once again to broaden out education for the rank and file who would never go on to university or to Normal School. The menu of a five-year course in high school was now to be almost completely a la carte. English literature was compulsory bread and butter in each of the five years and one year each, at Lower School level, was required in History, Civics, Physical Geography, Algebra and Geometry. Otherwise everything was to be optional. Agriculture, domestic science and manual training were prominent on the diet sheet. A high school graduation diploma was to go to anyone who passed on any twelve subjects, provided six of them were in the Middle School.

In 1952, as has already been noted, the entrance examination separating elementary and secondary schools was abolished. So were provincial examinations at the Lower or Middle School levels. The first outside audit on a prospective university student now comes at the end of Grade XIII and wholesale bonusing of the unsuccessful has not been unknown. Only a decade or two of university experience will now prove whether or not the new unfrustrated years of education from Grades I to XIII, without tears, examinations or affront to the youthful ego, have achieved psychological health at the expense of basic knowledge. For the present I am willing to suspend judgment. Certainly the textbooks in English and Latin are now superior to those of my boyhood and I believe that today's teachers have received more specialized pedagogical training. The learning process can, for most, be more effective if there is a strong incentive of personal interest. Yet there are fundamentals in each subject that cannot be acquired without toil and our unregenerate human nature is all too often unwilling to work except under disciplinary compulsion. We still get many excellent students from the secondary schools. Whether we are getting a much higher proportion of ill-disciplined minds is today's sixty-four dollar question.

In the meantime I would pay tribute to the beautifully appointed school of today and to an attendance, diversified in course and interest, that has more than doubled in the past forty years. The county, the town and the staff are to be sincerely congratulated.

Yet it is inevitable that I, who belong to the past, should turn to the past and call up a few of the personalities in a long tradition of students and teachers.

In some respects the most famous graduate of the Lindsay Grammar School has been Ernest Seton Thompson, the author of Wild Animals I Have Known and a score of other thrilling volumes. At the time that he was a schoolboy here, his home was near Farell's Corners, east of Lindsay, and his first nature study was carried on in the "Long Swamp" in that area He later became naturalist to the Manitoba government with authorship as a side-line.

The old school has also given two famous surgeons to the United States. Alexander Ferguson (1853-1911) founded the Manitoba Medical College and later became professor of clinical surgery in Illinois State University, president of the Chicago Medical Society and surgeon-in-chief of the Chicago General Hospital. He was pronounced by the American Journal of Surgery to be "the cleverest surgeon on the western continent." Of comparable rank was Robert Curts (1871-1916), first president of the Surgical Society of New Jersey and a fellow and governor of the American College of Surgeons.

The brilliant son of a gifted father was Edward J. Kylie, who won a classical scholarship at the University of Toronto in 1897, won gold medals there, on graduation, in Classics and General Proficiency, and proceeded to Balliol College, Oxford, on a two-year Flavelle Travelling Scholarship. The outbreak of World War I found him Associate Professor of History at the University. His death from typhoid and pneumonia in 1916 while adjutant of the 147th Battalion, C.E.F., removed at the age of thirty-five one of Canada's most distinguished and promising younger scholars.

Also trained at the Lindsay Grammar School were the McLaughlin brothers, of Cameron, in Fenelon township—"R. J.", the corporation lawyer, whose law course at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, registered the highest marks ever recorded there in each of the three years of his course, and "John F.", gold medalist in philosophy and in divinity, who after postgraduate studies at Oxford and Leipzig became professor of oriental languages and dean of the Faculty of Theology at Victoria University. Of the same vintake was Frederick J. Smales (1871-1908), a younger brother of Newton Smale), who took a brilliant course at the University of Toronto and a Ph.D. in chemistry at Leipzig, was appointed to the Toronto staff, and was assistant general manager of the William Davies Company when he died untimely at the age of thirty-seven. Passing at once from the L. C. I. into administrative work were James Kerr McNeillie and Ralph Gardiner McNeillie (sons of J. R. McNeillie), who reached very high executive rank in the transportation field—the former as general superintendent of the C. N. R. and the latter as general passenger agent of the C.P.R. Trained in all but his final L.C.I. year at Oakwood is George Hardy, the 1913 winner of the First Edward Blake Scholarship in Classics and Mathematics at the University of Toronto and now professor of Classics at the University of Alberta. George's Ph.D. thesis was based on his archaelogical researches on the island of Crete but he is also known as the author of several historical novels and as a past president of the Canadian Author's Association.

Mention of Oakwod reminds one that tribute should be paid to the output of secondary schools in Victoria County elsewhere than in Lindsay. Thus Oakwood had a very distinguished Grammar School from 1859 to 1888, which turned out such citizens as Dr. Thomas Wylie, M.P.P., George Thomas, Dr. Broad, Dr. Whiteside, J. L. Whiteside, H. J. Lytle, Judge D. J. McIntyre, Rev. Thomas Brown, Rev. J. Hubbell, Rev. C. V. Lake, Rev. Isaac Weldon, Rev. S. J. Cunnings, Donald Anderson, Frederick Shaver, and many others.

An Omemee Grammar School began in 1858, only four years after the one in Lindsay, and still survives as a high school today. Its most famous graduate has been "McKay of Formosa", one of the most noted of Christian missionaries to the Far East. Another Omemee graduate was William Albert Sherwood (1855-1919), the prominent Canadian artist, an associate of the Royal Canadian Academy and a member of the Ontario Society of Artists.

In our celebration of the achievements of students from the Lindsay Grammar School, High School and Collegiate Institute, moreover, we must not forget the work quietly carried on since 1856 in the Separate School at the corner of Lindsay and Russell streets, for here two archbishops of the Roman Church received their early training. These were Fergus Patrick McEvay, born in Downeyville in 1852, who became archbishop of Toronto, and Michael Spratt, born in Lindsay in 1854, who became archbishop of Kingston.

For me to attempt a characterization of the teachers of an entire century would be rash and effectual. I was a student here for only five of those hundred years and after 1913 my associations with the staff was brief and intermittent. Nevertheless some sort of tribute seems called for, fragmentary though it must be.

Principal J. C. Harstone, who retired in 1908, I never met and knew only through the frequent tributes paid to him by my father as a fine classical scholar and a rare gentleman, commanding the affection and respect of all who knew him.

Of the staff at that earlier era, I have known only Dr. E. A. Hardy, Inspector W. H. Stevens, and J. S. McLean. Dr. Hardy was the organizer of the Twenty Club, a group still happily strong and flourishing today. I knew him as a man of boundless enthusiasm, wide knowledge, and incomparable organizing ability—national secretary of the Canadian Authors' Association, national treasurer of the World Federation of Secondary School Teachers' Associations, a man who on his retirement from Jarvis Street Collegiate in Toronto ran for the Toronto School Board and became its very effective chairman. Inspector Stevens, earlier the science master at the L. C. I., was a precise oracle on all matters of scientific fact and theory. In his Colborne Street home, I remember him as a lean, desiccated replica of Immanuel Kant. As for Stanley McLean, unhappily taken from us by death only six weeks ago, it is easiest to think of him as a Port Hope pupil of my father or as an indefatigable executive in the meat-packing business who until the age of seventy was always at his desk every week day at seven a.m. It is hard to realize that he too had a youthful period on the staff of the L.C.I., in the course of which he wooed and won a charming Lindsay girl as his bride. When I chatted with him at Sturgeon Point last July, I little thought that we should never meet again.

The science master in 1908 was Howard Rosevear, a tall, dark, handsome and splendidly proportioned man, with a hair-trigger temper. He did not suffer fools gladly and was known to knock down the huskiest cadet on parade if there were slightest hint of nonsense. On the other hand he had taken postgraduate work in biology at Cornell University and warmed at once to any student who showed any sign of becoming a field naturalist. A few years later his successor was Thomas Firth, a tall, fair-haired teacher whose mental chemistry was acidulous rather than explosive. He, too, was an exceedingly able scientist. Both men became high school principals elsewhere—Rosevear at Kenora and Firth at Sudbury.

The most dynamic classics teacher of my experience was R. A. Croskery, who was with us for only the fall term of 1909-10 and who presently became registrar of the provincial Department of Education. "To the boards!" he would roar as he entered the classroom, and he had us all on the run for the entire period. Very effective likewise was Everton Miller, who succeeded him. Miller did not keep us under the same relentless and exciting pressure, but he knew his Latin and taught with systematic thoroughness. In utter contrast was Charlie Owens, with whom I took my Upper School Greek. Owens had not the slightest idea of discipline. The cadet corps under his misdirection climbed woodpiles and vanished through hedges and over fences. And yet somehow his enthusiasm for Homer and Xenophon was contagious for his tiny group of Grecians and we gained through sheer interest what we lost in slipshod teaching. The chief classics teacher of the generation just following mme was Arthur Hooper, a Lindsay man who ultimately became chief inspector of secondary schools for Ontario. I never heard him teach, but if he was as formidable in the classroom as I found him on the tennis court, he must have been superb.

English and History were taught by Edwin William Jennings, later to become public school inspector for West Victoria. Jennings believed in settling Hotl's business, in making sure that we used dictionaries to hunt up every word, that spelling and pronunciation and grammar were faultless. If at times all this seemed fussy and tedious, we realized in later years that it was an invaluable discipline for verbally untidy youngsters. In history, moreover, he taught us to master a book, paragraph by paragraph and chapter by chapter. "To look over a book," he would say, "is to overlook it"; and we were called on to summarize and digest until the volume was our intellectual possession. The one ingredient that he lacked, namely inspiration, was supplied by his young assistant, Gordon Manning, who lit a fire for us in Shakespeare and Browning and roused an unquenchable thirst for wider poetic horizons. Although he came fifteen years later, Bert Diltz seems to have stood in the same tradition, for his several books on the teaching of English are trumpet calls to imaginative adventure and spiritual insight. Although I never took commercial classes, I should like to pay tribute to my old friend G. A. ("Shorty") Lucas, for nearly forty years the good-natured and cheerful head of the Commercial department. We still miss him.

One striking feature of the L.C.I. staff has been the number of men who have passed apprenticeship here to principalships in other Ontario schools. Mention has been made of Howard Rosevear at Kenora and Thomas Firth of Sudbury. To this roster one may add Everton Miller, long principal of Central Collegiate Institute at London, Ontario; Albert O'Neill, head of the Oshawa Collegiate Institute; Alfred "Spike" Johnston at Woodstock; and Leonard Wheelton at Windsor.

And what of the second hundred years, on which the school is now bravely setting forth?

At times, as an incorrigible lover of the past, I have my misgivings about the new uninhibited freedom of the young to which so many contemporary psychologists are devoted. I have already hinted at my doubts. Perhaps the "Little Willie" poems of some decades back may serve as symbols of the new pedagogy in its most fatal form:

Willie split the baby's head
To see if brains were grey or red.
Mother, troubled, said to father,
"Children are an awful bother!"

Little Will, with father's gun,
Punctured grandma just for fun.
Mother frowned at the merry lad:
It was the last shell father had.

Willie poisoned his father's tea;
Father died in agony.
Mother came, and looked quite vexed:
"Really, Will," she said, "what next?"

Willie saw some dynamite,
Couldn't understand it quite.
Curiosity never pays;
It rained Willie seven days.

The last line is ominously suggestive of the possible fate of us all in an atomic age where science has outrun human character and where the Communist conspiracy may bring on last black chapter for the human race.

I have faith, however, that we shall survive in freedom and that this fine community will continue for further centuries to beget and educate our successive generations of fine boys and girls for useful citizenship. We are proud of this school's past. Its record is a notable one. It is fitting that we should pause to commemorate it here. But we shall be worthy of this occasion only as we resolve to press on in the great tradition of our forefathers and assure future generations of a school that is great and good. So may it be!

A Thrilling New Murder Adventure . .

XXXV

Basil Willing continued his story as his wife Gisela listened intently. "The moment Dr. Zimmer knew Katherine Shaw suspected him and had employed Detective Jack Duggan to investigate him, it became necessary to kill both before either could confide in me—a member of the District Attorney's staff.

"Zimmer had long realized that an emergency like this might arise when an unpremeditated killing would be necessary because someone was suddenly suspicious. So he had Otto watch for a pre-arranged signal which meant: 'Offer a poisoned glass to the person I am talking to now and forget other plans.' "

"But there was no act or gesture Zimmer performed each time he was talking to one of his victims," protested Gisela. "He never did the same thing twice!"

Again Basil smiled. "It's a very simple signal that I should have spotted sooner—an old conjuror's trick often used in fake mind-reading acts And it's based on the mind's failure to think abstractly in everyday life. Zimmer picked up Miss Shaw's walking stick by its ivory handle, then shifted his grip to its ebony shaft as he presented the handle to Miss Shaw and spoke to her. Zimmer straightened his gardenia and adjusted his lapel when he spoke to Duggan. Zimmer laid his hand on the white marble mantle mantelpiece and picked up the poker when he spoke to Stephen Lawrence. Zimmer played on the piano, D and D sharp when he spoke to Isolda Canning.

"If you abstract the idea of color from all these particulars, you realize that he did the same thing four times—he touched something white and then something black while he was talking to a person who died or nearly died afterward.

* * *

"The older I get, the more amazed I am at the way nature imitates the fantasies of fiction," went on Basil. "There's an old story of Dickens . . ."

"I know," Gisela interrupted. "After you left me this afternoon, I read Mrs. Lirriper's Legacy, too:

> "To give dinners was a part of Dr. Bertrand's business. In certain circles those dinners were highly celebrated, but they were always talked about under the rose. It was whispered that their splendor was fabulous, that the dishes and the wines reached a point of perfection absolutely unknown elsewhere . . . and it was said moreover that Dr. Bertrand . . . was a mighty and experienced chemist and that it was an understood thing that Dr. Bertrand's guests . . . had no desire to survive the night which succeeded the acceptance of his graceful hospitality."

"Dr. Zimmer was more ambitious than his fictional predecessor. Dr. Bertrand sold suicide. Dr. Zimmer went a step farther and speculated in murder," Basil added.

"When I realized that two of the three victims in this case—Katherine Shaw and Stephen Lawrence—both suffered from painful, incurable diseases, I thought of mercy-killing as a possible motive. It was the only motive that fitted Perdita's character. She had said: 'I couldn't give him poison myself.' Was Perdita allowing some one else to do her mercy-killing for her? And was Miss Shaw poisoned by the same person for a similar reason?

"Zimmer happens to be a German doctor, possibly more sympathetic to the Nazis than he ever admitted and had seen the extermination camps where the various Nazis carried out the ancient, eugenic fallacy of slaughtering the unwanted on a mass-production scale. This doctor has had to start all over again in a foreign city and so needs a short-cut to fortune.

"He decides to sell extermination at a high price to anyone who wanted to get rid of anyone else for whatever reason —the aged rich, whose heirs are growing impatient, like Katherine Shaw; husbands and wives who are incompatible and can't agree on divorce, like the Cannings and the Yorkes. Our doctor would confine his victims to people who are already taking some potential poison in medicinal doses. The aged and the invalid are certain to use sedatives. The unhappily married, living in a state of nervous tension, will be insomniacs with access to sleeping tablets or alcoholics taking drugs for hangovers. He poisons each victim with the victim's own drug."

"How did he find enough—customers without giving his secret away?" asked Gisela.

'As a practicing psychiatrist he must have had access to the inmost secrets in the minds of many patients. Secret desire for another person's death is a common place of psychiatry. Unlike a true healer, he would not try to cauterize homicidal impulses in his patients. He could deliberately cultivate those impulses and teach the patient to rationalize them. Then, when the patient's mind was ripe for suggestion, Zimmer would explain how murder could be done—at a price.

'At this point, I began to wonder is the actual poisoning took place at Zimmer's weekly dinners for his patients and their families. Half the guests had strong motives for wishing someone else dead. The other half were all potential victims except Charlotte Dean— the one innocent bystander who was only there because the blind Miss Shaw needed her attendant. When Charlotte Dean gave her account of the first dinner after Duggan's death, she told us a curious thing. Two of the guests started to say something and then broke off confused and stammering in the middle of a sentence— Rosamund Yorke and Hubert Canning. Each of those broken sentences Miss Dean reported was a remark about the future concerning a pair I had already thought of as potential murderer and potential victim. Of course I had no idea then that Isolda anticipated Canning's death—that each of the Cannings employed Zimmer to kill the other without either suspecting."

Hurricane Hazel's trip through Lindsay left things in quite a mess and caused considerable anxiety during its flying visit. Here are some of the scenes which were viewed by townspeople after the storm passed. Extreme left, a heavily-laden hydro transformer pole was toppled onto the residence of Wm. French, William St. N. and sent a cross arm on the pole plunging into the roof. Mr. French's young son, Jimmie aged 14, had just left the room before the cross arm made its entrance. Second picture from the left shows a hydro employee's car after it had been extricated from under a fallen hydro pole on William St. N. The car—owned by Earl Moynes—was smashed as he drove up William Street on his way to the north end substation. The hood of the car was lying several feet up the street next morning. Picture three from left shows Norm Kay's Glenelg Street home after a huge tree had been toppled on it causing considerable damage to the upper rear section. A ladder had just been erected to start removal of the offending tree. Picture four from left shows another huge tree on the property of Mr. George Beall, Albert Street S., which fell before the onslaught of the powerful winds. No one was injured in Lindsay as a result of the storm.

L.C.I. Student Hurt In Game

A fifteen-year-old L. C. I. Grade XII student was injured in a rugby game on the home campus last week.

The field was slippery and muddy when the Hurricane Hazel was first working up its fury on Friday afternoon. Paul Breese, while in the ordinary course of the game was tackling a member of the team from Peterboro, when he fell on the wet ground, fracturing his left shoulder.

He is still confined to the Ross Memorial Hospital, where he is as comfortable as possible while the shoulder is mending following a pinning and plating treatment.

Lively Moments

Things are reported to have been quite lively at the Tuesday night meeting of Lindsay's Hydro System. The meeting, according to well informed sources, got out of hand a bit when one member of the commission levelled a blast at a member of the staff and another commissioner,. The commissioner who was the recipient of the blast is reported to have left the meeting but returned later when an apology was forthcoming from the commissioner who made the offending allegation.

The much disputed one mill, which the Victoria County High School Area Board contends the Town of Lindsay owes them, came before Justice Ferguson of the Supreme Court of Ontario at the fall assizes which opened here Monday afternoon.

The case commenced late Monday afternoon and continued through most of yesterday with the judgment being reserved by his Lordship. Mr. T. J. Carley of Peterborough acted for the Victoria County High School Board and Mr. A. M. Fulton, Solicitor, acted for the defendant, the Town of Lindsay.

Witnesses for the plaintiff were County Clerk F. L. Weldon, and Mr. Stanley Dix, Secretary of the High School Area Board. Mayor A. E. Hick, Reeve Richard Butler and Town Clerk W. R. Allely were called to give evidence on behalf of the Town.

Most of the evidence given by the above was to prove the documents entered as exhibits.

Both solicitors contended there was no dispute as to the facts of the case or on the formation of the High School Area Board. The main argument revolved around the motion passed by the Lindsay Town Council on May 17th, 1950 which reads as follows: "Moved by Mr. Cote, Seconded by Mr. Puffer., that the Town of Lindsay enter an enlarged school area as outlined by Mr. Forman, comprising the Town of Lindsay, the Townships of Mariposa and Ops and parts of the Townships of Fenelon and Verulam and is prepared to assume as an additional cost for the Town of Lindsay of a sum equal to one mill on the equalized county assessment. Carried."

The above motion was passed by the Lindsay Council at a meeting attended by Mr. Jasper Forman, who was active in the formation of the High School Area. He informed the Council that Ops Township refused to come into the area unless Lindsay contributed an additional mill in excess of their equalized assessment.

The Lindsay Council passed the motion in 1950, the first payment was made in 1951 after the High School Area came into existence on January 1st of that year. It was paid again by the 1952 Council. Evidence produced showed the 1951 High School demand had a note attached regarding the one mill, but the 1952 demand failed to show it plainly. In the early part of 1953, the Lindsay Council passed a motion to withdraw the mill for 1953 based on the large increase in the size of the area over that originally agreed to in the motion of 1950, and the excessive cost of transportation for pupils. This motion was communicated to the High School Area Board by letter.

The Board disputed the right of the Council to withdraw the one mill and looked upon the action of the town as a breach of faith. The Town in 1953 paid its full equalized share to the High School Area Board and the portion of the one mill that it would assume under the equalized system.

Mr. J. Stanley Dix, Secretary of the High School Area Board, was questioned at some length by Mr. Fulton relative to the increase in costs of operating the School Area since its formation in 1951.

Mr. Dix admitted that the northern Townships coming into the School Area affected the costs of transportation considerably.

Mr. Fulton in his argument before Justice Ferguson contended that the motion of 1950 was not binding on future Councils of the Town. He cited sections of the Municipal Act which stated that acts of Council shall be carried out through the passing of by-laws. He stated that no by-law was passed in this case. He referred to cases that had gone before other Courts in which Councils were not bound when the act was done by motion.

The Victoria County High School Solicitor, Mr. T. J. Carley, referred to sections 49 and 50 of the High Schools Act of Ontario. He contended that the Act permitted a municipality by agreement with the other municipalities to assume more than its equalized share of the costs of operating a High School Area. He contended also that the Council of Lindsay by paying this one mill in 1952 and 1953 committed themselves to an agreement. Mr. Justice Ferguson questioned Mr. Carley very carefully on these points.

The argument at times was very involved and related to the interpretation of Sections 49 and 50 of the High Schools Act, which both Counsel stated were not too clear.

The solicitor for the Area High School Board contended that the Town should have applied for arbitration under section 50 of the Act, when they desired to withdraw

Will Present Audubon Picture Here

The Lindsay Audubon Society have announced that they are sponsoring a series of three screen tours this coming season bringing some of North America's best-known wildlife photographers and lecturers here, the first one, "Springtime In Parrotland" to be on Friday afteroon next. This lecture and moving pictures will be given by Mr. Ernest P. Edwards, and depicts in beautiful color photography the birds and other wild life of Mexico.

Presentation of Audubon Screen Tours is limited to 200 cities in the United States and Canada and a spokesman for the local group says Lindsay is most fortunate to be one ofthese cities, which is only made possible by the active energy of the Lindsay Audubon Society.

The National Audubon Society, which originated the Screen Tours some 12 years ago, is one of the best known conservation organizations in the world. Nearly ten million boys and girls have been enrolled in Audubon Junior Clubs where they learn to appreciate the out-of-doors. Audubon wardens patrol more than one million acres of land and water for the protection of great concentrations of nesting and roosting birds.

Information concerning membership in the Lindsay Audubon Society, which will entitle interested people to free admission to the season's three lectures, may be had from the president, Mrs. Geo. Beall, 9 Albert St. S. or from Mr. Ed. Tangney at Tangney's Furniture Store, Kent St., Lindsay.

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —It is estimated that over 900 citizens availed themselves of the opportunity for X-ray at the T.B. Mobile Clinic, in spite of the extremely wet stormy weather. For the convenience of the students and staff of the High School, the unit was set up there and also at Allenwoods for the employees. Other citizens were X-Rayed at the United Church Sunday School Room.

Members of the W. I. made a complete canvas of the town to distribute cards and Mrs. Scott, Mrs McGee, Mrs. Thomson, Mrs. Mallion, Miss Elva Maybee and Miss Viola McIntosh assisted with cards and registration at the church during the afternoon and evening.

Former Lindsay RMH Nurse Chosen "Woman of the Week"

A former Lindsay nurse has been chosen "Woman of the Week" by the Port Hope Business and Professional Women's Club. Here is the story (story and photo courtesy of the Port Hope Guide):

Port Hope —Emergencies still flooded into Port Hope General Hospital yesterday as ambulances brought in the injured from a week-end record of accidents. The capacity of staff and equipment faced up to the challenge. Routine efficiency tabulated the injured, forwarded messages to relatives and despatched patients to other centres for further treatment.

Directing the work of the hospital is a slight young woman who has been chosen as the "Business Woman of the Week" in Port Hope by the Business and Professional Women's Club of this town. Miss Gladys Lehigh, superintendent, was this year's choice for her contribution to the theme of "Adventure in Achievement."

"Glad", as she is known to her friends, has maintained the prestige of her nursing profession by selfless devotion to duty and great love for the work. As superintendent of the hospital, she has shouldered the responsibility of discipline and maintenance without losing the understanding touch.

There is hard back-breaking work to becoming a nurse. Miss Lehigh, daughter of Mrs. Lehigh and the late Rev. M. S. Lehigh of Picton, After graduation from High School, she took her training period in the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, and followed this up by affiliation with the Hospital for Sick Children and the Toronto General Hospital.

Miss Lehigh went back to Ross Memorial as operating room supervisor. She was promoted to assistant superintendent and held the position for six years.

In the winter of 1948 Miss Lehigh brought this excellent background of experience to the Port Hope hospital and remained a night supervisor until Febrauary 1953. She succeeded Miss Margaret Kellough as superintendent that year.

There is nothing one-sided in the superintendent's character. She is popular with her sister nurses and was made chairman of Chapter B. District 6 of the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario. She is also the membership convener of this district.

Hospital starch comes off with Glad's uniform. There is plenty of fun behind the blue eyes and her friends know her as a warm person with absorbing interest in the business of living. She is an active member of the Y.W.C.A. and the Port Hope Business and Professional Women's Club.

Community Chest Makes $1,000 Hurricane Gift

The Lindsay Community Chest has voted $1,000 to the Hurricane Relief Fund. This was announced last night and visually recorded on television by CBLT. Mr. Jasper Forman, campaign manager at Lindsay, said this morning the decision was reached at an emergency meeting of fund executives last night called by President Harold Pollock.

The campaign manager said he hoped the people of Lindsay would be reminded of the pressing needs of the Community Chest in meeting just such unexpected demands in addition to its regular committments and would continue to loyally support it. Mr. Forman noted that the hurricane relief cause in no way detracted from the need of organizations participating in the Community Chest and that these participating groups might in turn need more assistance themselves because of the extra demands likely to be made upon them by this major disaster.

60-40 Split . . . . Audited Statement

Muskies, Arena Committee Break Deadlock, Make Deal

An agreement has been reached between the Lindsay Arena Committee and the Mskie Hockey Hockey Team. This was announced in several quarters this morning but the first official comment on the deal came from Team Manager M. J. Cunningham. He told "The Post" that a 60-40 agreement had been reached between the two negotiating parties.

Last week when a letter appeared from the Muskie team and was followed by one from Mayor A. E. Hick, the problem which was causing the deadlock was reported to be that of percentage splits on net hockey gates. The Muskies reportedly wanted, among other things, a 60-40 deal and the committee was reluctant to give it to them. However, after negotiations were resumed Tuesday night an agreement was worked out to the satisfaction of the team.

Attending last night's meeting were Mayor Hick, all members of the Arena committee and all Muskie executive members, plus the arena manager, John Lamb.

Under the terms of the new deal the team will get the same expenses as last year, plus a 60-40 split on the net gate receipts after arena expenses have been deducted, which include O. H. A. play off percentage, etc. This in a nutshell is the agreement, according to Mr. Cunningham.

The team manager also says there was discussion relative to sale of tickets, preferred seat options, etc., but that a detailed announcement regarding this will be made later.

It is reliably learned that the arrangement last year called for a 50-50 split on the net gate receipts but that if the gate exceeded $400 in any one game the team received 70 per cent of anything over that amount.

Another report on the matter from a usually well-informed source says the committee is insisting that the team supply it with an audited financial statement at the end of each season.

No $29,000 Due The Town From Hydro

There is no $29,000 rebate coming to the Town of Lindsay from the Lindsay Hydro System as was reported in this paper on Tuesday. The only credit note being arranged for the town by hydro is one for $2,447.27. The $29,000 figure was reported erroneously due to a confusing discussion on the subject which took place in a meeting of Lindsay's Council on Monday night.

At the Monday night meeting a letter was read from the Lindsay Hydro System in which it was stated that the town's account with the system was being credited with a total of $2,447.27. The credit note was broken down as follows: Sur-

Recalls When Tight Rope Walker Fell To His Death In Lindsay

Fenelon Falls,
October 19, 1954.

To the Lindsay Post,
Lindsay, Ontario
Dear Sirs-

I wish to thank you for your splendid coverage of Dr. Kirkconnell's speech at the recent 100th Anniversary celebration of secondary education held at the L.C.I.. I am sending it to my son at Kitchener who also attended L.C.I. in 1929.

I would also like to contribute a little item of interest historically: In 1874 the Orange celebration was held in Lindsay on July 13th, (Monday). A very large crowd attended and one item of entertainment was a man walking a tight rope strung from the McConnel Hotel (which still stands) to the opposite side, but when he reached the centre he fell off and was killed instantly. I think his name was "Crouk" but I am not sure of that. He had done the same stunt on Saturday before without mishap.

We are very much interested in the early history of Lindsay and enjoy your writing of it.

Yours truly,
—(Mrs. W. B.) Eva Jordan.

Woodmen Reorganize In District Recall Charter Night In Lindsay

The Canadian Woodmen of the World with Sovereign Camp at London, Ontario, are now in the process of reorganization. This was announced here today by Mr. J. Cal. Braun. The Society was first organized in Lindsay in 1901 when the local Camp received its Charter, at that time the initiatory degree was conferred on a class of candidates in what was then called the Big Twenty Restaurant which was operated by Mr. Fred Martin, who has since died. Some of the original members are Messrs. Alex. Fulton, T. H. Stinson, C. H. Dayman, Sam Howe, W. R. Melville, J. H. Wileman, J. W. Deyell, J. E. Weldon, Toronto, K. G. Gusafson, Lachine, Que., K. B. Chord, Toronto, David Olson, Fort William and J. McConnell.

Mr. Howe is one of the pioneers of the Order. His parents were among the original settlers of Lindsay, and his memory of pioneer days here is most interesting.

A special reunion night is planed by the Order for the pioneer members of the Society, who did so much to establish the principles of Woodcraft in Lindsay.

J. Cal Braun, District Deputy Consul Commander of Oshawa, is in charge of the Lindsay district, and the district now includes Whitby, Oshawa, Bowmanville and Pontypool.

COUNTY TO TAKE BRUNT OF THE COST

Lindsay is planning a three-storey addition to its antique Ross Memorial Hospital. No one can pretend that renovation and extension of that hospital was not needed. The present fabric and fittings are becoming as historic as English charity hospitals of the Middle Ages. We are interested—in view of Peterborough's experience with hospital building and financing—in the plans for getting the $1,600,000 needed.

The planning committee for the Lindsay hospital apportions the cost this way: Government grants $335,000, Lindsay contribution (by issuing debentures) $350,000, County of Victoria (by issue of debentures) $700,000, and the rest ($215,000) to be raised by private subscription. We have a passing interest in the expectation to raise $215,000 by donations and the like from the public—a large sum even for the well-heeled, generous Lindsay and Victoria County people. But what hits the eye particularly is that the County Council of Victoria is expected to pay twice as much as the Lindsay Council. Lindsay is asked to provide by debentures only $350,000; the County is expected to grant $700,000.

How much different this is from the way the County of Peterborough contributed to Peterborough's three-and-a-half million dollar new hospital. Citizens of Peterborough, through debentures and other city money and funds, provided about three million dollars for the new Civic Hospital. The County of Peterborough made a contribution of 150 thousand dollars only. Yet the hospital is as readily available to County residents as it is to City people, and the hospital is as much a County of Peterborough hospital as the Ross Memorial in Lindsay is a County of Victoria hospital.

We mention this matter of the comparative sizes of Peterborough city and county contributions—a mat-ter that has never ceased to irk city taxpayers—in view of the recent flurry of argument between township and city officials because the township was asked to pay a relatively small annual fee for city fire protection service on a fringe of the township near the city. The offer made by the city—now withdrawn—was to provide the service for $2,500 a year (with an additional charge of $50 for each fire attended). We remark that the total cost of operating the city fire department is now nearing $200,000 a year. —Peterborough Examiner.

More Storm Damage Reports Come In From District

FROM LITTLE BRITAIN

This community was visited by one of the worst rain and windstorms in many years on Friday evening, which caused considerable damage. Quite a number of large trees in the village were broken off and many televisions and aerials were effected. Telephone and Hydro lines were put out of commission. It is also reported that the wind played havoc and destroyed many of the roofs on barns and houses in the community.

FROM OMEMEE

Friday night's hurricane brought but a mild taste, caused considerable damage in the town. It is learned that a cottage at Evans' Tourist Camp was unroofed, as well as a large barn on Eugene Switzer's farm. A large tree fell across Walter Fox's Garage. A large evergreen fell across No. 7 Highway at Ralph James' home, but the major cause of the power failure of the 44,000-volt line to Lindsay was a tree across the line at Fife's Bay, east of here.

Omemee was plunged into darkness at 11.30 and few homes had any emergency lighting except candles but the odd coal oil lamp came out from storage. The streets were littered with broken limbs from trees, and the night shift at the Regal plant was not able to complete their shift. However, Omemee is very fortunate compared with other places.

FROM DUNSFORD

Hurricane Hazel hit Ontario with such violence as to leave death and destruction pretty general. Dunsford is fortunate to be able to report the area's damage was of a minor nature. Hydro and telephone lines were out of commission for a few days and several roofs and barn doors were ripped off, and many fences and trees were laid low.

Much Business Discussed At Hospital Meeting

Haliburton (PNS) —The regular meeting of the Red Cross Outpost Hospital, was held in the committee rooms with 13 members present. Mr. James Cooper president, was in the chair, and after the minutes were read, the financial report was read and considerable business was dealt with.

The painting inside and out of the hospital is almost completed and the roof is now under repair and a paint job will make the hospital in good shape for a number of years. Kaye Enterprizes did a splendid job at the painting and they also did repairs needed to many corners, cupboards and eavetroughs.

The wheel chair purchased for the hospital from Mrs. Brant Sisson of Eagle Lake has been delivered and will come in hand for patients. The stretcher will be repaired by some of the men on the committee, it was moved and seconded that a letter of thanks be sent to Stratford for a toaster and a hote plate that was sent by the Stratford Branch of the Red Cross. Mr. Kenneh Sisson sent in $5.00 as a donation. Mr. Sisson appreciated the loan of a hospital bed from the loan cupboard.

Mrs. Fred Jones gave a report on nutrition and she was given $25.00 by the Red Cross to add to $25.00 given by the Home and School for capsules for underprivileged children or any children needing them. The capsules will be purchased locally.

Rev. Mr. Rutherford spoke in glowing terms of Miss Proudlock and on behalf of committee thanked her for valuable assistance to the committee while here. The committee are sorry to hear she is leaving.

The lawn at the nurses residence has come along wonderfully well and Mr. Borden has seen that the weeds were kept out. The heating system was again talked over and a report will soon be ready. A special meeting will be likely called as soon as the committee has a report on prices.

The nurses' report fo rthe month of September showed more patients, births, hospital days and out-patients than the previous month. There was no report on the sewing this month. Mrs. Alvin Kaye, and Mrs. E. Austin looked after the refreshments, assisted by Miss Proudlock.

Dry Wash Day

The weatherman fooled us Monday for it came over the radio that we'd have showers near noon and there was no rain all day. Those who didn't hear the broadcast went ahead and washed, with fine results. It was an ideal day for washing! And we might say it was one of few we've had this summer.

Children's Matinee

The kiddies came in droves to see the matinee and they were jamming the front of the theatre and seemed to like the idea of going to a show of this kind. All were dressed in their Sunday best and it must have been quite a treat for them to be on their own.

Streams on Rampage

It's fun to drive to the different streams in the district and watch the water flowing swiftly and more than often you see flooded areas that would make you glad you didn't have to wade across. The streams are two and three times wider than before "the rains" and they are working overtime trying to get rid of the excess water. It may take another week before the streams get back to their normal level.

Unusual

The water at Fenelon Falls has been running over the raceway to the Fenelon Falls part of the plant. This is most unusual and the Falls are like they are in the spring. It will take some days before they will get the lakes to their normal level. One would think it was spring to see so much water.

Fall Bouquets

We're still salvaging some flowers from our garden and one very lovely marigold finally unfolded to add its bit of yellow to the bouquet. 'Mums are at their best right now and if you have some that are in bud they will soon come out if brought into the house. There are still Petunias blooming but that frost nearly ruined everything. Most of us feel at this time of the year we like to bring them into the house when we can't enjoy them outdoors.

Need Rubber Boots

One chap judged the water was up about three to four feet on the east side of Sturgeon and there was quite a swish to it. Land near the lake was flooded so that one needed rubber boots to walk there.

90th Anniversary Of Fenelon Falls St. Andrew's

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —The 90th Anniversary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Thanksgiving Sunday. In spite of very inclement weather both services were well-attended.

Dr. R. Stewart of Toronto and Sturgeon Point was the guest preacher for the special occasion, and at the morning service Dr. Stewart, baptized Jean Christine, Jackson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Walter Jackson and Scott Eliott Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moore.

The music for the day was under the capable direction of Mrs. Langman and at the evening service two anthems, "Bless The Lord O My Soul" and "There'll be Sunlight in the Valley" were rendered by the combined choirs of Knox Church, Glenarm and St. Andrew's Fenelon Falls. The High School Quartette, Messrs. Gayle Hanthorn, Marvin Lee, Norm Faulkner and Lee, also contributed several much-appreciated numbers.

Open Concert Season Here

In seven seasons before the public, the Philharmonic Piano Quartet, which appears here at the Academy Theatre next Monday night, has won top favor with the press and public of the United States and Canada from coast to coast. This all-American group of brilliant, attractive artists, each a piano virtuoso in his or her own right, has captivated the country. In especially prepared, colorfully varied programs heir forty fabulous fingers at four pianos range through a repertoire which includes classics and light music, arrangements of moderns and masters. The Philharmonic Piano Quartet consists of Ada Kopetz, Moreland Kortkamp, Emmett Vokes and Herbert Rodgers. The arrangements are made by composer Moritz Bomhard. All four pianists received their training in this country; all have given successful individual concerts and all studied at the Julliard School of Music. The foursome recorded two albums for Columbia Masterworks, one entitled "Music for Four Pianos" and the other "Popular Classics for Four Pianos". In the words of the New York Times, they are a "virtuoso ensemble". Another critic termed their programs "musical entertainment at its best." The quartet travels by car, and their four Baldwin pianos precede them for each concert via private truck.

Ladies Auxiliary Meets At Pontypool

Janetville (PNS) -- The October meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the local Presbyterian Church will be pleasantly remembered by the members as an outstanding event when they were royally entertained at the home of a former valued Janetville member, Mrs. Charles McNeil, who, with her husband is now making their home in Pontypool.

The president, Mrs. W. Wright, presided, and opened the meeting with Psalm 58 and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The Scripture lesson from St. Luke's Gospel, Chapter 8, verses 1-28 read alternately, was followed by the singing of a prayer hymn.

Mrs. Wright extended a hearty welcome to the visitors present, after which the birthday box was remembered. A number of bills were presented and these were voted to be paid. It was decided to hold an afternoon tea on the regular Auxiliary day in November. This event will be held in the village at the home of Mrs. David Tait.

Following readings entitled "Thy Neighbour's Coat" by Mrs. D. Tait and "Thanksyiving," by Mrs. E. Archer, Mrs. McNeil was given a seat of honour and was presented with a very beautiful necklace and earring set by Mrs. Archer while a suitable address was read by Mrs. Hildon Johnston. Mrs. McNeil replied and expressed her gratitude in a most gracious manner.

A piano instrumental by Mrs. McNeil was enjoyed and the singing of a hymn and the Mizpah Benediction brought a most enjoyable meeting to a close.

A "Foods" contest, conducted by Mrs. Johnston, was won by a guest, Mrs. M. Armstrong, a former Janetville resident, who received a small token.

The afternoon was climaxed by the serving of a delicious salad supper by Mrs. McNeil and her assistants, Mrs. Tait and Mr. Johnston. Mrs. M. Wright tendered a vote of thanks to Mrs. McNeil and her assistants for the delightful afternoon.

Two New Members Join Chapter

The meeting opened by Sr. Regent Ada Grozelle and prayers and ritual programme followed.

The gavel was turned over to the chairman of Mooseheart Committee, Bernice McFadden. She called on Junior Graduate Regent Lena Barnsley, who placed flowers on the altar in memoriam for James J. Davis and also read a paper "in dedication to this great man of Mooseheart."

Chairman of Moose Haven Helen Gordon presented them with a cheque to be sent along for Moose Haven fund. Two members were welcomed into the Chapter by the Co-Workers.

The fall conference of the College of Regents is to be held in St. Catharines. It was discussed and the Chapter decided to send a car and delegates along with the College of Regents Lena Barnsley who is one of the guest speakers and who will give a talk on her trip to Mooseheart.

The bazaar plans were discussed and co-workers were asked to get their bundles ready for the Rummage sale.

The meeting closed and a white elephant sale was conducted by the Commitee Chairman Bernice McFadden and her helpers. After a pleasant half hour was spent a delicious hot lunch was served. A hearty vote of thanks was given to all who made the evening a success.

Fenelon Falls Couple Are Wed Sixty Years

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —Mr. and Mrs. Walter Everson celebrated their Diamond Wedding Anniversary at their home on Francis St. E., Fenelon Falls. The bride and groom of 60 years ago were seated in chairs presented to them by their family on their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Their daughter, Mrs. Claytyon Martin (Vera) and Mrs. Ben Parker (Gwen) assisted in receiving the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Everson, (Louise Wilkinson) were married in Lindsay on October 17th, 1894 by Rev. S. J. Shosey. They farmed in Verulam township until about five years ago, when they retired, to reside in Fenelon Falls.

The tea table which carried out a white and silver color scheme, was centered with a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by silver candles in crystal holders, with floral decorations in pastel tones. During the afternoon and evening, tea was poured by Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Toronto and Mrs. Percy Hooper of Peterborough, nieces of the couple, Mrs. W. Sooter of Toronto and Mrs. Wm. Booth of Hammond, N.Y., sisters of the groom. Delicious refreshments were served by Miss Norma Everson, Mrs. Ivan English (Jean Everson), Mrs. Gerald Everson, Mrs. Leonard Everson, Mrs. Stanley Everson, Mrs. Howard Emerson, Mrs. Clayton Martin, Mrs. Ben Parker and Mrs. Fern Hayes.

Their family, Stanley of Peterborough; Mrs. Clayton Martin (Vera), of Fenelon Falls; Howard of Toronto; Mrs. Ben Parker (Gwen), of Toronto; Leonard of Fenelon Falls, and Miss Gertrude, at home were all present for the memorable occasion, and presented their parents with an electric refrigerator. Mr. and Mrs. Everson have 11 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren, all of whom were able to be present.

The happy couple, who both enjoy fairly good health, also received many other gifts which included crystal, china, linen, and a floor lamp as well as flowers and cards. The guest book was signed by over 60 guests among them being visitors from New York, Toronto, Peterborough, Lindsay and Fenelon Falls.

Mariposa Township Hunting Restricted To Residents

Mariposa Township has restricted hunting within its borders to resident sportsmen. The decision was reached at a recent Council meeting which heard from a deputation requesting that such a restrictive by-law be passed.

Following a controversy a few weeks ago in the district when protests were raised by residents concerning fox hound trials and related incidents, a deputation waited on the Mariposa Township requested the council to pass a by-law prohibiting non-resident hunters from hunting within the township, and also to declare an open season for deer hunting for township residents.

The motion restricting hunting to resident sportsmen was put and carried, after the council heard from the deputation, which consisted of Messrs. R. C. H. Jenkins, John Rich, John Anderson, Hugh Stroud, Lloyd Graham, Carl Hill, Christopher Dale, Lloyd West, George West, and Ivan West.

Forestry News

Yes—"Hazel" Called On Us

W. A. G. Thurston, District Forester observes in his weekly bulletin that the big topic of conversation across all of Southern Ontario is also quite prominent in conversations in the Lindsay District. Hurricane Hazel was here, but fortuntely damage was not high.

"A check is being made of forest protection fire towers to ascertain whether any damage was suffered by these towers. However, due to the inaccessibility of some of the towers it may be some time until it is known if any ill effects of the storm were felt.

The timber management staff is concerned over the possibility of there being extensive areas of "blowdown" in the timbered areas of the district. At present we have no reports of wide scale damage. Should there be large areas of timber damaged by the storm, it would necessitate the institution of salvage operations.

"The Chief Ranger at Minden reports a minor fire accident. On Friday night, about 11 p.m., a Hydro line fell to the ground and started a small bush fire. No damage was done and our rangers remained at the scene until Hydro crews turned the power off. The fire did not continue burning as everything was so wet.

"The Department telephone lines were severely damaged by falling trees. It will be some days before we get our telephone communications back in working order."

Hot Turkey Supper, Friday, October 29. St Paul's Parish Hall, Minden, Ontario. Supper 5.30 to 7.30. (3008H)

Shooting Match for geese at T. Craggs, 1½ mile south of Woodville Highway 46, Saturday, Oct 23 at 1 o'clock. Shot guns and rifles. (6442)

NOTICE OF COURT OF REVISION Court of Revision for the Township of Ops will be held at Clerk's Office Elsmure Lane, Lindsay, on November 1st, 1954, at 10.00 o'clock in the forenoon to decide appeals against the 1955 Assessment Roll, Elwood Smith, Clerk. (3005H)

plus on Water Board account of $529.20 and on the street lighting account of $1,918.07. The letter disclosed that these amounts were being credited to the corporation on future street lighting accounts.

While these amounts were being discussed one of the councillors called attention to the 13th Hydro Bill received by the Lindsay Hydro System and various figures up in the $20,000 range were being bandied about, with some of the councillors wondering what hydro was going to do with the surplus money.

In making clear the matter today, Lindsay Hydro Manager J. Lightbody told "The Post" the amount of the 13th hydro bill was about $22,000 and that the Commission had only two choices in the matter of using this money (a) return it to the consumer in the form of reduced rates or (b) use it for system improvements. It was current policy, he said, to use any surplus revenue to rehabilitate and improve services.

The Officers and members of Gothic Lodge No. 608 A. F. & A. M. and visiting brethren are requested to attend the Masonic Service at Mackey's Funeral Parlor on Thursday, Oct. 21st, at 8.30 p.m. for our late brother

Premier Opening Separate School Tuesday Next

Ontario's Premier Frost will officially open the new St. Mary's Separate School in Lindsay on Tuesday next. His Excellency Bishop B. I. Webster and a number of church dignitaries will be present for the opening ceremonies here.

Invitations have been mailed to the Mayor and council members of Lindsay, to various school boards County and H. & S. organizations, the Press, Principals of schools, supervising principal and all officials, to attend. The program for the opening night is in the process of being drafted by a committee set up at this week's Separate School Board meeting, and which includes Rt. Rev. J. V. McAuley, and Messrs. Ab. O'Neill and V. Cote.

Juniors Hold Their First Workout Here

The Lindsay Junior team held the first hockey practice of the 1954 - 55 season, coach Gerster putting about 15 fellows through a warm-up drill. He was assisted by Bill Parker the centre man of the Whiz line of the Muskies. Bill seemed to be in fine condition and skating in mid-season form.

Among the juniors that showed up were the Williams Bros., Jack and Bill and those two boys really can blaze that old puck. Connie O'Neill was in there skating. Pete Carveth looks as nice with skates on as he does playing ball.

Jack Graham's sleep shot was faster, he seems to have a little more weight, and Dan Pearson, seemed to have a little more poundage. He can carry it.

Bob Growden was in fine fettle with his shots picking corners, one after the other.

J. Growden has picked up more speed for that free, easy style of his, and Ted Campbell showed form that will make him a candidate for the first team. Spratt, of the midgets was there and he has grown a lot since last season. J. Sinclair, looking a lot like his big brother, Lean, was in there hustling. Stub Freeman was out there and he will make a lot of boys hustle. Geo. Kemp was in goal and making quite a few stops on very hard shots. Tom Hutton, of New Haven was in there, working on getting into top condition for a hard winter's hockey on the other side.

Among those missing were Kelly, of Cambray, a hard fast shooting wing man. Dawson, one of last year's good men and that heady, hard-hitting sharp shooter, Bill Burns.

Other boys from the district are expressing the wish to play, and team officials say they are all welcome to come and try out, if they want to play in Lindsay.

The next practice will be announced in this paper. Watch it for practice and game dates.

LINDSAY BOYS PUT "HAZEL" TO ROUTE ON TRIP TO PICTON FOR TRAINING

Meek - McFadyen Nuptials Held At Woodville

Pauline Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McFadyen, became the bride of Kenneth W. Meek, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Meek, Oshawa, in a ceremony in Knox Presbyterian Church, Woodville.

Rev. C. J. Beckley officiated. George Murray, Peterboro, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through the Years", with Mrs. W. Russell presiding at the organ. Pink gladioli decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-lenth gown of net over taffeta with a lace jacket. Her floor length veil was caught to a tiara of mother of pearl sequins. She carried a casquade of red roses and white poms.

Her attendants, Miss Eileen McFadyen, maid of honour, and bridesmaids, Marjorie McFadyen, Marjorie MacLenan, Joan Jeffs and Mrs. Stan Taylor, all looked charming in floor-length strapless gowns of heaven blue net over taffeta with blue lace over taffeta jackets and matching headdresses of blue net. They carried bouquets of pink roses and white 'mums.

Eldon McFadyen, the bride's brother, was groomsman, and the ushers were David Meek, the groom's brother, Jim Fallow, Rae McFadyen and Don Sheehey.

Receiving guests at the bride's home in Argyle, the bride's mother chose a dress of powder blue crepe and lace with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother assisted in a dress of gold brocaded taffeta with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

When leaving on their wedding trip to Sault Ste. Marie, Fort William and Detroit, the bride was wearing a pale blue gabardine suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The happy couple will reside in Peterboro.

The 33rd. Medium Regiment RCA's Lindsay unit attended another weekend training camp at the Picton School of Artillery. The 24 officers and men who departed Friday night were joined by an additional 12 who made the trip on Saturday for the over-night stay.

The trip to Picton was somewhat enlivened by a minor skirmish with the notorious "Hazel" which (who?) prankishly laid a tree or two across the highway. On the one occasion when the road was completely blocked with traffic on both sides of the tree stranded the problem was promptly solved by Major Scott who ordered all hands out to remove the obstruction. This was accomplished in record time and the rest of the trip proved uneventful.

The weekend program was one of considerable activity for the men of all ranks, and was noticeable for the enthusiasm which prevailed generally. Major Scott expressed satisfaction with the progress evidenced by both officers and men.

On Saturday the school was host to Army Officials and Press representatives who came out to see a typical training camp in action. Army officials were headed by Major J. Cummings, G.S.O. 2 Area Headquarters Kingston.

Among the local men who took part as instructors over the weekend were Bdrs. G. Watson, G. Cresswell and J. G. Bowry who were in charge of both weapons and foot drill of recruits.

The Bowmanville Cadet Band led the church parade to a Protestant service conducted by Capt. Nunn of Barriefield, assisted by Lt.-Col. Lucas of Cobourg, and to an R. C. Mass conducted by Capt. J. A. O. Patenaude of Picton School of Artillery.

For the final weekend camp which is planned for early November firing practice will be held during which live ammunition will be used.

Home & School Association Meeting

Home Decorating Subject of Talk

Bobcaygeon (PNS) -- The first Fall meeting of the Home and School Club was held in the public school with the president, Mrs. Grenville Kimble, in the chair. O Canada was sung with Mrs. J. Marshall at the piano.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. C. Adams and the treasurer's report heard.

Mrs. Kimble introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Tillson, of Toronto, an expert on home decorating. Miss Tillson by means of wallpaper samples and material for drapes, suggested dozens of suitable combinations of colours for decorating homes. She also answered several questions from her interested audience.

Mrs. Thomson moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Tillson.

Mrs. M. Steele won the lucky door prize consisting of enough wallpaper for an entire room. Mrs. H. Raymond was winner of the nest of frying pans.

The roll call showed about 35 persons present, the prize for the most room mothers going to Mrs. Junkin's pupils.

After a few items of business, the meeting closed with singing the National Anthem. The lunch committee served a delicious cup of coffee and doughnuts.

Sarah E. Kittle

At Bob Haven Private Hospital on Sept. 27, 1954, there passed away one of Verulam and Bobcaygeon pioneers when Sarah Elizabeth Kittle died in her 96th year after an illness of four weeks.

Miss Kittle was the daughter of Robert and Emily Kittle who came to Bobcaygeon in 1858 living in a house where the present Town Hall now stands. She was born in 1859. Her family lived in Bobcaygeon till she was four years old, when they moved to the farm on lot 19, con. 7, four miles from Bobcaygeon, where Mr. and Mrs. J. Griffin now live. Miss Kittle attended Ingram's School, walking across the fields.

Sarah Kittle was a faithful member of St. Alban's Church, teaching Sunday School and looking after church concerts, later attending Christ Church in Bobcayeon. She was a life member of the WA and Ladies Guild and Dorcas Guild secretary for over 5 years. Rev. Barclay of Christ Church conducted the funeral service on September 30th from her home on Main Street. Service was also held at 2.30 from Christ Church and interment was in Verulam Cemetery.

Pallbearers were R. J. H. Kittle, Clifford Kittle, Henry E. Kittle, Ross Kittle, Norman Drinkwater and Howard Patterson.

World's Champion Figure Skater To Tutor Lindsay Skating Club

An indication of the rapid growth of Lindsay's two-year old Figure Skating Club is the acquisition this year of a world's champion skater as professional. He is Ede Kiraly who in 1949 not only won the World's Academic Championship, but, with Miss Andrea-Bernolak, won the World's Pairs Championship.

A native of Hungary, where he graduated in Engineering from the University of Budapest, Mr. Kiraly was prominent in championship skating events from 1944 until 1950, when he turned professional and came to Canada. The directors of the Lindsay Figure Skating Club say they are most happy that they have been able to secure the services of a young skater (he is not yet 30) of such high calibre, and are anticipating a most successful season. Elsewhere in this issue is a notice of the Club's open meeting' to be held Wednesday evening in the Committee Room at the Town Hall, and the directors have issued a warm invitation to members, prospective members, and their parents, to be present at this meeting, so that they may have a hand in making plan for the season, and have an opportunity of meeting Mr. Kiraly.

Her three attendants, Miss Ella Mattalians, Mrs. Joyce Keriver, Mrs. Barbara Wright, wore identical frocks of champagne colored velvet with satin trimmings, shoes and hats to match. They carried huge yellow 'mums.

Mr. Murray Harrington acted as best man, Mr. Kenneth Keriver and William Wright were ushers. Little Stephen Thardarson was ring bearer.

During the singing of the High Mass solos were given by Mrs. Marie Thardarson and Dr. Molengraft. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to some 35 guests. Then at 7 p.m. dinner and reception was held for all the friends.

PRECIOUS PEBBLE

BACK IN 1825 the Danish scientist Oersted produced the first pebble of metallic aluminum. Half a century passed before a technique was discovered for turning out the metal in quantity.

Modern processing of bauxite ore to make low-cost aluminum uses fantastic quantities of power. That is why Canada is one of the world's major aluminum suppliers. In Quebec province, smelters at Arvida, Shawinigan Falls, Isle Maligne and Beauharnois last year used nearly one-fifth of the country's total electrical output. And in British Columbia new sources of water power are feeding the pot lines of the new smelter at Kitimat. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

What every wife should know
...about husbanding

A husband, says the dictionary, is a man married to a woman. A second definition states that to husband is 'to manage thriftily'.

How to manage a husband and how to manage a budget are two things every wife needs to know if she wants a happy home.

"We're careful with money in our family but we can't seem to build up our savings," says one wife. "There are so many things to save for—a home of our own—the children's education—the days when we are old. Sure—we want to save—but how?"

Thrift helps, of course—but it's not the total answer to building up savings. A regular, systematic savings plan is needed too.

Hundreds of thousands of Canadian families have adopted the Canada Savings Bonds way to build up a worthwhile reserve for the important things ahead.

If you need the money in the meantime your Canada Savings Bonds are immediately cashable at full face value—at any bank—at any time.

Mrs. Jackson, program convener, gave a condensed version of the first chapter in the new Study Book "New India". A dialogue was given on a trip through India by Mrs. Milton Hickson and Mrs. Ingram.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted and roll call was answered and offering taken. The business session followed. All arrangements were made for a Hallowe'en party to be held at the school. Prizes are to be given for best costume for boys and girls, best comic dress & a lucky number. Quaker Fund Raising Plan was agreed on. Mrs. Grandy and Mrs. Fred Hart were appointed to value the bale.

A hymn was sung and closing prayer offered by the president. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Jackson. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Parks and Mrs. M. Hickson and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Open Meeting Held By Peniel W.M.S.

Peniel United Church WMS held their October meeting in the church Sunday-school rooms. Members of Woodville and Hartley auxiliaries joined with Peniel.

Soft music opened the worship service, Mrs. L. Squires at the piano. In the absence through illness of the president, Mrs. D. McDonald, the secretary, Mrs. Frank Abernethey was in the chair.

The theme for the evening's service was "The Influence of a Christian Leader." A cordial welcome was extended to the visitors and the opening hymn was sung. The Scripture passage was read by Mrs. Geo. Long. Mrs. Frank Abernethy led in prayer. The offering was received by Mrs. F McLean and Mrs. H. Copeland, followed by the singing of the dedicatory hymn.

Lois, Allen and Marion Squires favoured with a vocal number. Mrs. Frank Abernethy presented the guest speaker for the evening, Miss Milloy, a missionary home on furlough. Miss Milloy has been stationed in Nigeria, Africa, for the past seven years. Miss Milloy opened her address with a few verses of Holy Scripture and prayer. She spoke briefly of her decision to become a missionary at a very early age. At the conclusion of her talk slides were shown taken of the Mission station in Africa. Miss Milloy made explanatory remarks as each slide was shown.

Mrs. Frank Abernethy thanked Miss Hilloy for her spiritual message.

Miss Lois Squires favoured with a piano solo. The closing hymn was sung and the Mizpah Benediction was repeated in unison.

Dainty refreshments were served by the Peniel group. Words of thanks and appreciation were expressed to Peniel and Miss Milloy by Mrs. Austin for the Woodville auxiliary and by Mrs. McArthur of Hartley.

Omemee (PNS) -- The annual tea for the members of Trinity Baby Band and their mothers which is sponsored by the WMS of Trinity United Church, Omemee, was held with 40 children and 29 ladies present.

Baby Band superintendent, Mrs. H. Deyell, was in charge, assisted by her helpers, Mrs. Wm. Fisher and Mrs. W. D. Weir. The Band was welcomed by Mrs. T. A. McConnell, president of the WMS, and the mothers were invited to become WMS members.

A duet was sung by Mrs. H. McKee and Mis C. Connell, Mrs. I. Connell played an instrumental, Mrs. Les Casey talked to the children and taught them a motion song, "Climb up Sunshine Mountain."

Promoted to Mission Band were Linda Black, Helen Hyland, Nancy Morrison, Bonnie Finney, Gail McLeod, Betty Hartin, Barbara Lowes, David Smith and Roy Sibley. They were received by Mission Band Superintendent, Mrs. M. Finney, and presented with certificates by Mrs Deyell.

In a short address to the mothers Mrs. S. D. Vaughan emphasized the importance of good home influence on young children and the special responsibility of mothers in whom the small child has such implicit faith. She took as a central thought "And they brought young children to Him."

Lunch was served by ladies of the WMS.

DAMAGE HERE TOO!

Young People's Activities

Cliff Lillico Addresses Junior Farmers

Reaboro (PNS) The monthly meeting of the Kawartha Junior Farmers' was held in the Auditorium of the Lindsay Collegiate with about 70 members present.

The President, Mr. Bill Mahood was in the chair and after welcoming the members, a short film was shown on subject of "Kitchens."

The business period was then called to order and the secretary, Mr. Glen Corneil read the minutes of the June and September meetings which were approved as read. After the Roll Call several items of business were brought to the attention of the members and discussed, some of which were the announcement of the Hardtime Dance which is to be held in the near future. Plans for the banquet which is to be held in November were also made. The President also announced that there would be a Welding school held in Lindsay the last week in October and all those interested could attend.

Facts were given concerning the Debating, Public Speaking, Quartet and Trio competitions which are being held soon. Mr. Mahood then asked that the Program committee for November and December meet some night the next week in the Agriculture office to make final arrangements for those two months' activities. A Machinery Club was organized and will be under the direction of Mr. Ralph Cragg of the Department of Agriculture.

Mr Glen Corneil gave a most interesting report of the Provincial Junior Farmers' Camp, held at Geneva Park, Orillia in September which he had the opportunity of attending. A lively Sing-song was led by Mr. George Nokes and the members enjoyed singing very much.

Mr. Earl Bullbeck introduced the Speaker, Mr. Cliff Lillico who gave a splendid talk on Soil Conservation which was of great value to the members. Mr. Bob Reeds in a few well chosen words thanked the speaker for his informative talk. The collection was received by Mr. Jim Outrum after which many good games were played and lunch served by Miss Nancy Robinson's Committee bringing a profitable meeting to a close.

Mrs. G. Hicks Hostess For Bexley W.A.

The September meeting of Bexley WA was held at the home of Mrs. George Hicks with a fine attendance in spite of the rainy day. A hymn was sung, followed by prayer by the president. Mrs. Lewis continued with devotions on missions, reading Psalm 90. Mrs. F. Benson read the top, "The Work of Our Hands."

Mrs. Lewis gave a short description of the work being done in India and the problems to face. She introduced the new Study Book "Face to Face with India." Progress is being made in helping India to become self-sufficient. The offering was received and dedicated for WMS. A poem, "Listen to Prayer" was read by Mrs. Moore.

The president, Mrs. G. Hicks, asked for the minutes of the last meeting, which were read and approved and the roll call taken.

The following motions were made and carried: two ladies be appointed per month to visit, Mrs. Black and Mrs. Lewis accepting for October; that Mrs. G. Benson try to procure a film to be shown in the near future; that a Thanksgiving bake sale be held. Mrs. Lewis kindly offered their shop.

A hymn and the Benediction closed the meeting. The hostesses, Mrs. Hicks and Miss Betty Davey served a dainty lunch and all enjoyed a social time.

A TRAIN LIES IN THE MUD NEAR MARKHAM, ONT., AMID TWISTED TRACKS

Above is a picture of the Lindsay-bound Canadian National Railways passenger and express train which came to grief at Mile 46, near Markham on Friday night when the hurricane hit Ontario. The train was piloted by Lindsay Engineer Ted Barnett but the rest of the crew was made up of Toronto men. Mr. Barnett and the fireman had to wade through flood waters to safety and were separated from the rest of the crew for about two hours while they searched for a safe place to get back to the derailed train. CNR officials at Lindsay hope to have the tracks between here and Toronto back in good condition by Thursday. Meanwhile heavy transcontinental trains are being routed through Lindsay on the Midland line due to the cut-off in services leading into Toronto city. Miraculously no one was injured when the train was derailed.

Local Damage More Widespread Than First Reports Indicated

Off and On . . .

Power Cuts Out Unexpectedly Again, Shortens "Showboat Days" Matinee, Say Some Places Power-less 36 Hrs.

Power off -- power on -- can cause difficulties to be sure. Just at 5.45 p.m. Monday evening the lights went out in part of the downtown section of Lindsay stores, offices, and one of the town's two theatres were blacked out.

Storekeepers assisted customers to the streetline through the maze of counters. Stores in some instances closed 15 minutes early. A young lady in a dentist's chair had the filling operation finished, but the dentist was helped by a second patient holding lighted paper matches one after another. And this second patient had her gums frozen and was ready for an extraction, which in all probability had to be postponed.

"Showboat Days" matinee was stopped before completion and the evening premiere would have been badly disrupted if the power had been off much longer. Part of the matinee was run off with the aid of auxiliary power. Regular power fortunately returned at about seven p.m., after flickering on and off through the dinner hour, which could more rightly be termed the supper hour because hot meals were at a premium in many parts of town.

Even after the power was restored in most of town at around 7 p.m. Monday, there were still some sections downtown without street lights. A further break occurred early this morning but it was of comparatively short duration.

A local merchant is reported to have "flown off the handle" when a customer said he thought it was carrying things a bit too far when a shopkeeper tried to get by with gasoline lanterns instead of electric lights. Of course, the customer was not really serious and the book the shopkeeper hurled was not really aimed at him.

On the more serious side of things, some residents are reported to have been without power for as long as 36 hours "hand running" over the disrupted weekend.

Unofficially the Monday night break is attributed to overload on a Victoria Avenue feeder. The hydro manager could not be reached for official clarification of the cause.

$29,000 Rebate For The Town From Hydro

A rebate of $29,000 is coming to the town of Lindsay on next year's account with the Hydro. When this fact was revealed, it caused a good deal of consternation on the part of Deputy-Reeve Greaves and her listeners, Lindsay's councillors, at their last committee meeting.

Explanation concerning the large sum of money rebated, is that the difference between the sale of lighting to the public in 1953 and the amount paid at so much a light is credited to next year's account,-- and is the large sum of $29,000.

Chained Off Parking Space For 'Regulars'

Special chained off parking space behind the town hall has been alloted to the town hall regular, day in and day out callers. Good-sized cards with black printing designate parking stalls for Meter Inspector, Water Board, Assessment Commissioner, Town Engineer, Mayor, Crown Attorney, Police Magistrate and Chief Constable.

The Lindsay Police nave voiced the hope that the special parking spots be used by the prescribed, and only by the prescribed officials.

"Red" Mitchell New Coach Of Indians

A former Chicago Black Hawk player is th new coach of the Springfield Indians of the American Hockey Leaglue.

He is William "Red" Mitchell, formerly of Lindsay, Ontario. Mitchell took over the job on Monday from Eddie Shore who worked in the dual capacity of owner and coach during the first four games of the season.

Mitchell played with the Providence Reds and the New Haven Eagles during the 1930's. He later was a defenseman for the Chicago Blackhawks in the National Hockey League.

Mitchell has been coaching several amateur teams of the Indians hockey system in Canada during the last five years. --BUP

Haliburton May Vote On Outlet For Liquor

There may be a vote on the liquor question in Haliburton in December if plans of the "wet" forces materialize. A village spokesman says: "We are informed that the petition which has been circulated regarding the taking of a vote to ascertain if the citizens of Dysart are in favor of the establishment of a liquor store and a brewery warehouse in Haliburton has been forwarded to Toronto for the approval of the Liquor Control Board.

"If this petition is in order a vote will in all probability be held sometime in December.

"Hurricane Hazel" Does Best To Hamstring "Showboat Days" But Premiere Is On Schedule

Come flood, come high water, Lindsay's "Showboat Days" production had its premiere on Mon. in the Academy Theatre here. And everyone in the audience loved it!

To review "Showboat Days" at this early date in their week-long production at the Academy Theatre, would be to spoil the enjoyment of those with tickets for the rest of the week. But, opinion all over town Tues. morning is summed up in the remark "That was a good show, last night!"

The big show started on time, and marched along at a good pace to finish the finale at 10.50. First nighters say "It is positively amazing that Lindsay could have such talent among its citizen. Many a shopkeeper, and professional man and woman, --and yes, . . housewife, student and all -- have missed their calling!"

But the amateur can quickly be changed to the near-professional by Director George Zarfas, who has the faculty of taking average citizens and making show people into them in the space of a few short rehearsals.

The dancers are magnificent. They keep up such bright smiles as their arms sway and feet go through such intricate routines. All in perfect rhythm! All in bright timing precision! Solo, doubles and chorus lines, dance on the stage and flourish off, to the tuneful piano accompaniment played by Kay Cook almost continuously through the performance.

The speaking parts of the story which holds together the romantic comedy of the Old South are to a word well-spoken, and the deck of the "Showboat" really rocks with fun, frolic and lyrics.

The costumes? ---well, you'll just have to see them! And to think that the costumes came near to being lost on the way from Toronto. Laurie Strachan, stage manager for the show, accompanied by Director Zarfas were obliged to set out Saturday in the former's truck and rescue the costume trunks from the baggage car of the C.N.R. train derailed at Markham in the big storm.

The Minstrels are terrific! They certainly do a good job, "working like niggers" in their black-face get-ups. Just who was the "tall and the short"? And that Red Riding Hood story!

Patrons of Monday night's Showboat Days spoke highly of the vocal numbers, praising individual and group voices who by their talent, beauty and vivacity proved themselves so loyal to the Kiwanis Club of their town, and its Hospital which will benefit by the week-long stage shows of "Showboat Days", sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Lindsay, Incorporated, who received its charter in 1922.

Tragic Accident At Sunderland, Electrician Hurt

Sunderland (PNS) -- A tragic accident happened to Mr. Ab Taylor, Leaskdale electrician of some eight years experience, when he was doing some minor repair work on a hydro pole recently. Mr. Taylor slipped. He instantly grasped for support, his hand contacting a high voltage wire. The charge passed his body and emerged at the other hand. He amazingly survived the shock but suffered terrible burns to his hands. Latest reports are that amputation of the hands is feared necessary.

Hotel Oil Burner "Kicks Up Dog" About $175 Loss

A hotel on Lindsay's main street had a fire in the basement early this morning. The fire department states that the fire was caused by a defective oil burner, and that it would result in about $100 damage to property and $75 to the oil furnace.

The distress call came to the town fire department at 7.55 a.m. All danger from the fire was over before 8.30 when the firemen reported back to the firehall.

The Lindsay Kinsmen Club has decided to contribute to the need for funds by flood victims in the Toronto hurricane area. Their contribution will come from proceeds received by a sale of tickets on a 21-inch RCA Victor television set. Fund Chairman Wm. "Bill" Walker of Beall's Jewellery Store, says the entire proceeds will go to aid the victims of the hurricane disaster. Winner of the set is to be decided at the Century Theatre on November 1st and the tickets are going at one dollar each.

Police Vacancy Still Unfilled, None Accepted

The Town of Lindsay police constable position made vacant with the resignation of Mr. Percy Mark, and advertisement for which had brought ten applications a week or so ago, has not as yet been filled. This was revealed at last night's council meeting. Reeve Richard Butler, chairman of the town Police Committee, announced that none of the applicants who answered the ad. had met the desired qualifications.

It was decided later in the evening that further advertisment would be placed in the newspapers after the present firemen's arbitration award has been finalized, and the possible subsequent resulting outcome within the Police Department.

Good Pickings For Pickpockets

Breslau, Oct. 14 (BUP) -- Police are searching for a gang of pickpockets who made more than $1,000 in seven hours work at the 41st International Plowing Match being held in Breslau, Ontario.

One of the gang, a woman, was actually caught, but charmed the man whose wallet she attempted to steal into releasing her.

Provincial Police Inspector Frank Scott said that if it hadn't been for the victim's kindheartedness, the woman "could have been the key to rounding up the rest."

Thirteen wallets were taken yesterday. Three have been found, empty except for identification papers.

Woman Pumps Suspect Full of Lead

Police say a woman with nerves of steel killed a suspected thief at Wasaga Beach, Ontario, by pumping a bullet into his stomach.

Mrs. Robert Smith, the wife of a restaurant owner, arrived at their establishment about midnight to find three men loading loot from the restaurant into a car.

Two of the men grappled with Smith and his wife ran to a telephone to call police.

Then she loaded a rifle with one cartridge and held the two men fighting with her husband at bay

The third thief lunged at her making what she describes as horrible, animal-like noises. She ordered him to halt -- but he kept coming closer to her.

She pulled the trigger of the rifle when he was five feet away.

The thief's buddies loaded him into the car and sped away. The man, 30 year old Jack Gould, was dead when they left his body at his home in Midland. The two others are now being held by Midland police. --BUP

Several Communities Report Property Loss But No One Injured

Reports of storm damage continue to come in from correspondents in the district. Here are some of the reports from a few of "The Post's" numerous rural writers:

FROM SUNDERLAND

The Sunderland area shared in the ravages of Hurricane Hazel, 27 hours without hydro caused great inconvenience to farmers with milking machines and households depending on their electrical apparatus. Perhaps one of the greatest inconveniences was felt by the local broiler plant, the 12,000 chicks of which could not be watered due to the hydro break for 27 hours. There were 6 hydro poles down between McIlmurray's Corner and Victoria Corners in West Brock, a distance of 2 miles. By a strange freak the party telephone relayed messages on the line and neighbours pooled what equipment they could rustle for coal oil lighting. Lamps, chimneys and coal oil were hunted up here and there when the power was still nil and the second night of darkness, blackly closed down. However the hills of Brock were a safe refuge from the ravages of flooded creeks, but trees, fences and silos were blown over. Mr. Charles Thompson and Mr. Stanley Marquis had their silos flattened.

FROM BOBCAYGEON

Hurricane Hazel caused much excitement and considerable damage although no one was seriously injured. Dozens of trees were blown down, uprooted or broken off, as well as roofing from a number of roofs. The roof of the Grandstand at the Agricultural Fair Grounds was blown completely off. A large pine tree in the grounds was flattened, narrowly missing a trailer nearby. Worse damage was caused when one end of the recently built new Community Arena, made of cement blocks, was knocked completely down, which will be a considerable set-back to the workers. The streets and most of the homes were without power for all night and almost all of Saturday, with the result that half the merchants closed entirely for Saturday evening. Bobcaygeon, after a rather sleepless night, will not soon forget Hurricane Hazel.

FROM LOCHLIN—

The storm with high winds which struck this district on Friday night left the village without power for over 12 hours. Trees were ripped up by the roots and several sheds were blown down. The telephone lines were blown down and a cottage owned by Mr. Hugh Graham at Ingoldsby was partially destroyed by fire when a tree fell on the hydro line, causing a short circuit. Volunteer fire fighters were on the scene immediately and saved the building from being completely destroyed.

FROM WOODVILLE—

Friday night's storm of hurricane winds played havoc with the trees in surrounding districts. Many people lost parts of the roofs of their houses and barns.

The power was off in Woodville for several hours and was off in the Glen until Sunday afternoon, rendering electrical appliances useless. As there are several deep-freeze unit in the neighborhood, the power shortage was very unfortunate.

Home folk were much relieved when a number of young people, coming home from Toronto for the weekend finally arrived at 1.20 p.m. after a hazardous ride starting from Toronto at 5 p.m. and made difficult by fallen trees and flooded highways.

FROM OAKWOOD—

Although no lives were lost, considerable damage was done to property, during the storm on Friday night in Oakwood and vicinity. Many trees were blown down or broken off, about half of the T.V. aerials were badly damaged. Fields were flooded until it looked like a lake in the village. Cellars were flooded like they are in spring, chimneys were bblown down, roofs of barns were picked up and deposited some distance away in the field. Mr. Albert West, Mr. Richard Watts, and Mr. Howard Hardy had a lot of damage done to part of their barns. Other people who had property damaged are Lloyd Weldon, Jim Harcus, Sam Gorrill. No mail has been received in the village since Friday.

FROM BETHANY—

People were very fortunate in this little village nestled in among the hills, for there were no fires, accidents or loss of life, such a we read of in other places. The most serious loss was the barn on the farm property of Allan Cochrane, northwest of the village. The roof wa torn off in the hurricane and the sides gradually collapsed, leaving all his season's crop exposed to the weather. There was no livestock injured and the Cochrane' are generally thankful that the damage was no worse, it could easily have played havoc with their house as well, which is very close to the barn. The property was bought by Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane just recently and is better known as the Carl Sisson farm, situated on Kerr's Hill (it is on thi farm that a Televiion Relay Tower was erected, it being one of the highest points of land.) Clarence Neal reports the roof off his hen house and sheets of steel carried some distance from the roof of one barn. The roof of Emory Smith' house was also damaged, as were roofs on the barns of Weston Hutchinson, Harold White and Lewis Staples. Several television aerials were torn from their moor-

Sylvester Steel Provides Prompt Emergency Lighting

The children's matinee of Showboat Days ended earlier than planned because of a power cut-off, but an auxiliary unit proved helpful in the exit of the hundreds of excited young-fry from the building.

Director Zarfas took hold of this emergency and had all the children stand and take part in the early closing of the matinee by singing "God Save the Queen" in chorus. George Zarfas said afterwards he was happy to see the 700 excited girls and boys emerge out of the dim interior, which would have been totally in darkness but for the auxiliary power unit that had been provided in no time flat by Sylvester's.

Mr. Zarfas told "The Post" after the show that he, the Kiwanis Club and the management of the theatre are indebted to the forethought of Sylvester Steel Products for coming to their aid. The generator was put in running order to handle lighting for the evening's performance also, if it had been needed. But the Lindsay Hydro Commission got the hydro back on an hour and a half before the curtain opened.

Crane Collapses, Just Old Age

A wooden crane of early vintage fell down at the Allan Brothers Monumental Works on Cambridge St. N. early Tuesday a.m. The crane has been used for 50 or 60 years for the lifting of the weighty monuments and tombstones at the plant.

The boom was not in use at the time it collapsed, but George and Charlie Allan told "The Post" that its "leg" broke, caused by nothing but old age, they said.

Dog Catcher Needed Here, Chief Says Hearing Problem

"The Post" has received a signed letter from a Lindsay resident, Mrs. A. Webster, Melbourne St. E., in which she asks: "What is the matter with the Lindsay Police Dept. when a dog in the South Ward has been tormenting the neighbours for months?"

Police Chief Hunter, when asked about the matter stated that the dog in question was probably one which was kept tied up for a short while when owners were spoken to by police officers but was released as soon as their backs were turned.

Chief Hunter said there was a real need in Lindsay for a properly equipped dogcatcher to cope with the problem of dogs running at large. He said he didn't think it came under the heading of police duties to serve as dog catchers. He cited the risk entailed when police attempt to do this work without proper euipment (nets, etc.) as in the case of Constable Henley who was bitten while performing such a task.

THINGS THE STORM REVEALED

There are several things that the big Friday night storm revealed at Lindsay and through the district. Not the least of these things is the fact that there were a lot of trees in Lindsay which shouldn't have had to wait for a windstorm to reduce them to firewood. It was evident from a tour of the town and district after the storm that there were a number of trees in unsound condition which added to the menace created by the high winds which, in many cases made short work of some very sound trees. This revelation ought to have the effect of prompting those with trees on their property to take a look periodically and cull out the dangerous material. The Parks Board might be able to aid this culling process on street lines.

Another thing which was brought out by the storm is that overhead wires carrying telephone and hydro wires aren't a very satisfactory arrangement where violent storms are concerned. Of course it is realized that everything cannot be sent underground in a hurry but it does appear as though some serious effort should be made by utilities companies to protect vital areas, essential services. Lindsay was badly disrupted by the storm which really didn't vent its full fury here at all and the need for auxiliary power at the hospital, which has long been confined to a weak arrangement supplying operating room only, was brought home. It is not hard to imagine what a mess things would have been there if a heavy casualty toll had accompanied the storm's visitation.

The storm emphasized the need for some sort of civil defense set-up within the district which could be utlized under such extraordinary circumstances. While the Police and Fire Departments did an excellent job, they might have been faced with overwhelming problems had the situation deteriorated much more.

In a nutshell the storm indicated that the town was not as well prepared to deal with emergencies as it might be if organized along civil defense lines.

IS THERE ANY REAL NEED FOR THIS?

It was slightly after midday on Friday when the pupils from at least one Lindsay school started leaving for their lunch period. Their exit from school, in extremely bad weather, coincided almost to the minute with the lunch hour's peak traffic flow in the vicinity of the school. The school guard was obviously hard pressed to control the situation and it would not have come as a surprise if some child had got out of bounds, or if some motorist over-road the guard's signals in the confusion and an accident had occurred. Fortunately nothing so unfortunate arose but we feel impelled to ask once more "is it wise to have our children leave school for the midday lunch hour at a time which coincides with heaviest noon hour traffic?."

THIS HURTS ME MORE THAN IT DOES YOU

A British wise man about education, Mr. John Brophy, has given us a thought for the week: "I don't disbelieve in corporal punishment for children, but I don't think it is very good for teachers. What we need is a good impersonal machine that will whack the little blighters." All very well for state school systems which have lots of money and gadgets, but the ordinary purple-in-the-face parent who wishes to spare his own feelings but not the rod cannot afford mechanical whackers. —Peterborough Examiner.

TAX-FREE

High Court Judges have been known to say that the law should assume that all men are likely to seek every legitimate means of avoiding taxation. I've just heard a story that partly bears out their Lordships' assumption. A man at a race-meeting was on his way to the "tote" to collect winnings amounting to about five pounds, when a cautious stranger stopped him and said: "Would you mind telling me the value of your tote ticket?" After a fitting interval for suspicion he was told. "I'll give you six pounds in cash for them," he said promptly. And apparently well prepared for the assumption that he was escaped lunatic, he explained himself without further delay. "I'm acting for a well-to-do man who pays super-tax," he said. "He doesn't like paying supertax. So there's a whole lot of us working for him. We buy winning tote tickets on his behalf at a higher price than their face value and at the end of the financial year he turns them over to his Inspector of Taxes. The people we buy them from do well out of it, and we get a living ourselves. But our boss does better: he declares apparent tote winnings up to a high figure every year, and of course, he pays no tax on that figure."

Legitimate? On the contrary, I should have thought, a clear case of fraud, and a false return of income. —New Statesman and Nation.

COMMUNISTS AT HOME

The Canadian Communist party, which is putting on a drive for members, is a tool of one of the most ruthless and treacherous tyrannies the world has known. On orders from Moscow it plots unceasingly against the life and liberty of the Canadian people. Its aim is to overthrow free government and substitute a government imposed by violence and sustained by terror.

In the effort to achieve these aims it knows neither scruple nor shame. When Stalin was a partner of Hitler, it clamored for peace with Germany, accusing Canada and Britain of promoting an imperialist war. When Germany attacked Russia, it championed the war it had condemned, denouncing Britain for not opening a second front at once. After the war it sought to betray the allies whose efforts had saved Russia from destruction.

In case of war with Russia, it would be an agent of the enemy, a fifth column seeking by treason, sabotage and subversion to bring about Canada's defeat. Even when Canada was at war with Germany, its activities were such that its leaders had to go into hiding to avoid internment. What they would do in a war with Russia is not in doubt.

It would be folly to underestimate the mischief Communists do or the effect of their propaganda. The Gouzenko revelations showed the use they make of credulous dupes and awakened Canada to the danger. It is necessary to recall their record, and warn the Canadian people against a party that is an instrument of evil. —The Telegram.

Do modern bootleggers serve their customers with "neat" whiskey? Or is it the watered stuff that bootleggers of the past used to dish up so as to still be able to show a bit of profit after paying an occasional fine into the police court?

You think it's funny! It's not so funny if you chance to buy a bottle of this bootlegger-watered whisky at the Ontario government liquor store.

And while most people might consider the purchase of bootlegger-watered whisky to be improbable, let them by no means rush to the conclusion that it is impossible.

A news report on the disposition of liquor seized by the city police says that "part bottles" are poured down the sink at the police station, but "full bottles" are returned to the Brewer's Retail Store and Liquor Control Board outlets.

News reporters who have "covered" scores of bootlegging charges know that it is an old bootlegging trick to carefully remove labels, empty part of the contents of a bottle and then fill the bottle with water, replacing the labels with care to make the bottle appear as if it had not been opened.

Where did the order originate to return full bottles to the retail outlets? Was it from Queen's Park?

There is something morally wrong about putting liquor back on the shelves for resale after it has already been purchased at the full retail value.

But it becomes something much more serious if bootlegger-watered whisky, in what appears to be unopened bottles, is offered to the public through government stores. —Sudbury Daily Star.

Few Buyers At Market After Blow

Not many buyers were in evidence at the Saturday farm market and some regular sellers were missing from the market stalls. There were only five farmers who managed to reach Lindsay on that cool windy morning.

But for the hours of the Lindsay Farmers Market behind the town hall the pavement was dry!

Prices were good on Saturday and for the first time in many months dairy butter was in evidence, priced at 60 cents a pound. The same stall had buttermilk by the gallon, at 50c or 15c quart. For homemade, embroidered pillow cases the lady was asking $6.00 or a little less. Spring chickens, 50c drawn; horseradish 25 and 35 cents; potatoes 40c per six quarts; big Spanish onions 3 for 10; carrots 5c bunch; beets 30c small basket; eggs 35, 45, 50 cents according to size, honey, etc. Seven-pound spring cockerels looked like a good buy at $3.00 and Barred Rock Capons, $3.25 for 6½ lb. specimens. One farmer had an 11-quart basket of large cucumbers (picked before the frost), priced 45 cents.

The farmers seemed to think that Lindsay was harder hit than the country by the night's storm. But Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hart of Fleetwood in Manvers Twp. said they had to stop and lift two telephone poles off the road on their way in.

Moxon Gardens and others from Janetville were not at their accustomed stalls. There was a lot of destruction and swamp-flooding in that area, marketers had heard.

Mr. Merton Avery of Little Britain told a story of terrible winds at Glandine near there. Ken Taylor's roof is off the back part of his house, Mr. Avery related, and Fred Orr across the road had the roof of his barn completely lifted off.

For several years now flower pots of any size have been scarce and it was a pleasant surprise when one store finally purchased some beauties. They were all sizes and they seemed to be selling like hot cakes. Just why they were so scarce before we don't know but wise housewives should pick up a good supply while they last. The nice part of it all was the various sizes to fit into any corner.

Carved Pipes

We were intrigued with some unusual pipes in Morris' Cigar Store at the foot of Kent Street and they are apparently loaned to the store for a window attraction. They are different shapes and all carved of a special wood. They had a touch of Chinese about them, but were really museum pieces we'd imagine. One of them intrigued us because it was of a length that should easily keep the smoke from bothering you. They are well worth seeing so if you are down that way you might like to take a look

Urban Growth

It is amazing to note in a leaflet that a recent census showed that the urban population is advancing far more rapidly than the rural. It goes on to say that while there are more rural folk in Canada than ever before, the urban population has grown more than twice as fast. Spiders

This, an expert says, is the season for spiders. And it' a tough season, not only for the homeowner who finds them, but for agriculture as well.

Seems people find spiders in their homes, wrap them up and ship them off to the agriculture experts to find out what kind they are They arrive in envelopes, boxes and jars.

Most insects mailed in by private citizens turn out to be common household pests, the veteran specialist say,. but there's a seasonal pattern. Spring, they say, is the termite season, in the early fall it's fleas, and now it's spiders.

Ideal For Blankets

If you missed Wednesday for washing your blankets you may not get as good a day for some time. for fluffing them up like one desires. Clothes dried quickly too and it was perfect for both these chores. If we could only get two months of that kind of weather we'd be happy for the winter ahead.

Some Fun!

Everyone is looking forward to "Showboat" for local talent is always a treat and there should be all kinds of fun in store for us. It means nights of work for those taking part and they likely have everything set for the big night. There should be plenty of enjoyment for this affair which is put on for our hospital.

A Meany

It surely pays to buy milk tickets for occasionally someone misses the money and it is pretty hard to catch the thief. One lady lost hers the other night and found the bottle on her neighbor's lawn. From time to time these things happen but as sure as fate the culprit gets caught sooner or later. It's such a mean trick and hardly worth the effort on the theif's part. Just why he left the bottle on the neighbor's lawn instead of on the verandah is something to think about.

Fall Flowers

There is nothing like 'mums to perk up your flower vases in the Fall. You can put them in pots or cut them and they do last a long time. The tall ones you can cut and the shorter ones can be potted. Some we bought at the market are doing nicely and we're enjoying them now when other flowers have died.

Be Careful

The town was filled with smoke as many residents burned their leaves on Wednesday. It's fun for old and young, but dangerous if they are all young and have no supervision. A flareup can easily become a disaster, so parents should watch their children near a bonfire. Let them enjoy it at a safe distance even if they coax to be nearer it. Bonfires are such fun as long as there are no casualties.

Boxing Lessons

A six-year-old American boy doesn't know it yet . . . but in the near future he'll be fighting with the heir to the throne.

The American boy is six-year-old Stephen Rutter, a tousle-haired youngster from one Forge Pennsylvania. His father is Peter Rutter, second secretary at the United States Embassy in London

Rutter confirms reports that palace officials asked him to allow his son to put on boxing gloves and spar with Prince Charles.

Seems Prince Charles' sports-minded father, the polo playing Duke of Edinburgh, alway has wanted Charles to learn to box, and now apparently Charles' mother, Queen Elizabeth, has given her consent.

Plans now call for Stephen and an English boy named Giles Stimson to skip their regular Thursday afternoon gymnasium classes later this fall, to go over to Buckingham Palace to spar with the Prince

Lorneville—Argyle W.I. Hears Talk By District President

The October meeting of the Lorneville-Argyle W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Hugh MacPherson with an excellent attendance. The president, Mrs. H. Gourd was in the chair and opened the meeting in the usual manner.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and also the correspondence relating to the W. I. convention in November and application for the grant of $3.00. It was decided that the grant be used for the purchase of hand books An executive meeting is to be held soon to arrange for the teachers' banquet to be held October.

The president introduced Mrs. Wessel, the new president for the West Victoria district and she brought an interesting message. She stressed the importance of attendance at the District annual and expressed he hope that all reports and business be efficiently and speedily presented that day. She alo had several valuable leaflets on flowers, fruits, freezing produce etc., and stated copies of these are obtainable free of charge from the Dept. of Agriculture.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. W. Russell, program convenor. Mrs. Cecil Nicholls gave an interesting account of the recent W. I. bus trip to Kingston, where the ladies toured Old Fort Henry and the Aluminum plant.

Mrs. Russell devoted the program to famous October-born people. James W. Riley, the Hoosier poet was one of these and one of his poems was read by Mrs. A. D. McFadyen. Jenny Lind, the "Swedisn Nightingale" claimed October 6th, 1820 as her birthday and Mrs. Russell played the "Jenny Lind Polka". Interesting accounts were read of Sir C. Wren (the English architect) Noah Webster (famous for his dictionary), Eleanor Roosevelt, Dwight Eisenhower and Franz Liszt. Mrs. D. H. MacEachern gave an account of Johann Strauss, born October 25, 1825 and she concluded by playing two of his well-known waltzes. A little gift was presented to the lady present who celebrated an October birthday nearest to the date of the W. I. meeting and Mrs. F. Snodden was the lucky winner. Mrs. W. Brimbecom and Mrs. Russell concluded the program with a sacred vocal duet.

Mrs. T. J. Newman moved a vote of thanks for the splendid talk given by Mrs. Wessel, the fine program provided and the kindness of Mrs. MacPherson for the use of her home. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, and benediction after which the hostesses assisted by little Misse Lorraine and Elizabeth MacPherson, served a delicious lunch.

Home & School Association Meeting

Vitamin Capsules To Be Purchased

Haliburton (PNS) -The Dysart Home and School executive held their first meeting of the season in the Victoria Street Public School, with an attendance of 12 members.

At the meeting it was decided to pass on to the regular meeting a recommendation to buy vitamin capsules for all school children in the Dysart area. It was also suggested that the Home and School might have a court whist party to help defray the expense of the capsules.

At the next regular meeting the Home and School are indeed fortunate in obtaining Miss Marion Rudd of Peterboro, Orthopedic consultant on Ontario Society of Crippled Children. Miss Rudd will be the guest speaker. This meeting will also be "Meet the Teacher" and it is hoped all persons interested in children will attend.

Mr. L. Cooke Addresses Home and School

Omemee (PNS) -- Omemee Home and School Association annual pot-luck supper meeting took place in the basement of Trinity United Church. About 60 members and friends sat down to the tables which had been decorated with grapes and apples.

William Weir led in a singsong and Mrs. Arthur Weir and Mrs. Thos. Pogue sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Casey. Mrs. Zufelt gave a humorous reading as well as a humorous song concocted by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weir which involved the entire teaching staff.

Mrs. A. W. Stephenson, the president, introduced the speaker, Mr. L. Hamel Cooke, B.A., B.Ped., principal of the high school, who arrived recently from Havelock.

He spoke on the need for a pupil on entering high school to have a definite goal so that the principal and teachers may give maximum help in arranging his or her course. That the goal may be changed without ill-effect he cited several examples and mentioned the lucrative salary that is paid to those who by extra effort attain important clerical positions. He felt it was a gross error for parents to dictate to their children what they should be in life. Very often a certain individual is awfully unsuited for such professions as well as being unhappy. He compared the strenuous system which existed in pre-war Germany and England with their long study periods to the comparatively easy system the high schools have today.

Rev. Mr. Zufelt thanked the speaker for his interesting address and felt "Mr. Cooke had almost persuaded his audience that they should return to high school."

Comes Appeal To Put Christ Back On Christmas Cards

Sudan Interior Mission
Biliri via Gombe, Nigeria,
June 18, 1954.
(W. Africa)

"His name shall be called WONDERFUL". . . Isaiah 9:6

Dear Friends Who Sent the Chrismas Cards,

Thank you so much for sending them way out here to the African bush to missionaries you haven't even met. They are useful in several ways. They contain much good paper for school scratch pads, and letter writing, or for copying verses of Scripture into them. The pictures themselves are useful to give to Sunday School children, and they are also instrumental in drawing the people to hear the Gospel in the villages and out-station work of missionaries and African evangelists.

May I suggest that if you send more another year, you just cull out the occasional ones that do not seem in keeping with the sacred character of Christmas? Now you may be surprised, but I include the Santa Claus ones among those that are undesirable. In order to understand that, just put yourselves in our place out here. We are among a people who know nothing of Christmas apart from its true meaning. They know of no other reason for celebrating it than just to honour HIM. Therefore, I think you, too, would feel ashamed at the prospect of being asked, "Who is this man in the red clothes we see so often?" It would be difficult to explain why we Christians have condescended to share with a fictitious character, the place of honour which rightfully belongs to Christ alone. Thus far, I haven't had to answer that question. (I have withheld all the cards with Santa's picture on them.) However, these young Africans are alert and quick to "catch on" especially to the white man's foolish sinful ways, it seems. So just eliminate the jolly old gentleman's picture. Will you, please? Some of these cards are certainly cute, and others are really beautiful, but I am jealous for the honour of our WONDERFUL SAVIOUR!

I wish you people would start a campaign to put Christ back into our greeting cards. You know the commercial people make a practice of catering to the wants of the public. If those who love the Lord would just persist in inquiring for those cards which portray the true meaning of Christmas, I believe they would soon be available. If the demand were greater, there would be a wider selection, too. I suppose most people choose their cards with only an eye to beauty, or to originality of design. However, in seeking for something unique they fail to realize how perfectly the message of Christmas qualifies! I know some people are actually ashamed to send Scripture cards to their more sophisticated friends, but WHY? "Ashamed of Him whom angels praise, whose glory shine through endless days? Ashamed of HIM? Why sooner far let evening blush to own a star." The poet has expressed it well! What an added testimony it would be if only those beautiful landscaped cards contained a Scripture verse. It would remind us of the Creator of all things beautiful who stooped to be born in a stable on His way to Calvary for us!

I expect to spend Christmas at home in Underwood, North Dakota, this year. I have completed my second term of service out here, and as soon as our school is out in November, I shall be on my way, D.V.. However, if you would like to help out with cards again next year, Mrs. Harry Harling, (above address), would appreciate getting them. It isn't likely, but I might even meet some of you on my furlough.

Yours in Christ,
(Signed) Bernice S. Thompson.

Ed. Note:

The above letter from the darkest Africa took just under two months to reach Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Harding, 32 Bond St., Lindsay, but its long trip did nothing to detract from the thought stimulating nature of its contents.

Unemployment Here Slightly Higher

Pefferlaw Crossing To Get Wig-Wag

Steady re-iteration of the need of a crossing warning at Pefferlaw's C. N. R. grade crossing of the York County Highway at west edge of Pefferlaw has been rewarded by an order for the project to be installed.

Deputy-Reeve Clarence Blanchard urging the need at York County roads committee, was solidly supported by Reeve Corner and three councilmen. A count was made of traffic using the crossing and the results sent to Ottawa.

Last week, the following information was received from Road Engineer Rettie of York County:

"An order of the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada is directed to the Canadian National Railways to instal an automatic signal having two flashing red lights and a warning bell at west limits of Pefferlaw. It has been directed that 40 percent of cost of installation shall be borne by the Grade Crossing Fund; 30 by the CNR; 30 per cent by the Toronto and York Roads Commission."

Two-Storey House Burns, Undetected For Hours On Burnt River Highway

A two-storey house in Burnt River burned all afernoon Thursday. The house, the residence of Mr. William Young, who was not home at the time of the fire, was reduced to ashed by 6 p.m.

The house is thought by residents in the district to have started sometime during the early afternoon. It burned undetected for some hours. Nothing could be done to save the two-storey dwelling when the smoke of the fire attracted nearby residents on the highway between Burnt River and Kinmount, where Bill Young's house was situated.

The cause of the fire is a mystery, but loss is expected to be considerable. Mr. Young had not been contacted when his home was given up for a loss at dark last evening.

Catholic Hierarchy Vetoes Joint Remembrance Idea

The nation's Roman Catholic Hierarchy has vetoed any attempt to get Catholic soldiers to join other religious denominations in joint services on Remembrance Day.

The R-C Clergymen — including Cardinals McGuigan of Toronto and Leger of Montreal—ruled out the idea of joint services in a statement issued in Ottawa following a two-day conference.

They demanded that separate services be held in connection wtih any ceremonies marking the anniversary of the end of World War One.

The Defense Department has denied that it is promoting any move toward joint services. And it's pointed out that the Canadian Legion is generally behind the organization of Armistice Day ceremonies.

The Legion President—The Very Reverend J. O. Anderson of Ottawa—says his organization hasn't handed down any dictums about joint services. He adds that the matter is left up to Legion branches in various parts of Canada and they can do what they see fit.—BUP.

Frost Says His Government Ready To Step Up Works

Toronto, Oct. 15 -(BUP)- Premier Leslie Frost says his government is ready to step up its public works program to provide more jobs during the coming winter.

The Premier says the province is also ready to undertake timing works as soon as Ottawa decides the unemployment situation warrants the step, but he says the province doesn't have the tax sources to deal with the problem alone.

A delegation from the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves presented a brief yesterday painting a gloomy picturue of Ontario's job situation and warning that there is every prospect of its getting worse.

Police and Pickets Clash As Oakville Strike Opens

Oakville, Oct. 15 --(BUP)-- Police and pickets clashed today in the first day of a strik of 26 hundred assembly line workers at Ford of Canada's Oakville plant.

The C-I-O United Auto Workers' Union strikers, marching in a drenching downpour, tried in vain to push back a carload of Ford supervisors as Provincial Police escorted them into the plant.

Pickets claimed William Walker, the Oakville general manager, "nearly ran down three of our men."

The union had imposed a ban on plant supervisors, although it was allowing office, maintenance, fire protection and cafeteria employees to go through the line.

The tense situation developed after Provincial Police took over directing heavy traffic near the plant's east gate. Eight hundred pickets gathered there at 7:30 a-m as the Oakville workers joined six thousand Windsor employees in a paralysizing strike.

Further strike that could idle a total of 10 thousand men in Ford's Ontario empire seemed imminent.

C. W. Hodgson Tells Farmers Union Good As They Make It

Clayton W. Hodgson, MP for Victoria-Haliburton, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Ontario Farmers' Union (Local 42) in Little Britain on Wednesday night.

Mr. Hodgson recalled his boyhood days on the farm and as a youth in a lumber camp. He brought out the success of lumber by united strength and recalled days when he worked for $1.00 per day for a company who paid 11 per cent dividends. The strength of united effort could be very beneficial if not taken too far, said Mr. Hodgson. Agriculture was, and will remain Canada's basic industry even though overshadowed at present by manufacturing. "We need outside, especially our British market", he declared, and said "'he' regretted loss of this market through misunderstanding of negotiators." He pointed out the O.F.U. was new to him, but like any other Union, would be only as good as the farmers themselves made it. Being the representative of the people here he offered his services at any time. He mentioned the questions sent to him to secure information by Joe Jenkins and said he was glad to be of service and this was the only time this had been done. These were relative to Branding privileges of three Toronto Packers being suspended.

After the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Secretary, Ernest Moore, a number of resolutions relative to farm markets, which will be placed before the people at Annual Convention were read by President Joe C. Jenkins. Mr. Jenkins announced several dates to be kept in mind, that of District Convention in Fenelon Falls, Wednesday next, and Mass meeting in Lindsay High School a week from Saturday; when Mr. Phelps from Saskatchewan will be the speaker.

Mr. Walter Miller, 2nd Vice President of the O.F.U. from Tara, gave account on the activities of the past summer. He said several hundred Northern Ontario farmers held a convention and decided to join the organization. "Relationship with labour, who like ourselves is a producer, was emphasized." He said "We must buy each others products." Briefs were presented to Ontario and Ottawa Governments and to the Board of Grain Commissioners. Continued organization is in progress.

A friendly discussion wa followed by a dainty lunch served by lady members. Several new members joined at this time.

Canon A.M. Davies Guest Speaker At Deanery Meeting

Blackstock (PNS) —The 32nd. annual conference of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Deanery of Durham and Northumberland was held at Trinity Church, Colborne, recently with Mrs. D. R Dewdney, Mrs. W. H. Gibson, Mrs. J. Garrod, Miss C. Butter and Miss B. McIntosh representing the local parish.

The Deanery extended from Bowmanville to Brighton and includes as well Gore's Landing, Perrytown and Harwood and this year has been enlarged to include Blackstock, Bethany and Millbrook, a large representation being present from these various parishes.

The conference began with a service of Holy Communion held in Trinity Church at 10.30 a.m., the celebrant being the rector, the Rev R. Lemon, assisted by other clergy of the Deanery. There was a box lunchon in the Parish Hall at 2.15 and the business session began at 1.15 with the W. A. Prayer and the singing of the National Anthem.

The Deanery President, Mrs. P. G. Powell was in the chair and a welcome to Colborne was extended by Mrs. Lemon, President of the Trinity W. A. Excellent reports of the work being carried on in each parish were given by the secretaries of each branch.

The outstanding event of the afternoon was the address given by the Missionary speaker, Canon A. M. Davis, which was illustrated by colored slides depicting scenes in various parishes and missions taken by him while on a 1600 mile trip through part of Western Canada and British Columbia. These vividly portrayed the struggle of the missionary clergy in ministering to their scattered congregations and the indomitable courage of these groups of pioneers in building and maintaining their small churches, and the great need for greater assistance to be given them by the more settled regions of Eastern Canada.

A "buzz" session conducted by Mrs. C. K. Rorke was an interesting feature. The delegates were divided into small groups with a leader and were given six minutes to discuss some question relative to the work of the W. A. The findings of each group was then reported to the conference.

As usual there was a table of W.A. literature for sale and a table of handicrafts sold for the benefit of the Grenfell Mission. An invitation was extended to the conference from the Bowmanville Auxiliary to hold the next meeting in Bowmanville.

At the conclusion of the meeting the benediction was pronounced by the Rural Dean, the Rev. A. Bouden of Port Hope, after which tea was served by the members of the hostess branch and a happy and inspiring meeting brought to an end.

Mrs. T. G. Langfeld, Mrs. Bateman, Mrs. Thos. Smith, Miss Eva Parr, Mrs. Wm. Lamb, represented St. John's Church Branch at said conference.

Heavy Loss By Fire

Downeyville Barns Burn

Thresher, Cattle Lost

A fire early Thursday morning in the Downeyville district has caused several thousand dollars damage to property and stock. The fire, on the farm of Morgan O'Connell, broke out in one of the barns on the property and quickly spread to another barn. Warning was first sounded by neighbours who noticed the flames, but on the arrival of assistance, the fire was completely out of control and the firefighters were unable to save either of the buildings or their contents.

According to Mr. Pat Harrington of Lindsay, who is the uncle of Mr. O'Connell, the fire broke out about 3 a.m. and was not brought under control until about 6 a.m.

Among the contents of the barn destroyed was a new threshing machine owned by Mr. Bell of Ops Township. It had been stored in one of the barns since Monday to keep it out of the rain. All the farm implements, including a tractor, a new combine and baler, and a side delivery rig were destroyed. Three cows lost their lives in the holocaust, as well as their five calves; also 30 hogs, 12 of which were ready for shipping.

At the present time, the cause of the disastrous fire is not known, and an exact estimate of the loss cannot as yet be established, altho' it is expected to run into several thousands of dollars, according to Mr. Harrington.

Burnt Out Family Has Home Rebuilt By Fellow Employees

Omemee (PNS) —Only two hours after Philip Lindsay left on a long planned motor trip the first week of July his home situated a short distance north of No. 7 highway east of Omemee and close to the Bethel Orange Hall and Bethel United Church caught fire mysteriously and was almost totally destroyed.

Friends spent a week vainly endeavoring to locate the Lindsay man, finally finding him in Detroit with his wife and four daughters.

Returning to find such a tragic event, they found refuge in a nearby farm home until preparations for rebuilding were made. His fellow employees of the CGE clubbed together. After work each day and during weekends they motored out to Emily Twp. to measure, saw, nail and carry out all the trades of house building. Finally last week a gang of willing helpers set out to completely wire the rebuilt home which will be ready to move in. Donations of furniture and a cash collection also were made.

Mr. Lindsay thinks they are a great group of fellows.

Flying Saucer? —Not Quite, Ground Saucer

Something new, it seems, is appearing on the market this year for the kids. According to the manager of the T. Eaton store here, sleds and toboggans have a new competitor that appears at first glance to look like a grounded flying saucer.

Actually, what this odd looking thing is, is a sheet of aluminum, curved something like a saucer, with two sturdy handles welded on the inside. The object is for the operator to climb aboard this "dish" at the top of a slippery hill, have someone give a shove, then all he (or she) has to do is hang on. As a store spokesman says, the ride down should provide all kinds of intereting prospects, and should really catch the imagination of the young fry.

This novel form of sled may have really been born years ago when children would skid down an icy hill on a large piece of cardboard, a discarded dishpan or a tub.

Pastor and Wife Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -- An event of interest to Fenelon Falls residents took place in St. Mary's, Ontario, when Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Suggitt were At Home to their friends on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The ladies of Beachville and Salford Baptist Churches assisted in the preparation of the lunch of which Mrs. Ruth Williamson, a friend of the family for many years, had charge. She was assisted in the afternoon by Mrs. K. Brydges of Oil Springs; Mrs. E. Simpson, Mrs. Gwen McClelland and Mrs. A. Russell of St. Mary's. In the evening Mrs. B. Taylor, Mrs. E. Holland, Mrs. E. Betteridge and Mrs. Ross Edwards assisted.

Two Busloads From Lindsay Witness Marian Year Pageant

Two busloads of Lindsayites travelled to Toronto Wednesday to witness the Marian Year Pageant in Toronto, which is directed by the drama expert of worldwide fame, Father Lord. This year he directs the gigantic historic spectacle though he himself is very ill, confined for the most part of his time in hospital in Toronto.

Arrangements for this trip were finalized at the October regular meeting of the Catholic Women's League here. Mrs. J. Tully acted as secretary, in place of Miss Guiry who had a serious fall recently. Mrs. Tully and Mrs. Greenan were in charge of the evening's lunch and programme.

Miss Meagher, Victorian Order of Nurses, established in Lindsay, spoke to the assemblage and outlined her VON work here.

Miss Anne Crowley, pianist, and Mr. Gordon Traynor, violinist, supplied the musical portion of the evening.

Spiritual director, Monsignor McAuley, spoke to the League members before the meeting closed with the hymn "Holy God, we praise Thy name."

Mrs. Leo O'Reilly, president of Lindsay Subdivision gave a report of the Provincial Convention in Ottawa, which she attended in September as delegate. She termed it the 7th annual provincial convention of the Ontario Council of the Catholic Womens League of Canada. The theme of the convention was "Our Lady, Patroness of Vocations," and some 176 delegates, representing more than 50,000 Catholic women in 12 Ontario dioceses, attended the four-day session in Convention Hall at the Chateau Laurier Hotel. Of special interest to Mrs. O'Reilly's hearers were the seven projects that were reported by other Ontario delegates. They were: (1) the raising of $1,000 to furnish a room in a local hospital; (2) Bursary for a needy Seminarian; (3) day of special prayer for priests; (4) sponsoring of an immigration centre for new Canadians; (5) establishment of a camp for girls; (6) weekly recitation in the church of The Rosary during Marian Year; (7) establishment of 70 study groups and 10,000 Canadian Register subscriptions with the resultant commission of $6,000 for their diocese. Speakers at the Provincial Convention included Bishop Lemieux, Bishop Smith, Monsignor Byrne and Bishop B. I. Webster of Peterboro who is the provincial director of the Catholic Women's League in Ontario. Mrs. Delaney of Chapleau, provincial spiritual convenor, presented a spiritual bouquet of 500,000 Rosaries, one from each Ontario League member to Bishop Webster, lately installed as Bishop of Peterborough. The business sessions at the Ottawa Convention produced the folowing recommendations: (1) more stress was urged on the spiritual side of League work; (2) mothers were asked to keep salacious reading matter out of homes; (3) establish discussion clubs and (4) always be ready to assist parish director.

Mrs. O'Reilly had also attended a Diocesan Convention in the summer. The dinner speaker, Rev. Father Coughlin, CSSR, chose as his subject the first bishop of Peterboro -- Bishop Francis Jamot from Havarre, France, who came in 1858 to the diocese of Peterboro. Miss Mollie Baker of Lindsay was given special welcome. She is an honorary life member and was the oldest present. Rev. V. J. Corkery, V.C., celebrated the convention Mass, and Father Coughlin who had been associated with Toronto's Archbishop McNeil in the League's early days, told all that a penitential atmosphere in the home was desirable but not necessarily sackcloth and ashes. "Seek always to help others," he concluded.

Both hail from Bradford. Mrs. Shaw came via the Maurentania to New York.

Mrs. Walter Douglas, Lorneville, Wins Car At Minden Carnival

Minden (PNS) -- In spite of the drizzle and rain on Saturday, the Carnival sponsored by the Minden Recreation Centre Board proved very successful.

A carnival and street dance had been planned and final arrangements had been made when the rain began. Everything had to be moved to the Arena. A large crowd attended and enjoyed a good time playing games of chance, listening to a musical program. Mr. George Laidlaw put on a fine display of magic tricks. A well attended bingo game was run in the auditorium. A fish pond proved to be a spot of interest for the children. At ten o'clock dancing began in the auditorium and round and square dancing was enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance.

The highlight of the show was the draw on the Bel Aire Chevrolet. Mr. Clarence McInerney chose three men from the audience, who were from three differen Ontario cities. These men churned the large drum containing the tickets, and Mrs. Cooper from Toronto drew the lucky ticket bearing Mrs. Walter Douglas' name of Lorneville, Ontario. A prize was given to Master Harry Sutherland of Minden for having sold the largest number of tickets. He was presented with a new bicycle.

The committee in charge of this event are to be highly congratulated on the success of the entire program.

Deer Plentiful In District? Find Much Illegal Venison

In a recent report issued by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, the District Forester W. A. G. Thurston states that the results of a recent search made by Department officers in the Apsley area would seem to indicate that deer are plentiful this year. Out of six houses searched, five were found to contain venison. As a result of the search, charges were laid and the convicted offenders, all of Apsley paid $100.00 and costs each for being in possession of venison during the closed season of the year.

It is of interest to note that justice sooner or later catches up with poachers of game, stated Mr. Thurston. And it may also be of interest to some to know that the Department of Lands and Forests can identify venison from other meats, and this fact should make poachers a little more dubious as to the wisdom of their activities. The fact that the meat may be skinned, or cooked, does not prevent its identification.

Mr. Thurston also mentioned that for the past week a helicopter has been stationed in the Lindsay district, and had been used for cut and land inspection by the district staff. Another job it was called upon to do was to assist in mapping a timber trespass area.

Fish and Wildlife Conservation Officers used the machine on the Thanksgiving weekend for patrol purposes. This work was quite successful, as two fishing rods and six guns were seized from game law violators.

Rain Damages Crop

Omemee (PNS) -- Continued wet weather has resulted in some extra late harvesting between showers. One unfortunate farmer still has a large field of fall wheat yet to combine if the chance ever comes.

Potatoes on low clay land are rotting badly and many are forced to wash them. Those with corn, clover and buckwheat are also experiencing much difficulties on low wet fields.

Barn Burned Down

Mount Horeb (PNS -- On Sunday while enroute to Oshawa a local family took particular notice of a lovely barn situated close to the road at Burketon. On their return trip they were surprised to see the same barn completely burned with only the foundation left standing.

A threshing machine that apparently had been in the barn was standing in the yard badly singed but able to be repaired.

Little Looting But Vigilance Only Deterrent

The worst storm in living memory struck Lindsay and district late Friday and was still raging unabated as this was being written at 11.15 p.m.

Lowering skies with bursts of torrential rain which became continuous as night approached, preceded the storm of hurricane proportions.

As the storm grew in intensity, trees and utilities poles began toppling at various points in the town.

THE START

A heavy limb on Victoria Ave N., at Peel Street came tumbling down in early evening and temporarily blacked-out the Sylvester Apartment house. It just missed a parked car and left another limb dangling.

LARGE AREA OUT

Not long after this a large section of the downtown area, including the north side of Kent Street, was blacked-out when a string of poles went down on William St. North, above Manley Motors.

SIX POLES DOWN

Police and hydro workers blocked off the area and repair work was commenced --one pole-- the cross arm on it --, leaned on the roof of the house and jewellery repair shop just below Bond St. Four poles and a tree were reported down in the block.

Going to the scene, a representative of "The Post" was warned away ---wires were said to be down in the danger area. Circling back through the downtown area and up Cambridge as far as Bond Street, numerous limbs and branches were encountered. At Bond and Victoria Ave., a tree was sprawled across a lawn.

AT 11.20 P.M.

At 11.20 p.m. there was a brief lull in the storm and skies lightened to the south —a band of light spread over the southern horizon and a lone star shone briefly. By 11.30 p.m. the storm gained fresh fury and lightning was flashing at intervals. The wind was very high.

THE HOSPITAL

LOOTING

Looting of parked cars was feared by police at one stage in the storm, but it was kept in check.

TRAIN SERVICE HALTED

Train service between Lindsay and Toronto was cut early in the storm. Train No. 94, Lindsay-bound, was derailed at Markham around 7 p.m. The derailment occurred at mileage 46 and the engine, baggage and express cars were reported off the tracks. All passengers were safe, officials said. A bus was being dispatched to pick up the passengers and carry them to their destination, officials said.

TRAIN CUT OFF

Train No. 95, out of Lindsay and bound for Toronto, was halted at Blackwater. At one time it was completely isolated by washouts on the Woodville division and near Manilla Junction. A bus was also reported to be on its way there.

VILLAGE POWER GONE

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

A serious accident occurred at Reaboro in early evening. A car left the road in front of J. Blair's home. It travelled up the ditch and crashed into a maple tree. Its two occupants --both men-- were hurled out. One man is reported to have gone through the windshield head first. One was hospitalized at Lindsay. The man who went through the windshield is reported to have landed face down in a ditch partly filled with water.

POLICE WITHOUT POWER

Both Provincial and Town Police were without lights for much of the storm. Communication by radio broke down at the Town Police Dept. between car and station, when the station power went off. They had no auxiliary power. The OPP radio station at Peterborough went silent early in the storm, but Lindsay O.P.P. retained car to car contact.

PHONE SERVICE GONE!

At 12.05 when the writer went to place a phone call the line was dead. That made it almost total --- no lights, no radio, no telephone. The candles and car were still in working order.

CAT ENJOYS IT, NOT DOG

The cat acquired by the writer in early summer was apparently enjoying the storm --- It continually wanted to go out and when out chased blowing debris. Not so the dog of 14 years or so. It was noticeably disturbed.

RAPID TEMPERATURE DROP

The temperature, which had been behaving erratically during the day, fell sharply around midnight. At one point in the day, the reading was 54. By 5.30 p.m. it had risen to 60 and went to 62 in the early evening. It held there until around 12 p.m. when it started to lose ground rapidly. It was about 52 at 12.20 a.m.

TREE FALLS ON CAR

A tree fell across a car in the vicinity of Lynpark No one was reported injured. Details on this elsewhere. A car on Victoria N. and Peel missed the turn and skidded up the railway tracks.

TWO FIRES REPORTED

As the storm moved into its full fury, fire calls were reported coming in fast. One was on St. Peter Street and another at the Trent Valley Bakery on Victoria N. Details on these also appear elsewhere in the paper. Although as far as could be ascertained they were considered to be confined to shorted hydro wires.

AT 12.30 a.m.

Still no power, no phone, etc., plenty of wind, but there was evidence that the storm might be abating somewhat. The moon showed itself at brief intervals as clouds went scurrying across beneath it.

From CAMERON

Garage Blows Away, Car Rams Tree

Hurricane news predominated in this area as in much of southern Ontario Saturday.

A roof was taken off the barn on the farm of Harry Eyres at Cameron and the garage on Roy Perrin's property was lifted off its foundation and thrown onto the road. It has since been removed by a bulldozer.

Chimney Wrecked By Leaning Tree

A chimney on the house of Mr. R. W. Pitts, 80 Cambridge St. N., at Francis, was ruined by the hurricane. It crumbled when a heavy tree not far distant leaned over on it. The weight of the tree cracked a rafter in the roof near the chimney but Mr. Pitts said Saturday a.m. he had that well braced and there was no other damage.

Life Aboard Stranded Train

Local Man Bolsters Morale

A Lindsay man, Mr. D. "Babe" Heels is credited with being one of the heroes of the big storm. Early in the evening he organized sing-songs, and kept the morale of the marooned passengers up. Mr. Heels was one of some eight Lindsayites who were among the passengers stranded all night on the way from Toronto to Lindsay by rail.

No one was hurt, says Miss Mickey Meehan, R.N., of Lindsay, who was coming home for the weekend from St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto. She told the reporter from "The Post" that around 6.45 p.m. the engine and baggage car were completely derailed. The first coach rocked back and forth ominously and people in it were eased back to coaches farther back by the crew.

Miss Meehan had high praise for the farmers of the locality, Markham Lions' Club and trainmen who came through the coaches three and four times with hot coffee, sandwiches, blankets, etc., throughout the long hours of the night. One coach was equipped with emergency heating, C.N.R. officials told "The Post" Sat., so the added hardship of cold was not too serious.

Farmers wives extended an invitation to the marooned ladies to spend the night in their homes. Miss Meehan says quite a [illegible] availed themselves of their hospitality, but most women stayed in the heated coach which was assigned to the women by train crewmen. A lot thought, as she herself did, that they were dry and out of the storm in the coach, and did not wish to risk further possible disaster in the cold, wet, wind-swept rural countryside.

Mr. F. S. Chidley left Little Britain for the scene of the train accident after being called on the telephone early Saturday by his son who also was among the train passengers. He found when he got to Markham that trucks and buses had brought the people off the train to the town around six a.m. Mr. Chidley loaded his car and brought the Lindsay people home after their harrowing experience. Those indebted to Mr. Chidley are his son, Miss Meehan, Mrs. Laidley, wife of Dr. C. Laidley, Mr. John Elliott, and Mr. E. D. Ecobichon, former manager of the Bell Telephone Co. here.

Old Pine Grove Is Flattened At Pleasant Pt.

A grove of pine trees which has weathered the storms of many years fell before the terrific onslaught of Friday night's hurricane. The pine grove on Pleasant Point was lying flat on the ground following the fearful storm. It comprised about 72 trees. Arthur Burridge, Century House proprietor and chief supervisor of the Point told "The Post" Saturday the storm was "quite a thrilling experience." He and Mrs. Burridge were virtually alone there during the wild storm.

Lindsay Engineer and His Fireman Swim For Their Lives And Win

A Lindsay railway engineer --- Engineer Barnett --- had a hair-raising experience Friday p.m. when his Lindsay-bound train was derailed between Markham and Stouffville. According to those who know the details, the engineer had the brakes on his train partly set when the engine left the tracks and slid into the creek which intersects the line between Markham and Stouffville. When the engine hit the water, he and his fireman jumped into the water and started swimming. They couldn't see a thing but they managed to make the opposite bank of the swollen stream. In doing so they cut themselves off from their train because the bridge was washed out and there they were. Catching their wind for a few minutes in the driving rain, they set out on foot to walk the two miles or so back to their train via a circuitous route.

Meanwhile the rest of the train's crew were without knowledge of what the two men's fate had been for the best part of two hours.

To make matters worse, the train itself had become isolated in the meantime by water flooding the tracks behind. The train was in charge of Conductor Cottam, of Toronto, whose crew was made up entirely of Toronto men except for the Lindsay engineer.

The engine rolled over and settled on the bottom.

Transformer Bank Crashes On William St. N. House, Sends Arm Through Roof

One of the most harrowing experiences to occur in Lindsay during Friday night's wild storm happened at the home of Wm. French, William St. N. A heavily-laden hydro transformer pole snapped off at its base and sent its cross-arm plunging through the roof of the French house.

Mr. French told "The Post" on Saturday his son, Jimmie, 11, had just left the room when the cross-arm came crashing into it. Early Saturday it was still there and the room was partially exposed to the elements. A tub full of plaster and debris, set up to catch the rain the previous night, was still there.

The heavily laden transformer pole was blown across the north corner of the nearby house.

Mr. French said he had heard quitet a crash and then the power went off. While he was investigating this the transformer pole came down on his own home. No one was hurt although they were frightened and somewhat worried about the hydro wires dangling all over the front of the house. He said he had called for needed hydro assistance to have the pole and wires removed but presumed they were too busy elsewhere to look after things. He was worried about the children milling around the fallen wires.

The pole crashed around 9 p.m. and at 9.30 Saturday oil was still dripping from the tilted transformer. Wind was blowing blobs of the oil over onto the porch of Carpenter's Grocery Store and plants around the trim French home were being literally "watered with oil."

As Mr. French surveyed the wreckage he observed that the house was a lot sturdier than he thought and credited this fact with preventing more serious damage.

1.26 Inches Of Rainfall

It rained pletny but not as much as some may have imagined during the big Friday night storm. A total of 1.26 inches rainfall was recorded by the Lindsay weather station.

Power Cut Off At Hospital Too, Use Candles, Lamps

The Ross Memorial Hospital says it was without hydro from about midnight Friday 'til 7 a.m. Saturday. A spokesman says they got along with candles and lamps and that the operating room was not needed. Auxiliary power is reported to be available only in the operating room in the event of an emergency.

How Lindsay Emerged From "Hazel"

It was the same story over much of Lindsay on Saturday in the wake of the most devastating storm ever to hit the community.

Trees and limbs were down on many streets, hydro poles have been snapped off at points . . . four on William St. north in a particularly hard hit section between Wellington and Francis Sts. . . trees are lying sprawled all over the place with several draped across cars and houses.

Norman Kay, Glenelg St. W., was busy first thing next morning getting work started on removal of a huge tree which blew over onto the back of his house at 11 p.m. Friday. The tree obviously had done considerable damage to the upper part of the house. Just a short distance down the street from Mr. Kay's there were two more trees down. One of these brushed a couple of parked cars, but these were not believed to be extensively damaged.

Power was on in some parts of the town until midnight, but main lines were cut at points in the North Ward. Thos. Cochrane, hydro foreman, predicted at 8 a.m. that power might be restored in a section of the North Ward, which included part of the north side of Kent St., by around midday but it was much later than that.

On Peel Street a huge tree split and a section fell across the roadway carrying with it hydro and telephone lines. Telephone service in this section went dead around midnight.

No one is reported to have been injured by the storm in Lindsay although there were some frayed nerves to calm when trees fell too close for comfort.

It was amazing the number of people who were abroad on the streets at the height of the storm. Some of them didn't fare so well either. A car on William St. N. was badly damaged and its hood lay some distance from the rest of the badly damage vehicle.

This situation is also duplicated in many parts of town where trees either fell across cars or made near misses.

On Angeline Street south, six trees down on the property of Mr. Brevda, R. R. 2, Little Britain road. A hen house was also damaged.

On Durham St. west a tree was uprooted behind Earl Cragg's store and a section of the sidewalk heaved.

Weeping willow trees in the Canadian National Railway station park were smashed, and the ground littered with limbs.

A tree was lying across the C.N.R. tracks at Duke and Durham Sts.

At 8 Wolfe St. a 1948 Ford car owned by Lorne McCallum was smashed by a falling tree. The tree ---a soft maple --- fell right across the nose of the car, crushing it into the ground.

At 200 Linday St. south a tree snapped, falling across wires.

Up at the Exhibition grounds the wind ripped out a section of the north entrance gates. They were dragged from the highway back into the grounds out of the way. No buildings on the grounds appeared to be damaged. Fields in the immediate vicinity were flooded.

A tree in the old section of Riverside Cemetery toppled and hit a couple of tombstones. Two big signs were down behind Lynpark and the same situation was duplicated elsewhere in town.

A tree was down on the sun porch of a house at 72 King St.--- R. A. Wainman's home.

At 10 Elgin a tree has gouged into the house breaking in the roof.

Police Chief Hunter said at noon Saturday about 30 trees were reported down in the town.

Even hydro employees weren't able to keep themselves in power. The service was ripped off hydro employee H. Willis' home on St. Peter Street.

A 1953 Plymouth was straddling a pole on St. Peter Street when dawn came.

A big tree was down behind Kelso's house and at 52 Logie St. a hydro pole and a tree were down.

At 42 Caroline St. two trees were across the road and had taken hydro wires with them. Macdonnell Park off Lindsay St. lost a tree in the big blow.

Many television aerials were wrecked in the storm but the percentage appeared to be small in proportion to the number in existence.

And so it goes. All around the town cleanup work is going on in the wake of the most violent storm ever to hit the area. Parks Board and hydro crews are apparently making good headway with the removal of fallen trees.

QUIRK:

There's sometimes a bit of humour in the most serious incidents and such was the case at Lindsay Friday p.m. Police Chief Hunter says his department received a call saying that a man armed with a shotgun was at large on Elgin St. Investigation revealed a respectable citizen, axe on shoulder, going to lend a hand to hydro crewmen working at a fallen tree.

Hydro Service Is Restored At Intervals

Hydro Service was restored in most of the downtown area around 2.30 p.m. after a break which paralyzed parts of the business section from midnight Friday on.

About 16 hydro crewmen were reported still on the job repairing breaks in various parts of town. Most of the East Ward is reported to have had its power restored early Sat. Visking Ltd. says its power was restored at 7.15 a.m. Elsewhere the power was being restored at varying intervals.

Parts of the South Ward were still out at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Bus Service Maintained

Bus service was maintained to and from Lindsay throughout the hurricane Friday night. This was learned from Colonial Coach Lines on Saturday. Buses from Toronto to Lindsay were about two hours behind schedule, but this was attributed by drivers to difficulty getting in and out of the Toronto territory.

Man Seriously Hurt In Reaboro Accident

There have been no bodily injuries reported in the town resulting from Friday p.m.'s storm, but car accident on the highway near Reaboro sent one man to the Ross Memorial Hospital. On Saturday his condition was reported as "fair", by nurses there. Mr. Dalas Johnson, 42, the injured man, comes from the Peterboro district. He is an Indian.

Sitting beside the driver, John Condon, of R.R.8, Peterboro, the Indian is reported to have grabbed the wheel and the car took to the ditch. It happened shortly after seven Fri. night when high wind and slicing rain unnerved many travellers and tried drivers to the fullest.

The Ontario Provincial Police received a call to the scene at 7.35, and Police Constable Mounsteven left to investigate. He reported that the Indian was suffering from shock, with leg injuries, jaw injuries and several cuts and bruises.

McArthur's Ambulance of Lindsay rushed the injured man to the hospital where he is still undergoing examination and treatment.

HILL REMOVED

Haliburton (PNS) —The hill in front of the Post Office on Hi-land St., has been removed and Mr. Joe Taylor and his men are making a nice job of it. Usually the stretch of pavement in front of the Post Office can rarely be used in winter as the ice forms there making it hazardous for pedestrians. The gravel has all been drawn away and when finished the spot will have a cement wall.

Robert Osborne

Kirkfield (PNS) -- A tragic accident brought a deep gloom to this community last Friday afternoon, September 24th, when little Robert Osborne, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Osborne, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Budd of Cannington and Mr. and Mrs. Osborne of Oakwood, was drowned in a cistern on the old McKenzie property.

The little lad was playing with a chum and in some unknown manner fell in and although a doctor and nurse worked over him for two hours the little lad failed to rally.

Robert was born August the 9th, 1951, was a very cheerful, friendly little fellow, and was already attending Sunday school. Left to mourn his passing besides his sorrowing parents are his four sisters, Marion, Audrey, Janet and Ruth.

The funeral service held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Kirkfield, on Monday, September 27th, was conducted by the Rev. A. S. MacLean. Interment was made in Lakeview Cemetery. The church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives. The many beautiful floral offerings bore silent tribute to the deceased. Four members of the Sunday school, Jimmy Hughes, Edward Freelen, John Thompson and Barry Truman, acted as pallbearers. The flower bearers were members of the Masonic Order, Messrs. John Revels, Jack Hughes, Jack Barker, Bill Ewen, Vernon Grant, Bill Brotherstone, Archie Jewell and Harold Roberts.

"Safe in the arms of Jesus,
Safe on His gentle breast,
There by His love o'ershaded,
Sweetly thy soul shall rest."

"Why" and "Who Was To Blame?" People In Distressed Area Ask

Civil Defense Need Stressed

(British United Press)

The people of the hurricane-ravaged Toronto area are asking "why" and "who was to blame"?

And a campaign to send aid to the victims of Hurricane Hazel is picking up donations and pledges far and wide.

One of the first official comments about the disaster that struck during the weekend is Major-General Frank Worthington, the Federal Civil Defense Co-ordinator. He says that much of the toll could have been avoided if people had been civil defense-conscious before it happened.

Said Worthington: "This disaster emphasizes tragically the absolute fallacy of not having a civil defense organization."

Worthington said he and two of his top aides "couldn't find even a semblance" of a civil defense organization "anywhere in the Toronto area."

The stricken regions have been assured of Federal aid. Prime Minister St. Laurent today sent a telegram to the mayors and reeves of all the affected area.

He said the southern Ontario areas hit would get aid in rehabilitating. Mr. St. Laurent said the aid would be the same as that applied in cases of other disasters.

Meanwhile, municipal and weather officials in the hard-hit district say it wasnt their job to warn riverside residents to get out before the floods swept down and killed at least 60.

Weather Bureau officials say their job was to forecast the rainfall and other conditions. They say they didn't have the facilities to predict floods in specific areas -- and it wasn't up to them to issue flood warnings.

The Toronto Metropolitan council chairman, Fred Gardiner, says he won't, as he puts it, "point the finger at anyone as being responsible for issuing any evacuation warnings."

Gardiner adds that "if people are going to build houses on low-lying land within reach of the river, they are going to get wet."

While the argument rages, a baby girl about four months old who survived a chain of harrowing flood rescues has been identified in a hospital. She is Nancy Thorpe of Long Branch, and she may now be an orphan. Relief workers say her mother, Mrs. Pat Thorpe, saved her but may have drowned herself.

This morning in Montreal, the city council observed one minute's silence for the victims, and offered to send help if it is wanted.

Many Drivers Tangle With Fallen Trees

Incidents of trees blown down, and accidents because of their being down, were repeated over and over on Friday night last.

At 6.45 a minor motor vehicle accident occurred south of Little Britain, between 3rd and 4th Concession in Mariposa Twp. OPP Constable Baker investigated collision resulting from a tree falling over the road, of cars driven by Francis Hackett, Little Britain, and Donald Mackinzie, R. R. 3, Little Britain. Police report damages of $85, but neither men hurt.

At 7 p.m. Delmar Rogers of Peterboro collided with a fallen tree on Highway 35. Damages are $90 to the vehicle according to OPP Constable Mounsteven who investigated.

At 7.55 a fallen tree blocked traffic on Highway 7, south of Lindsay, for about two hours. Officer Baker investigated when Donald Thrasher of Millbrook ran into a fallen tree, resulting in $85 damages.

At 7.55 p.m. a car driven by Albert Tway of Lindsay struck a tree on Highway 35. OPP Constable Plumtree estimates damages to Mr. Tway's car to be slight and the driver was uninjured.

At 10.10 p.m. west of Lindsay, ½ mile east of the CNR crossing on Highway 7, a car driven by Wm. Seaton ran into the ditch, but two young girls of Lindsay, Betty Pogue and Lorna Starr, were knocked down and immediately rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital.

What's this?

Lady Lying Across Car's Hood Merely Keeping Lid On In Storm

At midnight Friday, in the darkness of storm-swept Kent St., a car driving east made people lift their heads from their storm-bent positions and stare!

A lady was driving an old-model car, and another woman was lying across the hood of it!

When police stopped the car the explanation forthcoming was quite in order, and the ladies were left to proceed on their course towards East Lindsay in the storm.

The erratic wind evidently was keeping the hood of the car up, when it should, of course, be down when in driving position! And the little woman lay on the hood to keep it down when the catch refused to hold in the strong winds.

Four Men Patrol Streets To Prevent Looting Here

Reports of looting of cars on Lindsay streets during the power failure Friday night had no foundation in fact, it has been learned from the police.

Sergeant Eberts told "The Post" that four men patrolled the main streets with their out-sized flashlights all during the night, watching for just such incidents. The only case of looting which did occur, he says, perhaps had no definite bearing on the weather. A blanket and some tools was reported as having been stolen from a car on a parking lot.

William H. Barnsley

William Henry Barnsley, beloved husband of the former Amelia Merle James, passed away suddenly at his residence, 72 Melbourne St. West, Lindsay, on Friday, October 6th, at the age of 66.

Mr. Barnsley was born in Birmingham, England, and received his education at Cambray, Ontario. He had resided 45 years in this locality, before that at Zion-Fenelon. He was employed as conductor on the CNR, he was a member of the Order of Railway Conductors and of Queen St. United Church, Lindsay.

The funeral service was held from the J. Mackey Funeral Home, Lindsay, on October 8th at 2 p.m., conducted by Rev. A. E. Cresswell, of Queen St. United Church, assisted by Rev. D. McQueen. Pallbearers were Messrs. C. H. Heels, Gil Sanders, W. Bull, W. R. Curry, C. W. Hodgson and Charles Lamb.

Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his loss three sons and two daughter, A. W. Barnsley, Lindsay; Harry Barnsley, Oshawa; LAC Lloyd James Barnsley, RCAF, Centralia; Mrs. Oscar Brokenshire (Olive), Cameron, and Mrs. Frank Burke, (Doreen), Lindsay. Other relatives reside at Toronto, Omemee, Peterboro, Port Hope, Little Britain, Sprucedale, Kirkland Lake, Swastika, Lakefield and Lindsay.

PLOWING MATCH WINNERS

Sunderland (PNS) -- Clinton Clayton and Charles Woolacott represented Brock District High School at the North Ontario Plowing Match. The boys won honours for their school, capturing the third and fourth prizes, respectively, in the open tractor class for high schools and in the class for high school in Ontario County second and third placings.

The match held on the Leslie Byers' farm, Atherley, and the turkey dinner and concert, in the Uptergrove Parish Hall, which culminated the days interesting activities, were well attended.

Going To Dance During Storm, Girls Are Hit

The two young ladies, Betty Pogue and Lorna Starr, who collided with a car during the storm's height on Friday night are still in the Ross Memorial Hospital. On Saturday they were reported to have been taken there and released.

But the grandmother of one of the girls told "The Post" Mon. that they had been badly hurt and that they had been under Dr. Metcalfe's care since Saturday.

The 15-year-old girls were in collision with a car driven by William Seaton on Queen Street, while walking along Highway 7.

Latest news, after getting in touch with the Ross Memorial, is that the teen-agers were doing fine on Monday afternoon.

Isabeila Williamson

Omemee (PNS) -- On Saturday morning, October 2, there passed away in Toronto at the home of her son, C. Hillier Williamson, one of Omemee's oldest residents in the person of Isabella Elizabeth Kidd, wife of the late O. George Williamson.

Mrs. Williamson had been confined to bed with increasing physical weakness for the last six months. She was the third youngest of the 13 children of one of Peterboro County' pioneer Scottish families. Her father was James Kidd, a Lowlander, and her mother, Isabella MacNaughton of Highland Scottish birth. She was reared on the old homestead which her father had cleared from the primeval forest on the second concession of Dummer, two miles south of Warsaw.

Mrs. Williamson first came to Omemee as a milliner in the general store of the late T. Ivory and Sons and in 1893 returned as the bride of George Williamson, who kept the shoe store next to Ivory's. They established their home on King Street West where they lived until Mr. Williamson's death in 1945. Since then she had resided with her only son Hillier, a teacher in the Duke of Connaught Public School, Toronto, and has returned to Omemee each year to spend the summer in the old home.

Until recently, she was active in work of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church whre she served for many years as Sunday School teacher and for a time superintendent. She was greatly interested in the activities of the women's organizations having held various offices in the Ladies Aid and the WMS. For many years she took part in the annual canvass of the village for funds for the Bible Society.

The funeral se·vice was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, October 5th, at 3 p.m., and was conducted by the ministr, Rv. H. Kaye, assisted by Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Trinity United Church. Interment took place in the family plot in Emily Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Mr. J. R. Hawthorne, Warsaw; Mr. W. L. Murray, Toronto; Harry McQuade, W. Thorne, S. D. Vaughan, J. Windrem, all of Omemee.

Lindsay Run May Not Open By Thursday

Toronto, Oct. 1 (BUP) -- Canadian National Railways section gangs are working around the clock to repair more than 150 track washouts left in the wake of Hurricane Hazel.

The railway's Allandale division was the hardest hit and most of the main line washouts occurred between Toronto and Washago and between Toronto and Barrie. A number of branch lines, mostly in the Barrie area, were knocked out as well.

Meanwhile trains to and from northern Ontario and Western Canada were being rerouted via Belleville, Peterborough and Beaverton.

Officials expected that the main lines to the north through Barrie and Beaverton will be open toward the end of the week. The Scarboro-Lindsay line, which was heavily washed out, should be in operation by Thursday. The Lindsay-Orillia section of the Midland subdivision was opened for transcontinental trains today.

The Hamilton-Barrie line was completely washed out, and there is no estimated date for its reopening.

Bible Quiz Held at B.Y.P.U.

Reaboro (PNS) — A very interesting and instructive topic which took the form of a Bible Quiz was presented by Russell Skuce at the weekly meeting of the B.Y.P.U. which was held in the vestry of the Church.

The President, Douglas Burke conducted the meeting and after singing a hymn led the group in prayer. The Roll Call was a verse repeated by each member from Thessalonians and a psalm was read responsively led by Mr. Burke. As there was not any business, a hymn was sung followed by a session of prayer in which Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reeds and Mrs. Guy Littlejohn took part.

Mr. Burke called on Russell Skuce to give the topic for the meeting. Two teams were chosen having Rev. E. C. Smith and Keith Morden for the captains to answer the questions of the Bible Quiz and many of the questions caused the contestants much thought before giving their answers. It was a very good review of the books of the Bible as well as names, places and sayings that occur in the Bible. It proved to be an excellent subject for the meeting and all enjoyed it. Rev. Mr. Smith's team won the Quiz. After Mr. Skuce was thanked for his topic another hymn was sung and the meeting was brought to a close with prayer by Mr. Herb Thurston.

Another choir practice was held following the meeting in preparing for the Anniversary music for the service on Sunday. Mr. Keith Morden conducted the practice.

Omemee (PNS)—Dr. George Nelson Earle died suddenly in his office Friday evening a short time after his usual office hours. Born in Emily Township, 70 years ago, he was the son of the late William Earle, who died in 1937 and the late Mrs. Earle, who passed away in 1952. A sister Ola died about 30 years ago.

Before attending university of Toronto the doctor taught school in Reaboro, and at Orange Line and Orange Corners School in Emily Township. Following graduation in 1909 he interned in Harper Hospital, Detroit and came to Omemee with his bride in 1911 where he has practised since. He was Medical Health Officer for over 30 years, and was proud of the record of immunization in the schools under his care. Especially fond of children he had attended the entry into the world of many hundreds of local folk.

For many years the doctor covered the rural roads in winter with his snowmobile and like all rural practitioners, his tireless efforts and faithfulness at all hours of the night and day within a radius of many miles of Omemee, attending the ill and injured found him an extremely busy man with little time for recreation. The terrible influenza epidemic of some years ago taxed his physical powers to the limit.

He was a member of Trinity United Church and Lorne Lodge A.F. and A.M. 375.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Dr. Wm. Earle, who has been associated with his father, one daughter, Mrs. Wendell McNevin of Brampton, (Jane); one brother, Melville of Cobourg and three grandchildren, Jane and Anne McNevin and Peggy Earle.

The funeral service was held from Trinity United church Monday, following a private service at his home and interment in Emily Cemetery.

The sympathy of a legion of friends is extended to the Earle family in their severe loss. Citizens are stunned by the news of the suddenness of events. The beloved doctor had died in the harness, faithful to the end.

Films Shown At W. M. S. Meeting

The Thankoffering meeting of St. Andrew's WMS was held with the president presiding. The meeting opened with prayer, the singing of a hymn and Bible reading.

The main feature of the evening was the showing of films. These were very educational and interesting. The ladies of Cannington WMS were guests and were welcomed by the president. Also their minister, Rev. Mr. Hart. Mrs. Summerfelt of Cannington sang a solo.

The Men's Association, meeting this same evening in the schoolroom, were invited in to see the films.

The meeting closed with a hymn and the benediction by Rev. D. McQueen, after which all were invited to the schoolroom where refreshments were served and a social time spent over the tea cups.

Miss Jewett, on behalf of the Cannington ladies, expressed thanks for the very enjoyable evening. Mr. Folwell, on behalf of the Men's Club, thanked the ladies for their kindness in extending them an invitation. The ladies are grateful to Mr. Plattum who showed the films.

Trees, TV Aerials, Farm Buildings Are Hardest Hit

A trip through the Lindsay district indicates that this region escaped lightly from the hurricane in comparison with other centres, notably parts of surburban Toronto.

Creeks, rivers and lakes in this district are at or above spring flood levels. From Minden a report is received in which the correspondent says the Gull River overflowed its banks at points along its course over the weekend. The correspondent writes:

"Gull river water level is higher than old timers here can ever recall at this time of year. Fields are flooded, the golf course covered with water and basements are walled in pools.

"The high winds Friday night accompanied by torrential rain blew down trees, signs, tv. aerials and did other damage in the district.

"Even the fire truck had to be moved when its garage was threatened by the rising waters of the Gull River. Hydro was cut off in part of the town for several hours."

So much for Minden.

Many people visited Pleasant Point over the weekend following the report from Arthur Burridge of Century House on Saturday in which he stated that a pine grove along with many other trees had been bowled over by the winds. They found he had not exaggerated the situation in the least. Trees and wires were down all along the point although the west end was the harder hit. Pine tree, upon pine tree, interspersed with trees of other types were either flat on the ground or lying across a cottage or garage. No injuries were reported.

Out in Mariposa Township several buildings were damaged. The damage appeared from observations made over a considerable area, to be confined largely to barns. Hardy's Chick Hatchery at the 8th Concession and Taylor's Corners road intersection had a large section of its superstructure torn away. Richard Watt's barn farther west on the 8th line had a section of its roof removed and trees near the house uprooted. The Mariposa brook was swollen to spring flood level. Little Britain and Oakwood villages appeared to escape with shattered trees and wrecked television aerials. None of several roads travelled were blocked although there were some trees down alongside them.

Between Lindsay and Pleasant Point east and north of the town, damage seemed to be relatively light until the summer resort area was reached. Damage there became intense along the lakeshore.

In Lindsay a television installation man estimated that 50 of the town's estimated 500-600 television aerials were wrecked.

National Appeal For Disaster Funds Made By Ontario's Premier Frost

Toronto, Oct. 18 (BUP) -- Premier Leslie Frost issued a national appeal today for funds to help the victims of Hurricane Hazel.

After a three-hour tour of the flooded areas along the Humber River by car and plane, the Premier said the relief fund would require "a minimum" of ten million dollars in addition to any provincial assistance.

The Federal cabinet was to meet Tuesday to fix the size of its contribution. Finance Minister Walter Harris was visiting the stricken area to report to his colleagues.

The Atkinson Charitable Foundation made the biggest initial contribution of $250,000 to the official Ontario Hurricane Relief Fund established today.

Ford of Canada sent $25,000, the Hamilton Board of Control approved a $20,000 grant and the United Church of Canada gave $5,000.

Fred Gardiner, chairman of the Toronto Metropolitan Council, said it still was not possible to estimate the full magnitude of the loss, but he said it would run to 100 million dollars.

No Hydro Rate Boost Planned Saunders Says

Ontario Hydro does not plan to increase its basic rate to either municipalities or its rural customers next year, Chairman Saunders told the Hydro Advisiory Council Friday. His report was based on the Utility's financial statement for the first eight months of this year.

He told the council—set up to advise Hydro on policy — that amazing progress was being made on the frequency changeover program.

Members of the advisory council also received a confidential report on atomic power developments as a result of Mr. Saunders recent trip to Britain to study atomic work there. Negotiations for the relocation of St. Lawrence communities were also discussed.

Omemee Boy Badly Scalded

Omemee (PNS) -- Robert Hayes, age 2 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hayes, received severe scalds to the face and upper part of his body on Friday morning when he accidentally upset a pan of boiling water in his home.

Dr. Wm. Earle rushed him to Civic Hospital in Peterborough. The boy's mother also received burns in the rescue.

Two OPP Officers Go To Toronto's Disaster Area

Two Ontario Provincial Police officers from Lindsay detachment went to Toronto on Monday to be of assistance to the OPP and city police there in Toronto district's brave attempt to resume business life today after the weekend's epic storm.

Twelve men from Detachment 8, Peterboro Headquarters, rushed to Toronto early Mon. to relieve and reinforce the hard-pressed Toronto police force, Corporal Denniss of Lindsay informs "The Post."

11 Fire Calls

Eleven calls came to Lindsay Fire Department in Lindsay during last Friday's darkness and wind. When citizens heard fire reels around nine o'clock that night chills went up many a spine! There was such a high wind.

But Chief Wylie told "The Post" on Saturday that all of the eleven calls had to do with fallen wires, whose resultant "sparkle" frightened citizens. None was serious, the chief says. The fire reels' trip to St. Peter St. was not a house fire, but electric wire trouble on the street.

The pumpers at the fire station were in action for seven hours during the night, pumping water from overflowing sewers on Sussex-Melbourne St. section, where there was a bad flood situation, the fire chief says.

Warning . . .

Police Chief John Hunter has issued a strong warning to motorists attending soccer games in Kawartha Park. He told "The Post" parking on the school grounds in the area is illegal and his department will prosecute those who are caught violating the law. He cites extensive damage to the grounds as the reason for the drastic action.

Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a satin half crown and she carried a nosegay of white carnations. Mrs. Thomas MacLean attended her sister, wearing a street-length dress of blue Chantilly lace over taffeta with matching cap She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Successful Fair At Blackstock

The Institute Exhibits were very fine displays, with Bowmanville Branch winning 1st prize; Blackstock 2nd prize and Honeydale 3rd. Project was "When a girl marries."

The home-cooking and fancy work was especially good with Mrs. Reg. Boundy, Port Perry, (formerly of Cartwright Twp.) and Mrs. Sandy Moore of Shirley, (boundary line between Cartwright and Reach Twp.) winning a goodly share of the prize money. These two ladies deserve great credit for their efforts in bolstering up the calibre of Fairs held in agricultural areas, extending from Peterborough to Markham and to Lindsay in the northern area.

The poultry, grain, cattle, horse, racing, vegetable and fruit displays, were equally encouraging.

All present were loud in their praise of the Lindsay Boy's Band and their splendid renditions. They led the parade at the opening ceremonies. Other attractions were horseshoe pitching contest and other contests, trials of speed, etc. In the evening a concert was staged in the recreation hall with the Greenbank quartette entertaining.

The ladies of the United Church served a turkey supper to around 460 persons in the basement of the church. The farmers local union won 1st prize for the best float — "Horn of Plenty."

Delving into the past . . . again

James R. Shannon, Old Timer, Recalls When Alarm Clock Tricked Early Telephone User

Lindsay is delving into the past lately. Interest is being shown in the past, and of late particularly in a century or so into back history.

One of Lindsay's citizens, Mr. James R. Shannon, of Mill St., can recall a good deal of Lindsay as it was in 1885. He was a printer and learned his trade at the Post Printing Office, located then in the present Britton Block (right angle at the foot of Kent St.) Before his retirement, he was superintendent of the Stratford Herald.

He remembers a breakin at Beall's Store, when a man sawed a hole through from lawyer' offices on the second floor in the Keenan Block, and robbed Beall's Jewellery store below. Tommy Keenan built the block before Edward Benson came from Belleville and bought the block building. Lawyers' names of the period remembered by Mr. Shannon, are F. D. Moore, E. O. Orde, O'Leary and O'Leary, Hudspeth and Hopkins, John McSwain, etc. Dentists of the past were Dr. Neelands and Gross, Mr. Shannon says.

Milliners who plied their trade of decorating milady's head, made hats on the premises which usually was a sideline of a drygoods store. Boots were made by hand. Ladies or gentlemen entered a Boot and Shoe establishment and had their feet measured for custom-made shoes, relates Mr Shannon, telling of one Tom Connolly in the Boot and Shoe trade in 1884. Wm. Wright, Wm. Lyons were well known shoemen then as well as Larry Maguire. Chamberlain Shoe Repair was a small store here then.

"I came here in 1876, my father before me." Mr. Shannon tells a "Post" reporter. Where Claxtons is. hotels have been—Workman, Jewett, and Ingram's. A Mr. Brown of the Toronto Globe, originally established Post Printing, which was later bought out by C. D. Barr.

A. D. Mallon had a fruit store where Reub. Morris is now, to the left of where the Post Printing Office was in the present building at foot of Kent St. Britton Brothers were there too, (Gerry and Sam) in a combined business of Jewellery and Drugs?

Mr. Shannon remembers a T. Hickey confectionery store where they used to make huge pans of gingerbread and sell it at three cents for a good-sized piece. "Gosh, it was good", he says.

An English Church stood on the property where "The Post" is today, Mr Shannon remembers. Biglow Bros. (Silas and Obedia) were bankers then, and Lindsay had an Ontario Bank. The Grand Trunk Railway and Express office was run by F. Taylor. There was a Beall's Jeweller then (George Beall, grandfather of Lindsay's present George), and W. A. Goodwin (paints, wallpaper, picture frames), father of the "Billie" in the same business now, J. R. Dundas kept a dry goods store, and Flavelle brothers, his nephews worked for him This store stood where Eaton's now is. Bob Smythe, clothing and gents' furnishings was where Harold Wood clothing store is now. Later, this Smythe built the business block at Cambridge and Kent.

Knowlson and Gregory were druggists, and the profession stayed in the family of Gregory. Sam Perrin was another druggist in the old days and a Mr Higgenbottom too.

One could have fowl dinners for 25 cents then, and Mr. Shannon remembers Faucher's Restaurant where one got generous servings. Oysters (from a barrel) sold at 25 cents a quart!

The Post Office then was situated where Wainman's Jewellery Store is located. Jerry McCarty was a jeweller on William St. then. Mike O'Halloran had a butcher store, which was still in business under that name until just seven or eight years ago when the name changed to Central Meat Market.

There was a grocery and liquor store ---John Dobson's "You could get a license to sell it," says Mr. Shannon, "that's all there was to it". J. A. Costello was a customs officer. F. Jewett, Health Inspector ran a little candy store Tombstone man, Bill Farquarson was where Silverwood's is now. Spratt and Killen, Glassware and Groceries, had a store. The "Warder" office, run by Newton Bros., was located where Tangney's now have a furniture store. Where Jackson's Department Store stands, then was the store of Wm. Howe, stoves and tinware and his competitors were Billy Woods and McFeeley's.

Halftorf Furniture and Undertaker was where the Singer Sewing Machine store is now Woolworth's site now was a hotel run by an Irishman, Henry Hickey. Bob Lukey and Jim Pethick were Lindsay barbers.

John Petty was a jeweller. Connected to his store was Soanes Confectionery. Soanes had the first telephone in Lindsay, Mr. Shannon says. The jeweller used to set alarm clocks to go off, and Soanes would run to his telephone, excited about a call coming in to the then cumbersome instrument.

Names further that come out of Lindsay's business life of the past are: John Berry (Harness); W. Dixon (general store); A. Campbell, grocer; Duncan Ray, dry goods and millinery; Duchene, candy and carpentry; Geo. Millan, tailor; Thornbury, clothing and gents furnishings; P. J. Hurley, grocer. Dan Oliver, clothing and ladies wear; Morton's Confectionery and Fred Primeau, groceries There was a Joe Riggs Tobacco, Hector's Clothing, Charlie Bartlett, butcher, Weese's Bazaar (novelties); R. Thurston, hardware, John Kennedy a general dry goods, clothing merchant who also dealt in millinery.

Mr. J. R. Shannon compares the old days with the present . . . He is a well-travelled man and has seen most of Canada in his busy life He is a well-read gentleman and keeps abreast of the times. All acquainted with him, and readers of his reminiscences will agree he has a remarkable memory!

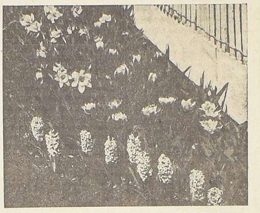
Two Months of Flowers in Spring, All from Bulbs



Hyacinths, early single and double tulips and daffodils flower at the same time.

For two months in the spring, fall planted bulbs supply most of the color in garden borders, with the least care of any flowers, because they blossom before weeds grow, or insects prey, or drouth injures garden plants.

A flowering bulb is a package deal. It contains, like seed, an embryo plant, plus food enough to nourish it until it produces a flower. The first flower will bloom with very little help from the soil it grows in, though feeding gives a larger flower. After blooming it requires extra food to develop a vigorous new bulb, for the next year's flower. If the soil is well drained and fertile, or plant food is supplied to make it so, tulips and daffodils will live for many years, giving a harvest of spring beauty every year.

The way the flowers are arranged, and the careful selection of varieties which give a succession of bloom over two months, are more important to a good display than planting large numbers of bulbs. In the early spring a small number of snowdrops, scillas, and crocuses, will make a big impression upon your family and friends, because they bloom when there are no other flowers to compete for admiration. Two dozen bulbs of each planted in groups will produce more conversation than many times that quantity of summer flowers. Snowdrops bloom as soon as the ground thaws out, and scillas, bluer than violets, then the blue and yellow crocuses, follow in succession.

Daffodils are the first major flowers of the spring. They are also the longest-lived in the average garden. In well drained locations bulbs will usually multiply, and need not be lifted until they crowd.

All the spring bulbs look much better when planted in informal groups rather than in rows, blocks, or masses. Five bulbs of one variety of tulips, or daffodils is the equivalent of a herbacious perennial plant. Such groups may be planted in the border, in company with other flowers, or grown alone at accent points with other flowers as background. The earliest tulips to bloom come before the daffodils have finished. The variety Red Emperor is earliest. This is a species, or botanical tulip, which means that it is a wild form, not a hybrid.

The most highly bred class of tulips blooms next. These are the early single and double tulips which were bred to grow in "carpet" beds, formerly popular in this country and still grown in Europe. The early tulips have bright, primary colors, and grow uniformly on short upright stems, tailor-made to use as pigments in a pattern of colors, often resembling carpet designs. They bloom almost two weeks earlier than the tall, late flowering Darwins, and groups of them properly placed will help keep the display of garden color continuous.

The original tulips to be grown in European gardens were tall, late flowering varieties of the group now known as Breeders, or Mother bulbs. From these all other garden varieties are believed to have been bred, including the Darwins, and the Cottage clans. Breeder, Cottage and Darwin tulips are catalogued separately in the catalogues, but confused in the popular mind, all being termed Darwins as a rule. There is no reason to separate them in the garden, since all bloom together and their colors can be grouped in attractive harmonies.

Visiting Auxiliaries Provide Program At Thankoffering

Woodville (PNS) —The Fall Thankoffering of Knox Presbyterian Church W. M. S. was held in the church with approximately 70 ladies present, Miss Islay Carmichael in the chair. The Auxiliaries of Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, and Bolsover were present and provided the programme for the afternoon.

After singing a hymn, Miss Carmichael heartily welcomed the visiting Auxiliaries and asked Mrs. Clarence MacKay, president of the Lindsay Auxiliary to occupy the chair. Mrs. Mackey expressed the pleasure of all the visiting ladies at being invited to share the Thankoffering and fellowship.

A hymn was sung and Mrs. D. N. Smith of Lindsay led in prayer, Miss Elliott of Fenelon Falls sang, accompanied by Mrs. Jackson at the piano. The scripture passage was read by Mrs. Follwell of Lindsay. This was followed by the singing of a solo -"Think on Me", by Miss June Waddell of Lindsay, accompanied by Mrs. Rutherford.

Mrs. D. McQuarrie of Lindsay, gave a very interesting talk on "Giving Thanks to the Lord". In it she pointed out the different ways there are of giving thanks. "First of all we say thanks for all the blessings and mercies which we have received; thanks for all material things thanks for the love and guidance of parents, Sunday School and Day School teachers, who have influenced our lives; thanks to God for the things He has taught us, knowing that if we do the right thing at the right time, and be the best of whatever we are, that is all the thanks God requires of us."

A hymn was sung after which Mrs. MacKay addressed the meeting. She too, chose the theme of "Thanksgiving", but approached it by comparing thanksgiving in the days of the Children of Israel, and the thanksgiving of today. The former were definitely religious celebrations and it was compulsory that the people attend them, particularly the Feast of Pentecost. Today, Thanksgiving is a pilgrimage home. Headlines in newspapers and announcements over the radio tell of huge crowds travelling etc., thereby commercializing one of the sacred times of our church life. Thus we are losing the vision of our Christian living, she said.

Mrs. Baer of Bolsover, accompanied by Mrs. C. Veale favoured with a solo. The offering was received and dedicated by singing the Doxology. Miss Waddell sang a solo "O be Joyful".

Mrs. Beckley of Woodville very graciously expressed the appreciation of all present for the programme which had been so much enjoyed. Mrs. W. W. Finney of Lindsay pronounced the Benediction.

A social hour was enjoyed and everyone went home filled with the true spirit of Thanksgiving to Him from who all blessings flow.

Reaboro Baptist Church Observes 81st. Anniversary

Reaboro (PNS) -- "An understanding of human nature, loyalty, service, money and vision are gifts that one can give to one's Church on its birthday," was a remark made by Mr. Norman Moore of Brantford, President of the Ontario-Quebec Convention of Baptist Churches when he addressed the congregation of the Reaboro Baptist Church at its 81st Anniversary.

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, fruit and vegetables which added much to the special services. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Smith, who was conducting the Gilmour service, Mr. Moore conducted the entire service and took as his text the following verse from Proverbs -- "Remove not the ancient landmark which thy fathers have set' and delivered an excellent sermon paying tribute to the pioneers of the church, stressing the fact that their fine work must be carried on and in conclusion Mr. Moore left a challenge with the congregation "for each one to have an understanding of human nature in church work and do away with pettiness, give loyalty -- always be in one's place, service -- in whatever capacity one is able to fill -- money and vision - to have a full church and work for one's vision and in concluding the speaker said, "an appropriate time to start giving these gifts to one's church was on its Anniversary and Thanksgiving day."

There was a large choir in attendance under the able direction of Mr. Keith Morden with Mrs. Gorden Morden organist, which led the congregation in singing the hymns and rendered the beautiful anthem, "Prayer of Thanksgiving" and a quartet comprising of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burke, Mrs. Douglas Burke and Mr. Keith Morden sang the old favorite, "Be Still, my Soul," which was much appreciated.

The evening service was in charge of Rev. Mr. Smith who extended a welcome to Mr. Moore and voiced his thanks and appreciation to the choir, the director, the organist, and to those who had sung special numbers, and the YPU for decorating the church and all those who contributed flowers, etc.

Mr. Moore based his evening sermon on the Scripture verse taken from Romans, "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ,," and explained fully what the Baptist Convention was doing to promote the Gospel in various places such as Newfoundland, where a new Church is being built and that there have been 50 new churches since the war and 22 are at present being built, thus spreading the Gospel of Christ far and wide. He also drew attention to the coming Baptist rally that is to be held in the CNE coliseum in May, 1955. In closing, Mr. Moore asked the members to start spreading the Gospel in their own community thus showing that they were not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ but would promote it.

The congreation was greatly impressed by the solo "Open Ye The Gates of the Temple" rendered by Mr. Keith Morden and very much appreciated the duet "Waiting on Jesus" which was beautifully sung by Mrs. Gordon Burke and Mrs. Douglas Burke. The choir also gave a very fine rendition of the anthem, "Wonderful Grace of Jesus" with Mrs. Douglas Burke taking the solo part.

Rev. Mr. Smith expressed his pleasure in having Rev. Malcolm Morden in the congregation and asked him to close the service with the Benediction.

Mount Horeb School Scene of Shower

Mount Horeb (PNS) —The gaily decorated school room of the Mount Horeb School was the scene of a gala evening when friends and neighbours gathered to honour Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mark with a miscellaneous shower.

Round and square dancing was enjoyed by the young folk. Messrs. Art Pogue and Tom Purdy supplied the music and Russell Wright and Fred Porter called off for the squares and reels.

Mr. Ross Park, as master of ceremonies asked Lois and Glen to come forward to the two decorated chairs. Mrs. Wm. McAlpine read the address. The best wishes for their health, happiness and long wedded life were given by all.

Lois and Glen thanked all for the gifts and good wishes and assured the assembly that they would carry their love and memories of the good years spent at Mount Horeb with them to their new home in Port Arthur.

A lovely lunch was enjoyed and the wedding cake duly sampled. A few more dances were enjoyed bringing a happy evening to a close.

Mrs. J. Robinson Gives Talk On History Of Wool

Reaboro (PNS) —"Sheep, Science and Fine Fabrics" was the name of one of the talks on Canadian Industries given by Mrs. J. Robinson at the October meeting of the Institute held at the home of Mrs. Delbert Hickson.

The President, Mrs. Jay Harper extended a hearty welcome to the members and visitors after which the opening Ode was sung and the Lord's Prayer repeated. Mrs. Delbert Hickson, the Secretary read the minutes which were approved, and several letters of correspondence read and discussed. It was decided to apply for the Educational Grant of three dollars from the Department. A "thank you" letter was read from Mrs. Eileen Foster who had received a basket of fruit during her recent illness. The secretary reported that the Cards for the TB Clinic had been received and were ready for distribution.

The Institute Convention was discussed at length and included the Omemee Institute's invitation to the Reaboro Institute to share a bus with them to attend the Convention for one day. As there weren't many members who could definitely promise to attend Mrs. Guy Littlejohn was appointed delegate to attend for the three days.

Mrs. Harry Hickson moved a vote of thanks to all the members who had made articles for the Fair Exhibit which had won third place. It was decided to sell any articles that were left from the Exhibit. It was further decided to hold a bazaar and bake sale at the Moose Hall in Lindsay in November and the Fair articles could be sold then along with aprons, holders, knitted articles and various other articles useful for Christmas gifts. Mrs. Harry Hickson was appointed to make the final arrangements about the bazaar.

Mrs. Jack Glazebrook gave a report on the two-day Leaders' Training School which was held at the Dept. of Agriculture and stated "that they hoped to have a Girls' Group started soon.

Mrs. Elmer Mahood, Convener of Canadian Industries and Agriculture was responsible for the program. Mrs. Harry Hickson read Current Events which proved of great interest.

Mrs. Jim Robinson gave a most interesting and informative talk on the largest Woolen Mill in Canada, is the Dominion Woolen and Worsted Ltd., at Hespeler, Ontario. This talk was in story form depicting a young couple objecting to the price of woollen suits but after taking a tour of the Dominion Woollen Mill and being shown the different processes the wool goes through before a fine fabric is produced they changed their minds. The history and growth in the last few years at the mill and the explaining of Nylon, Orlon and rayon proved interesting. 7,476,076 yards of military material had been made during the war. After learning all these facts the young couple realized why woollen suits were so expensive and were willing to pay the price quoted. These were certainly enlightening facts concerning the wool industry for the W. I. members. Mrs. Robinson also gave a short paper on Bees called, "Our House is Full of Honey" which proved to be humorous as well as revealing many facts concerning bee culture.

The president thanked Mrs. Robinson for her intereseting papers on Canadian Industries. The leaders of the different groups gave a brief report of their activities. Miss Iris Sloan and Master Jimmy Sloan delighted the members with two beautiful duets entitled, "My Mother's Bible" and "Whispering Hope". Mrs. Mahood moved a vote of thanks to all those taking part in the program. It was regrettable that Mr. LeRoy Brown who was to have shown an Agriculture Film was unable to be present.

The meeting was brought to a close by repeating the Creed and singing the National Anthem. A delicious lunch was provided by the hostesses, Mr. Ellen Calvert and Mr. Walter Fleming and served by Mrs. Harry Hickson, Mrs. Kenneth Thorn and Mrs. Delbert Hickson. Many of the members took the opportunity of visiting Mrs. Hickson's mother Mrs. Carl in her room before they went to their homes. All the members thanked Mrs. Hickson for her gracious hospitality.

Patricia Bradburn Becomes Bride Of Jas. T. Watson

Janetville (PNS) -- The Janetville United Church was the setting for a lovely autumn wedding on Saturday afternoon, September 18, when Helen Patricia Mae, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Bradburn, of Janetville, became the bride of James Theodore Watson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Watson, of Norland, Ontario.

Baskets of gladioli, roses and chrysanthemums formed a beautiful background for the evening.

Rev. R. Bonsteel was the officiatin clergyman and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Horace Heaslip. Before the ceremony and during the signing of the register, Mr. Norval Watson of Rosedale, rendered three very beautiful solos, "Bless This House", "The Lord's Prayer" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of ivory brocade taffeta, featuring a tight bodice with V-neckline and a row of tiny buttons both back and front. The skirt fell in graceful folds from a padded hipline, and her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held by a pearl and rhinestone headdress. She carried a shower bouquet of deep red roses and wore the gift of the groom, a rhinestone bracelet.

The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Maurice Bradburn, of Toronto, matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Jacqualine Watson of Norland, sister of the groom, and Miss Lois Armstrong of Lindsay. All three wore similar gowns of cardinal silk velvet, floor length, with fitted bodice and full pleated skirt and small red velvet hats, studded with rhinestones. They each carried a wicker basket of white gladioli with white satin bows on the handles.

The groomsman was a friend, Mr. Aubrey Gostin of Norland and the ushers were Mr. Maurice Bradburn, of Toronto, brother of the bride, and Mr. Cecil Watson, of Copper Cliff, cousin of the groom.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were jet necklace and earring sets and the grooms gifts to the groomsman and ushers were wine ties and socks and to the soloist a wallet.

The reception was held in the COF all in Janetvile, which was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells. The tables were made lovely with candles in small flower filled candle holders, while the beautiful wedding cake, flanked by tall tapers, graced the bride's table. The bride's mother received, wearing a grey suit with mauve accessories and corsage of mauve and yellow 'mums. She was assisted by the mother of the groom who chose a blue grey suit with red accessories and corsage of red roses.

Later the happy couple left by motor for a honeymoon trip to Northern Ontario and points west. For travelling the bride wore a cardinal silk velvet dress, cardinal hat, grey coat and accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and small white 'mums.

Local Damage

ings. We have reports of traffic stopped with trees across the roads; considerable damage to hydro and telephone wire; but nothing beyond repair.

The greatest inconvenience was caused by the disruption of the hydro service early on Friday evening; came on for about an hour at nine o'clock and was off for the remainder of the night and until 4:30 a.m. on Sunday. How quickly we take things for granted! It is just twenty-six years since Hydro came to Bethany, bringing with it all the advantages of electricity. How did we manage before?

On Saturday morning, farmers had no power for their electric milking machines and cream separators and we heard quite a few complaints. They had forgotten that at one time this was all done without electric power. Taking a quick run down the main street, we found Andy Watson was doing some worrying about the power being off so long in the Cold Storage Locker, which is a part of his store. Hope Rayson, Manager of Master Feeds could not grind any grain for the farmer until the power line was repaired. Reg. Edmunds, who has the grocery store and meat market was wondering what would happen to his supply of meat, for his refrigerator and counter had entirely defrosted during the night, neither could he use his electric meat slicer and grinders. Bruce Ryley was not only thinking of the effect on his refrigerated stock, but doing some shivering at the same time, for his oil burning furnace depends on electricity. At the McMaster Snack Bar, Ice Cream was their chief worry and they had a truck pick it up and take it to Port Perry, where for some unknown reason, they still had hydro power. The telephone operators all had sore wrists, having to resort to ringing numbers with the hand crank. (Ever use one of those old wall phones that you ring by hand? Just think what it would be like to answer every call that came in to a switchboard and ring the numbers that way.) A. H. Monk had quite a pile of repaired shoes standing in line awaiting their final finish on the electric buffer and polisher. Orloe Wright, the Barber, missed his electric clippers. The garages, owned by Frank Martichenko and Preston Neals found business a little low with no gasoline sales and no air for tire, nor power to run their electric equipment.

And what of the home owners and housewives? No lights, seemed to be the chief worry and old forgotten coal oil lamps were resurrected from attics by those who had saved them. Bruce Ryley reports a rushing business in the sale of lampglasses (must have been over-stocked sometime) as well as candles, coal oil and flashlights. A good many homes were without heat, depending on electrically run oil burning furnaces. No one had toast for breakfast. Refrigerators were water soaked inside. No washing, nor ironing on Saturday morning. We know of several families who cooked meals on small Coleman camp stoves usually used for summer picnics. The funniest thing we heard was of the lady with her electric vacuum cleaner plugged into the wall outlet and then asking her husband if he would mind looking at it to see what was wrong. "It wouldn't run!" We were surely inconvenienced, but we were lucky. Bethany is still a fairly safe place to live in.

Alias Basil Willing

A Thrilling New Murder Adventure . .

XXXVI

Basil Willing told Gisela of another analogy between Dr. Bertrand of "Mrs. Lirriper" and Dr. Zimmer. "This", he said, "was when Rosamund said to Perdita Lawrence: 'You will notice only one thing out of the ordinary there. A certain number of us never speak of the future.' In the book by Dickens: 'No one alluded to the future. Nobody spoke of tomorrow.'

"Those guests were all suicides and knew it. Zimmer's guests were all vicarious murderers or their unconscious victims. For the murderers it would be psychologically impossible for the tongue not to stumble now and then.

"I reread the whole story of Dr. Bertrand and discovered that Rosamund deliberately used one phrase from it the evening I met her at Zimmer's house. 'We are all supposed to know each other.' Dr. Bertrand used that formula to avoid introductions. It was like Rosamund to risk my recognizing that phrase. She wasn't in this just because she loved Zimmer and wanted Theron Yorke's money without Thereon Yorke. She was satiated with every experience ingenuity could devise and money could buy; and danger, real danger, was a new sensation.

"That was what brought such a morbid glow to her cheeks and such a sheen to her eyes. Rosamund could not resist giving me another hint that first evening just for the thrill of gambling that I wouldn't guess the truth. 'I always thought you were on the other side of the fence' —the fence between crime and law enforcement, between the killer and the healer. No wonder her voice had an odd tone when she exclaimed: "To think of meeting you here!"

"She must have wondered whether I was a potential murderer or a potential victim, for she knew that generally there was no other reason for anyone to dine at Dr. Zimmer's. Only victims and outsiders were led to believe that he gave dinners in order to study the social behavior of neuratic patients.

"Zimmer allowed us to know about Duggan's license because the sooner the body was identified, the sooner the investigation would be over. He thought it safe to let us see the license as long as he destroyed the check and the wallet, so we would not know positively that he knew Duggan was employed by Katherine Shaw. Unfortunately two women reached the breaking point —Perdita and Isolda.

"Perdita had told him that she knew Duggan's death was not evthanasia but murder and that she would go to the police if anyone else died after dining there. If he poisoned the girl herself he would have another suspicious death on his hands, for she was not taking sedatives. He decided to silence Perdita by poisoning her father before she went to the police. Then she could not accuse Zimmer of killing her father without accusing herself at the same time. For he would tell the police it was a mercy-killing instigated by Perdita herself and he had evidence to prove it—wire recordings of their earlier conversations.

"When Stephen Lawrence survived the attempt on his life, Zimmer threatened to break her father's heart by giving him the evidence that his daughter had planned to kill him and suggested that she did it not for mercy, but because she was tired of taking care of him?"

"Poor Perdita . . . And now?"

"She will get off lightly, for her evidence is going to help build the State's case against Zimmer," answered Basil. "Stephen Lawrence understands Perdita and his love for her is unchanged. Eventually she will marry her newspaperman and they will probably be happy.

"Charlotte Dean and Greta Mann are both out of it. Thereon Yorke will have to rebuild his life as best he can. Rosamund, Brinsley Shaw, the Cannings and Zimmer will be tried for murder."

"Zimmer had to use a great variety of poisons in order to give each victim an overdose of the particular drug he was already taking as medicine. And Zimmer had to use each poison in animal experiments to estimate correctly the dose that would kill a particular victim several hours after he left Zimmer's house. These had to be disposed of somehow because they were tangible evidence the police could use in court if ever suspicion was aroused. The easiest way was simply for Otto to bury them in the garden. Poisonous liquids were simply emptied on shrubs and flower beds. Of course that did not harm the plants. But it did saturate the seeds and elderberries that birds eat. Every bird that came to Zimmer's garden died until the birds learned to avoid it. The little garden beyond Zimmer's drawing-room windows became a zone of silence.

"The blind have plenty of time for study. Miss Shaw came of a generation that read 'Mrs. Lirriper's Legacy." Putting two and two together, she must have played with the fancy that Dr. Zimmer was a Dr. Berrand. One day she may have asked herself a little humorously: 'But who could possibly want to kill me?' Perhaps an answer suggested by something Brinsley said in her presence. Miss Katherine Shaw chose the alias 'Basil Willing' for Duggan. She thought Zimmer would be so eager to meet a fellow psychiatrist that he wouldn't be suspicious. And it was from Miss Shaw that Duggan got the phrase from Keats.

"Blind Katherine Shaw would notice that birdsong was as remote there as the sound of traffic. Such an oasis in the city should have been the haunt of birds and yet—no birds sang . . ."

"Not in that garden! They couldn't!" With a little shiver, Gisela nestled closer to her husband.

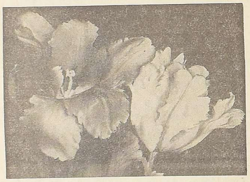
Modern Parrot Tulips Tops in Size and Color



Petals of Parrot tulips are attractively fringed.

Though parrot tulips have been known since the seventeenth century, in the last few years they have gained over all other types in popularity and beauty.

They have larger flowers than any other tulips, with thicker petals, which are laciniated, which means "slashed into narrow pointed lobes." The colors are seldom solid, but always brilliant, and usually include a touch of green. Their resemblance to the colors of a parrot gives an obvious explanation of their group name.

In prewar times parrot tulips were usually sold only in mixtures, including different colors. The first named variety was Fantasy, still considered by many to be the most beautiful. It was said to be a mutant of the Darwin tulip Clara Butt, a favorite true pink. Mutants are new plant forms that are not intentionally bred, but rather discovered growing in a planting of their close relatives.

Since the war, numerous other named varieties have been introduced, many of them said to be mutants of popular Darwin varieties. There are purple, orange, red, yellow, violet and near black varieties.

The modern parrot tulips have stronger stems than the older types. They grow from 20 to 24 inches tall, and hold their huge, brilliantly colored flowers upright. When a group of them is planted in the border where their large size, decorative form and brilliant colors serve as a garden accent, they can be depended upon to attract attention.

The thick petals of parrot tulips are long lasting when the flowers are cut. The flowers are effective in corsage arrangements. Cultivation of their bulbs is the same as for other late tulips, except that they are not so likely to endure without being lifted for many years. It is advisable to lift the bulbs annually after the leaves have turned yellow, and replant the larger bulbs the following fall. Small bulbs can be grown in a nursery row until they attain flowering size.

"Groups meeting regularly can discuss their problems locally and then present them for Dominion wide consideration." In this connection, Mrs. M. "Fishing is the largest industry. Owing to the irregular and rugged nature of the surface of the island there are few railways. Communication is mainly by means of steamship and airlines. Its progress since coming into Confedartion is something to marvel at. Many new roads have been built. Co-operative farming has brought a better standard of living. Planes travel regularly to the most isolated places. The lack of schools and teachers, hospitals, doctors and nurses is gradually being remedied. Churches are being built. Newfoundland has much to contribute of natural resources to Canada and we in turn are giving our newest province added security." He took as his subject the need for a new hospital in Lindsay and said there have been amazing changes in medical circles since Ross Memorial Hospital was built in 1902, namely, in the line of blood clinics, control of communicable diseases and in maternal mortality. Fourteen beds had been added in 1930 but there are no facilities for emergencies or physcial therapy. The population has increased and there are more patients admitted to hospitals owing to easier transportation and health insurance plans, said the speaker. A committee had been formed to try and interest the people in the project and Dr. Service quoted facts and figures as to the cost of a new building, etc. He complimented the WI as being the first one to ear-mark funds to be used for furnishing a room in the new hospital.

First new school in 60 years

Premier, Mayor, Dignitaries Of The Church Participate In Separate School Opening

Premier Leslie M. Frost said last night that in Ontario over the past 10 years there has been an increase of over 64,000 students, and that with this steady climb, the educational problem is becoming acute

The premier was speaking at the opening of the new St. Mary's Roman Catholic Separate School and Auditorium last night where Mr. Frost was the guest speaker Mr. Frost observed that the new school had a capacity of 400 pupil and was built at a cost of $283,000.00. "Therefore," he said, "it is obviously going to be necessary in the almost immediate future for the Ontario government and the school boards to build many more schools to handle the heavily increasing population of the province."

Reminiscing, Mr. Frost stated that the first St. Mary's school was opened in Lindsay in 1845 on the site of the old Skitch property on William Street north and in 1868 was moved to the new building at the corner of Russell and Lindsay Streets, which is now vacated in favour of this new and extremely modern edifice.

Also on the rostrum for the opening ceremonies of the school were Mr. G. L. Skipworth, the chairman, His Worship, Mayor A. E. Hick, the Rt.-Rev. J. V. McAuley, His Excellency B. I. Webster, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough, School Inspector Doyle, Clayton Hodgson, M.P., and members of the Separate School Board.

Msgr. McAuley said during his introduction of the main speaker that the new auditorium is much larger and much better equipped than had originally been planned for. The reason, he said, is because of the generous bequest of the late Patrick White, who left $60,000.00 for "the erection of a new Parish Hall."

After Mr. Frost cut the ribbon which signified the official opening, he declared that Friday would be a full holiday for the pupils of the school, and he requested that the teachers impress upon the children the history behind the school and most of all, its importance in the community, working hand in hand with all other schools, irregardless of religious beliefs, in the education and instruction of the citizens of Canada.

Another guest speaker was His Excellency B. I. Webster, Bishop of Peterborough, who, prior to his appointment as bishop a few months ago, was assistant to the Archbishop of Toronto, James Cardinal McGuigan.

The bishop extended felicitations to St. Mary's Parish, the citizens of Lindsay, and all who had any connection with the new school. He particularly wanted to congratulate the unsung heroes of education, the School Board. He said that the majority of people can only remember the names of the school board members when there is any trouble, and that it is at a time like this they are to be heartily congratulated.

Mayor Hick congratulated all concerned with the construction of the new school and commented that this was the first time in over 60 years that a new Separate School was opened in Lindsay. He stated that the school, and in particular, the auditorium, are a great credit to the County as well as the province.

The auditorium was filled to its 500-person capacity with well wishers from Lindsay and district, and the guests had nothing but the greatest of admiration for the beauty and modern facilities of the new

Driving Cases To Predominate

It has been disclosed by Jasper Forman, Sheriff of the County of Victoria, that the General Sessions of the Peace, and sittings of the County Court in December, promises to be heavy.

At least three charges of dangerous driving are scheduled to be heard.

Winter Coming, Geese Leaving On The Double

Many people in Lindsay who happened to glance skyward at the right times this morning probably wished they had a shot-gun handy. Two flocks of geese were observed southbound over town, flying in perfect formation, except for one or two stragglers that were obviously having compass trouble.

None of the observers seemed to know exactly where the geese were bound, although one citizen suggested that they might be a lot smarter than some humans, and will probably be wintering in Miami.

Another wishful thinker said he believed that they would be spending the night near his summer cottage, before resuming their flight in the morning. With that thought, and with visions of an unexpected "guest" for Sunday dinner, he proceeded to make plans for a quick visit to his cottage.

Blame Government For Queen's Failure To Send Sympathy

A London newspaper owned by Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook has blamed the British Government for the Queen's failure to send her sympathy to flood victims in Ontario.

The Daily Express said in an editorial page article today that Canadians were hurt and surprised that no word had been received from her majesty.

The newspaper says it's clear the Queen herself is not to blame since she sends no messages unles she's advised to do so.

Beaverbrook' publication said it may be that the machinery for handling such messages may have become just too complicated.

Meanwhile it has been announced at Saint John, New Brunswick, that Beaverbrook has reorganized his famed system of scholarships for ambitious students in that province. The system has been expanded and a scholarship selection committee will be headed by John B. McNair, the former premier of New Brunswick. —BUP

Low-Flying Jet Over Town Estimated At 'Safe' Height

Many residents of Lindsay noted the manoeuvering of a fairly low-flying jet aircraft that apparently had nowhere to go Monday afternoon and was spending a few minutes sight-seeing over town. Recalling the number of accidents in the past when low flying planes got into difficulties over populated areas, "The Post" contacted the chief of the Ground Observer Corps, Mr. A. Galoska, to determine the exact regulation covering this matter.

Mr. Galoska stated that the aircraft in question was a CF-100 and could be based in one of three RCAF stations: Malton, Trenton or Rockcliffe. He informed the "Post" that the regulation covering low flying states that "no aircraft shall fly so low over a populated area that in case of unforeseen difficulties, it cannot glide away from the area."

He also stated that this aircraft was flying at what he would estimate to be about 1,500 feet, which is normally a safe altitude over a town.

Some observers said later they wondered what would happen if, as the pilot was "stooging about" over Lindsay, an explosion occurred, or any other unexpected accident took place which could cause the aircraft to drop suddenly from the skies onto the town.

Here is a picture that wasn't taken yesterday as anyone can readily tell. The fact is the picture was taken back in 1902—52 years ago alongside one of Lindsay's older manufacturing establishments which is still doing business on the same site today . . . . . The business, as the sign above the heads of the company's staff indicates, was then known as Sylvester Bros. Manufacturing currently operating under the name of Sylvester Steel Products Ltd. This picture of the company's personnel in those bygone days was made available to "The Post" by 86-year-old Wellington Hoover who was a former employee of the firm. Although possessed of a remarkably good memory, Mr. Hoover wasn't able to identify quite all the people shown in the picture but the gaps he has left may be filled in by those either related to, or acquainted with the unidentified individuals. It is especially interesting to note that Lindsay's late deputy-reeve, William Stevens, is shown in the picture, top row, second from left. Others recalled by Mr. Hoover are as follows:

Bottom row: 1. Wm. Bruce; 2. Geo. Windrum; 3. Harry Perrin; 4...................; 5. .... Ferguson; 6. A. Bollard; 7. Bob Ayers; 8. Carl Sylvester.

Decided To Pass, Changed Mind, Snags Fender

An accident that could be referred to as "tripping" of one car on another was investigated by Lindsay O.P.P. over the weekend. It occurred at Chandler's Curve, which is sometimes called the Stone House curve, three miles west of Lindsay.

On the second of the two sharp curves at this spot, (which police have often termed dangerous) Paul Agrici, 409 Jones Ave., Toronto, was being followed closely by a car driven by Duncan MacCraig of Manilla, who was preparing to pass the first car.

Mr. MacCraig started to pass but changed his mind, and attempted to pull back behind the Agrici car, when his right front fender got caught, and he didn't make it. Damage was under $100, police here say, with no bodily injuries suffered by the drivers of the two cars involved.

Whooping Cough Epidemic Closes Dysart Schools For Three Weeks . . . MOH

Haliburton (PNS —In an interview with "the Post" today, the Public Health Officer for Haliburton, Dr. L. H. Carroll stated that all public schools in the Dysart area will be closed at least for the next three weeks due to a sudden outbreak of Whooping Cough. Dr. Carroll said that the situation could be classed as an epidemic.

"Many pupils are recovering rapidly from the disease," he said, "but the fresh outbreaks more than compensate for the recoveries."

Dr. Carroll also informed "the Post" that many cases of Chicken Pox are also prevalent, but this less serious illness isn't causing as much worry to parents of the district as the Whooping Cough.

It seems that the only ones not concerned with the epidemic are the children who have recovered and find themselves in the pleasant status of being on "holidays."

43 Free Licenses Issued To Trap Snapping Turtles

LINDSAY ---Trapping snapping turtles is now a recognized sport in this part of Ontario and, to date, 43 licences, for which there is no charge, have been issued, mostly to American visitors, by the District Office of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. Licences permit use of cage-type traps with cone-shaped ends. Many Americans are reported journeying to Ontario to trap turtles and are happy to return home with a dozen or two, the larger the better.

Letters to the Department express the pleasure of such visitors over their good trapping luck. For example, a North Canton, Ohio, visitor writes:

"We caught 23 turtles, 18 of them from 15 to 35 pounds and five from 35 to 54 pounds. They are the fattest turtles I have ever caught in 12 years of trapping."

An Apple Creek, Ohio party reports: "We trapped 2½ turtles. Some were eaten at our camp and others were dressed and quick frozen and brought home for use during the winter months. We spent a wonderful vacation on the Trent River."

A Cleveland, Ohio party trapped their turtles on Rice Lake and said of the Ontario tourist operators they had met: "Their courtesy and service to those of us who are 'foreign' to your country leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, their action could well serve as a pattern for all of us to further cement relations between our two countries."

Who ever heard before of a snapping turtle acting as a good-will ambassador, even indirectly?

Lindsay Doctor Declares Nurse Now Co-Worker, Not Servant

The "new status" of the nurse, as co-worker instead of mere servant to the doctor, has been nailed by Dr. C. W. M. Service of Lindsay before the 30th annual convention of the Ontario Hospital Association.

"I am pleased to note the changing attitude and status of the modern nurse," said Dr. Service. "She is not now just the servant of the doctor, one who must implicitly do his bidding. It used to be that hers was not to reason why; hers was but to do and die. That attitude is gone or is going.

"I am grateful for the modern nurse, whom I regard as a co-worker, who is intelligent and deserves my consideration. I do not want a nurse who will follow my instructions if she thinks I am wrong. I want her to think and to question and if not sure, to ask. Not infrequently I have found the nurse to be right and that I was wrong.

Older Doctors Disagree

"Now I know that what I have said is often a point of conflict between the doctor and the nurse, especially between the older mem-

$25,000 Extra Needed To Build New School; Reasons Given Council

The building of the new Leslie Frost School is to cost $25,000 more than was estimated. Lindsay Town Council at a special afternoon meeting Tuesday, accepted the request of the School Board for $25,000, application to be made to the Municipal Board. A new bylaw which makes application for permission to issue $165,000 school debentures rather than $140,000.00 as previously requested, will be passed.

Mayor A. E. Hick and his councillors interrogated the School Board deputation, comprised of Mr. W. Peel, Mr. W. R. Wilford, Dr. R. M. Parker and Mr. Henderson of Board of Education, of Toronto. These gentlemen were asked to explain how it could happen that the architects estimate was so much less ($25,000) than the contractors' tendered prices. Of the six received (one disqualified) three from Toronto district, one Peterborough, and one from Woodville (which was tentatively accepted) quoted prices were all in the same range, no great difference at all, which Mr. Peel took to be a good argument for the reasonability of the request for needed extra money.

Mr. Peel explained that the architect's quotation had been based on that of Ogden Public School in Toronto, but which had no plans for a heating plant. Lindsay school will be heated trench system, no basement being needed. But the cost of the coal-hot water heating system may be related to the comparative cost of the Toronto school with the Leslie Frost School. The Toronto school was built last winter when prices might have been different.

This latter premise proved, Mayor Hick thought, his contention that better prices might be forthcoming perhaps later in the season and taxpayers' money saved. Mr. Peel stated there wouldn't be time; that the school took seven to nine months to build, and that he didn't agree with the mayor that any money would be saved by waiting. Foundations are the problem, needing to be done before the heavy frost. The school is needed to be finished August 15, 1955. School population by 1959 is expected to be 1600 in Lindsay.

Questioned, Mr. Peel stated that the school would have a Kindergarten; would be built of brick and cost $18,000 per room. Average cost in Ontario is $20,000. This includes all things relative to the functional equipment, etc., and works out at $11.25 per square foot.

Dr. Parker spoke, telling of the School Board having made the most comprehensive study possible, endeavouring to pare the cost down; they had left off planning for a second school and the school in

Forestry News:

Urge Deer Hunters To Prevent Fire Outbreak During Season

4-H Forestry Clubs.

"With the Provincial Inter-Club Competitions, held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ontario, on October 22nd, another season for 4-H Forestry Club activity has come to a close.

"Out of the five Forestry Clubs in the Lindsay District four were represented at the competition Although none of our teams won the competition we are quite pleased with the results. It is hoped that the enthusiasm shown by the girls and boys who represented their clubs at Guelph will influence future members of the clubs to a higher standing in next year's competition.

Urge Deer Hunters To Prevent Fires

"For the past few days we have had some ideal Indian Summer weather, which is indeed a very pleasant change from the weather of the past six weeks which has seen copious quantities of rain plus the fringer disturbance of Hurricane Hazel. It is hoped that this fine weather will continue on, and that we may expect seasonal weather for Deer Hunting, which starts in this District on November 8th.

"In thinking about the Deer Season we should like to take this opportunity to remind all those contemplating a Deer Hunt that should this fine weather continue hunters should include in hunting preparations the matter of equipping themselves with warm clothing and thermos bottles, so that they will not find it necessary to start fires on their runway to keep warm, or boil a pot of tea. I feel sure that all hunters will recall the wonderful weather that was enjoyed the first week of the Season last year, but which also saw the inception of some twenty-eight bush fires, started by the stupid carelessness of Deed hunters. It's hoped that every hunter will exercise the proper precautions to avoid the start of a bush fire. Even though the streams and swamps are filled with water and the bush is generally wet, the leaf litter which builds up can dry out very quickly on the side hills, and allow a neglected runway fire to spread very quickly.

"If necessary, as indicated by the fire hazard rating, we will again ask that the fire season be extended to cover the Deer Hunting Season, and we would serve notice on all hunters that we intend to crack down on them for any fires which result from their carelessness. This means that in addition to facing a stiff fine, that their hunting may be spoiled should they be enlisted to fight a bush fire.

"We would therefore urge all hunters to take the same precaution with runway fires, lunch fires, and smoking material, that they exercise with a loaded gun. "Don't be careless."

Picnics

Even at this late date people like to picnic in our Victoria Park. We noticed several groups in the past few weeks eating their meal and enjoying every morsel of it. If one can eat in the open when they visit our town it is an advantage most people enjoy. This park is so very handy to the business section that many take advantage of it as long as the weather stays warm. We're so glad this park is always kept well clipped and flower beds add greatly to it.

Ideal In Summer

Another park that is used for this purpose is the MacDonald Park. All summer long you would see picnickers enjoying the pleasant view and eating their lunch at the same time. A town just can't have too many parks when they are used as much as ours are.

No Smoke Or Fire

The leaves are dry and will still be if it doesn't rain too much and they are just right for mulching. Those new mowers are handy to have and it saves the leaves to fertilize the grass as well as trims your grass. One thing you must watch is the little twigs that might be lurking under the leaves so be sure and remove them before mowing the lawn. We thought for a while the leaves wouldn't dry enough for this method but we may have fine weather for a few weeks at least. Wet leaves will clog the machine and not give your grass a good clipping.

Smoke Irritator

Many people have been complaining about the dense smoke we have been breathing in lately. At night the smoke hangs around and it does make one choke if they are out. It is also liable to make your throat sore. Now that it is clearer weather --and we hope it stays -- we won't be bothered so much.

First Concert

The first concert of the Concert Group for the winter was given to a packed house and everyone seemed to be all set for a good time. It is a rare treat for those who live in town and seems to get more popular as the years go by. There are eldom seats vacant at any of these performances.

For Winter Clothes

The blending of several fibres to utilize the different way each reacts to dyes is responsible for the new approach to color this Fall as well as some interesting textures. Some chemical fibres such as "Orlon" are the inspiration behind the new "whitened' colors. These are usually white-brushed tweeds, little checks and plaids or heather mixtures with a white ribbed or slubbed texture. Some intricate prints involving patterns-within-patterns have resulted from the blending of nylon and "Orlon". These are motifs which repeat themselves within the larger pattern and are apparent when the color combination is suddenly reversed due to the fibres' different affinity for dyes.

There are even dimensional effects which are really optical illusions. They are patterns which are printed to look woven and are textured to the eye, but not to the touch. These are usually found in the new white-on-white prints or in glistening white stripes of "Orlon" on a dull white ground.

What's New

A new device does away with the tug-of-war that usually accompanies tearing a piece of adhesive tape from the roll.

It's a clear plastic case into which the roll of tape fits snugly. The case doubles as a cutter. You simply pull out the tape, then snap down the top of the dispenser, and a row of plastic teeth cuts the tape. It will save you time at Christmas too!

Household Hint

Use a tea bag to hold onions or other seasonings when flavoring soups or stews.

YOUR DOLLARS Are Needed

The Community Chest is going well (thanks to our good canvassers who work freely and for the good of their fellowmen) but a lot remains to be done.

Watch the two Red Feather thermometers, one beside the Dominion Bank and one in front of the Library.

The needs of the Community Chest and affiliated organizations are as great or greater than before the advent of "Hazel."

Help the Hurricane Fund but please do not forget the organizations who assist you year in and year out to do your bit to help the needy at home and in far away places.

If you are missed by the Canvassers, please contact our headquarters in the Court House, phone 3112 or any chartered Bank or the Victoria and Grey Trust Company in town.

130 Women Teachers Meet Here For Fall Conference

The annual Fall Conference of Region four of the Federation of Women Teachers' Association of Ontario was held in Central School, Lindsay on Saturday. For this, the Lindsay teachers acted as hostesses and were pleased to welcome approximately 130 members. Though this was Lindsay's first opportunity to extend hospitality to such a group, very efficient arrangements were made, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Ryckman, president, and Miss Goard, Registrar.

The morning session opened at 9.30 with a devotional period in charge of Miss A. C. Peel. Mrs. M. McEachern of Argyle, presided and spoke briefly on "Professional Awareness", concluding with a message of greeting from Miss K. Goodwyn, the provincial president. Reports of several committees were read and discussed. An invitation was received to hold next year's Fall Conference at Madoc.

At noon a banquet was served in the I.O.O.F. hall by the Rebekahs. The guest speaker was Dr. Winnifred Bryce, who has spent some 40 years as missionary and educationalist in India. She stated that, while much remains to be done, there has been a stable and orderly progression in education, in that country, during the past century. Musical numbers were supplied by Miss R. Kingsborough accompanied by Mr. D. McGibbon.

An afternoon business period, at the school, concluded the Conference.

Delegates from this county were Mrs. English and Mrs. Lamb of Woodville, Mrs. Thurston of Bobcaygeon, Mrs. Teel of Oakwood and Mrs. Ryckman of Lindsay. A large number of other local teachers were present as well. A spokesman for the group says, "A keen interest in their profession and in the work of F.W.T.A.O. is clearly evidenced by the ever increasing attendance at these gatherings."

Lindsay Minister And His Wife Celebrate 49 Years Marriage

Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Robeson quietly celebrated their forty-ninth wedding anniversary on Tuesday, at their residence, 66 Russell St. W. Rev. and Mrs. Robeson were married at Bethesda, near Uxbridge, Thursday, October 26th, 1905, which was Thanksgiving Day. The day was clear, but quite cold, A previous snow had left banks of snow in the fence corners.

After a honeymoon of two weeks visiting Peterboro and other points, Mr. and Mrs. Robeson went to Michigan, U.S.A., where Mr. Robeson was pastor of the Methodist Church at Wayland. At the death of Mr. Robeson's father, the late Rev. John E. Robeson in 1913, James G. returned to Ontario and took over the work to which his father had been appointed at Shannonville, Ontario. Since that time Mr. Robeson has been a member of the Bay of Quinte Conference. He retired from the active ministry in 1944 and has since resided in Lindsay.

Mrs. Robeson before her marriage was Miss Bertha Ackney, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Ackney, formerly, of Bethesda, Reach Townhip. As a school teacher, Mrs. Robeson taught in Scott Township, Norland and Peniel.

At the time of her term at Norland, Mr. Robeson was student minister there. Among her pupils at Norland was Mr. W. R. Allely, Lindsay's Town Clerk.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robeson enjoy good health and are keenly interested in the affairs of the community ,and all members of and active workers at Cambridge Street United Church.

Asked if they were looking forward to the 50th Anniversary, Mr. Robeson replied that they were living a day at a time and very thankful for the many memories and blessings which brighten and crown their lives.

Paper Given By Mrs. Goodhand

The October meeting of Cameron W. M. S. was held in the basement of the church with a large attendance of members.

The President, Mrs. Westaway opened the meeting by reading a poem "When I Awoke This Morning," this was followed by a hymn and prayer by Mrs. Mark.

The Roll Call was answered by giving a verse containing the words "giving thanks". Articles for the bale are to be left at Mrs. Mark's home as soon as possible. The copper collection was taken and as this was the Christian Citizenship and Temperance meeting Mrs. R. Goodhand gave a splendid paper on "Christian Citizenship" and several facts on temperance. Notice was given that it was time to renew the subscription to "Missionary Monthly." If used Christmas cards are brought in they will be sent to a missionary who can use them.

The W. A. meeting opened with a hymn and a reading by Mrs. T. Eyres. This was followed by the Roll Call and minutes. The treasurer reported on the very successful bazaar held in September. The fall rally is to be held in Dunsford. Those requiring transportation are to contact the president, Mrs. A. Parkin. Mrs. R. Worsley was in charge of the worship service, taking as her theme "The Influence of a Christian Leader". All enjoyed lunch and a social time.

Gifts Presented Recent Bride

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -- Mrs. F. E. Gubbins and Miss Eileen Wallace entertained about 25 at a miscellaneous shower in honour of Mrs. Ronald Ritchie (Veronica Halligan), whose marriage took place recently in Toronto. The shower was held at Mrs. Gubbins' home which was suitably decorated with pink and white streamers and flowers for the occasion.

The beautifully wrapped gifts were arranged on a table and presented to the bride by Misses Johanna Gubbins and Leslie Armstrong. After opening the gifts Mrs. Ritchie passed them around for all to see and admire. She graciously thanked her friends in Fenelon Falls for the lovely, useful gifts and especially the hostesses who arranged the happy evening. Mrs. Gubbins and Miss Wallace served delicious refreshments.

Autumn Wedding at Mt. Horeb

Mount Horeb (PNS) —At 2 p.m. on October 2, 1954 Mount Horeb United Church was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding, when Rev. R. Bonsteel, of Bethany, officiated at the marriage of Lois Ruth Jackson, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jackson, Mount Horeb, to William Glen Mark, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Mark, Lindsay.

Principals in a lovely autumn wedding at Mount Horeb were Mr. Glen Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Mark, of Lindsay, and his bride, the former Lois Ruth Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jackson, Mount Horeb.

The church was very profusely decorated with autumn flowers, the pulpit was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and pale pink and white asters. The rest of the church had baskets of white, pale pink, and dark pink asters. The pews of the guests were marked with white satin bows and pale pink asters.

Mrs. Mervin Moore, Lindsay, aunt of the bride played the wedding music. Miss Jean Smith, Lindsay, was guest soloist and sang "The Wedding Prayer" before the service and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of snowdrop white nylon net with tiers of deep Chantilly lace over white satin. The long-sleeved bodice was of fine Chantilly lace with turned back rolled collar and fastened with a row of tiny white lace buttons. A matching lace headdress held her fingertip veil of nylon net. She carried a cascade bouquet of large white 'mums and baby poms with trailing ivy.

Mrs. Leonard Appleton of Peterborough, sister of the bride, was matron of honour. Her gown was floor-length, full skirted bouquet blue iridescent taffeta with scalloped neckline and trimmed with fine pleating. Her headdress matched her gown. Mrs. Douglas Nichols of Belleville as bridesmaid was gowned in an identical gown of blossom rose iridescent taffeta with matching headdress. Both carried bouquets of bronze poms with gold lace and wore mittens of the same material as their gowns with pleated trim.

Mr. Robert Oliver of Peterborough was groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Donald Jones of Lindsay and Bill Jackson, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Mount Horeb. Mrs. Jackson, mother of the bride, received in a gown of old rose homespun taffeta with black accessories and a corsage of gold roses. Mrs. Mark, mother of the groom, assisted, gowned in navy with apricot trim and navy accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Wes. Skuce of Lindsay, wore a gown of black, turquoise trim, with matching accessories and a pink rose corsage.

The bridal couple left on a trip to Kingston and points east. For travelling the bride chose a charcoal grey tailored suit with complimentary accessories and hat and scarf of bittersweet shade. She wore a corsage of talisman roses, bronze leaves and gold lace.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark will make their home in Port Arthur, Ontario.

WEDDING

The couple were attended by Mr. Alfred Kay, brother of the bride, who acted as groomsman and Miss Bonnie Perry, sister of the groom, who was bridesmaid.

After a brief honeymoon the happy couple will take up residence on Durham St. W., Lindsay.

Claim Russians Testing A-Weapons Powerful Enough To Eradicate Cities

The Russians are reported testing atomic weapons powerful enough to wipe out entire cities.

Sources place this interpretation in a brief report yesterday by the US Atomic Energy Commission. The report said only that the Russians have set off a series of nuclear explosions from the middle of September until the present.

The Washington sources point out that the announcement itself is significant. They recall that the AEC after reporting a Russian hydrogen bomb test in August, 1953, said it would not announce further Soviet nuclear tests unless they were unusual.

The Russian bomb tested a year ago last August has ben estimated to be equal to one million tons--or one magaton of TNT. The sources presume that the newest tests are in the multi-megaton range--in other words, powerful enough to blast cities to dust.--BUP

Verulam Council To Discuss Sale of Telephone Company

Bobcaygeon (PNS) —A meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Verulam was held in the Municipal office on October 18th., at 1:30 p.m. all members present with the exception of Mr. Gamble.

Minutes were read and confirmed on motion of Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Junkin.

Correspondence was read from Mr. F. L. Weldon, County Clerk, The Municipal World, Mr. LeRoy Brown, Secretary of Victoria County Plowmens Association and from the Central Kawartha Cottagers' Association, advising of the date of their meeting in Toronto.

It was moved by Mr. Kennedy and seconded by Mr. White that a grant of $20.00 be made to the Victoria County Plowmen's Association and $10.00 prize money be paid to Harold Beatty as he was the only competitor from Verulam.

It was moved by Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Junkin that the arrears of taxes for business against Messrs. Bulkowski, Craven and Peter for the years 1947, 1951 and 1952 respectively be written off.

Mr. Albert Woollard with two representatives of the Bell Telephone Company called and addressed the Council re the sale of the Bobcaygeon Rural Telephone Company to the Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Woollard advised that out of 45 shareholders, about 11 are now subscribers. This was brought about by several farmers having either died or moved off their farms. The lines are now old and in bad condition and in need of considerable repair. He requested that the Council repeal the clause in the original By-law giving the present shareholders the privilege of selling to the Bell Company. Mr. Simonds spoke stating that they were ready to buy the assets of the Bobcaygeon Rural Company and repair and build new lines giving a good service, with each line having not more than from 6 to 10 subscribers: the present rate of rental would be $2.55 per month for an ordinary phone. Council were of the opinion phone. Council ere of the opinion that they would like to have a meeting of the subscribers in Verulam and discuss the while question with them. This meeting date was set for 7:30 on the evening of Monday, October 25th in the Municipal Office.

General accounts were passed on motion of Mr. White and Mr. Junkin. Road accounts were presented and passed on motion of Mr. Junkin and Mr. Kennedy.

By-law 1225, a By-law providing for the entering into an agreement with the Village of Bobcaygeon for the construction and operating of a Community Centre was read a first time. Council went into committee thereon with Mr. Junkin acting as chairman. The committee rose and reported the By-law read without amendment. The by-law was then read a third time, passed, signed by the Reeve and Clerk and the Corporate seal attached thereto.

It was moved by Mr. Junkin and seconded by Mr. White that the Reeve and Clerk sign the necessary agreement providing for financial assistance up to a total of $5000.00 and 50 percent of any deficit which might occur in any year provided that if a profit were derived in any one year that it be divided on the same basis.

The date for Court of Revision was set for Monday, Nov. 1st at 9.30 a.m. and Council adjourned to meet again at that date and hour.

Wall Cleaning Service Starts At Lindsay

A new wall cleaning service is starting in Lindsay. It was announced recently by Mr. Lawrence Graham that he has been appointed sole agent for this part of the province for the Von Schrader method of deterging walls.

Mr. Graham states that he will be using a special new formula developed by his company, to clean without harming paint. The machine successfully employs solutions that are far too mild for cleaning walls by hand. He says that is why paint will look much better and last so much longer when cleaned in this new, modern way.

question is cut down to essentials. He told of the ceiling resembling that in the L.C.I. auditorium, beams exposed. (Plastering finish could be completed at a later date). He said that Lindsay was not poverty-stricken and felt that the Board should not be driven to carve down to bare essentials. He felt that Lindsay was entitled to a school that it would be proud of, not in later years have it said disparagingly "That's what the School Board did for us."

Alderman Breese asked if the ceiling planned would have any effect on acoustics. He was told the acoustics would be alright.

He agreed that taxes were high, but still felt that a school should be built that would be worthy. Mr. Henderson of the Toronto Board of Education, agreed that taxes all over the province were high . . . expenses high . . demands on councils heavy. "Frankly, I don't know where it is going to end," he said, as he thanked the council.

Mayor Hick remarked after the motion of agreement to raise the debentures was made by Alderman Breese, and seconded by Deputy-reeve Greaves, that he was pleased that the meeting had proceeded so efficiently, but said he'd hoped that no more money would have been required because as he said it would mean increased burdens on the taxpayers. But, he said, it is something that cannot be helped. He remarked that he thought that all local improvements, additional school facilities, hospital expansion, etc., had waited for 1954 council to be dealt with.

"Now go out and build the school and keep within this budget amount", Mayor A. E. Hick concluded before adjournment.

Lose Homes In Flood At Woodbridge

Sunderland (PNS) -- The terrible consequences of the recent hurricane and floods were brought home to Sunderland residents when they were informed that the homes of Mr. Eldon Hendry and Mrs. Cliff Hendry of the Woodbridge district were washed away by the torrents of the swollen Humber river. One house completely disappeared while the other became wedged but smashed badly. All contents were lost. Mrs. Cliff Hendry and her four children luckily escaped with their lives through the windows. Eldon and the late Clifford Hendry were former widely known residents of the Sunderland district, living in West Brock.

Tablet Thief

Saint John, N.B., Oct. 27 (BUP) -- Historians in Saint John, New Brunswick, have a who-dunnit on their hands.

It seems someone has walked off with a tablet placed on one of the city's main streets by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board. The placque used to tell tourists that it was on the site of old Fort La Tour.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially them who are of the household of faith.

school. The decor is a muted blend of pastels, with a predominence of light cocoa and turquoise, all scientifically designed to eliminate reflection and reduce eye fatigue. No two rooms within the building are decorated in the same colour combination. The school itself has so many new and ultra-modern features that, as one guest said last evening, "I wonder how they ever managed years ago in the 'little red schoolhouse'!"

There were several musical selections throughout the program. with a vocal duet "The Bells of St. Mary's" sung by Miss Margaret Mary Cain and Miss Marlene Keenan. Another well received musical contribution was a piano duet by Miss Ann Crowley and Miss Catherine McColl, followed by a piano and violin duet by Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Leahy.

Clubs Hold Fellowship Dinner

A fellowship dinner meeting was held last evening by the members of the four prominent service clubs of Lindsay. The Kiwanis . . . Rotary . . . Lions . . . and Kinsmen.

The meeting was held at the new I.O.O.F. hall on William Street south, and was enjoyed by all members present.

According to Mr. C. M. Sleep, none of the clubs had "any particular axe to grind," but all felt that a closer union between them would help in promoting a better understanding of each others' problems, and the problems of the people they are trying to assist.

It was expressed that further similar meetings could be arranged in the future, for it is believed that close co-operation of the service organizations will, in the long run, benefit the community as a whole.

Pioneer British Racing Driver Dies

Cookham, England, Oct. 27 (BUP) --Sir Algernon Guinness -- the first man officially clocked driving an automobile at more than two miles a minute -- died at his home yesterday. He was 71.

Guinness, a pioneer racing motorist, set a then-fabulous speed record of 122 miles an hour at Saltburn, England, in 1907.

He was the third baronet to hold the title.

WILLIAMS, CRAWFORD IMPRESS IN MUSKIE WORKOUT

Monday night at the Arena there were more potential Muskies at practise than was caught all season in the Scugog. No less than 21 players were out all trying to impress Coach Hicks that they were the players he should sign. Particularly impressive from a local point of view were Harold Williams and Don Crawford from last year's Juniors. If these boys continue to perform and improve as they have to date they will be hard to keep off the Muskies 1954-55 roster.

The "welcome mat" was out for Bob Wyatt, Buck Legrow with Cobourg last year, Jack Marshall who with Oshawa Truckmen last year, but unfortunately broke his leg early in the year and was out for the season, Skeeter O'Hearn of Peterboro Jr.'s a couple of years ago, Scotty Welch who was with Simcoe Tunners two years ago. The club welcomed back Guffer Abercrombie who has been out of hockey for the last two years with a bad back.

If the Muskies can sign some of the new boys fans feel sure the Muskies with still be the team to beat this year for all the marbles.

Each player is giving all he has and each time out the boys are looking better - time is short and it takes time to get in condition, so all the boys are really digging.

Season Tckets and Subscribers seats are now available.

A General Motors Value

THE BEL AIR SPORT COUPE

Chevrolet and General Motors took a whole new look at the low-cost car—and just look what happened!

FIRST SHOWING TOMORROW

8

Now Chevrolet, the leading builder of valve-in-head engines, introduces the "Turbo-Fire V8." It carries the V8 design to a new high in efficiency with its high horsepower (162!), high-compression (8 to 1!), high performance and surprisingly high gas mileage. Available with standard transmission, or with the extra-cost options of Overdrive or Powerglide.

You can choose from two new sixes, too!

Chevrolet also offers the last word in six-cylinder performance and economy! There's a new "Blue-Flame 136" teamed with Powerglide and a new "Blue-Flame 123" with either standard transmission or Overdrive.

Can't you tell just by looking that Chevrolet and General Motors have come up with a completely new idea about the low-priced car? The idea is this: to build a car that offers the very newest thing in styling, the most modern features, the finest kind of performance and the highest quality of manufacture — all at a modest price. It's something that took a lot of doing and that only the world's largest car builders could do. Everything's new in this Motoramic Chevrolet from its lower top right down to its tubeless tires. Come in for the most fascinating visit you ever made to an automobile showroom!

More than a new car—a new concept of low-cost motoring

Kinsmen Plan 'Kinsmen Week' In The Spring

A "Kinsmen Week" in May, 1955, is planned, it was revealed at the Fall Council Meeting of District 8 in Bracebridge, held under the guidance of District Governor Gerard Connolly of Lindsay.

President Lloyd Found of Lindsay Kinsmen Club, presented the resolution regarding the holding of the Week, when a public handing-over of funds or service projects will be made on each of five nights by one of the 40 clubs of the district. It was learned that some 400 clubs from all over Canada will follow sooth.

The Kinsmen bulletin says of the recent meeting:

"Over the weekend the Fall Council Meeting for District 8, Association of Kinsmen Clubs was held in Bracebridge under the capable guidance of District Governor Gerry Connolly of Lindsay and his executive composed of Secretary Al. Wetmore, Treasurer Bob Mark, Bulletin Editor Mel De Groat, Committee Chairmen Lindy Mackey, Tom MacKeigan, Wes Ellis, Russ Beaton and Nip Flack, all of Lindsay, Director Harold Roughley of Oshawa, Past Governor Jack Weatherax of Kirkland Lake and Deputy-Governors Floyd Hembruff of Matheson, Art Stableforth of Sault Ste. Marie and Hap Lowe of Barrie.

"With registration of 117 delegates from 34 of the 40 clubs in the district, the Bracebridge Kinsmen Club played host to the largest and most successful Council Meeting ever held in District No. 8.

"Starting with a meeting of the immediate executive on Friday evening, the convention continued with business sessions on Saturday morning and afternoon, a dinner at noon sponsored by the Bracebridge Club, a tour of a local boat building plant, and wound up with the governor's Dinner and Professional entertainment on Saturday evening.

"Four Kinsmen Clubs, North Bay, Toronto East, Peterborough and Cobourg-Brighton all made bids for hosting the Spring Convention with North Bay winning the honour by a few scant votes."

Percy D. Kennedy

Trained At Mariposa, Station Agent Victim Of The Hurricane

While it was first believed that none in this district had been tragically affected by the hurricane which hit Ontario, it has come to light that a former Little Britain resident lost his life as a result of it. He is Percy D. Kennedy, 51, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Kennedy, of Little Britain.

Mr. Kennedy had been the CNR station agent at Unionville for the past seven years and had been missing since Saturday noon. His body was located early last week beneath the railway trestle near Markham.

It was believed that Mr. Kennedy started to walk to Unionville from the scene of the train wreck at Markham, where he had gone to give assistance, and while walking over the trestle which had been weakened by the storm, part of it collapsed under his weight. He is reported to have fallen head first into the river and become wedged betwee[illegible] piles. His body was found [illegible]ay employees who were a[illegible]epairs to the damaged trestle.

The late Mr. Kennedy began his railroad career as a CNR station operator at Mariposa where he trained under Station Agent Jas. Francis. After several years, he became agent at the station in Marmora. It was seven years ago that he went to Unionville.

He is survived by his wife the former Mildred Dowson, and his two daughters, Doris and Darlene.

The funeral service was held in Lindsay at the Mackey Funeral Home, Friday, October 22nd, and interment was made at the Little Britain Christian Baptist Cemetery.

Season's First Concert Acclaimed By Patrons

The first successful Community Concert of the 1954-55 season was held Monday p.m. at the Academy Theatre. The theatre was completely filled entirely by season subscribers to the series.

The performing artists were members of the renowned Philharmonic Piano Quartet, who ranged through a repertoire which included classics and light music, arrangements of moderns and masters.

The Philharmonic Piano Quartet consists of Ada Kopetz, Moreland Kortkamp, Emmett Vokes and Herbert Rogers. All four pianists studied at the Juilliard School of Music; all have given successful solo recitals in the U.S. and Canada, and they have recorded two albums for Columbia Masterworks. Of the many musical groups to be heard throughout the country, there are only two piano quartets, the First Piano Quartet, who began the trend of solo expansion several years ago, and the group heard last night, the Philharmonic Piano Quartet.

The program last evening provided a variety that would satisfy even the most critical audience. It ranged from Mozart through to Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue, arranged for 40 fingers by composer Moritz Bomhard of the Kentucky Opera Association.

The concert opened with the Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro", which was followed by Variations on a Theme of Haydn, by Johannes Brahms. The Quartet then played their unique arrangement of Chopin's Etude in Thirds. From the Children's Corner Suite by Debussy came the very popular Golliwoggs Cake Walk, followed by the vibrant, dancing rhythms of "Fetes" by the same gifted composer. To finish the first half of the concert the quartet played the popular Liebestraum, of Franz Liszt and Stravinsky's Russian Dance from Petrouchka. The final half of the program consisted of selections that are familiar to all music lovers, including Rhapsody In Blue, Wiener Blut Waltzes by Johann Strauss, selection of excerpts from Tschaikovsky's Nutcracker Suite. The program concluded with a medley of one of the Quartet's best known recording hits entitled, "Offenbachiana".

The entire concert last evening was exceptionally well received by the large audience, and the next concert in the current season will take place in January. The guest artist for that performance is scheduled to be Saramae Endich.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Ontario Fruit Mostly Harvested Before Blow Hit

Toronto, Oct. 22 -(BUP)- Department of Agriculture officials say most of Ontario's rich fruit crop was harvested before Hurricane Hazel devastated sections of the province last weekend.

A spokesman says apple were the only crop left on the tree in mid-October, and 80 per cent of that crop had been harvested before the weekend storms.

Most of the crop is grown in sections which escaped the full fury of the storm, and officials said that while there was some permanent damage to the trees, they don't think it amounts to much.

Some 10 to 15 per cent of the apples still left on the trees were blown down across the province during the storm. Some of these are being salvaged.

Based on last year's production figures of two million 642 thousand bushels of apples, the blown down fruit would come to 50 to 75 thousands bushels, which at two dollars per bushel would be 100 thousand to 150 thousand dollars.

WITHHOLDS COMMENT

Toronto, Oct. 26 (BUP) -- Labor Minister Charles Daley is withholding comment on a demand that he release the report of a one-man commission that investigated discrimination against Negroes at Dresden, Ontario.

Ticket Agent Fooled By Indifferent Hen

A local man, Wm. Waite, the CNR ticket agent, feels that he was short-changed last Saturday night.

It happened this way: Mr. Waite sat down to enjoy a boiled egg with his supper and as he proceeded to dig his way deeper into the food in question something appeared to be missing. More probing and closer investigation revealed that one of the better known components of an egg was absent . . . the yolk.

Mr. Waite says he feels this seems to indicate indifference on the part of the hen and that this is far from encouraging, for it is difficult enough nowadays to get full value for a dollar. He fears this lack of co-operation on her part could tend to unbalance the economy if it were to spread.

Proud Hen Lays Plump 5-Ouncer

Mrs. Lloyd Feasby R.R.1, Uxbridge has one hen that is in no danger of being decapitated, at least for some time. Last week said hen had every reason to cackle when she discovered she had produced an egg that tipped the scales at a little over 5 ounces. The egg would nicely make an omelet for two or sufficient scrambled eggs for even a hearty eater. To further illustrate the size of this specimen of "hen fruit" a dozen large eggs should weigh a minimum of 27 ounces while a dozen such as the one at hand would weigh approximately 63 ounces.

The producer of the phenomenon was not available for interview - she was probably resting up after her star performance.

BATTERY NEWS:

Arrival of new 155mm. Howitzers increases tempo of 45th activity

H. W. Seekins, public relations officer for the battery, brings the community up to date on military news locally in the following report of the unit's activities:

"The 45th. Battery R.C.A. has increased the tempo of its activity with the arrival on Tuesday afternoon of its two new 155 mm. Howitzres from the Picton school of Artillery.

"For the next two or three months the Battery will meet three nights a week, probably on Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays in order to become thoroughly familiar with the new equipment.

"The boys had a preview of these new guns at the recent weekend camp at Picton, and during the next few weeks will be taking some concentrated training in order to fire these pieces using live ammunition at the next weekend camp on November 6 and 7.

"'Things were just a little disjointed on Thursday night when the Battery shared its accommodation with the Mobile X-ray Unit. For a while some of the boys' thought they were being swamped with recruits.

"Social activities contemplated by the Battery in the near future include the Battery dinner to be held in the Canadian Legion Hall on Thursday, Oct. 28 after which the boys will be the guests of the management of the Century theatre for the showing of the picure "'The Caine Mutiny". The 33rd. Medium Regiment Bugle Band from Cobourg will lead the parade from the Armouries to the Legion Hall, to the Century Theatre, to the Armouries.

"Friday, Oct. 29th. will see a variety of social activity when the Officers and wives hold a Hallowe'en Dance in the Officers Mess and the Sergeants and their wives have a similar party in the Sergeants Mess.

Uxbridge Council Vote $200 Cash To Aid Victims

Uxbridge's Council voted last week to donate $200.00 to the Hurricane Relief Fund, and they have also made plans to collect clothing, bedding, and other goods for the general use of victims of Hurricane Hazel which struck Toronto and district such a severe blow.

Mayor D. G. Davis of Uxbridge appointed Mr. V. T. Simons as general co-ordinator of the Hurricane Relief Fund for the Town, and he stated that various organizations will be approached, for assistance. The Canadian Legion Hall, Branch 170, and the Uxbridge Music Hall will be used as centres where goods that come in will be accepted. Residents of the town that have trucks have volunteered their time and vehicles to pick up any merchandise from households and deliver it to the proper distribution outlets.

Cash donations for the Fund are being accepted at the two Uxbridge Banks as well as the Town Office and the newspaper.

Rev. T.D. Lindsay Guest Speaker At Bethany United

Bethany (PNS) — The Bethany United Church Anniversary services were well attended on Sunday. Guest Minister was the Rev. T. D. Lindsay of Hastings. He spoke on "The Church is only as good and as strong as the people who serve it. We need more co-operation, a greater vision of what the Church and all its organizations are meant to be. We need to practise prayer, study the Bible and become members of Christ's Church, upholding all its traditions."

At the evening service Mr. Lindsay urged, "We need to study more about the life of Jesus and his teachings. There are too many different sects of religion, too many divisions and arguments. We should all be of one faith, striving for one goal, practising more Christianity and less "Churchanity." We should SEE Jesus and practise his teachings in our every day living."

At the morning service, Mr. Glen Allan of Orono was guest soloist, singing "The Holy City" and "Bless This House", accompanied at the organ by Miss Jeanne Coulter of Pontypool. In the evening Mrs. R. R. Bonsteel sang "Abide With Us."

With Mrs. Clarence Rowan, organist and under the direction of Mr. Harry Preston, the choir sang four anthems: "I Was Glad", "The Lord Is My Strength" "How Wondrous Is Thy Name" and "Come Unto Me" with Mr. Ralph Preston taking the solo parts. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and many from a distance shared in the Anniversary services of worship.

Salvation Army And Odd Fellows Seeking Clothing

The Salvation Army and the I.O.O.F. have established a depot at the rear entrance of the Silverwoods plant to receive parcels and donations from those wishing to aid in this drive.

The two local organizations have joined forces and have put their facilities behind this project to aid those who have lost everything in the flood. They request that anyone who may have some good, new or used clothing of any description, and wish to help re-habilitate the many destitute families in the Toronto area, please bring their donaion to the depot at the rear of the Silverwoods plant on Kent St., at Victoria Avenue.

40 Years With The C.N.R., Lindsay Engineer Retires

A local railroad engineer, Mr. C. G. Henley, has taken his last trip after 40 years of service with the CNR.

Mr. Henley, a resident of Lindsay, has been railroading since 1910, and until his retirement last Thursday, had been engineering on the CNR main line.

The "last run" ceremonies took place at Belleville before a large crowd of friends and well-wishers who watched Mr. Henley bring the big engine into the station for the last time.

Montreal, Oct. 23 - Arthur B. Smith, who has been associated with the Canadian National Railways for 44 years, retired here yesterday as manager of the company's advertising branch. G. H. Lash, director of public relations, announced that the administrative duties of the advertising branch have been taken over by A. L. Sauviat, assistant director of public relations.

Mr. Smith, a native of Cannington, Ontario, joined the Canadian Northern Railways in 1910 and during his long career held posts in Toronto, Quebec City and Montreal. He enlisted with the 37th Battalion during the first World War and saw action in France with the 2nd Battalion. He was appointed manager of the CNR's advertising branch in 1944.

Mr. Sauviat, a native of Montreal, began his railway career there in 1910. He has held a number of positions in the traffic and advertising departments and has been responsible for the company's station Christmas displays which have attracted wide and favorable opinion. He also designed company exhibits for several World Fairs including Wembley, Paris, Buenos Aires and New York.

His Reward—

He almost destroyed them. Said the boy: "I thought it was fake money."

Ted heaved the can toward a rubbish fire he was burning but, before shoving it in, he decided to have a second look.

The bills turned out to be the real McCoy.

The youngster still attends school, but he intends to put the money away to set up his own farm some day.

Doctors Says Fat No Joke But Scourge

Toronto, Oct. 26 (BUP) -- A Kingston doctor said today that a fat man is no joke but rather a victim of "the number one scourge of man on this continent."

Dr. D. Lawrence Wilson of Kingston General Hospital told a convention session of the Ontario Hospital Association that overweight causes or aggravates more than a dozen ailments and increases the mortality of it victims more than 100 percent over persons of normal weight.

Wilson said, "Too many people tend to regard fatness as a harmless and humorous idiosyncrasy, or as an obscure glandular disorder, or as a glowing advertisement for the family cuisine -- as almost anything but the totally avoidable handicap to health and longevity which in fact it is."

The doctor said hernias, heart diseases, diabetes and gall bladder ailments are aggravated by overweight and cancer is 11 percent more frequent in fat people.

He pointed out that there is much discussion of the effect of smoking on cancer, but he added: "If we drive our patients from the pleasures of tobacco to those of the table; they will only have traded one unhealthy habit for another and made a very poor trade at that."

Unemployment Up 100 Percent On The Month

The Labor Department said there are more than 243-thousand job applications on file in National Employment Service offices across the country.

At that time, the Bureau of Statistics said 84-thousand persons were without jobs. The Labor Department reported that 122-thousand were looking for work.

Both agencies said today that the new figures show what was called an overall improvement in the employment level over the month of August. They said the general level of employment increased in September in the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario. It dropped in the prairies, but held steady in British Columbia. —BUP

Car Leaves Road, Goes Into Ditch Filled With Water

Although his car went off the road into a water-filled ditch, Gordon McKinley of Langstaff, and a passenger in his car escaped unhurt. There was three feet of water in the ditch by the side of Highway 7, west of Reaboro when the car slid in shortly after noon on Saturday.

Mr. McKinley's car was damaged to the extent of an estimated $120, most of the damage being to the left side, right rear wheel and left door.

ABOUT ADVERTISING

It is with natural pleasure and satisfaction that we read where the Canadian Association of Consumers has commended "newspaper advertising as the best means of alerting the public on food prices." This very gratifying endorsation of the printed word was given by an Association panel on Wednesday and was submitted to the food division of the Ontario Retail Merchants Association. The report confirms what we have long sincerely believed to hold true of advertising as applied not only to food but to virtually all other consumer products.

Other mediums of advertising may come into the field and they may have their attributes but it is doubtful if anything will ever be created which will have the advertising value that a daily newspaper has. The reason for this is quite apparent when it is considered that practically all other visual media is of a very perishable nature and, like radio, is forgotten very soon after it is presented. No so the printed word . . . it is absorbed more thoroughly and retained longer. It can also be retrieved and referred to time and time again for reference by the prospective and interested consumer.

THAT SURPLUS BUTTER . . .

The Truro Daily News has written as follows on the matter of Ottawa's surplus butter stocks which have been acquired with taxpayers' dollars to keep the price of butter at a floor price level:

A MOUNTAIN OF BUTTER

"A puzzle perplexing federal agricultural department officials is how to get rid of the huge butter mountain accumulated in government warehouses under Ottawa's hand at this time last year.

The butter, bought by Ottawa with taxpayers' money at 58 cents a pound, poses a serious marketing problem. Price of butter on world markets stands at 41 cents a pound. Three possible solutions to this problem of butter surplus are now under consideration by federal authorities. One scheme is to give the butter, bought with Canadian taxpayers' money, to some foreign country. Ottawa fears that to do so might upset world butter prices and invite retaliation from other butter-producing countries. Another proposal, most favored in Ottawa, is to subsidize butter exports, with the taxpayers of this country footing the bill for the difference between the support price and the sale price. Third, and least favored solution, is to give Canadian housewives the benefit of cheaper butter by placing all or part of the surplus butter hoard on the domestic market."

We believe the Truro Daily News might have gone farther in its observations and made a contribution towards helping Ottawa decide that the squarest thing to do with the butter is to sell it to the people who own it . . . the taxpayers (all residents of Canada) . . . . at a saving. However, if a real need for this very useful product exists in any nation whose people cannot afford to buy it, it would be a generous gesture of a land with a well-stocked larder to see that want and deprivation is relieved.

There is, nevertheless, a growing feeling that the price of butter is unrealistic and that it is really working a hardship on the dairy industry by being out of line with its competitive product . . . margarine. Butter is a highly desirable food but if it is going to sell fast enough to keep pace with production, it will most likely have to sell at a competitive price. The economics of the business are not familiar to us but we are interested in the welfare of the dairy industry which is prominent in this district and we believe that there is a need for a revision of marketing policy. This might take on several forms . . . . butter in smaller packages . . . . butter in quantity at reduced prices, or any number of other marketing innovations.

CIVIL DEFENSE IN PEACETIME

Air Vice Marshall Lawrence who resigned recently as director of civil defense in this area because of lack of support, suggests in an article in this newspaper that some of the lives now lost would have been avoided if greater Toronto had been prepared with good civil defense. Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington, Dominion civil defense co-ordinator, goes further and states that property damage would also have been less severe.

On the latter supposition, there may be difference of opinion, for the damage was caused within four or five hours by flood and wind, by devastating forces which, it may be contended, no human organization, however prepared, could resist.

It does appear to be a fact, however, that the full power of the hurricane was not realized in time, that flood was not anticipated, that warnings were inadequate. The danger was not being realized in time so evacuation from the threatened areas was not carried out early enough to avert casualties.

Mr. Lawrence maintains that the three essentials to good civil defense, for peacetime or wartime, are centralized control, good communications, and the power, under law, to enforce action. Greater Toronto lacked the first and the third requirements, and its communications broke down. Had it possessed all three, had the danger been fully realized, it is possible, as he suggests, the toll would not have been so grievous.

It is a hard lesson that has been taught, Mr. Lawrence states. It is a lesson that teaches that civil defense—or emergency defense—organization is of great value not merely to cope with danger in wartime but also to meet the hazards of natural forces.

Too much emphasis, perhaps, has been placed on civil defense as a wartime emergency, and the refusal to envisage Greater Toronto as a possible embattled area has been one of the reasons why civil defense has received little support. The hurricane and the flood have shown the value in peacetime of being prepared for emergencies. —The Telegram.

HARSH REBUKE TO A JUROR

Ordinary citizens, unlearned in the law, may find it puzzling that Chief Justice McRuer should sharply censure a juror who refused to take the oath at a murder trial in Belleville. Robert Carter, a Frankford merchant, told the court his conscience would not allow him to do so. Later he explained that he does not believe in capital punishment; thinks the death penalty "outmoded." His lordship thereupon gave him "a very dishonorable discharge," and said: "You are not willing to do your duty as a citizen."

His lordship asked the juror why he did not earlier make it known that he was unwilling to serve. It appeared that he had hoped he would not be drawn for the petit jury. But there is no rule requiring a juror to make such explanations at any particular stage. Incidentally, jurors challenged or stood aside by counsel for just such a reason as here given are not subject to rebuke or indignity.

Coming from the Chief Justice of the High Court of Ontario, a pronouncement of "dishonorable discharge" could seriously affect a man's reputation. Jurors are selected in the first place from those persons "who from the integrity of their character, the soundness of their judgment and the extent of their information are most discreet and competent." Mr. Carter happens to be a citizen with years of service on school board, chamber of commerce and Red Cross.

Jurors in a criminal case are sworn to "well and truly try, and a true deliverance make, between our Sovereign Lady the Queen and the prisoner at the bar." This juror might have taken the oath, knowing that the judge, not the jury, imposes sentence, and that about one in three persons sentenced to death in Canada receive commutation to life imprisonment. But he was prisoner of his conscience.

The Chief Justice said: "I could fine you for contempt." According to an article in the Canadian Bar Review, "It is obstruction or interference with justice with which the law of criminal contempt is concerned; it has nothing to do with the personal feelings of the judges." Surely obstruction cannot be charged to the juror in the Belleville case; by withdrawing he may have facilitated the course of justice. Accordingly the foregoing quotation is commended, with great deference, to the trial judge. The writer was Chief Justice McRuer. —The Telegram

LIVING THROUGH DISASTER

Since white settlement took place in Central Ontario, there has never been such a destructive flood as that which occurred as a result of Hurricane Hazel. We have, perhaps, been too complacent in the belief that such disasters did not happen in this favored region. We were lamentably unprepared for the onslaught of the waters and have paid heavily in lives and property for that failure.

The blow fell most viciously on the suburbs of Toronto, particularly those located in the Humber and Etobicoke-Mimico Creek watersheds. Some serious damage was also done on the Highland Creek and on Willow Creek in Scarboro and parts of the lower Don Valley were badly hit. Farther north, the ruin of the Holland Marsh area will be a serious blow to the market gardeners living there, and it will have a spreading effect on the life of the thousands in the city who have depended on Holland Marsh produce for food.

In many cases, the destruction of homes resulted from their being too close to the flood level of the rivers. But so extraordinary were the quantities of water that fell on the area, that places where water had never flowed before became raging torrents. Because people had little or no warning, there was a considerable loss of life. There has been a great deal of hardship because of the damage done by the flood to home resources. People often fled with only the clothing they wore.

To those who have lost loved ones, there is sincere and general sympathy. The nature of the disaster, the power of the wind and the pounding deluge of the rain, brought home to people the terror of the event far more clearly than when the floods have been in distant parts of the country. There has been, undoubtedly, a clearer recognition than is often the case that most of the rest of us just missed destruction ourselves.

The Chatterbox..

Kindling Wood

Most of us have twigs to burn that we wouldn't have had if the storm hadn't hit here. People were picking them up and burning them in the fireplace to keep the house warm while the power was off. One tree that fell in the North Ward was perfectly hollow and how it ever kept from falling before is amazing. It was just a shell when it finally took the plunge. It will take some time before the town is cleaned up for there is a lot of debris around yet. At least the trees that are left should be safe for awhile for that wind would take down any that were weakened at all.

A Bit Late

It's surprising how hardy some flowers are. We picked a marigold that had been growing all summer long and just a few days ago it decided to bloom. You'd think the frost would have killed it, but it didn't. There are also some stocks coming along and we're hoping they will flower too before Jack Frost gets it.

Hungry Birds

Don't forget the birds . . . we threw out some old fruit cake the other day and those litle fellows gobbled it up in no time. If you have any in your trees be sure and throw some bread crumbs or something out for them. We imagine pickings are pretty well nil for these little fellows. Most of all we like the yellow grosbeaks in the winter, but any hungry bird deserves to be fed.

Clinic Week

The clinic this week will bring many people out for a free checkup, many who may benefit. It's a wonderful service and every member of your family can take advantage of it if they are 12 years of age or older.

Blanket Washing

We've had two nice days this week for doing those blankets and we hope there will be more. Try and choose a fairly warm but breezy day for them and your blankets will be soft and fluffy. Give them an odd shake and this will also help to fluff them up. The better the breeze the more fluffy they will be.

June In October

Fresh fruit shortcakes and salads usually are thought of as summer meals, but many forget that they're just as easy and delicious at this time of year.

The only difference is that they're out of cans. Economists suggest that since eggs are plentiful, you can make a sponge cake and use canned peaches as the fruit, topped with gobs of whipped cream.

As for canned fruit salads, you're sure to like a Waldorf-type pear salad which can be made by combining diced pears with celery and chopped walnuts.

A little lemon juice sprinkled over it just before the salad dressing is added lends a pleasing tartness. And you can make individual salads in a jiffy by softening cream cheese with a little milk and creaming it until it's very soft.

Then, beat in raspberry jam and use it to top pear or peach halves. Canned fruit and cottage cheese make good salads, too. Add canned fruit to a gelatin mixture and you will make spring-like salads or desserts with both eye and taste appeal.

Teen-Age Tip

Teen-agers can wear a real man's shirt and still be feminine. Just outline the yoke, the edge of the collar and the front with rick rack braid. To add to the smartness, select the braid in the teen-ager's school colors.

The blouse buttons can be changed to a brighter color to match the choice of braid . . . and the whole plain little cotton shirt will take on a festive look.

Superb Performance

The theatre was packed for "Showboat Days" and what a show they put on. It held everyone from start to finish and one could see it two or three times it was so outstanding. Lindsay and district is full of talent and pretty girls. Those girl could really step and look pretty at the same time. The whole show was a success from start to finish and the talented singers on the program were simply wonderful behind the footlights. They sang like professionals and the show just couldn't have been put on so successfully without such talent. The humorous side was put on by some very clever routine and the show went so smoothly it was hard to believe we had had two or more full hours of entertainment. The orchestra was superb and members deserve a great deal of credit for their performance. If you miss seeing it—you'll be sorry! If you go you won't see one bored patron in the audience.

Town Equipment

Our town has a great contraption to clean the leaves and rubbish off the roads. The big brush is next to the curb - another the width of the machine, and when the motor runs it clean up the road in great style. It's a great service and it does seem that our Council is trying to keep our town looking tidy. The roads in the summer also get a good swishing off every so often which helps keep the dust down. These services do help keep the town looking as we'd like to have it kept.

Clinic Week

This is Clinic Week and the Armouries will be a busy place. It is an ideal building for it and we're lucky to have one available. This clinic is a service some may not appreciate, but it can be used to protect health; something which affects the whole community. Take advantage of it if you wish and suggest that your family use it also.

"Practice Makes Perfect"

Some hockey-conscious lads were getting in a little practice with their hockey sticks the other day. They were strictly juvenile, but apparently had watched games and knew a few of the tricks. Whether they will ever get on a team we can't say, but they were out for practice and no doubt hoping to be our future hockey players.

Foot Care

If women took as much trouble with their feet as they do with fingernails, they'd be better off.

A woman who runs a health establishment in Florida, Mrs. Wilma Miller, says her big interest is feet. She says tension which begins in the feet can upset the entire body.

There are more way to make the feet feel better than just taking off your shos. It doesn't sound comfortable, but Mrs. Miller says you'll be better off in the long run if you walk barefoot on gravel.

The theory is, the rocks give you a much-needed foot massage. Or, try walking in the dew . . . but wait till summer, because Mrs. Miller is sending this advice from Florida.

She also says those who live around beaches are missing a good foot treatment if they don't go for long walks barefoot in the sand.

Cartoonist have always made fun of woman who buy their shoes too short, but Mrs. Miller says an even bigger problem is the woman who buys her shoes long enough but not wide enough.

The foot expert says she can tell by one look at your feet if you're a relaxed person. She says if your toes are spaced evenly, it means you choose the right kind of shoes. You are terribly on edge, she adds, if you jump three feet in the air when anyone touches your toes.

Mrs. Miller even advocates comfortable feet for happier marriages. Give a tired husband a foot rubdown, she says, to keep an argument from exploding.

And, she concludes, if your husband is cross and you feel like shouting at him to go soak his head, say instead, "go soak your feet" and both of you will feel better.

Fire Precaution

Every window opened in a burning building lessens the chance of escape. The popular idea of a house ablize, smoke and flames pouring from every window, is a perilous one.

The All Canada Fire Federation says fire caused more than four hundred deaths in the country last year. Most of these could have been avoided had alarms been given, buildings evacuated, and windows and doors closed as quickly as possible.

For your own protection, the Federation urges you to know how to give a fire alarm quickly, and to know the fire exits of any building you enter. And above all, in an emergency, avoid paic.

Saving money . . . and writing cheques

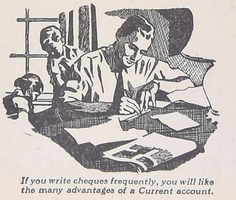
If your main purpose is to save, to accumulate funds, it's good to have a Savings account.



If you write cheques frequently, you will like the many advantages of a Current account.

The money you leave in a Savings account earns interest, and your bank book gives you an up-to-date, continuing record of your financial progress. If your funds are active, with frequent deposits and withdrawals, a Current account provides a special service; a monthly statement, together with your cancelled cheques—useful as receipts and a ready reference for budgeting, bookkeeping and other purposes.

Coast to Coast Without Flat Kinmount Couple Enjoy Trip, Thrilled With Beauty Spots

Kinmount (PNS) —Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson, Kinmount, Ontario have just returned home after a 7.000 mile trip to the Pacific Coast. They motored out through the United States and travelled through Canada on their return as far as Winnipeg before entering the States again to continue their journey homeward.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Thompson say they were greatly intrigued by the Badlands in North Dakota, and especially enjoyed their visit with the natives in the city of Billings, Montana, where their dollars are all silver ones and where one is served ice cream and cake for dessert as a matter of course. They thought Seattle, Washington, a particularly wonderful city and Mrs. Thompson laughingly tells how thankful she was that her husband was at the wheel instead of herself driving in this busy metropolis.

In due time they arrived by ferry in Victoria, the beautiful capital city. Though late in the year, it was flowers everywhere - even on the lamp posts. The hotel rose garden in full bloom and the quayside greeting "Welcome to Victoria" standing out in red, white and blue flowers will, they say, be a never forgotten memory.

After reluctantly leaving the beautiful seaport of Vancouver, after a two-day visit, the Thompsons continued their journey through British Columbia. Their breathtaking experience going over the Cascade Mountain (40 miles of hazardous road undertaken by few) will not soon be forgotten. Their fears quickly were forgotten however, in the famous beauty of Lake Louise and Banff.

They visited relatives in Calgary and enjoyed marvellous food at the famous "Tea Kettle Inn" and "House of Picardy" before journeying on to Edmonton and thence to North Battleford, Saskatchewan, where they relaxed with relatives.

It so happened that High Court was in Session in North Battleford at the time of their visit there, and a young Indian was being tried for the murder of a young Indian girl. The Thompsons attended two Court Sessions and much enjoyed seeing all the Indians from the nearby reserve with their Indian Chiefs in their long black braids, the interpreters and the red-coated Mounties having difficulty at times keeping all in order.

Mr. Thompson, being an ardent hunter was right in his element in North Battleford, where the ducks come in, in hundreds and the pheasant shooting is ideal.

After revelling in this hunter's paradise for two weeks, the Thompsons wended their way homeward, arriving in record time and thankful to be home safely after a never-to-be-forgotten auto trip without even one flat tire!!!

Talk On Bolivia Given By Mrs. Soles

Reaboro (PNS) —"Perplexity and Progress in Bolivia" was the name of the interesting article read by Mrs. Lewis Soles at the October meeting of the Mission Circle which was held in the vestry of the Church.

The President, Mrs. Huber Burke opened the meeting with a hymn, which was followed by prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Jim Robinson. A short business period followed in which it was decided to buy 12 calendars.

Mrs. Burke then asked Mrs. Gilbert Jones to take charge of the study program which was on "Bolivia". Mrs. Soles gave her article describing fully some of the perplexities that characterize Bolivian Life today which appears to be inflation and consequent depreciation of currency, agrarian reform causing unrest amongst landowners and Indians, nationalization for the mines which effects Bolivia's economy and the scarcity of of food. There is also progress in Bolivia regardless of the unrest and the Gospel is accepted eagerly. Schools and the Bible College at Guarajata are a great benefit and the Reekie school at Druro helps to make proress in Bolivia besides the Cochabamba Theological Seminary. Miss Dorothy Franchlin's work at Villa Victoria, a suburb of La Paz and there is also great work done in radio work ,and Young People's work. The article concluded by stating that Bolivia is definitely progressing with the splendid help of the Baptist Church.

After Mrs. Soles was thanked, Mrs. Leigh Reeds read some most enlightening letters from different missionaries in Bolivia which had been written to Mr. Clare Crown of Sherbrooke. These missionaries included Jane Hood, Ruth Tolly, Hazel Merritt, Alice Clarke and Master Norman Chandler wrote a very amusing letter while he attended boarding school. Each told of the splendid work that they were doing. Mrs. Jones thanked Mrs. Reeds for reading these letters.

Mrs. Burke and Mrs. W. C. Veals reported on the Association meeting which was recently held at Claremont and was the last meeting before uniting with the Peterboro Association. Mrs. Burke gave a summary of the talk which was given at the Association by Miss Himan of Cobourg and also stated that Mrs. Veals had given a splendid address taking as her theme "All things are become now". After Mrs. Veals gave more facts concerning the Association joining with Peterboro, Mrs. Ellen Calvert was asked to give some Missionary notes, concerning the new Misionaries for new fields, six to go to Bolivia, 10 to India and two to Africa. Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Wilton are to go to Angola, Africa and 14 will be back in their respected fields after furloughs, 20 small organs have been donated to Bolivia which will solve that problem there.

Quick Thinking ....

Orono Holdup Men Caught

Provincial Police Officer Jim Hall was despatched to assist with road-blocking connected with the daring daylight bank robbery at Orono on Thursday.

He set up vigil at the junction of No. 7 and 35 Highways, and stayed from 2.50 right through till 9.30, when he reported to the office here, tired and hungry!

Here's the story —Quick thinking by Constable Jack McDiarmid of Oshawa police force Thursday led to the arrest of two men and the recovery of between $1,500 and $1,900 stolen earlier today from a branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Orono.

On motorcycle patrol, Constable McDiarmid spotted an empty taxi from Bowmanville. The driver told him, after being stopped, that he had let two men off at the Cadillac Hotel.

Accompanied to the hotel by Police Chief Herbert Flintoff, Insp. Ted Ferguson and Det. Sgt. Bill Jordan, Constable McDiarmid arrested Leonard R. Luzon, 28, of Toronto, and James Hutchison, 27, of Oshawa, on charges of armed robbery.

The bank was robbed about five minutes before closing time when two roughly dressed men held the staff of four and two customers at gunpoint.

The men forced Mrs. Glenn Allin, the teller, to scoop the money into a brown paper bag, stopping her when she reached the quarters and fled into the street. They then raced out of the village, barely escaping getting tangled with a funeral from the nearby United Church.

Two hours later, Provincial Police discovered the getaway car bogged down on a dead-end road leading into Tamblyn's Swamp. The car had been stolen in Peterborough and the license plates in Whitby.

Police plunged into the swamp on foot, and covered the surrounding area by car, but were unable to locate the men. They had been reported in the district. One of the men, witnesses said, had a heavy beard and one wore dark glasses. Both were armed.

As they came into the bank they met Mrs. Harry Lycett, on her way out after cashing a cheque. She had $100 in her hand, but they did not take her money. Along with another customer, W. L. Thompson, who walked in during the robber, she was told to keep quiet.

There were two funerals in progress at the time, one of them two doors from the bank.

As police from Bowmanville, Whitby, Cobourg and Port Hope arrived, various persons reported seeing the men around the village before the holdup. Peter Mercer, garage operator, said he was certain he had sold them gas.

Mrs. Edward Neilson, a drug store clerk, said one of the men had been in the store just before the robbery. She said he acted nervous and shaky. He bought a note pad and handled some candy before leaving.

Bulldozers cleared away a foot of rich topsoil and tons of vegetables from the section of the road that runs through the marsh. There still are onion skins on the highway, however, and the Department of Highways put up signs warning drivers to be careful of skidding.

CALLS KINGSTON PEN MEDIEVAL BASTILLE

Kingston Penitentiary has been described as a medieval bastille that couldn't get a license to keep horses. The scathing criticism comes from prison authority Stuart K. Jaffary, who's Professor of Social Work at the University of Toronto. He said in a lecture that the Federal Government should take over all penal institutions in Canada. As he put it . . . the Government might become convinced of the need for this if one or two more prison riots occur.—BUP.

Plea For Civil Defence

24 Duke Street,
Lindsay, Oct. 20, 1954.

Lindsay Daily Post,
Lindsay, Ontario.
Dear Sir:-

Congratulations on your editorial "Things the Storm Revealed".

The full fury of disaster has not to date upset our pleasant way of life. "Hurricane Hazel" passed leaving in its wake slight disruption compared with the great devastation and loss of life in the Toronto area. The last storm was preceded by many warnings, its progress reported continuously by radio, which went unheeded. The Winnipeg, Vancouver and Brandon floods, the Rimouski fire are examples of what can, and does, happen when warnings of preparedness are disregarded.

Unfortunately for Toronto and Districts, the councils did not act despite repeated urgings and assistance offered by the Federal Government. We, in Lindsay, are in this same position. A well organiz Civil Defence, and the safety of lives is a matter of far graver concern than the many trifling issues occupying the attention of Council. It must now be clear that the immediate organization of Civil Defence is long over-due. There has been far too much apathy on the part of Provincial and Municipal officials, (The excuse being expense).

The millions being collected at this time is commendable but cannot restore life. Public spirited citizens are willing to assist in "Civil Defence", and action should be started now before catastrophe strikes again and many more lives are lost.

Lindsay, Ont.

Toronto, Oct. 20, 1954

Editor,
"The Thursday Post", Lindsay.
Dear Sir:

I noted your Peterboro contemporary's reasonably bright editorial survey of "Wages and Employment in this Area", indicating that "industrial payrolls and employment have slipped downward this year in the Kawartha district (the counties of Durham, Ontario, Peterborough, Victoria and Northumberland). The wages and salaries paid have decreased because the jobs are fewer or the work week shorter, not because wage rates have declined . . and the weekly average of salaries and wages in factories in this district, as at July 1, was $63.93".

This reader fully realizes that the workers in Canadian factories are the farmers' customers for food and fiber. In such circumstances, therefore, it does not call for much intelligence to see the link between good wages -i.e., urban buying power - and reasonably remunerative prices for agricultural products? It is only when these two basic elements in our society attempt to operate at drastically different levels that trouble emerges?

It was only the other day that the national organization of the farmers (Canadian Federation of Agriculture) drew attention to this 'disparity' in a brief to the federal cabinet, and said that if the prices of the products which farmers buy from Canadian factories decreased, "primary producers of food and fiber would not object to a similar trend in the valuation of their products".

I suggest, therefore, that if a round-table conference could be organized and attended by representative men from the half-dozen major economic groups in the population - from the organized farmers to the leaders of the labor unions - with the specific targets of getting these various wheels in the national economic machine meshing properly, the general welfare would be served?

W. P. Davisson.

Cigarette Papers Causative Agent, Chemist Feels

A research chemist says burning cigarette paper contains a powerful chemical compound that may cause cancer.

D. V. Lefemine of the Cancer Institute at Miami says he identified a cancer compound in cigarette smoke. It was found in paper, not in the tobacco.

Lefemine told a meeting of a chemical group in Birmingham, Alabama, that he is positive of the identification. A study of lung cancer victims shows relatively few are heavy pipe or cigar smokers -- compared with heavy cigaret smokers.

Lefemine says much further study remains to be done. He suggests it may be possible to treat cigarette paper so as to prevent the compound -- known as three-four benzpyrene -- from forming. BUP

Reaboro Bride, Husband Among Flood Losers

When the Bolton dam gave way for Hurricane Hazel, torrents of wind-swept waters covered highland farms north of the Holland marsh in the Bond Head district. A bride and groom of last summer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rivett, who were married in Lindsay last June, have a farm there. Mrs. Rivett was the former Teresa Callaghan, of R. R. 1, Reaboro, and is widely known in the young circles here.

Mrs. Jack Callaghan, her sister-in-law, said today that the couple lost considerable poultry and damage to their farm buildings in the flood Mr. Rivett Sr., whose farm is adjacent to that of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rivett lost thirty-two cattle when his barns were destroyed.

Both the Rivett farms are in the Schomberg, Bond Head, Beeton district, west of Bradford. Five people lost their lives at Beeton when a bridge was washed out, in the same onslaught of water that came like high tide to the prosperous highland farmers, as well as the marsh gardeners farther south.

Blinding Headlights Blamed For Two Accidents In Area

Approaching bright lights are blamed for causing two accidents on Highways leading out of Lindsay last Thurs. Fortunately the drivers of the cars in both cases were unhurt.

It Could Happen But Don't Worry It Isn't Likely

Toronto, Oct. 21 --(BUP)-- Meteorologists have estimated that the heaviest rain that could fall on Toronto in 24 hours is 20 inches.

That's all the skies could give forth if the air were completely saturated with water, but weather officers say it's very unlikely that they ever will do so.

The floods which followed the rains were due in part to rains in October and September. There had been two inches of rain in October before the flood and the topsoil was thoroughly soaked.

Several letters were read thanking members for fruit sent, also, several verbal expressions were voiced for same. A letter was read from Miss Phemia Hooey, Toronto, thanking Institute members for flowers sent at the time of the late Mrs. Eva Hooey's death, (one of our most valued members.)

Memorial Park Committee was appointed, namely, Mrs. Lorne Thompson, Mrs. Dalton Dorrell, Mrs Arnold Taylor. A donation of $25.00 was voted to local fair for space for Institute Exhibits. The matter of sending a delegate to the area convention in Toronto was brought up, but as yet, no member nominated would stand, and no other members volunteered to be the representative at said meeting. Chartering a bus for Thursday, November 4th., was discussed and Mrs. Percy VanCamp and Mrs. Mervyn Graham were appointed a committee to see if they could round up a busload. Several names were handed in at the meeting as being in favor of the latter proposition.

It was agreed that this Branch apply for the Legislative grant to be applied to some educational purpose. Theme for the day was "Agriculture", motto, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Roll-call was fairly well answered by "A new development in Agriculture or a vegetable and its vitamin content."

At this point, Mrs. Jack Rahm, program convener, took over and was responsible for the following splendid program. An agricultural reading, relating to farming as it was in grandma's day by Mrs. Harold McLaughlin. Piano selections "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun", with variations and lively animated music of her own arrangement by Mrs. Lloyd Beacock. This number was dedicated to Miss Ida Campbell of Regina, Sask., an aunt of Lloyd's who is visiting at the Beacock home and who was present at the meeting.

A fine address on his two years at Kemptville Agricultural College was given by Mr. Glenn Larmer, giving members a good insight into what goes on at K.A.S., both at work and at play. Glenn certainly enjoyed the time he spent there, as well as graduating in the top row.

After the singing of the National Anthem, lunch was served by Mrs. Rahm's group.

21 Boys Respond To Call For Junior Band Trainees

The Lindsay Boys Band welcomed 21 new recruits who applied last week for membership. The organization meeting was in the Recreation Centre. Mr. Lloyd McMullen, president of the now 80-piece Lindsay Band told "The Post" today that the boys who signed up last night would be ready for the senior band (now at the public performing stage) by next summer.

All Lindsay and district boys have been welcomed since the Band's organization, Mr. McMullen says. And last night two representatives of the Catholic youth population of Lindsay joined, and from out of town, lads from Cambray.

There will be no more taken on for another year, as this second feeder group taken on Wednesday will suffice till then, the president of the youth's music organization states.

The executive and interested parents auxiliary experienced great encouragement of late when Lindsay Town Council voted an immediate $300 and filed a recommendation that next year's council would set aside some $2000 in their favour, (also recommending that the public be approached at election time for the Band Tax Law.)

A bandmaster is now employed. He is Mr. Frank Banks of Hanover, who band officials say is exemplary as a teacher of wind and percussion instruments. Lessons are now being given regularly by the now permanently employed band master, "The Post" learns.

Louis McGill

Janetville (PNS) —Residents of the Janetville community learned with deepest regret, of the passing of a life-long resident of the Janetville vicinity, on Tuesday, October 12th., Louis Edmond McGill, at the Ross Memorial Hospital, in Lindsay, following a not too lengthy illness.

The late Mr. McGill, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGill, who were among the earlier pioneers of this country. They raised a family of 15 children of whom only two now survive, they are (Myrtle), Mrs. Tom Wansley and her brother, Mr. Eph McGill, both of Calgary.

The late Mr. McGill was the son of farmers and his vocation in life had been that of farming and most successfully. His wife was the former Miss Florence Marlin of Blackstock, and a little over a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. McGill had celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

The late Mr. McGill, who was in his 77th year attended the Janetville Presbyterian Church, was interested in all community activities and particularly in sport events.

At one time in his younger days he was a highly valued member of the Janetville Baseball Club, and it was always said that "Louis could run like a deer." He is survived by his wife, and their sons, Walter, Marwood and Harvey, all of Janetville, also two grandchildren.

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was held at the Mackey Funeral Home, on Thursday, October 14th., at 2 p.m. and conducted by the Rev. D. McQueen, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Lindsay, who brought a most impressive and comforting message to the bereaved, taking his text from the 23rd Psalm and the 14th Chapter of St. John's Church.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Neil McNeil, Charles McNeil, Norman Argue, Naysmith Henry, Victor Henry, of Peterborough and Stanley Sparks of Little Britain. Interment was made at Riverside Cemetery, Lindsay. The floral tributes were many and very beautiful.

The autumn leaves are dewless, dry;
But I have had the day.
Yes, I have had, dear Lord, the day,
When at Thy call, I have the night;
Brief be the twilight as I pass,
From light to dark, from dark to light".

The contract has been let for construction of a Red Cross Outpost Hospital at Minden. This was announced following the October meeting of the Minden Branch of the Red Cross Society held at Mrs. Lorne Coburn's home. Contractors for the outpost fund are Ruliff Grass Construction, Thornhill, Ont. and work has actually been commenced on the project.

As a spokesman for the campaign which was launched this summer and which is continuing has said: "All of those who have contributed to this campaign for Hospital Building Funds can now watch their dollars grow before their eyes as our Red Cross Hospital progresses."

A total of $12,410.02 has been raised in the drive for funds to this date and the executive of the campaign reports that there are several personal canvassers yet to report.

The hospital campaign spokesman told "The Post" this week "there is still plenty of time for those who have not yet made a contribution, or who were not at home when the canvasser called, to make their donations . . . . we are sure, as they see the hospital taking shape you will want to know that you have helped build it."

Personal projects for raising money have been declared very successful by the executive. Latest effort along these lines was a "benefit tea and musical" held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stouffer, Minden. The afternoon of music which was attended by several people raised $29 for the cause. Those providing the musical entertainment were:

Phyllis Moore, Mary Lister, Carolyn Coburn, Heather Hirlihey, Robert McCary, Peggy Hewitt, Micheal Jackson, Connie Stevens, Robert Hirlihey and Tanya Hewitt

A very delicious lunch was served during intermission in the program and those assisting Mrs. Stouffer were: Mrs. Al Barron, Mrs. J. Lister, Barilyn Baggs, Heather Hirlihey, Mrs. J. Fleming, Mrs. J. Moore and Phyllis Moore.

Other contributions toward the fund which were announced at this meeting are included in the following excerpts from the report of the meeting:

"We are very greatful to St. Stephens Church Guild at Boskung, for their donation of $50.00 to our Hospital Building Fund. This group consists of 18 members with an average attendance of 15 and they state that this donation is an initial one and they plan on a further donation later. This group deserves great credit for their work."

Those who attended the meeting included:

Agnes L. Jamieson, O. Struthers, Mrs. R. Kirkwood, Mrs. A. Coulter, Mr. T. Dalton, Mrs. T. Brignall, Mrs. Wm. Welch, Mrs. Wm. Ritchie, J. M. Trurin, Mrs. L. Coburn and Sylvia A. Howard.

Soccer Club Is Exonerated, But Parking Need Emphasized

Lindsay Daily Post,
Gentlemen:

In Monday, October 18th issue of Daily Post you published a strong warning re motorists attending SOCCER matches at Kawartha Park and causing extensive damage to the grounds concerned. According to your report this warning was isued by Police Chief John Hunter. The executive of Lindsay Cricket and Soccer Club contacted the Chief and a closer investigation of the matter revealed and proved that the Lindsay Cricket and Soccer Club and its fans were in no way connected with the damage complained of.

The facts are these: The Lindsay Cricket and Soccer Club was granted the use of ground for the playing season in the regular way, by the kind permission of High School Authorities. The Club's scedule of games ended on Sept. 6th and no games have been played by the club since that date, furthermore the club goal posts were removed on that date, as per our agreement with the authorities concerned to everyone's satisfaction.

It is indeed very unfortunate the word SOCCER appeared in the warning issued, since the Lindsay Cricket and Soccer Club or its fans were in no way connected with the the incident complained of, this we are sure the Chief will be pleased to verify to anyone interested. The executive of the club wish to state however that they are 100% behind the movement to exclude vehicles of all kinds using Kawartha Park, except those necessary for the proper maintenance of the Park.

This incident points once more to the woeful lack of proper playing fields with, parking accommodation as required for those attending sporting events and such like, and lends support to the plan proposed by Lindsay Cricket and Soccer Club, to enlarge the Baseball Stadium, to accommodate outdoor sports, track and field events and such games, etc., as attract the public in numbers.

Trusting these remarks will be accepted in the spirit in which they are written, namely fair play for all concerned.

J. C. Blackall,
Gen. Secretary,
Lindsay Cricket and Soccer Club.

Presents Interesting Views On Dogs Running At Large In Lindsay

The Editor
Daily Post,
Town.

37 Regent St.
Lindsay.

Dear Sir:

Having read in the Post about a dog running at large, I agree with Chief Hunter, this is not, and should not be the responsibility of the Police Dept. I do not like to see any animal mistreated but dog owners should try to understand there are grownups as well as children who are just afraid of dogs. I have seen my children afraid to go to school or to play for this same reason.

If our children were allowed to molest people and ruin lawns and gardens as dogs are allowed to do your paper would be full of complaints. I have seen delivery boys, postmen and paper carriers, bitten by dogs and I think if Lindsay is to "grow up" a dog catcher and equipment should be hired to cope with the situation.

Yours truly,
Mrs. F. Northey.

"Jiggs and Maggie" Creator Dies At 70, Ill 5 Months

The creator of the world's most famous hen-pecked husband is dead.

Cartoonist George McManus — the creator of "Jiggs and Maggie"—died last week in a hospital in Santa Monica, California at the age of 70. He had been suffering from a liver infection for five months, but his doctor says the immediate cause of death was a severe heart attack.

At least three generations of newspaper readers all over the world have found a daily companion in Jiggs, the self-made Irishman who just couldn't seem to please his wife, Maggie.

At the present time "Jiggs and Maggie" and the cartoon "Bringing Up Father" appear in some 750 newspapers and in 27 languages. Numerous motion pictures also have been based on their daily matrimonial embroilments.

McManus himself, although he superficially resembled his cartoon character in appearance, was no real-life Jiggs. He was devoted to his wife, Florence, who is now an invalid.

McManus got started in the newspaper world just before the turn of the century, when his father got him a job pushing a broom in the art department of the St. Louis Republican. But his big break may have come in 1904 when a shoe shine boy gave him a tip on a "sure thing" on a horse race. McManus bet one-hundred dollars and the "sure thing" paid off 30 to one. That was what McManus needed to go to New York and invade the big time of the cartooning field.

In 1912, he went to work for the New York American, and after several false starts he came up with "Jiggs and Maggie." They had kept him both famous and wealthy since.—BUP.

New Home Plan Is Outlined To Veterans

The Veterans' Advocate carries an item of interest to veterans in this district who are contemplating building a home. It has been brought to the attention of "The Post" by the president of the Sir Sam Hughes Branch of the Canadian Legion. Mr. Cote says he feels there may be many veterans in this district who would be interested in this "home acquiring plan." Here is the article:

Veterans of the Second World War and the Korean War with incomes as low as $2,500 a year may obtain both financial and educational assistance under a new "build your own home" scheme proclaimed by the federal government.

The scheme, enacted by parliament during the last session as part two of the Veterans Land act and proclaimed Aug. 2 is intended to assist veterans who have not sufficient income to purchase a home built by a regular contractor under the National Housing act and who wish to build in a village, town or city.

To start building his home the veteran must have a down payment of $800 cash or a lot worth $800; or the down payment may be part land and part cash. If the loan obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. and the down payment do not cover the cost of the home, the veteran must have additional money to complete the house.

- Must be a veteran of the Secon World War or the Korean War with at least one year's service, an honorable discharge or be in receipt of a disability pension.
- Must have an income which will enable him to pay off the necessary mortgage and taxes and insurance, by payments which will not be more than 23 per cent of his income. This percentage may be increased by one or two per cent if the veteran is a young man in steady employment with good opportunities for promotion. If a veteran's wife is working, 20 per cent of her income will be regarded as being the husband's for this purpose of computing the maximum payment.

This means that a veteran with as low an income as $2,500 a year could build his own home if taxes and insurance costs are low enough.

- Must not have received an allowance from DVA for more than nine months while taking a course at a university.
- Must not, generally speaking have received other benefits under the Veterans Land act.
- The veteran must be capable and will, if given technical guidance and supervision, to put his own labor into building a modern home — about 20 hours a week for 16 months.
- The veteran must be approved as a borrower by VLA and CMHC officials and must have a good employment record.

VLA will assist the veterans by:

- Operating construction schools in the winter for approved veterans providing there are at least five veterans in the district who wish to take the course. The course will likely take two nights a week for 10 weeks. The cost to the veterans will be the cost of materials used.
- Absorbing the legal costs of VLA acquiring the land and placing the mortgage to CMHC
- Providing money during construction at no interest.
- Providing construction supervisors to assist the veteran during construction.
- Providing plans without charge in respect of any of 27 of VLA plans.

When a house is completed the property will be transferred from VLA to the veteran. He will sign a mortgage to CMHC for the amount of the loan and two per cent of the loan to be paid into a mortgage, insurance fund.

The mortgage will provide for interest at 5½ per cent per annum computed half yearly and payable over 25 years. The maximum loan allowed is 8,000.

A veteran with an income of $2,500, for example, could obtain a loan for $5,803, if his taxes and insurance amounted to $150 a year, and his annual payment on principal and interest amounted to $425 or $35.42 monthly.

Together, payments on principal, interest, taxes and insurance amount to $575 a year or 23 per cent of the veteran's income.

The veteran's house would be worth the amount of the loan, $5,803 in this example, plus the $800 down payment, plus the value of the veteran's labor which may amount to $1,000 or $2,000. Thus the veteran could build a house worth about $7,000 or somewhat more.

Tar Mop Exploded But Curling Rink Is Spared Damage

A tar mop left on the new Curling Rink roof by roofers at six o'clock last Friday exploded at 7.30 and burst into flames. Luckily it was noticed. The Fire Department was called. But no equipment was needed, because the simple task of removing the blazing map saved any damage to roof of building.

Mr. C. H. Dayma, secretary, of the Lindsay Curling Club, explains that the mop was dry and hard on the outside, but heat had been stored in the centre of the tar-soaked long-handled mop that roofers regularly use. Quite an explosion is reported to have resulted from the combustion from heat in the heart of the tar-mop.

Mrs. M. Porteous W.M.S. Hostess

Bethany (PNS) — Mrs. Mervyn Porteous entertained the members of the W. M. S. of the United Church for their October meeting. Mrs. George Waddell presided for the devotional period. She told of the influence of Christian leaders in India. All the members joined in repeating the Watchword and Mrs. F. Barr, a former President, who is visiting the Porteous family, read the scripture lesson. Reporting were Mrs. O. Spencer on India, Mrs. R. Bonsteel on Japan and Mrs. T. Jackson for christian stewardship, also giving a report of the recent Missionary Rally held in George St. United Church, Peterborough.

Mrs. O. Spencer took charge of the program on the study of India. A short dialogue with Mrs. Spences representing Dr. P. Bryce as interviewing Christian leaders, Mrs. Nasih, Miss S. Sing and Dr. Sunda Gaikway, portrayed by Mrs. W. Rowland, Mrs. M. Porteous and Mrs. R. Bonsteel, told the story of mission work in India. "Adult education is important. Dr. Lauback's new reading system is doing much to overcome illiteracy and the work being accomplished by Christian schools and colleges is most gratifying. There are 274 mission hospitals, 65 leper hospitals, orphanages and schools for the physically handicapped. There is great need for more trained teachers and Doctors as there is only one doctor for every 22,000 people. Christian missions must continue if the people of the far East are to better their living conditions."

After the close of the meeting, lunch was served by the hostess and a social hour enjoyed.

Lindsay Exhibition Reports Slight '54 Operational Profit

Lindsay Central Exhibition made a little money during the 1954 season despite weather which was anything but fair-like. Exhibition officials say the total 1954 revenue was $52,000 which was slightly above 1954 expenses.

It was revealed at the October meeting of the Fair Board that the 1954 exhibition could be considered a satisfactory one, related factors considered. Although hampered by two consecutive days' rain, the general agreement by all present was that never had the fair enjoyed a better year. Displays, horse-racing, etc., were declared to have been outstanding.

Mr. Caley, the 1954 president, expressed appreciation of the liberal co-operation which made the fair successful.

The Board expressed regret on the death of Life Member Daniel Murphy a long-standing friend of the Fair Board.

A pleasant feature of this year's fair, which is beginning to be termed abroad as "the people's fair", and specified by its executive as mainly "an agriculture fair", was the various types of exhibits which were also materially more than the previous year.

The expenditures were higher, due to increased costs generally. The fair showed a profit, however, but the amuont has not been disclosed.

Grant Wallaceburg Restraining Injunction

Wallaceburg, Ont., Oct. 23—(BUP) The town of Wallaceburg granted an injunction against the striking Water Works and Department of Public Works who are fighting for recognition of their union.

The injunction, from a Chatham court, restrains the strikers from picketing until October 26.

Frank Kitchen, from the Toronto branch of the National Union of Public Services said he hoped his letter to Dana Porter, Attorney General for the province would bring an end to the expensive patroling of the Provincial police brought in yesterday.

Kitchen denied that the strikers had anything to do with the turning on of fire hydrants and protested the use of the police as unnecessary.

District President Gives Talk On W.I. Founder

Oakwood (PNS) —The October meeting of the W. I. at Oakwood was held in the Community Hall with a fair attendance. Mrs. M. Sweetman, president was in the chair. The meeting opened in the regular manner and the secretary, Mrs. Sam Gorrill read the minutes, correspondence and gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Grills reported for the quilt group; Mrs. Arthur Squires gave a report from the Homemakers' Course held recently in Lindsay for leaders; the President announced the T.B. Clinic.

The short course, Programme Planning will be held in November in the Community Hall. Following the reading of the letter regarding the Legislative grant, it was decided not to apply for same.

It was decided that the branch cater to the Junior Farmers and the Shorthorn Association's turkey dinner, sometime in November. Mrs. Arthur Trent was appointed delegate to the convention in November and the president was asked to charter a bus to attend the first day of the convention, asking Manilla members to join with Oakwood. Current events were given by Mrs. Ewart Rogerts, and a reading by Mrs. A. E. Webster on Thanksgiving was enjoyed.

The district president of West Victoria, Mrs. E. Wessel was introduced by the president, who brought greetings first from the district, and also gave the district business item. She followed up with an interesting talk on the life of the founder of the Women's Institute, Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless, Stoney Creek. Fees were paid, and the meeting closed in the usual manner.

Mrs. Ross Raine and her committee served a dainty lunch during which Beth Barry favored with a piano solo. A social half-hour followed.

Lady Curlers Elect Officers

Woodville (PNS) —Ladies believe in turning prosaic business meetings into social events, one would think, when the first meeting of the Ladies' Curling Club met at the home of Mrs. O. Thorpe. A buffet dinner was served with candlelight, flowers, and silver service, with Mrs. Wm. MacPherson pouring tea.

A lucky prize of salt and pepper set, contributed by Mrs. F. McEachern was won by Mrs. Karl Trebelco.

After this fine repast the ladies settled down to the business part of the evening, which included the election of officers for the coming season. It was decided to do this by ballot and Mrs. MacPherson presided.

After the ballots were counted, it was found that the choice of the ladies for officers were:- Mrs. C. Stoddart for president; Mrs. Ford Trebelco for vice-president; Mrs. O. Thorpe for secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lorne MacPherson for Bonspiel Convener and Mrs. Reg. Goad for Social Convener.

The estimated provincial grant would be $154,333.00 and the estimated federal grant $120,833.00, giving a total grant to the R.M.H. of $275,166.00

Also at the meeting the question was raised about the establishing of a nurses residence in case a proposed training school is established here In that case, the grants would amount to $1500.00 per bed . . . $1000.00 from the provincial government and $500.00 from the federal government.

The monthly accounts payable statement for the Hospital was presented and was ordered to be paid upon certification. The amount was $7,771.17. A comparative statement was presented at the same time showing an operating deficit of $4,000.00. The net deficit after the grant was approximately $2,000.

However, Mr. E. Neill Gregory, stated that this deficit was due entirely to the low revenue from patients at the Hospital, that is, the patient occupancy has been down in the past month, but the operating expenses were entirely normal.

It was reported at the meeting that there has been a slight increase in the charge for ward patients, semi-private and private patients. The amount of this increase averages between 50 cents to $1.00 per day. However, on the other hand a downward adjustment has been made in the costs of the operating and delivery room. Mr. Gregory stated that the Hospital overall charges are now in line with the charges of the other institutions in the district.

Applications were received by the Board from Drs. Elizabeth McCree of Bobcaygeon; Ralph Stubbins of Minden and Steven P. Kendall of Port Perry for appointment to the R.M.H. medical staff. These applications were approved

A donation was received from Mrs. Cecil Birchard for the Hospital Building Fund. It was the $100.00, Mrs. Birchard had received in salary for the clerical work she has been doing for the Hospital. Her generosity was gratefully acknowledged by the Board.

Also, the Board gave consideration to the possibility of extending the new addition proposed in the RMH extension plans, some 15 feet, so as to give 12 more beds over the three floors. It was felt that this is the time to make such plans, because if adjustments were made later, it would be a much more expensive proposition.

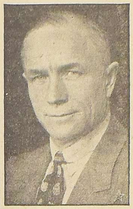
FIRST INTER-COUNTY FARM UNION MEETING HELD AT LINDSAY; URGE GREATER UNITY



MR. J. L. PHELPS

The first local meeting of the Ontario Farmers' Union was held on Saturday evening in the L.C.I. auditorium, with representatives from all over the province in attendance. The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Joseph L. Phelps, of Saskatoon, who is chairman of the Interprovincial Farmers' Council.

The purpose of the meeting was to review farmers' problems on a national basis, as well as to hear a few references to Ontario farm conditions as observed by Mr. Phelps. The meeting was a build-up to the provincial convention which will be held next week in Alliston.

On the rostrum besides the guest, Mr. Phelps, was preident Cormack, Mr. Joe Jenkins, the director of the Farmers' Union for Victoria County, Gerald Ballantyne, director for Ontario county and Ross Davidson, the director for Durham county.

Besides being Chairman of the Provincial Farm Union Council, Mr. Phelps is also chairman of two museums in Saskatchewan, is a member of the Saskatchewan Legislature, and is chairman of the Farmer-Labour Economic Council under the TLC and CCL.

In his explanation as to what exactly the Farmers Union is, Mr. Phelps had this to say:

"The Farmers' Union is an organization of farmers, created by the farmers for the farmers. It unites the farmers so that they can act and solve collectively the many farm problems of today. A union is necessary," says Mr. Phelps, "because business is organized in corporations, combines, trusts, and chambers of commerce. Doctors, lawyers, teachers have their professional organizations. Workers organized labour unions, and farmers must be organized too if they are to have bargaining power on an equal plane. With the farmers backing, the union can become the authoritative and respected voice for rural people in provincial and national affairs. Like a lawyer in court, it can demand justice and a square deal for agriculture. It is a bargaining agency for farmers."

Mr. Phelps stated that the main function of the Ontario Farmers' Union is to watch the economic position of agriculture in relation to other industries, and interpret to the general public any discriminations that may develop, and act quickly and effectively in the farmers interest. In other words, it acts as a watchdog for the farmers business.

To summarize, Mr. Phelps said, "If a farmer does not look after the business end of his business, he'll soon be out of business."

Upon the completion of Mr. Phelps' address, the meeting was opened for a general discussion from the floor, with questions and comments being directed to the chair. There was a warm and friendly attitude throughout, and as the chairman of the Farmers' Union mentioned, this may set a pattern for friendly co-operation between the Ontario local and the Interprovincial Federation at all future meetings and discussions.

Local Car Dealer Sees Preview of '55s

Local businessman, Mr. Graydon King returned last weekend from the final session of the October 5 to 15th National General Motors Dealer Convention in Toronto.

Commenting on the mammoth convention which he attended in company with his department heads, the Lindsay Pontiac-Buick dealer said, "The high points of the program was the preview of the 1955 models, which are still under a very close scrutiny screen. I may say that the new cars have undergone the most complete re-designing in the last 15 years, and will offer startling improvements to drivers in the popular field.'

At Oshawa, the dealer party inspected the 47½ acre GM passenger car assembly plant, Canada's largest. Among the luncheons, banquets and receptions, was a ladies luncheon that included a fashion show of the latest stylings from New York and Paris.

Testifies on Effect Of TV Crime Shows On The Viewers

Washington, Oct. 21—(BUP)— A British television expert testifying in Washington has warned that TV crime programs can arouse "anxieties, emotion disturbances or even fear" in children but that censorship of crime or violence could cut Shakespeare off TV.

Enid Love, assitant head of school broadcasting for the British Broadcasting Corporation, told a Senate Subcommittee on juvenile delinquency that violence "for its own sake" is no good.

But she told the subcommittee, the BBC does not ban crime or violence on radio or TV since that would rule out many of the classics, including Shakespeare. She testified at the closing hearing of the subcommittee on the effect of TV on delinquency.

"Quite apart from the moral consideration we feel it is artistically unsound to portray violence in detail or to emphasize vice," Miss Love testified.

Although she said good TV programs can help form "right attitudes," she added that "no one in Britain has ever seriously contended that TV or radio alone can either cause or cure juvenile delinquency."

Honesty

The maxim that "Honesty is the best policy" is one which, perhaps no one is ever habitually guided by in practice. An honest man is always before it, and a knave is generally behind it.—Whately.

Lakeshore Plans Earliest Start In History

The Lakeshore Hockey League will open the earliest in history next Monday when the bitter rivals of 40 years, the Port Hope Redmen and the Cobourg Comets square off in Cobourg to start the six-team group on its way. Other clubs in the group are the Lindsay Muskies, Lakefield Indians, Orono Orphans, and the Bowmanville Imperials.

The make-up of the loop was settled at the schedule meeting in Port Hope. The Redmen, who were the question mark of the loop prior to the meeting settled all fears when they announced tha they had come to terms with Trinity College School at Port Hope in regard to using the Memorial Rink which Trinity controls.

Port Hope had threatened to withdraw over the college action of giving Orono Orphans equal rights until the first of the year, when, if weather permits, the Orphans will move to Newcastle natural ice rink unil playoff time in February.

The loop will play a 30-game schedule and a new departure this year is the classing of all teams as Intermediate "A". In previous seasons, Orono Orphans have been Intermediate "B' because of the size of the village they represent.

Four teams will be eligible for play-offs, with the semi-finals between the first and fourth clubs and the second and third teams being best of five series, and the final being best of seven. The winner will go into the OHA "A" playoffs.

Bowmanville is the only new team of the group this year. Markham, which was reported trying to enter, failed to show up at the organization gathering.

The matron of honour, Jean Condon of Peterboro, and the bridesmaids, Josephine Polito and Helen Humphries of Lindsay, wore gowns of velveteen, the matron of honour in bronze and the bridesmaids in gold. The gowns were styled alike with oval necklines, fitted bodices and full skirts. They wore contrasting feathered head-dresses and carried cascades of croton leaves with bronze and gold mums.

Little Gail Marie Burns of Rochester, N.Y., was flower girl and wore a white nylon tulle dress, with Peter Pan collar, fitted bodice, full skirt with a ruffle at the bottom. Her headdress was a crown of rosebuds and she carried a nosegay of red rose buds.

The best man was Allan Gleeson and the ushers were Bill Gleeson and Joseph Kirley.

The reception was held at the Chateau Elite, Lindsay, and the bride's mother received wearing a gown of larkspur blue crepe, black accessories and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted in a taupe crepe gown, matching accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Storm Causes Crop Damage

Janetville (PNS) —The recent devastating storm, caused plenty of damage in the Viewlake and Janetville districts. Trees were blown down across the roads, and across the hydro and telephone wires, causing telephone and hydro to be cut off for some time.

Farmers also suffered losses to the buckwheat and cloverseed fields which were flattened into the ground. These fields had not been combined as previous rains had made the ground too wet and soft to take the necessary machinery into the fields. The mail also was discontinued for several days.
